D. REVIEW OF MAJOR ILLINOIS RACES

Governor

Incumbent Daniel Walker (D) was defeated in his primary race for renomination by Michael J. Howlett, an Irishman from Chicago's South Side who has been closely identified with Mayor Daley's Democratic machine. The Republican challenger is James R. Thompson whose political reputation arises from his record of a 90% conviction rate in the over 300 prosecutions he brought as U. S. Attorney for Northern Illinois.

Howlett, who had handily won his three statewide campaigns for Secretary of State, was embarrassed during his primary campaign by allegations that he had accepted $15,000 a year consulting fee from a Chicago steel company while in office. Thompson has been subtly contrasting this challenge to Howlett's integrity to his own record as a crimebuster.

Although Howlett has been outspending Thompson almost two to one, his connections with the Democratic organizations have not been helpful to his campaign. Relations between Daley and Howlett have been strained, particularly during Carter's two recent visits to Illinois. Walker also has been lukewarm, still smarting from the war of epithets during the primary battle: Walker called Howlett a "Daley puppet and stooge" and Howlett called Walker a "bum and an SOB". But Democratic forces are regrouping as the election approaches.

Traditional Republican strength lies in the Chicago suburbs and small towns downstate. Walker carried much of the downstate vote in his successful 1972 race against Governor Ogilvie, but Howlett is losing to Thompson there this year. Even in Chicago where Howlett's concentrating most of his effort, Thompson is several points ahead (mid-September poll).

Thompson is running a steady statewide campaign, even to the extent of taking time to marry for the first time.

An interesting sidelight in the campaign is that Howlett and Thompson are competing for a two-year term. By state Constitutional amendment, Illinois voters will elect a Governor this year and again in 1978 in order to revise the system of electing a Governor in Presidential election years. The term that begins in 1979 will again be a four-year term.

Thompson leads in the polls by as much as 20 points.

Senate

There are no Senatorial races in Illinois this year.

House of Representatives

Of the 24 Congressional Districts in Illinois, 10 are held by Democrats who appear secure. The 11 Republican incumbents are also secure, but tight races are occurring in three currently Democratic Districts. Republican candidates could gain seats in the following Districts:

Third District (Southwest Chicago and suburbs)

Ronald Buikema is running a hard fought and well financed campaign against labor-backed incumbent Martin Russo, a Daley loyalist. Jimmy Carter and Hubert Humphrey have both appeared at Russo's fund-raisers. Buikema is exploiting Russo's friendship with Wayne Hays and his financial support from labor. Buikema has close ties to the influential Christian Reformed Church and was President of the local Bar Association, connections that bolster his candidacy in a district that went unexpectedly Democratic in 1974.

Tenth District (Northern Chicago suburbs)

Incumbent Abner Mikva (D) and former Congressman Samuel H. Young (R) are again locked in a tight race. Their past campaigns have been hotly contested and the final weeks of this one are likely to be bitter. The constituency of this district is rapidly changing and the outcome is unpredictable. Republican polls give Young a slight edge.

Fifteenth District (North Central - Aurora)

Republican challenger Tom Corcoran is mounting an effective campaign against incumbent Tim Hall whose victory in 1974 was considered "a miracle". Corcoran is attacking Hall's liberal voting record and is aided in his attacks by a well-organized Republican campaign team. Hall is running on his personality and service to constituents, but Corcoran, whose politics are conservative despite his close tie to the moderate Ogilvie, is hitting hard on issues such as government spending, welfare, inflation and big government.

E. PFC CAMPAIGN OVERVIEW

Overview

Illinois is a crucial Midwestern state which has been with the winning candidate in every Presidential election since 1920. It is a microcosm of America, in that it combines the many diverse racial, ethnic, religious, political, economic and geographic elements that comprise the Nation as a whole.

While there is some residual bitterness remaining from the Republican primary last spring, Phil Craine, Ronald Reagan's primary campaign chairman, is serving as a member of the State PFC Steering Committee and his participation has been somewhat helpful in neutralizing this problem. The Democrats are having greater problems of divisiveness, however, as a result their hotly contested Democratic gubernatorial contest that resulted in the upset victory of Richard Daley's hand-picked candidate, Secretary of State Michael Howlett, by incumbent Governor Dan Walker.

Eugene McCarthy could play a significant role in the election outcome as his votes would clearly deny far more support to Carter than to yourself. The breakthrough point in terms of a significant McCarthy margin is 5 percent of the total statewide vote according to state PFC sources.

PFC organizational strategy has centered on six counties whose combined vote contribution equals 60 percent of the total statewide Republican vote. These areas are as follows:

Cook	Will
DuPage	Kane
Lake	Winnebago

Considerable effort is being made to consolidate your vote with such special voter groups as farmers, ethnics, Jews, and Catholics. Advocate appearances, direct mailings, and public endorsements of your candidacy by acknowledged leaders with these groups have formed the basis of this special program.

RNC Phone Centers

There are 41 centers composed of 310 phone units which have been set up in Illinois. These centers were fully operational as of September 26 and 1,704,325 calls are expected to be completed prior to election date. As of October 12, approximately 6% or 102,166 of the calls have been made.

The phone centers are targeted by Congressional Districts instead of precincts. These target areas are essentially in Cook County or in the collar counties surrounding Cook. The 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 10th, and 12th Congressional Districts are the areas of heaviest PFC calling.

The call lists are made up of known 1976 GOP primary and the 1972 general election voters. Illinois does not have partisan registration.

F. CARTER CAMPAIGN IN ILLINOIS

Campaign Officials

State Chairman	Don Adams
State Chairwoman	Teddi Inman

Campaign Strategy

Carter won Illinois in the primary. The day before the Ohio primary, Mayor Daley indicated he would throw his support to Carter if he won Ohio. Carter won Ohio, though he lost California and New Jersey the same day. Daley leaped on the Carter bandwagon and one of the few pre-convention stops Carter made was to attend a fund raiser in Chicago. The mayor, true to form, introduced the Governor as Jim Carter.

