Dear Sheila:

Thank you so much for all your help in setting up Mrs. Ford's conference call to nine of the Texas Phone Banks. As you know the call was most enthusiastically received. Even now, two days later, it appears to have had a positive effect on our volunteer recruitment efforts. In fact, our security guard called from his day job at the Department of Public Safety in Austin and reported that the office (mainly Democrats) was talking about that "gracious, kind First Lady who took the time to thank the bottom rung volunteers for all their work."

Pete Roussel is making a tape for you and enclosed is a sketchy rundown of press coverage by county.

Thank you again. I certainly hope to meet you on this trip.

Dear Mrs. Gregg:

I am truly grateful for the invitation to be present for the dedication ceremony of the historical markers honoring Jeff Hamilton. I am informed that Jeff Hamilton was a courageous person who possessed great pride, vision and hope for the future.

It is with sincere regret that I cannot be with you today at this important occasion. The President joins me in strong support for recognition of outstanding Americans.

Please extend my greetings to the descendants of Jeff Hamilton. I know they will be inspired by the talk of Houston Daniel a descendant of Sam Houston and the beautiful setting on the campus of Mary Harden-Baylor College, a fine school with a powerful tradition.

My very best wishes always.

Political Background

This is the first Presidential primary in Texas, and it is an open primary, meaning Democrats can crossover and vote in the Republican primary. (Apparently Reagan is hoping to pick up some votes from Wallace crossovers.)

McAllen and Harlingen are deep in the Rio Grande Valley along the Mexican border. They are in the 15th Congressional district, represented by E (Kika) de la Graza, a Democrat first elected in 1964.

Seventy-five per cent of the residents of the district are of Mexican stock. This is the land of the fabled Texas ranches, including the King Ranch and Anne Armstrong's Ranch. Lloyd Bentsen represented this district from 1946-1954.

Corpus on the Gulf Coast is in the lower corner of the 14th Congressional District. The district is described as heavy industry country and as one of the few areas where labor unions have much influence. Few blacks live this far south and west in Texas, and they make up only seven per cent of the population, compared to 12 percent statewide.

The 14th is considered one of the state's more "liberal" areas. The incumbent congressman is Rep. John Young, a democrat first elected in 1956. He has had only one opponent in the primary or general since 1964. Sissy Farenthold once represented Corpus in the Texas State Legislature.

Beaumont is in the 9th Congressional District, the eastern segment of the state's Gulf Coast. This is an area of big refineries, petrochemical plants and other factories. It has one of the highest concentrations of blue collar workers in Texas. Beaumont has a population of 110,000. The 9th is represented by Jack Brooks of Judiciary Committee fame. He was first elected in 1952. This is one of the few areas in Texas where McGovern came close to matching Humphrey's showing in 1968.

I am Betty Ford.

1976 is a very important year for all of us because it is a Presidential year.

All Americans should be concerned about our government and its leaders.

We have an obligation to ourselves and to our children to vote.

Saturday is the Presidential primary in Texas.

This is an important election, and naturally,

I have a favorite candidate, my husband.

I hope you will give him your support and your vote.

In a difficult period for America, President Ford has started to turn the economy around, set a sensible course for our future, and given America dedicated and honest leadership.

His accomplishments say more about his leadership than I can as a wife.

Think about the improvements in American under the President, and on Saturday cast your four votes for delegates pledged to ~~Jimmy~~ Gerald Ford.

When have you felt the hardest money pinch in family expenses -- food, clothing, etc.?

When you get away from the White House and among the "common folk" of America, what are your impressions of our people?

What do the people you shake hands with ask you or comment on mainly -- other than "I'm-glad-to-see-you" pleasantries?

You've faced a tough job of raising children alone while a husband travels, like many wives do. What have been some of the most difficult times in those child-rearing years?

How do you get a teen-age son or daughter to share their feelings with parents?

You've been married nearly 30 years. How do you keep a marriage fresh and loving that long? What are the most trying times in a marriage?

How do you keep so trim? What size dress do you wear? How do you shop for clothes? Do you wear pants (slacks) at home?
