Dear Mr. President:

To get upon the lighter and a bit trivial side of life; hence this letter.

Do you happen to recall saving a girl's life in Walloon Lake, Michigan year of our Lord 1925 or 1926 (I'm not sure which) by the name of Eunice Deckard?

To refresh your memory, you and a girl friend of mine by the name of Charlotte Twitty from Indianapolis, were sitting upon the dock in front of the lodge where we were staying while I was attempting to teach myself to tread water. Charlotte screamed "She's drowning, she's drowning" whereupon you swam out and retrieved me just before I had finished swallowing the whole of Lake Walloon.

I realize this is minute, especially in your day of worldly woes, but if you are the "Jerry Ford" who saved my life, I would greatly appreciate having someone verify the fact.

Since I am so sure, I am

So very gratefully yours,

Eunice Deckard Flynn
