

The original documents are located in Box 24, folder “Newspaper Clippings (16)” of the John Marsh Files at the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

Copyright Notice

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Gerald R. Ford donated to the United States of America his copyrights in all of his unpublished writings in National Archives collections. Works prepared by U.S. Government employees as part of their official duties are in the public domain. The copyrights to materials written by other individuals or organizations are presumed to remain with them. If you think any of the information displayed in the PDF is subject to a valid copyright claim, please contact the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

Some items in this folder were not digitized because it contains copyrighted materials. Please contact the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library for access to these materials.

Washington Post

Wed., November 5, 1975

Pentagon Shift Spurs Resignations

'Politics' at CIA Feared

By Walter Pincus and Laurence Stern

Washington Post Staff Writers

Washington Post

Wed., November 5, 1975

White House Urged to Act On D.C. Budget, Crisis Seen

By Helen Dewar

Washington Post Staff Writer

Building and White House, is not expected to be acted upon by Congress until sometime know what funds it will have to provide essential police, fire and transportation services

Washington Post

Wed., November 5, 1975

Ford Seen Slipping on Credibility

By Lou Cannon
and Jules Witcover

Washington Post Staff Writers

Publicly, the White House referred all questions about Rockefeller's motives for taking himself off the ticket to the Vice President. Rockefeller spent most of the day in seclusion at his 1000 Road residence with his spokesman, Hugh M. Nessen, who declined to take any telephone calls.

Nessen did confirm that Rockefeller first bro-

Washington Post

Thursday, November 6, 1977

Hobart Rowen

Rockefeller:

His Beliefs Didn't Fit

Washington Post

Thursday, November 6, 1975

Oil, Gas and Congress

Washington Post

Thurs., November 6, 1975

Strauss Stresses Primaries

By David S. Broder

Washington Post Staff Writer

Washington Post

Thursday, November 6, 1975

Rowland Evans

And Robert Novak

Schlesinger: Intolerable Dissent

The terminal disagreement over budget

Washington Post

Thurs., November 6, 1975

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pessimism Is the Mood of the Nation

By Jack Anderson
and Les Whitten

first war lost; a President deposed in disgrace; his principal aides proved felons;
our natural resources running but nullified by Mediterranean storms that destroyed the fleets.

In the 22nd year of the war country as we approached the bicentennial in a time of great distress and to reduce their sentiments, if possible, to

Washington Post

Thursday, November 6, 1975

A Legislative Delay on Revenue Sharing

Stepping Out of Rumsfeld's Shadow

Richard Cheney, Now Ford's Top Aide, Is 'Problem-Solver'

By Lou Cannon
Washington Post Staff Writer

businessman, but his chief flair is thorough and relationship between the two men seemed to outsiders have a healthy respect for the ability of people to solve

By Charles Del Vecchio—The Washington Post

Richard B. Cheney: "... I have a healthy respect for the ability of people to solve problems on their own."

R-AM

City Blushes Over Stennis' Private Parking Space

By Ron Shaffer

Stennis' office. Yesterday the signs were removed.

Hartley said he personally ordered the signs created without securing the approval of the city.

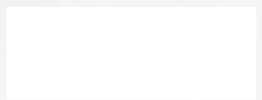

comes by and puts a ticket on his (Stennis') car."

The Washington Post

No parking sign in front of Sen. Stennis' home was removed yesterday.

enator, but "because he is an older person with a physical problem." She said she could do the same for any other "handicapped people" in the District. "I hope this doesn't get publicized because it will create a lot of problems," Mackleton said later in the telephone interview. "If it gets in the paper, I'll have 10 calls from other people who are old and weak, asking if you can do this for me, and obviously we cannot."

The Dis parking" Washington reserve a Mississippi "We've our scope Jack Har D.C. depart official wh we thought thing." So, it a police, wh car parke Stennis'. Electra, H into the se To at le Universit Pickett, S an outtra Washington

Washington Post
Friday, November 7, 1975

Stephen S. Rosenfeld

Dissolving the Kissinger-Schlesinger 'Partnership': A Mistake

Washington Post
Friday, November 7, 1975

Washington Post

Friday, November 7, 1975

Joseph Kraft

The New President
Ford

Washington Post
Sat., November 8, 1975

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

'A No-Win Position'

Washington Post
Sat., November 8, 1975

Rockefeller

Tom Braden

'Enough Is Enough'

Washington Post

Sat., November 8, 1975

Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

Can the Political Parties Survive?

