The Honorable Gerald R. Ford
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

There is no way that we can adequately thank you for the generous time that you gave us and the most useful and complete responses that were offered to the questions of the publishers and editors of Harte-Hanks Newspapers.

This was a rare opportunity for us, and we hope that you felt it was worthwhile. I know that our readers have benefited, particularly because you were frank and direct.

We also want to thank you again for having honored our newspapers in Anderson, South Carolina and the entire industry by the visit you made there in the fall of 1974.

Finally, I can say after having returned to San Antonio that Mrs. Ford was a big hit here. She was truly a queen in the Fiesta Parade, and the people here are very appreciative that she took the time to come.

Thank you again for giving the Harte-Hanks editors such a thorough briefing.

Very sincerely,

Robert G. Marbut

SPIRIT OF '76 -

We continue with reporting of the Bicentennial events from around Texas. The San Angelo club began Bicentennial Week with a float entry in the Rodeo Parade; a skit presentation to a P.T.A. Group; planned historical tours; held a dinner meeting program; and concluded with the judging and making award presentations for Bicentennial Displays constructed by both the Girl and Boy Scouts.

The El Paso Trans-Mountain club joined with five other Texas cities and local women's organizations to present a Seminar "Working Women in Texas: Women's Place" for interested citizens of El Paso. Workshop subjects covered were "Up the Down Escalator" (Moving up in the Job Ladder); "Slipping Scales of Justice"; "Rosie the Riveter Revisited" (Exploding Myths About Women); "Sugar, Spice and Everything Nice" (Assertiveness and Personal Communication).

The Lubbock club's civic participation program with a Bicentennial theme, "Women Helping Humanity" featuring Texas Women who have won national recognition. Several members of the club provided a doll display characterizing such notable women and the doll collection will be on display at the Mahon Library in August and at the Museum in February. A float is currently under construction for entry in the July Lubbock parade.

The Ridglea club president Gloria Teggart, and Bicentennial chairman, Nina Theuret, broke ground for the planting of red, white and blue petunias at the Ridglea Presbyterian Church which is located in the heart of the Ridglea suburban shopping area.

The Cleburne club has authored a book entitled "In the Beginning—Women" containing the history of women who have contributed to the growth and preservation in the Cleburne area—the book is currently being printed.

The McAllen club members sponsored an old fashioned "Market Day" for the citizens of McAllen in Archer Park on April 10. Persons were invited to display their arts and crafts and to enjoy entertainment provided by clowns, and strolling Mariachis.

The Weatherford Club members have made a contribution toward the erection of a bronze statue of Mary Martin, and contributions to the Parker County Assn. of Retarded Citizens. They will also take part in the July 3rd Bicentennial Celebration by setting up a booth to sell hot dogs and cold drinks.

GLADYS PORTER ZOO

Brownsville is the site of the world famous Gladys Porter Zoo, a unique "Noah's Ark" for endangered species. There are no cages in the zoo . . . animals live on their own islands separated by water moats. Their shelters, of formed concrete and stone, are natural in appearance.

The majority of the zoo's inhabitants are young pairs and in some species represent the world's only known remaining individuals of breeding age.

The Zoo was built, stocked and given to the City of Brownsville by the Earl C. Sams Foundation.

A visit to the Zoo is on the agenda of tours being planned for your stay in Brownsville.

DIG DEEP FOR M.D.A.

Will we top last year's contributions to M. D. Anderson? That is the question as time begins to run out. The response has been tremendous, and contributions generous, but, can we do more?

The State Office reports a total contribution of $16,697.88 with District 15 top contributor and District 11 in second place.

Before convention time, State chairman Lunelle Anderson hopes to see more Flag Wavers, Freedom Fighters and more Liberty Bell Ringers and there is still time for you to join the "Fight for Life."

The deadline for qualifying for the various awards has been set for June 1. Certificates will be presented at the Luncheon Workshop-Special Projects, and the SUPER DUPER award will be announced at the President's Banquet Saturday night.

STATE CONVENTION . . .
BROWNSVILLE, JUNE 24-27, 1976

Members of the Texas Federation will soon take to the highways and the airways with their final destination BROWNSVILLE and the 56th Annual State Convention.

Great things are scheduled to happen beginning with the Thursday night "Border Buttermilk" party, then continuous activities that won't end until noon on Sunday, June 27.