Carter, the antipolitician, expressed his admiration for the Daley machine. He spoke of the "almost miraculous vote-getting power of this 'miracle man.'" Evans and Novak claim Daley extracted a promise from Carter that he would campaign for Howlett.

On the next visit to the state and Chicago, Daley put on his traditional torch light parade--a month early. Howlett was not permitted to share the auto with Carter but was permitted to speak at the rally after the parade. Carter's remarks were mostly incoherent. Dave Broder wrote one of his most memorable stories describing these carryings on.

The next day Carter went to Springfield where he delivered his stock farm speech.

On October 11, Carter once more traveled to Chicago where he participated in the Italian-American parade and tried to exploit the President's remarks on Eastern Europe during the second debate. He also addressed the Polish-American Congress where he was politely received. But the Roman Catholic Bishop who delivered the invocation publically apologized to his pro-life friends and told them not to misinterpret his presence. In his prayer, the Bishop said, "As our brothers in Poland grieved when an enemy dotted Poland with gas chambers of death, we grieve today when the constitutional law permits our land to be dotted with abortion chambers."

G. PUBLIC OPINION POLLS IN ILLINOIS

The latest published poll is the Chicago Sun-Times Poll, reported October 14. Results:

Statewide:	Carter	55.4%
	Ford	46.6%
Chicago:	Carter	73.8%
	Ford	26.6%
Suburban:	Carter	43.9%
	Ford	56.1%
Downstate:	Carter	40.7%
	Ford	59.3%

The sample was 783 persons.

Broder did not call Illinois but felt that Howlett was an awful drag on the Democratic ticket. Apple said it was too close to call.

The Chicago Tribune reported on October 13 a poll of University of Illinois students. The survey, conducted after the first debate, showed the following:

Carter	27.7%
Ford	46.8%
McCarthy	8.5%
Undecided	17.0%
Thompson	75.0%
Howlett	12.0%
Undecided	13.0%

A similar poll conducted before the Illinois primary forecast the vote accurately

ILLINOIS
ISSUES GUIDANCE

ILLINOIS ISSUES OVERVIEW

GENERAL ISSUES

(1) Big Government

For the most part, the cities and towns you will visit represent basic midwestern conservatism. The contrast between sound policies of reducing Federal government and the riskiness of Governor Carter's expansionary policies will play very well. General revenue sharing, block grants, and programs to return decision making to the local levels with a minimum of Federal regulation are all viewed favorably.

(2) Agriculture

In the area through which you will travel are some of the country's richest farm lands, largest farms, and most sophisticated farmers. Hard -- even angry -- questions about farm policies, particularly export policies on grains, soybeans, and other commodities, can be expected. The farmers are deeply upset at the loss of Earl Butz. Congressman Madigan believes that, in this area, it is important that you strongly champion the type of agricultural programs espoused by Butz without mentioning Butz's name. The embargo is still a very sore point.

(3) Economic Status

Although the business climate is depressed, these communities have come through the recent recession better than most. Unemployment rates are comparatively low, and there is a strong, private-industry tax base from which to draw local revenue. The point that reduced inflation strengthens the financial situation of both individuals and governments should be stressed.

SPRINGFIELD -- Mayor William Telford

Springfield is the state capital and the home of Lincoln. Last year you dedicated the cornerstone at Lincoln's home.

(1) General Revenue Sharing

General revenue sharing has enabled the city to avoid property tax increases for five years. It has been used mainly for capital projects, specifically: a $500,000 Senior Citizen Center which provides recreation services and other activities for senior citizens, a new police headquarters, recreation facilities throughout the city and for the school system, and a new fire station (GRS as well as firemen's wages). Springfield can be used as a good example of the way in which revenue sharing benefits local communities.

(2) Community Development

For the most part, Springfield has been able to maintain its fiscal integrity and its physical condition. The downtown area is still vibrant commercially and structurally. Springfield has received over $20 million in community development funds for its "east side", a 42-block area of residential buildings that will be rebuilt and restored. On September 24 Secretary Hills toured this area and concluded that "Springfield should receive an A-1 rating" for its work in community development activities. Proud of its efforts, the city would welcome recognition of the progress it has made.

(3) Economy

The economy is fairly stable because of the high number of state employees and the lack of heavy industry. Unemployment is currently about 7.5%, concentrated largely in the black and non-skilled categories.

(4) Transportation

The city has been working through its Railroad Relocation Authority to relocate freight lines currently running through the area. It is a demonstration city for this kind of relocation work and is now seeking approximately $100 million to implement their plan. There might be interest in your Administration's policies toward this kind of railroad planning activity.

(5) Lincoln Home National Park

The Lincoln Home became a National Park in 1971. There is a growing sense of inadequate Federal funding to maintain this facility. Also the local unions were critical when the National Park Service used Park Service employees (being trained in preservation techniques) and not union painters for the Lincoln Home restoration. The capitol (in which Lincoln made several famous speeches) has been restored and was suggested as a possible site for the third debate.

(6) Senior Citizens

Springfield's large senior-citizen population has problems of housing, medical care, and other services, as well as some concern about social security and other retirement support.

BLOOMINGTON -- Mayor Walter Bittner(1) General Revenue Sharing

This program has been extremely popular, because it permits local flexibility in the use of Federal funds and because it has supported a number of important capital improvement projects, including a municipal library. Your audiences here will applaud you on the revenue-sharing renewal bill and appreciate discussion about local initiative and decision making.

(2) Local Pride and Community Cooperation

Bloomington is proud that it is a vibrant and fast growing community, considered one of the top twenty most desirable places to live in this country. Its local spirit deserves recognition.

