HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20515

PETER W. RODINO, JR.
TENTH DISTRICT, NEW JERSEY

CHAIRMAN
COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY

November 23, 1976

Dear Mr. President:

M/R
It was most kind of you to write, and I deeply appreciate both your thoughtfulness and your friendship.

In the many years we have served together, one common bond has, I think, always been apparent. It is the faith we share in the great principles of America, and in her good and decent people. I am confident that this faith has sustained us both in troubled times.

In the past two years, you have repeatedly shown your own goodness and decency as you strove to re-establish public confidence in our democratic system. Certainly the presidency is far better today than when you found it, and as you leave that office, the thanks and prayers of a grateful people go with you.

With best personal regards,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

It was most kind of you to write, and I deeply appreciate both your thoughtfulness and your friendship.

In the many years we have served together, our common bond has, I think, always been apparent. It is the faith we share in the great principles of justice, and in our good and decent people. I am confident that this letter has reached you in a troubled time.

In the past two years, you have repeatedly shown your own goodness and decency as you strive to re-establish public confidence in our democratic process.
Certainly the presidency is far better today than when you found it, and as you leave that office, the thanks and prayers of a grateful people go with you.

With best personal regards,

Sincerely,

The President