The demand for hotel reservations has resulted in at least three of the hotels being sold out, but don't be discouraged, there is still room for you and your members in several of the other hotels, as noted in the recent mailing from the State Office to all club presidents. There is one other suggestion, you may wish to request a reservation at the Holiday Inn in Matamoros, just across the border and near the Fort Brown Hotel and the Convention Center. If transportation to and from the hotels appears to be a problem, it is suggested that you contact your hotel to learn if transportation is available to their guests.

Workshops are scheduled to take on the themes depicting Women of Achievement Throughout History. Here are some of the ideas that have been selected by the Workshop chair-

CONVENTION WEARING APPAREL

The question in everyone's mind—what shall I need in the way of clothing for State Convention in Brownsville?

While you are making up your mind, here are some things you should be aware of. For instance, the climate in Brownsville during this time of the year is somewhat tropical. That is, hot and humid and much the same as the climate in New Orleans during this time of the year.

You will need light weight clothing to beat the heat. No doubt the air-conditioning will be more than adequate and this might call for a light jacket or stole.

Most of the convention hotels have swimming pools and this calls for your swimming apparel, if you have the time to take a dip! For the Saturday night banquet, you will need a pretty long dress, and even on Friday night at the Opening Session, if you wish. Pant suits will be everywhere and most all of your casual clothes will be suitable as well as comfortable. Bring along some walking shoes for the shopping tours, and for some of the convention functions that are held away from the Civic Center.

Then just for good measure, tuck away some sun glasses, sun tan cream, soothing bubble bath, and by all means plenty of headache remedies.—Let's Go to Brownsville!

men, and the names of the hostess clubs which have been assigned to these workshops:

Saturday breakfast workshops, June 26: Leadership, Charlene Berry, chairman, has selected "Lena Madsen Phillips—Focus on the Future," and the hostess club is Harlingen. Program, Kandy Reeder, chairman, selected "Schools For Dames," with the hostess club, Weslaco.

Saturday, luncheon workshops: Finance, Gwen Davis, chairman, has selected "Jane Adams — Rags to Riches." Hostess club is La Resaca. Legislation, Dorothy Innerarity, chairman, "Mystery Woman—Who is Virginia Slim?" Hostess club is McAllen. Young Careerist, Mary Hargraves chairman, selected "Louisa May Alcott — Today's Little Women." Hostess club is Edinburg. Special Projects (State and National Funds), chairman Lunelle Anderson selected "Abigail Adams' Antics—For Special Things." Hostess club, San Benito.

Sunday breakfast workshops, June 27: Membership, Hazel Crawley, chairman, chose "Dolley Madison—Hostess with the Mostest." Hostess club, McAllen. Public Relations, B. J. Hennersdorf/Virginia Voelker, have selected "Mary Katherine Goddard—Patriots in Petticoats." Hostess club is La Resaca.

Also on Sunday morning, there will be a breakfast for the State Bicentennial Committee chaired by Dora-thea Ray, with the Falfurrias club as hostess, and this club will also host the District Directors-elect breakfast workshop, with Charlene Berry presiding. The Past State President's breakfast will be hosted by Mary Ryan and Hazel Blackwell, both past state presidents.

The Parade of Flags is scheduled at the Friday night Opening Session and those clubs planning to participate in the Parade should note the notice of a rehearsal set for Friday afternoon to be found elsewhere in this issue.

Mary Hargraves will hold Young Career Women interviews with the State Young Careerist on Friday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. Each candidate will be presented to the state convention body at the Friday night opening session.

Club delegates are reminded to clear credentials by 12 Noon, Saturday, June 26, in order to be eligible to vote in the election scheduled for 2 p.m. on Saturday.

In the April issue of TEXAS WOMAN we printed the Proposed Bylaws Changes to be voted on at Convention, give these proposed changes thought and be prepared to exercise your vote.

Fill in your registration form and special events form TODAY. . . . SEE YOU IN BROWNSVILLE!

CAMPAIGNING ETHICS

Campaigning is part of the fun at State Convention and pre-election activities are expected. There are, however, certain policy procedures that should be followed in the conduct of campaigning, and it is suggested that you refer to pages 11 and 12 of the Texas Federation Manual of Procedures and Bylaws.

In addition to these procedures, each convention hotel may have certain restrictions as to where and what sort of campaign literature may be posted in their hotel. Check with your hotel. Once you have gained permission, keep in mind the following:

1. Use masking tape in lieu of cellophane or plastic tape to affix your posters.
2. Do not place campaign posters in the Election area, or in the Convention Hall.