(3) Bloomington/Normal Cooperation

The city of Normal lies next to Bloomington and together they are called the "twin cities." An experiment in unifying the two governments was recently completed, and the cities are now considering a proposal for permanent unification. Normal is the home of Illinois State University (about 19,000 students).

(4) Local Economy

The economy is strong and growth-oriented, and unemployment, at less than 4%, is the lowest in the state. This is the site of several major businesses, including the home office of State Farm Insurance Company and major facilities for General Electric, Firestone, Eureka-Williams, and General Telephone. The small businessman is also very important. You might wish to refer to this strong economy and the independent businessman as examples of how the private sector must be the key to future growth and employment.

(5) Transportation

Bloomington recently received a US DOT grant for 20 new buses and has initiated a completely new public-transit system. Operating subsidy funds are being provided under the Urban Mass Transportation Assistance Act of 1974. Your leadership in the passage of that legislation could be noted.

(6) Amtrak

The station at which you will arrive in Bloomington is the center of one controversy between Normal and Bloomington. Normal wants to relocate the station in its downtown so it could be better utilized by the State University students. Bloomington is opposed. This is a local controversy to be avoided.

(7) Community Development

The City has utilized its CD funds for urban renewal in the downtown area, the largest project of which has been a four-block area on which a new courthouse and jail facility is being constructed.

(8) Agriculture

Bloomington is the "county seat" of McLean County (the largest county in Illinois). This general area contains some of the most fertile farmland in the Midwest, selling up to $3,500 an acre. It is also the headquarters of the Illinois Agricultural Association (and the home of Earl Butz's brother). Major crops are corn and soybeans. The local Bloomington area has been experiencing good crop yields this year, but areas farther south have experienced drought conditions. One local-interest note is that the Funk Brothers Seed Company, located near the Amtrak station, was the originator of hybrid seed corn and continues to be a major national supplier of seed corn.

(9) Financial Condition of the City

The city has operated for years in the black. Property taxes have risen very moderately because of the area's strong economic base and the availability of revenue sharing funds.

JOLIET -- Mayor Norman Keck

The Joliet area is described as a blue-collar area with ethnic neighborhoods, surrounded by corn and grain. The issues are unemployment, crime, busing, and the grain embargo.

(1) General Revenue Sharing

GRS has been a major factor in ensuring a stable fiscal picture. The funds have been used for a variety of variety of purposes, but in the last year went into the general operating budget to help alleviate a projected deficit oif $700,000.

(2) Financial Condition of the City

The city has begun to experience some economic problems and has had to trim its operating budgets. A recent 15% increase in the property tax generated a hot controversy. (The Mayor was opposed to it.) Therefore, the question of government services and taxing levies are particularly topical.

(3) Community Development

Two developmental activities are currently underway in Joliet. One is the "Bluff Street Project", primarily a housing development that was originally developed privately with seed money from HUD, and is now deteriorated to the point where the city is trying to clean it up. The city council has stopped further building permits until the overall plan can be resolved.

The second development project is in the downtown area where major restoration and the development of a downtown mall is being considered. The project will be financed largely through private capital.

(4) CETA Program

Joliet is disappointed in the CETA program, with the Mayor and City Council, contending that the "red tape" and restrictions are not worth the money received. Local officials like the concept of block grants, but do not think the CETA program is a good example.

(5) Crime

Faced with a rising crime rate, Joliet has undertaken a project of "offender tracking" to determine the degree of repeat criminals. Officials are noting evidence that the failure to penalize or sentence has fostered this increase. You could note your proposals for tougher enforcement in order to cut down on repeat offenders and control crime.

(6) Economy

It is an industrialized area of diversified manufacturing and a fairly stable economy. Unemployment is around 7%, but there are pockets of high unemployment among minority groups. Questions should be expected about your proposals for helping these groups that are sometimes left behind in a normal recovery.

(7) Transportation

Joliet has used DOT grants for capital purchases and operating costs of its bus system. In addition, Amtrak recently agreed to keep train service between Joliet and Chicago as part of the regional transit authority of Chicago and metropolitan areas. You could note your participation in the 1974 transit legislation.

(8) Racial Harmony

There is a sizeable Latin and black population in Joliet. Despite the severe problem of two to three core areas of high unemployment and urban decay, cooperation and communication among groups is good.

ALTON -- Mayor Paul Lenz(1) Employment

Alton is a heavily industrialized area. Unemployment exceeds 7%, and over the last year or two, the city has lost over 700 jobs because of the downturn in business. This is a blue collar community and you should anticipate questions about employment levels and your policies to support expanded employment.

(2) Alton Lock and Dam Project

This project is of particular importance to Alton because of the concentration of barge traffic and barge operations centered in this area. There is strong support for a new facility at a new location. (See Questions and Answers and discussion of this project in Iowa Issues Overview.)

(3) Big Government

There is strong opposition to the Federal requirements and restrictions that accompany Federal aid -- and even some opposition to general revenue sharing because it too has strings and restrictions. You could emphasize that general revenue sharing is the least restrictive Federal program and has the least bureaucratic cost associated with it. General revenue sharing has been essential to the Alton budget and has been used extensively for recreation, fire and police protection, as well as other city services.

(4) Dr. Gordon F. Moore Community Park

Approximately 450 acres of land will be developed into a new park area. Considerable local and state support was necessary to get this land, and Mayor Lanz has written you asking for recognition of Dr. Moore's contributions and of the importance of this park to Alton.

(6) Community Development/Housing

Alton has received community development funds and has used them largely to reconstruct old housing, to clear blighted areas, and to begin construction on new activities.

(7) Crime

Although the crime rate has fallen, it remains a problem in the minds of local citizens.

