MEMORANDUM FOR

THE VICE PRESIDENT

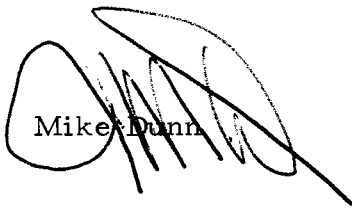

SUBJECT: Dinner With Ambassador and Mrs. Dobrynin

You and Mrs. Ford are scheduled for dinner this evening with Ambassador and Mrs. Dobrynin at 8:00 p.m. in their private quarters at the Russian Embassy. No other guests are invited.

The Ambassador has indicated that following dinner a movie depicting the countryside and cities of Russia will be shown.

Ambassador Dobrynin's wife's name is Irina. A dark business suit would be appropriate. Commander Kerr will accompany you and be available should you require an aide.

A copy of the Memorandum of Conversation covering your December 11, 1973 meeting with Ambassador Dobrynin is attached.

THE VICE PRESIDENT

THROUGH:

Mr. Hartmann

SUBJECT:

Your Forthcoming Private Dinner
with Ambassador Dobrynin

I visited the Soviet Embassy last evening to complete arrangements for your private dinner previously agreed upon with the Soviet Ambassador. He was extraordinarily cordial and reiterated his strong desire to establish a reliable "means of contact" with you. Almost certainly, he will raise with you sometime in the course of the evening the strong desire of his Government that you visit the USSR at an early date. I am certain that this will be a very "friendly evening," featuring motion pictures of various points of interest in the USSR.

The dinner is now scheduled for Monday, January 14th, at 8:00 p.m. at the Soviet Embassy.