The political parties have singularly failed both internally and in competition portunity Worse yet, there are important no vision for America. The map that comes

Washington Post
Saturday, November 8, 1975

Schlesinger Takes Post At Hopkins

By George C. Wilson
Washington Post Staff Writer
Defense Secretary James B

among the gro approached Sch
Brookings sp yesterday tha
Secretary is n
join the foundat
Schlesinger, t
with reporters
his way to deliv
the farewell c
Secretary of t

Give and Take In New York

Betty Ford and Mayor Abraham Beame shared a laugh—and the dais —Thursday night in New York City at the Council of Churches of the City of New York's 1975 Family of Man award dinner. Mrs. Ford accepted the award on behalf of the President; Mayor Beame accepted a $50,000 check to buy municipal bonds on behalf of the city. Mrs. Ford said she felt compassion for the city's financial plight, adding that she believes Mr. Ford does, too.

Sen. Jackson Is On Rumsfeld and

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (Wash.), in a speech accusing President Ford of mismanaging detente by giving away too much to the Russians, said last night that he seriously doubts that he can support the nominations of Donald Rumsfeld as Secretary of Defense and George Bush as director of the CIA.

"Don Rumsfeld and George Bush cannot hold a candle to James Schlesinger and Bill Colby in terms of judgment, knowledge or intellectual ability," declared Jackson in a speech prepared for a meeting of the New England Society of Newspaper Editors in Springfield, Mass. The President, who met with the editors earlier in the day, ousted Schlesinger from the Defense Department and Colby from the CIA last Sunday in order to put White House aide Rumsfeld and former GOP national chairman Bush in their jobs.

Jackson, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said that in dealing with Russia, the President needs strong men, unafraid to speak their minds, at the Defense Department and CIA. But, Jackson said, Mr. Ford risks turning Rumsfeld and Bush into compliant yes-men by hinting that one or the other might eventually wind up as his running mate in the 1976 election.

Ford Trips Over Woman In Wheelchair.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. Nov. 7 (AP)—President Ford tripped over a woman in a wheelchair today while greeting a crowd at Westover Air Force Base.

At first it was reported that Mr. Ford had been struck by a flag carried by a small boy, but the President later denied anything had struck him.

The President bent his head forward and groaned at the time the boy pushed the flag out, but Secret Service agents said that Mr. Ford had brushed against the outstretched leg of a woman in a wheelchair.

Mrs. Ford Is Fine, Checkup Indicates

NEW YORK, Nov. 7
(AP)—Betty Ford said today that a recent checkup, a year after she had a cancerous breast surgically removed,
has showed a complete absence of malignancy.

An invitation in reverse has arrived for a fund-raiser for Rep. Patricia Schoeder (D-Col.) on Monday. Those backing it are leading Democratic members of Congress.

But on the outside, the invitation lists all those people who "hope you won't come — all Republicans, of course ... such as "President Ford, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, Joseph Coors, of beer fame, the Postmaster General, the Military-Industrial Complex, the Joint Chiefs of Staff and various MCP's. "With all these Republicans against Pat Schroeder, it's still expected that a sizeable load of Democrats will be on hand and pay $25 each to boost Schroeder's reelection campaign in Colorado. The affair will be held at 1218 16th St. N.W. from 6 to 8 p.m. It is sponsored by Speaker of the House Carl Albert, O'Neill and Reps. John McFall, Bella Abzug, Dick Bolling, John Brademas, Phil Burton, Don Fraser and Senators Floyd Haskell, George McGovern and Walter Mondale.

Washington Post

Sunday, November 9, 1975

Mathias Says He May Run In Presidential Primaries

By Donald P. Baker

Washington Post Staff Writer

National Press Club, resulted in "a lot of surprising—favorably sur-for are traditional Republican positions which the majority motivate me to enter the would also motivate oth

Frankly, I would be hap

By Doug Chevalier—The Washington Post

Sen. Mathias will pass up New Hampshire primary for fear of aiding Reagan.