STATE MEMBERSHIP TALLY

It's time to add up the scores insofar as membership reporting in our State magazine is concerned since this issue is the combined May-June magazine. This does not mean that you should stop recruiting those new members. We must put Texas back in the Number One spot in the Ship of Commerce and new members will be counted on the National office roles until May 31st.

In the meantime, our current standing in the State looks like this as of April 14:

CASTROVILLE—The City Council here will hold a special meeting Monday to hear testimony about

Background

Mrs. Lila Cockrell, Mayor of San Antonio

Mrs. Cockrell, 54, was elected Mayor in 1975. San Antonio is the Nation's 10th largest city, which makes her the only woman Mayor in the top ten cities.

Elections to city government in San Antonio are ~~not~~ non-partisan, and Mrs. Cockrell is considered an independent, although my Texas contact said she was rumored to be a Republican. San Antonio has a council/manager form of government. The Mayor presides over the city council, which establishes policy, but a professional city manager actually runs the government. This means Mrs. Cockrell ^{job} is much more like the Speaker of the House than the kind of Mayor D.C. has.

She got her start ~~in~~ working with the League of Women Voters, and she was president of Leagues in both San Antonio and Dallas. Before her election as Mayor, she had been a member of the City Council. She ~~was~~ ran as the only woman in a nine ~~man~~ person field for Mayor, and she defeated a beer ~~distributor~~ distributor in the run-off.

She is married to Sid Cockrell, executive director of the local medical association. They have two ~~daughters~~ daughters, ~~one~~ Carol teaches junior high school, and Kathy is an American Airlines stewardess. Mrs. Cockrell graduated from Southern Methodist University with a B.A. in speech.

She belonged to the Waves during World War II.

81 YEARS OF FIESTA OCTOGENARIAN SAN ANTONIO

OVER

80-years old but with all the youthful vigor and color and dynamic growth of a three year old--this is Fiesta San Antonio. When April 18/6 rolls around in 1976, it will be the first of 10 days jam packed with fun, food and frolic.

San Antonians, Texans and visitors from all parts of the world have been celebrating the annual spring festival in the Alamo City since 1891, and with only a few war years not seeing the annual celebration. for four score and one year

Fiesta's charter outlines two principal reasons for the festival, but certainly a third must be added to these first two. The charter calls for the honoring of those brave men who won Texas' Independence and also to encourage Pan-American friendliness and solidarity. The third objective is, of course, to provide 10 days of unmatched fun, food, frivolity and friendship.

Fiesta all began with a group of ladies searching for an appropriate means to mark the visit of President Benjamin Harrison to San Antonio. The ladies patterned their colorful event after the flower festivals of Mediterranean Europe and after gathering all the blossoms from their personal gardens, decorating a dozen carriages and surreys with them, used the remainder in a veritable Battle of Flowers on Alamo Plaza. This one organization, ultimately to be called the Battle of Flowers Association, sponsoring one event grew to some dozen organizations sponsoring a like number of events through the 1940's. Events and organizations became so numerous by 1960, that the Fiesta San Antonio Commission, Inc., was founded to coordinate the massive celebration. Today 51 participating member organizations present more than 80 scheduled events during the 10 days of gaiety. In 1975 ^{OVER} two and one-quarter million people attended Fiesta events.

Fiesta 1976 will feature a special ^{post} pre-Fiesta events. The San Antonio

Symphony, a Participating Member Organization of Fiesta, will present ^{TWO} ~~a~~ performances of Beethoven's Ninth on Monday

at the Alamo Plaza

April 26 at Trinity Univ. at 7:30 PM and Tuesday

~~Pop Concert with Mr. Myron Floren as the stellar attraction at the~~

April 27 at the Theater for the P.A. at 8:30 PM
~~Banquet Hall on April 16 at 8:00 p.m.~~

Things burst into fun, music, color and the tantalizing aroma of flavorful foods as Fiesta opens on Friday, April 16 with a huge carnival and food in the informal manner presented by the Mexican Chamber of Commerce at the Fiestas Noches Mexicanas. The Ladies of Charissa present fabulous prizes and lots of fun at their BINGO game in a tent. All three of these activities run for the full 10 days of Fiesta and are featured in the Market Square Area where more than 800,000 Fiesta fanciers jammed the area during Fiesta 1975. Admission to all three of these Fiesta features is FREE.

The first of many colorful events sponsored by San Antonio's military community takes place Friday, April 16, when the Commander of the US Air Forces' Air Training Command honors Fiesta at a gala evening reception.
