The President
The White House

Dear Mr. President:

We have arranged a small dinner at home on Sunday, January 5th at 7 p.m., black tie, which Katie and I thought you and the First Lady might enjoy.

Among the guests: The Lord Chief Justice Widgery and Lady Anne of Great Britain; Chief Justice and Mrs. Warren E. Burger of the United States; Mr. and Mrs. Rowland F. Kirks, Administrator of the United States Courts, and certain officers of the Gridiron Club and their wives.

The Gridironers: Mr. Lucien C. Warren, President of the Gridiron Club, and with the Buffalo News; Mr. Richard Wilson, (Treasurer) Cowles Publications; Mr. Jack Steele, (Secretary), Scripps-Howard Newspapers, and Chairman of the Menu and Souvenir Committee, Mr. Marshall McNeil.

The purpose: wine-tasting.

Through the good offices of our mutual friend, Les Vice, now living in the Napa Valley, I have obtained a selection of what are reported to be the best California wines; one white, two reds, and a champagne. We propose to sample these vintages to ascertain whether they are suitable for serving at future Gridiron dinners.

In a spirit of good fellowship and hopefully spontaneous wit, we are proposing to have the Chief Justices of the two great English-speaking nations rise to the occasion, to argue in adversary proceedings the merits of the wines served with each course.

Both Mr. Burger and Mr. Kirks are Chevaliers du Tastevin, and I understand the visiting Englishman has similar credentials.

This is absolutely off-the-record, purely social, no publicity.

I recognize the demands on your time, but if this occasion should afford you and Betty some relaxation among old friends and an opportunity to meet the visiting Lord Chief Justice of Britain, we would be delighted to have the pleasure of your company.

With highest personal regards,

Sincerely,

Paul

The President has asked me to thank you for your letter of December 29 inviting him and Mrs. Ford to the dinner which you and Mrs. Martin held on Sunday evening, January 5.

Both the President and Mrs. Ford would have liked so much to join you, but their commitments were such that they just could not do so. They wanted you and Mrs. Martin to know, though, how much they appreciated your thoughtfulness of them and that they send you their very best wishes.

Reception for the twelve Republican Southern State Chairmen. This meeting and format is recommended by Dean Burch and Anne Armstrong to allow the President to discuss issues of interest without a possible confrontation. The group will have concluded a day long meeting . They represent the most organized and vocal State Chairmen group. The President last met with them in January of 1974. Nelson Rockefeller, Robert Hartmann, Dean Burch and Anne Armstrong addressed them last on August 28th.

We do not recommend this for Presidential involvement at this time. A spring, 1975 meeting would suffice with regard to expected major accomplishments.

There's a man named Carney Smith who's with the National Association of Life Underwriters. He wants to come in to see the President to issue him an invitation to speak in California some time between September 1 through 26, 1975.

It's important that we get him in to do this. The President has agreed to it.

You should get it up as a schedule proposal. When it is approved, then you should contact Congressman Guy Vander Jagt to see how precisely the invitation should be issued.

This is important.

Jim, Ray Bliss was in Saturday to see the President. He's interested in getting a commencement speaker for Akron University.

I'm not sure what date that will be.

Bliss' first choice is the President; if he can't get the President, he'd like to get the Vice President.

Check and see when the thing falls and we'll surface it for the President in connection with the other commencements he's doing, but we need to move fast on it, and then assuming he cannot do it because we've already scheduled him in four or five commencements, we'll contact the Vice President, but you've got the action.

Bill Gore called in reference to the IAF meeting in Anaheim at which you were scheduled to speak on Oct. 11th (They have it printed in their program--but understand why you had to cancel).

Mr. Gore has word from Vice President Rockefeller's office that he plans to be in that area on Oct. 12th or 13th and could substitute for you if you asked him to.

Mr. Gore asked me to ask you if you would call the Vice President and ask him to do it for you. He said this is a very important international meeting and is sure it would be very good if the Vice President would do it since you are unable to do so.

Since the time is so short they are extremely worried.

In the event that the Vice President cannot possibly do it, they would like you to ask Secy Rumsfeld to.

Pres or Vwp to do this.