(8) Financial Condition

The city has maintained a strong financial condition, due in part to general revenue sharing. Tax rates have increased 18% in eight years, while the cost of government has risen much more. This record attests to effective control of local finances and efficient management of the city, as well as the helpfulness of general revenue sharing.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

ILLINOIS ISSUES

(Illinois)

SWINE FLU VACCINE

Q. Is Illinois being neglected in the delivery of the swine flu vaccine?

A. It certainly is not. Chicago has received its first shipment of flu vaccine and is in the process of inoculating the elderly and high risk patients with chronic diseases. So far the City has obtained about one-fourth of its allotment of 1.6 million doses. Immunization for the general public is expected to begin shortly.

The first shipments of vaccine were sent to northeastern Illinois because that area contains the highest concentration of population. The remainder of the State will receive vaccine beginning November 10 and continuing through December.

(Illinois)

PROVIDENT HOSPITAL SITUATION

- Q. What is being done to assist Provident Hospital in Chicago?
- A. I have instructed Secretary Mathews to look into the matter and HEW is doing everything possible to assist this worthy and important institution. HEW has already committed $35 million and will do everything in its power to assist. At the same time the hospital is working on a new plan that will reduce the amount of private funds that must be raised and thus improve the prospects for the hospital.

Background

Provident is a black hospital in Chicago which is on the verge of closing because of an inadequate physical plant. HEW has set aside $35 million for a new facility, and the hospital must raise an additional $22 million. James Thompson, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, met with the President and discussed the problems of Provident.

GREAT LAKES SHIPPING

Q. What is your Administration doing to improve and expand shipping on the Great Lakes?

A. The Maritime Administration, along with other Federal agencies, has several major programs to help revitalize the Great Lakes shipping and shipbuilding industries.

-- One is a combined effort by government, industry and other organizations, including Canadian agencies, to extend the lake shipping season the year around. This multi-million dollar ice-navigation program, which already has had significant success, holds the promise of vast economic returns.

-- A second is the construction in the Great Lakes shipyards of nearly a dozen large bulk carriers and other vessels are under construction contract.

Underscoring the importance of these programs, the Maritime Administration has recently opened a Great Lakes Regional Office in Cleveland and has extended its marketing effort throughout the Lakes area.

INDIANA DUNES NATIONAL LAKESHORE

- Q. Two related questions on Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore, in the Gary-Hamond-Calumet area just east of Chicago: First, are you going to sign the bill to expand the Lakeshore, and second, what's your position on the construction of a nuclear power plant right next to the Lakeshore by the Northern Indiana Public Service Company?
- A. The bill is on my desk. I haven't yet made a final decision but I look on it with favor at this point.

The nuclear power plant issue is before the courts. The plant has been licensed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission and I don't think I should comment on this while litigation is pending.

Background

The Administration opposed earlier versions of the bill to expand Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore because of a $57 million price tag. As finally passed, however, the measure authorizes about $25 million in land acquisitions, and the Interior Department has recommended Presidential approval.

The nuclear power plant would augment an existing fossil-fueled power plant. After it was licensed by the AEC (and its successor, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission), environmentalist groups went to court to block construction, but the US Court of Appeals ruled last spring that the matter had been handled legally. The Interior Department, which has opposed the license since 1972 but which did not join in the lawsuit to block construction, recently asked the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to reconsider the license. NRC declined to do so.

Interior's National Park Service is concerned about air and water pollution and possible danger to the public in case of accident, but has not yet been able to come up with enough facts and figures to justify a full-scale campaign against the plant.

STORING NUCLEAR WASTES IN MICHIGAN

- Q. What is the status of ERDA's plans to store nuclear wastes in Michigan, and will the Governor have a veto over such a plan?
- A. I understand that Michigan is one of 30 states with geologic structures that might be suitable for waste storage. ERDA has planned to do some exploration work in these states to evaluate further the potential suitability.

There certainly hasn't been any decision to proceed with a waste storage facility in Michigan.

Since the question about ERDA's activity first came up, I understand that Michigan and ERDA officials have met many times on the matter. Also, in an exchange of letters between Governor Millikan and ERDA Administrator Seamans, it is made clear that there will be close collaboration on any further steps and that there will be agreement on ground rules before any physical exploratory drilling occurs.

Again, all this is just exploration and evaluation work.

Given the preliminary nature of the exploratory effort and the close cooperation, ERDA Administrator Seamans advises that he doesn't envision any situation where the question of a veto might come up.

MEDICAID REIMBURSEMENT

- Q. The Illinois Association of Health Care Facilities, which represents about half of the 950 private nursing homes in Illinois, has threatened to refuse to admit Medicaid patients unless the Federal government increases the reimbursement rate for Medicaid-supported care. What will the Federal government do if this threat is carried out?
- A. As you may know, new regulations that went into effect in July give States up to 18 months to establish reasonable cost-related reimbursement procedures for the payment of bills incurred by Medicaid recipients in skilled nursing homes and intermediate care facilities. The procedures established by the State must then be validated by HEW. We will have to wait and see what procedures are proposed by the State of Illinois before this issue can be settled.

Background

The Illinois Association of Health Care Facilities has indeed made this threat, but the 140 non-profit Illinois homes, while dissatisfied with the rate, will not participate. Nursing home associations make such threats from time to time but, because of surplus bed capacity, the threats usually prove to be groundless.

SSI BENEFIT INCREASE -- ILLINOIS

- Q. SSI recipients received an increase in benefits when the Federal SSI payment was increased in July 1976. However, the State of Illinois offset this increase by reducing its supplemental payment, so that the recipient ended up even. As a result the State and not the recipient benefited from the increase. Is this fair?
- A. As you may know, many states have chosen to supplement SSI payments with additional payments of their own. Illinois is one of them. When the Federal cost-of-living increase of 6.4% was put into effect, Illinois -- like some other states -- passed along the Federal increase to reduce its own payments by a like amount. The net result is that the recipient in Illinois receives the same amount of money.

As you can see, the decision was really made here in this State so that I must suggest that the matter be taken up with State officials.