Washington Post

Sunday, November 9, 1975

Strauss'
Law Firm
Burgeons

By John P. MacKenzie
Washington Post Staff Writer

Rep. Burton Undergoing Heart Tests

Associated Press

California Rep. Phillip Burton, chairman of the House Democratic Caucus, is undergoing tests at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center to determine if he has heart problems, his wife said through a spokesman yesterday.

Burton, 49, of San Francisco, was hospitalized Monday night after he complained of not feeling well.

Burton had a "pretty heavy schedule" last weekend, the spokesman said. He had been to San Francisco and was en route back to Washington when he began to feel ill.

Doctors told Burton he was "right on the edge" of whether or not he had a slight heart incident Mrs. Burton said

The World's Greatest Deliberative . . .

On the nomination of William B. Widnall to be Chairperson, National Commission on Electronic Fund Transfers:

Mr. HUGH SCOTT: Mr. President, I congratulate my very longtime friend, former Congressman William B. Widnall, on his appointment to a position described on the calendar as Chairperson of the National Commission on Electronic Fund Transfers.

I hope I am not a male chauvinist or that I do not share in the aversion toward sexist designations or labels, but I do not think I have ever heard of a more awkward phrase than "chairperson." I know it arose out of the late Democratic National Convention where, in an effort to placate everybody, they also did a certain amount of violence to the English language.

I would like to see some kind of a nationwide discussion on whether or not we can designate Mr., Mrs., Ms., and the chairmen and the chairwomen in a little bit less awkward way. I do not know. Maybe we ought to call Mr. Widnall's position designation as the Chair of the National Commission on Electronic Fund Transfers. Maybe there is something else. But I just hate to see us get tangled in very awkward phrases like "chairperson."

Now, if anybody accuses me of being a chauvinist on that, I will promptly disavow it and call on all the ladies I know as character witnesses. But I love the language, and I do wish we would give a little more attention to our new phrases and designations, and try to make them a little less clumsy, awkward and unwieldy.

Washington Post

Sunday, November 9, 1975

A Glimpse at

White House Realities

Washington Post
Monday, November 10, 1975

Ford Pays Brief Visit To Indians

By Ron Shaffer
Washington Post Staff Writer

2 Arrested On Grounds Of Old EOB

Two Air Force men stationed in Dover, Del., were arrested Saturday night and charged with illegal entry after they climbed a fence and entered the grounds of the old Executive Office Building near the White House, the Executive Protective Service reported yesterday.

Airman David C. Sparks, 22, and Airman Basic Hector G. Garcia, 19, both stationed at Dover Air Force Base, are being held by D. C. police pending their arraignment on charges resulting from the 8:20 p.m. incident, the EPS said.

According to the EPS, the two men were spotted by White House police as they were climbing the fence on the grounds of the old office building on West Executive Avenue near Pennsylvania Avenue. The EPS said the men were arrested as soon as they entered the grounds of the office building, which is part of the White House complex.

The EPS said the men told officers they did not know they were at the White House when they climbed the fence. The EPS said the men said they did not know where they were and were looking for a short cut. It has not been determined if the men were intoxicated at the time of their arrests, according to the EPS, which said there was no indication of drinking on the EPS records for the two men.

Washington Post

Monday, November 10, 1975

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Connally Hopes To Fill the Vacuum

Washington Post

Monday, November 10, 1975

The New York Connection

In these communities where the specter of New York

Contrary to early reports, First Lady Betty Ford said yesterday that she will not campaign with her husband in his bid for the presidency.

"I will do what I have always done," she said. "I will accompany him on some of his trips."

Mrs. Ford, who looked well, seemed full of energy as she cut the ribbon for the opening of the one-day international fair of the Young Women's Christian Association at the Sheraton Park Hotel.

She had toured all the booths first, shaking hands with women from many embassies who were displaying the wares of their countries.

"That's a nice way to start the week," said Betty Ford when son Jack pointed out that a Louis Harris poll showed the majority of women support her outspoken opinions.

According to the Harris sampling, for example, a 60 per cent majority approved of her statement that she "wouldn't be surprised" if daughter Susan had an affair.

