POOL REPORT - detroit to washington sept. 23, 1974

before boarding af 1, the president shook hands with the policemen who formed his motorcycle escort. (barely audible pleasantries.)

on board, ron nessen announced that ford will have his pic taken at the whu/^awith former qb packer QB bart starr and starr's 11-year-old son, brett. the session was arranged by new york rep. jack kemp, ~~an~~ onetime pro QB himself, with whom starr spent the weekend before doing color on the skins-cards game.

tomorrow, ford will adress the annunal convention of the International Association of chiefs of police. (lvs whu approx 10a, speaks, approx 10:30.

nessen produced ~~mixexdnvazkzaxsncixatexdixazizaz"wi~~ a "white house official" to brief on this morning's address.

the official, asked about the ~~response~~ tough posture of ford's remarks said: "nothing the president said in any way indicates an escalating idea (rather) an expansion idea."

the official said ford's aim merely was to "spell out realities, and some of those realities are pretty tough."

ford expects to receive around nov. 1, the results of an energy study prepared under john sawhill's direction. that info will be dovetailed with what comes out of the economic summit, and probably tied into the state of the union address.

POOL REPORT/ 2 xxx address.

the official said the administration was trying to get other Nations and people to look at the energy situation "in the global interest or it will come back and injure them in some other way" such as through disruptions in their economy, or shortages of food, etc.

the official confirmed that ken cole will resign, but that ford "indicated a need for some sort of domestic council." (this in response to questions on this morning's evans-novak coly)