COAL-TO-GAS DEMONSTRATION PLANT NEAR CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

- Q. Governor Walker's office has indicated that ERDA will select Illinois as a site for a major new demonstration plant to convert coal to pipeline quality gas. ERDA will not confirm the Governor's statement. Can you confirm it for us?
- A. From among five firms submitting proposals, I understand ERDA has selected two firms to proceed with conceptual design work for a coal-to-gas demonstration plant. One of those consortia -- the Illinois Coal Gasification Group -- would like to build a plant near Carbondale in Perry County, Illinois.

ERDA will not make the final selection between the two firms until the conceptual design work has been completed in late 1977 or early 1978.

BACKGROUND

- ERDA received five proposals from consortia that wish to build a large plant to convert coal to pipeline quality gas. Under this program, ERDA would pay the full costs of design activity, one half of the construction costs and one half of net operating costs. The estimated cost of the project is between $200-400 million.
- In June 1976, ERDA selected 2 of the 5 proposals for the award of contracts for conceptual design work and contracts with both will be signed shortly. In late 1977 or early 1978, one firm will be picked to go ahead with detailed design and construction.
- The second firm is the Conoco Coal Development Company which would like to build a plant near Marietta, Ohio.

JOHN DEERE - UAW STRIKE

Q. Is the Federal Government doing anything to help settle the John Deere - UAW strike in Illinois?

A. Members of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service are following this situation closely, but the parties have not asked the Federal mediators to participate.

Background

This strike affects approximately 27,000 workers in the community of Moline. Also 26,000 workers are idled in Iowa by this labor dispute.

HOUSING PROJECT -- JOLIET, ILLINOIS

- Q. What is the status of River's West Project?
- A. I am told that when the project was built 5 years ago, it met the fire code regulations of the city of Joliet, Illinois. But it no longer does, and the owner was unable to make the improvements required by the city. HUD foreclosed the property and is offering it for sale so as to provide ownership capable of restoring the project to current fire code compliance.

ALTON LOCKS AND DAM 26

- Q. Your decision to replace Alton Locks and Dam 26 has been denounced by railroad interests and some environmental groups. How do you justify your actions on this controversial issue?
- A. My primary concern was to ensure that existing levels of waterway traffic have safe, reliable passage at the Alton point on the river. The simple issue was whether to repair the present structure or to replace it.

Both the Secretary of the Army and the Department of Transportation recommended replacement over repair. The cost of replacement was roughly equivalent to the cost of repair. There were minimal adverse impacts on the environment -- the depth of the water would not have increased greatly. The additional tonnage passing through the lock would not be significant. For all of these reasons, I concurred with the recommendations.

SECTION 8 HOUSING -- Alton, Illinois

- Q: Why hasn't the City of Alton, Illinois, begun its Section 8 housing development?
- A: Alton is a Section 8 housing development and is to be built through the St. Clair Housing Authority. HUD is not permitting a construction start on this development until certain internal bookkeeping accounts are determined to be in order.

EXPANDED HOUSING STOCK: RURAL AREAS
Southern Illinois

- Q. What is the Administration doing to encourage the building of housing, including elderly housing, in rural areas?
- A. We are making a special effort to improve and expand the housing stock in rural areas, small communities, and other non-metropolitan areas. This, of course, includes housing for the elderly.

Small towns have been encouraged to form regional or county housing authorities and take part in the Section 8 program. HUD's area and insuring office directors have been directed to provide information on the use of FHA programs to potential users in rural areas. At the headquarters level, HUD has been working with the Farmers Home Administration, the Veterans Administration, and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to ensure cooperation in the rural housing effort. HUD's field offices are working with the offices of these agencies in their areas to bring about the same cooperation.

FACT SHEET FROM ERDA
ILLINOIS

General

Major ERDA contractor facilities in Illinois include the Argonne National Laboratory, outside of Chicago, the Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory near Batavia, and the Franklin McLean Memorial Research Institute at the University of Chicago.

Argonne National Laboratory - established in 1946; operated by the University of Chicago and Argonne Universities Association.

A multiprogram r&d laboratory with current programs in development of nuclear and other energy sources and in fundamental biomedical, environmental, and physical research. Leading laboratory in the areas of fast reactor physics and safety. Nonnuclear energy work in nonfocusing solar concentrator, high power batteries, fluidized bed combustion, fusion, and magnetohydrodynamics.

Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory - established in 1967; operated by Universities Research Association, Inc.

Central purpose is to explore the field of elementary particle physics via a 500-billion electron volt proton accelerator - the largest in the world. The 500-BeV plateau was reached on May 14. The facility is open to scientists from all over the U.S. and the world.

Franklin McLean Memorial Research Institute - established in 1953; operated by the University of Chicago.

The primary mission is to explore the use of radiation and radioactive isotopes to detect and treat cancer and other human diseases, including supportive basic biological studies.

Specific Events

- Fossil Energy - In June, ERDA Administrator Robert Seamans selected two firms to begin negotiation of contracts to design a pipeline quality gasification demonstration plant. One of the firms is the Illinois Coal Gasification Group in Chicago. At the present time, the contract is only for the design of a plant. At the end of the projected 20-month design period, a decision will be made whether to proceed with construction. The Illinois group has indicated that, should the decision to construct be made, it would locate the plant in Perry County, Illinois. Estimated cost of the demonstration plant: between $200 million and $400 million.
- In 1975, ERDA selected a proposal submitted by Illinois which sited the $237 million Coalcon synthetic fuels project near New Athens, Ill. It will be the largest coal conversion plant to date in the U.S. and will produce both clean boiler fuel and pipeline quality gas. The project is still in the design phase. A decision to proceed with construction, which is dependent on available cofunding, could come in mid-1977.
- Environment and - ERDA has contact 13 sites in Illinois to discuss Safety possible radiological surveys. Surveys are being conducted at sites where radiological records are insufficient to assure that residual contamination does not pose a health or safety problem. The sites, which are all in the Chicago area, were formerly used for research and development work in the early days of the Nation's atomic energy program.
- Eight of the 13 sites are laboratory buildings at the University of Chicago. Others are GSA warehouse, 1716 W. Pershing; Museum of Science and Industry; National Guard Armory, 51st and Cottage Grove; Billings Hospital small animal facility; Site A, Cook County Forest Preserve, Palos Park.

