Dear Mr. President:

This old friend is saddened, mildly shocked, and thoroughly perplexed at America's decision of last evening.

You, your wonderful family, many friends and admirers, have cause to be so proud and pleased with your tenure. You have been a wise, judicious, dedicated, and highly principled leader of our Nation for these past two years. You have attained results I had thought not achievable in so short a period.

The pain and disappointment of this hour will pass, Mr. President; the inner satisfaction of having acted with principle, with courage, and with integrity is your heritage forever.

Respectfully yours,

Jack Grady
