RE: ALCOA GOLF DATES

Frank Jones, head of the Washington Office of ALCOA, called to relay what he has been telling the news people who are calling re golf dates.

Jones is saying that he has been in charge of the Washington Office since 1967. At no time since then has Gerald R. Ford been entertained at any time at any company expense. Before 1967, Jones says he cannot confirm or deny whether someone in the company may have entertained Gerald Ford, but he (Jones) was not in a position to have knowl edge of such. Jones says he has played golf with the President once in the past two years (at Burning Tree, where they both are members). They were partners . Further, deponent sayeth not.