Solar Energy

- ERDA is assisting the City of Chicago and the State of Illinois in adding a solar heating system to the Administration Building of the Navy Pier, which was renovated and converted into an exposition and recreation center this past summer. ERDA's support, which began September 30, is about $580,000 or approximately two-thirds the cost of the solar heating system. Final design will be completed within the next three months, and construction is expected to take about a year after bids have been evaluation and a contractor selected.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Campaign Polls

Carter's overwhelming strength in Chicago has given Carter a 55.4 to 44.6 lead in Illinois. Carter led in Chicago at 73.8 to 26.2. In the suburbs, Ford led 56.1 to 43.9 and in the downstate area, Ford led 59.3 to 40.7. (UPI, 10/14/76, initial results of the Chicago Sun-Times Star Poll)

Prairie Farmer Magazine conducted a poll September 20-25 in farm areas of Illinois which indicated that Ford has 42.9% vs 31.6% for Carter. Of the leaners, Ford got 55.2 and Carter 40.

Campaign

Carter appeared at a Polish-American dinner audience in Chicago on Sunday. He and Daley were embarrassed by the invocation given by a Polish Catholic Bishop. Alfred L. Abramowicz who brought up the abortion issue during his prayer, essentially apologizing because he was at the dinner. Daley tried to overcome the Bishop's remarks by saying that it wasn't anything to worry about since Carter had said he was personally against abortion. Some attendees at the dinner termed the welcome for Carter restrained.

During his remarks, Carter assailed Ford for the Eastern European remark. (10/11/76, story)

Georgia Democratic State Senator Julian Bond was in Chicago urging black registration and voting, but said that he would not campaign for Jimmy Carter, saying "I don't think there's much I can do for the Carter campaign." He also told a reporter that he had been asked, but had replied that he had a difficult schedule. (10/10/76, article)

Illinois Office of Education said Tuesday that, contrary to its policies, a state employee might have supplied its mailing labels to the campaign staff of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter. An investigation is under way. (10/6/76, article)

Dole

Dole was also in the Chicago area on Sunday, visiting Salvic neighborhoods in Berwyn and Cicero. He schedule a quick trip to the Bohemian Houby Festival parade.

Columnist Jerome Watson details several instances during Jimmy Carter's recent "unity" visit to Chicago and Illinois where Carter and his aides appeared to be putting distance between himself and underdog Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael J. Howlett. (9/15/76, column)

Describes visit by Walter Mondale to Illinois where he began rebutting President Ford's Michigan speech as "baldness of misrepresentation." Mondale was heckled by University of Illinois students during a speech there. (9/16/76, article)

Discusses reluctance in both Ford and Carter camps to unleash language used in describing opponents. Calls Carter-Mondale less restrained with comments on "Nixon-Ford" administration and "ugly crack" about FBI Director Kelley's announced marriage plans. (9/13/76, column)

Describes GOP gubernatorial candidate James Thompson's recent White House meeting with President Ford and resulting Ford direction to aides for taking steps to aid financially hurting Provident Hospital, which serves Chicago's black community. (9/22/76, article)

Editorial strongly criticizes those who have attacked Carter for the Playboy interview. Carter was not fuzzy in the interview but spoke honestly and straight. (9/22/76, editorial)

Quotes former Illinois Governor Ogilvie, Ford state chairman, that Ronald Reagan will campaign in state and Reagan's former campaign leaders have joined a Ford steering committee. States Carter's Illinois budget would be $150,000-$200,000. (9/10/76, Column)

Calls Dole choice "uninspiring" for the country but an indication that President Ford "fears Watergate as at least an indirect electionalbatross and sought as a running mate, one who had overcome it." (8/20/76, editorial)

Calls on President Ford to "move more toward the center, where the majority of American voters are most comfortable." (8/19/76, editorial)

Focuses attention on Carter's foreign policy advisor Brzezinski known to be "deeply moral in his approach to politics." Column calls this a "refreshing change from the pragmatic approach of Kissinger who feels a serious statesman cannot afford to let moral indignation get in the way of efforts to arrange peaceful and stable world." (column)

Article outlines list of ten economic variables for the TV debates drawn up by Carter's chief economic advisor Lawrence Klein of the Wharton School. They include growth of "real" GNP, performance of the consumer price index, disposable income and after tax corporate profits. (article)

ILLINOIS GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN

State and Local Issues

Chicago area and statewide unemployment rates in Illinois rose sharply in September, Labor Department reported Friday. August was 7.5% for Chicago and September was 7.8%; for state the rate is 7.7% up from 7.3%. (10/9/76, article)

NAACP names Chicago "problem area" in field of segregation and black unemployment by Illinois State Conference of Branches of the NAACP. Also named were Rockford, Peoria and Maywood in Illinois. (10/9/76, article)

Transportation Secretary William Coleman indicated Wednesday the Federal government will approve the State Street mall in October. (9/30/76, article)

Federal Housing Administration policies in Chicago are examined in the wake of recent hearings by the U. S. House Banking, Currency, and Housing Committee. Saying "federally guaranteed mortgages would be far more wisely placed in neighborhoods in danger of deteriorating but not yet irrecoverable." Editorial supports federal money use for pilot project at Cabrini-Green public housing project on Chicago's near North Side. (9/15/76, editorial)

