

Travel Pool Report Monday Ayem 8/12/74

The President emerged from his Alexandria residence at 7:15 a.m., carrying an armful of papers. He was asked, "Did you go for a swim this morning?" and replied, "Sure." Another question, "What are you going to do without a swimming pool?" and his answer, "I'm going to miss it." The drive into town was uneventful. The President arrived at 7:30 a.m. at the White House. He looked fit, rested. He went directly to the Oval Office.
