Anderson: Yesterday Hermiat and today Rogers. (losers)?

Another problem is Why don't you just talk, Kissinger?

Kissinger: The nature of the strategic posture. Many systems would have Throwaght are unilateral of US- agreement.

I Wase correlatoral decisions, not result Poss Soviet argument.

This is the problem: Neither can gain short supplied if other is reasonably Vigilant.

Felle: Your weakest link is our knowledge of their accuracy.

Foster: They might only need one weapon per weepon.

Kissinger: My point is that the political decision for first stuper? is a terribly tough one.

What are we trying to do in SALT? Trying to slow down their deployment interest rates?

* * * * *

Foster: What do you think of the intelligence you get, and what are the Soviets up to?

Kissinger: Hegie officials don't have the capacity for systematic large-scale side lying they are too busy.