A federal housing program which was supposed to help low-income families correct code violations has instead provided 3% loans to wealthy real estate investors. The loans were used to provide fireplaces, parquet floors, cedar siding and other luxury items, according to the GAO. (9/26/76, article)

Recommends the suspension of Cook County corrections director Winston E. Moore for allegedly beating inmates of the facility. (10/2/76, editorial)

In Chicago area recently, there have been 14 federal and county indictments charging 30 medical professionals and businessmen with cheating the program out of millions of dollars. Several have pleaded guilty and more indictments are expected. Both candidates for governor have pledged thorough reform of the program. Just recently, leaders of the nursing home industry have called for a moratorium on accepted new Medicaid patients to protest what they consider low compensation. At the center of the controversy is James L. Trainor, Director of Illinois Department of Public Aid. The agency runs Medicaid program account for one-half of the $2 billion annual state welfare budget. Trainor has claimed he is a victim of misinformation. While federal officials have not totally backed up Trainor, they have praised with caution his program, saying that the state agency is doing well in pursuing the indictments. (10/10/76, article)

Education

Says Republican legislature's objections to Democratic Governor Dan Walker's school aid-tax collection-speed up plan "do not make sense." Calling GOP "intractable," editorial offers and explains possible compromise. Says GOP gubernatorial candidate James R. Thompson has not shown leadership potential by withdrawing his support of Walker plan after GOP legislature refused to go along. (9/22/76, editorial)

On state education funding crisis, editorial recommends:
(1) no excess spending pledge by Walker, (2) support of Walker by GOP's Thompson, and (3) quick legislative action.
(9/14/76, editorial)

A controversy over the barge-navigation project at Alton, Illinois, threatens to scuttle a $1.1 billion bill that would authorize 115 other water-resources projects in 40 states. Senator Gaylord Nelson and a coalition of rail labor, railroads and environmental groups are threatening a filibuster against the bill. Opponents of the bill favor "user fees" on rivers and elimination of the Alton Locks and Dam project. (9/28/76, article)

DEBATES

Says there was no winner in the first Presidential debate, but that the candidates' differences did show and that was what was important. (9/25/76, editorial)

Editorial says that Ford's Eastern Europe remark was a graffe as was the rash promise on list of U. S. businesses observing the Arab boycott. Goes on to say that other aspects of Ford's foreign policy good and positive. E.g.: Ford right to defend Helsinki agreement; Africa intercession; Portugal policy; and Italian policy. On Carter: editorial fairly negative.

"Jimmy Carter said too little to assure us that his foreign policies would show improvements over Ford's. He took some cheap shots.... Carter promised openness in the conduct of foreign policy, yet he dodged answers to questions much more than Ford did, making speeches instead." (10/8/76, editorial)

Article "Ethnic Leaders Here Condemn Ford's Eastern Europe Remark" states that while the Chicago ethnic leaders have denounced the statement, they want a clarification.
(10/8/76, article)

After call from Ford from AFI, Polish American Congress President Aloysius Mazewski said that he was "satisfied and content."
(10/9/76, article)

ABORTION

Argues against inclusion of abortion as a political issue in campaign, saying "what issue is more private?" (editorial)

BUTZ

While pleased that Butz is out, the editorial indicates that Butz should have been forced to leave the Cabinet much earlier because of his earlier "rancid" slurs. (10/5/76, editorial)

BUSING

Disapproves of President Ford's timing on call for busing re-examination: "Busing is the law. Needed is a bold reaffirmation of Ford's commitment to law at the same time he seeks alternative ways to end the blight of segregated schools." (5/20/76, editorial)

DAY CARE

Urges President Ford not to veto new day care bill, saying delay in staffing standards is bad but increase in funds is good. (8/28/76, editorial)

DEFENSE

Calls for cuts now in next year's proposed defense budget, especially in areas of personnel where concern is expressed for large costs of military retirement pay provisions. (9/19/76, editorial)

Commends Congress for action delaying buying the B-1 bomber but urges similar action to delay fourth Nimitz class nuclear carrier, which Senate has refused to stop. (8/11/76, editorial)

ECONOMY

Citing wholesale industrial prices and wholesale price index which rose and the employment rate, editorial stated that it wanted to have Ford defend more fully his program of nonintervention in the economy. The editorial also called for Carter to be more specific in his outline of the alternatives. Discussion should be framed in terms of jobs provided by the government if any; structural problems in the economy which might result in higher unemployment in some segments of the population; redistribution of the federal tax dollar; and how the government can restore a free marketplace in which prices are more responsive to demand. (10/9/76, editorial)

FBI

Calls for public apology and no gifts policy by FBI Director Kelley and public explanation by William Seidman of his accounting firm's problems with the SEC. Says because public trust has been violated too often, in both cases, "people need to be reassured." (9/13/76, editorial)

GUN CONTROL

Calls President Ford's opposition to gun control "demagoguery pure and simple." Ford says he wants to control violent crime, but he ignores the horrid situation created by handguns, editorial says; guns "are a menace that should, at best, be banned from use by civilians." (9/28/76, editorial)

FOREIGN POLICY

Vietnam

Editorial believes "in the long run, everyone's interests will be served by normalizing relations with Vietnam" but is pleased decision on UN membership has been delayed by two months so "presidential politics won't force a U.S. veto." (9/16/76, editorial)

China

Agrees with Ford and Carter tactic of avoiding China issue since Mao's death. Urges continued "deep freeze" on issue of Taiwan to avoid undoing the gains achieved since 1972. Calls Republican platform inclusion of Taiwan "irresponsible." (9/13/76, editorial)

Korea

Supports chopping down of poplar tree after Korean border murders but calls decision to show military might "irrationality." Says President Ford "acted unwisely in permitting it and Carter was unthinking in giving his approval." (8/28/76, editorial)

Africa

On Kissinger proposal to help black Africans prosper after self-rule: "On balance they appear capable of achieving the goal of developing a more fruitful economic and political bonds between U.S. and a continent neglected too long." (5/8/76, editorial)

