MR. NESSEN: As you probably know, the President went to the National Presbyterian Church this morning, came back to his office at 9:20 and has been working there ever since. He will be spending most of his day working on his State of the Union speech to Congress tomorrow.

We have some information now on briefings and so forth.

The briefings will be tomorrow morning. The material will be ready at 8:00 tomorrow morning in Room 450 of the EOB, and that will include quite extensive fact sheets, copies of the speech and other material. You will get the material at 8:00 in Room 450 of the EOB. It will be embargoed for use until 1:00 p.m., and it will be embargoed for wire transmission until 10:00.

The briefing begins at 8:30 a.m., also in Room 450 of the EOB, and you can film and tape the briefing if you desire.

The briefers will be Bill Seidman, who is Assistant to the President for Economic Affairs and Executive Director of the Economic Policy Board, and Frank Zarb, who is the Director of the Energy Resources Council and the Administrator of the Federal Energy Administration. There is a 1:00 p.m. embargo on use, 10:00 embargo for wires.

There will be a protective travel pool going to the Hill with the President tomorrow. Later in the day we will post the names and also the time you should assemble here tomorrow.