Another First Lady also has spoken up about how she would feel if one of her daughters had an affair. Imelda Marcos, wife of the Philippines president, said, "I would mind."

—William Gildea

Nixon's Future? No Comment (aries)

Former President Richard M. Nixon has denied reports he has plans to become a radio or television commentator.

"Television and radio commentaries would not be the best use of my time," Nixon said in a letter to a Worcester, Mass., radio station news director, Paul Stanford.

Stanford said he is a former Nixon campaign worker and has had "an exchange of letters going for some time" with the former President.

Nixon said in the letter that he planned to complete the first volume of his memoirs in 1976 and make four television documentary shows with David Frost in 1977.

Meanwhile, Nixon, looking tanned, and wife Pat paid an unexpected visit Monday to Camp Pendleton, Calif., near his San Clemente estate, to watch a pageant marking the Marine Corps' 200th birthday.

"Even though I was a Navy officer, I was proud to have served with the Marine Corps in the Pacific," said Nixon, who surprised a crowd of about 2,000 persons, mostly Marine families. He watched from the first row of bleachers as 5,000 Marines marched in uniforms from past eras.

Personalities

Washington Post

Wed., November 12, 1975

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Watergate Isn't Over for Minorities

By Jack Anderson
and Les Whitten

Armendaris acknowledged to our reporter Gary Cohn, Rodriguez lost his job and on minority business enterprise."

—Armendaris has accepted

Other OMBE officials have beseeched us to help clean up their agency.

David S. Broder

Mr. Ford's Big Play: The Michigan Mad-Rush

Washington Post
Wed., November 12, 1975

Washington Post

Wed., November 12, 1975

N.Y. GOP Leader

Hedges Ford Support

By David S. Broder

Washington Post Staff Writer

Gerald Ford couldn't make it, but he sent a check for $9.95 anyway, "just so I won't miss getting an autographed copy" he wrote in a note to Helen Thomas.

Thomas, chief of United Press International's White House Bureau, has written her first book, "Dateline: White House", and her colleagues attending a publication party Wednesday night at the Shoreham Americana also gave her a little something. Track shoes. "For running after presidents," somebody said.

Not everyone had to fork over the full amount, however. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger stayed 15 minutes and walked away with an autographed copy. Free.

Personalities

Julie and David Eisenhower, who also attended, talked some about their forthcoming trip to China, which they will take on December 29th at the invitation of the Peoples Republic.

Washington Post

Friday, November 14, 1975

McGovern Seeks '76 Issue Role

By Jules Witcover

Washington Post Staff Writer

Sen. George McGovern (D)

Washington Post

Friday, November 14, 1975

Joseph Kraft

The Wallace Force: Stronger Than Before

Washington Post
Friday, November 14, 1975

Congress Rejects
3d Ford Nominee
Associated Press

Washington Post

Monday, November 17, 1975

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Will Ford Flunk Florida?

Washington Post
Monday, November 17, 1975

Conditions on Some Ships Shameful

By Jack Anderson
and Les Whitten

hours a day simply to keep the Saratoga moving. The engineers and firemen often had no showers to wash off the were positively indignant, for instance, about an officer's stuck drawer.

The team's confidential

Navy's safety programs, he charged, was to keep the Navy operational, not to save lives.

"I only wish I could tell the

Washington Post
Friday, November 28, 1975

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Connally Could Have Been President

By Jack Anderson
and Les Whitten

For the first time, it is now some oil deals in the Middle East, Colson recalls.

But Agnew had a strong,

was even obliged to ask a Nixon aide, Alexander Haig, for transportation and other

The removal of Agnew, Nixon indicated to Colson, would take some of the heat

Washington Post
November 28, 1975 - Friday

Joseph Kraft

Rhetoric and Compromises

Washington Post

Friday, November 28, 1975

George F. Will

Henry Jackson's Durable Campaign

Henry Jackson's aides will tell anyone

Washington Post
Friday, November 28, 1975

Church Sees Rejection Of Nixon Offer to Testify

Associated Press

limited in the ways" Nixon

Church also said Nixon

Washington Post
Friday, November 28, 1975

FBI Said to Probe 5
As Court Nominees

Los Angeles Times