Praises Henry Kissinger's actions in South Africa and praises UN Ambassador William Scranton's calmness and his reasonable attitudes. (9/27/76, editorial)

Gromyko at UN seemed to indicate that the Soviet Union is willing to allow on-site inspection of suspected nuclear weapons tests. If this is true, the U.S. should move to test this. (10/6/76, editorial)

Arms Sales

Recommends that the U. S. "get out of the dirty business of adding arms proliferation throughout the Persian Gulf." The editorial also favors the tax reform bill now before President Ford which would deny some income tax benefits to companies that comply with the Arab boycott of Israel. (9/29/76, editorial)

10/14/76

EDITORIAL PROFILE
CHICAGO TRIBUNE

CAMPAIGN

Editorial 10/6/76 Investigating the President pro-Ford Categorizes the accusation as "kind of charge no candidate should have to face in heat of a campaign." Calls the charges "shadowy" and "insubstantial" and "little more than rumor." Calls for prompt investigation by Ruff.

Editorial 10/8/76 Debate II

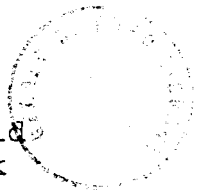

Editorial gives debate to Carter on style but saying
"the facts are on his side" gave the points for substance to Ford. However, editorial criticizes Ford in several areas saying that "although both made mistakes, Mr. Ford's are likely to be remembered with more bitterness." On the plus and minus side for both candidates, editorial faults Ford for his remarks on Eastern Europe and for trying to turn Catholic feeling against Carter on Helsinki agreement.
Gave Carter a minus for not showing a grasp of Middle East problems but says that was balanced off by the Ford announcement that the Commerce Department would release the names of those firms involved in the Arab boycott which it called "hurried use of Presidential powers to score debating points." Editorial generally approves Debate II calling it more "direct and exciting" than the first, but its drawback is "to put greater stress on verbal nimbleness and graceful delivery than on substance, and in that department Mr. Carter seems superior." Calls for candidates to be required to answer the questions in the third debate.

Article 10/11/76 Dole appearance

Describes Dole's appearance on October 10 at the Houby Day parade, a traditional even for all ethnic groups in the Chicago suburbs of Cicero and Berwyn. Indicates that "all festival doers seemed undaunted by President Ford's remarks on Eastern European countries" and includes quotes from parade marshall Mrs. Kohar Havelka : "most of us would like further clarification, but this is not a political event." and Norman Scmanan, Executive Director of the Cermak Road Business Association, who commented "It would take a lot more to upset a neighborhood such as ours."

10/8/76 Article Rockefeller address at fundraiser

Describes Rockefeller's appearance in Chicago when he said that he does not believe the Ford Eastern European remark will hurt the campaign. Said Rockefeller: "In the heat of the debate, he was talking about the fact that the U.S. doesn't recognize Soviet domination over these states." but "the way he put it sound as though it was just the opposite."

Article 9/6/76

Presents an overview of the pre-Labor day mood in the Carter camp. Carter is described as "antsy" and impatient for the campaign to get into full swing. Carter staffers express concern that the candidate may appear arrogant to a nation which admires humility in its leaders. They are also wondering whether Carter can keep his temper in check during the TV debates.

Editorial 8/15/76

Endorses Ford over Reagan

Endorses Ford in strong terms over Reagan. Cites three main reasons for support: 1) he has been a good president 2) knowledge and proven performance are on Ford's side and 3) Ford has demonstrated strength and Reagan only rigidity. While strongly endorsing Ford, takes GOP to task for platform planks saying they are too rigid along conservative lines.

Editorial 8/20/76

pro-Dole

Expresses strong support for Dole as vice-presidential choice. Calls the Senator a "witty, abrasive, colorful campaigner who has a record of beating the odds." Describes Dole's greatest challenge now is to prove he is presidential material after his prior role as an intraparty worker.

Article 9/11/76

Claims Senator Dole was criticized by NY State GOP leaders for his vote against aid to NYC, not being aggressive enough in the campaign against Carter, and was urged to come up with a positive program for the cities. NY GOP considers the Jewish vote vital and Dole's speech before the Zionist Organization of American "was interrupted by applause frequently." Cites Dole's pro-Israel voting record.

Editorial 9/16/76 Ford Motors Strike

Suggests Leonard Woodcock is guilty of political influence in calling Ford workers out on strike at this time. Recalls Woodcock's strong ties to Carter and speculation he would like to be Secretary of Labor. Editorial believes "a prolonged strike would severely hurt the economy and if Mr. Ford exerts pressure to end the strike, Mr. Woodcock would be in no position to cry politics."

Article 10/4/76 Ford Investigation

Indicates that NBC probed political funding for Mr. Ford when he was a Michigan Congressman and found no irregularities. NBC report Rowan looking into the funding when Ford was being considered by the Senate for Vice President. Rowan said that he believes Ruff will reach the same conclusion.

Editorial 10/9/76

Candidates should stick to the big issues

Indicates there have been enough boners for any campaign and that the candidates will be better off if they stick to the important issues the American people are interested in.

Article 10/7/76

Carter has made significant gainst among Cook County suburbanites. Carter's strategists rate the Illinois election a toss-up. The latest Carter organization poll shows Carter leading Ford 47-45 statewide.

Editorial 7/19/76

pro-Ford

Comparing the record of Ford to the promises of Jimmy Carter on aid to the cities, editorial examines differences between what Ford demanded of NYC and what Carter warned the National Conference of Mayors. Questions whether Carter really promises more than the $2.3 billion which Ford gave NY and whether more would be available considering the antaganosm and the problems of all the big cities.

STATE ISSUES

10/10/76 Editorial      Endorses Thompson

10/7/76 Article

Mayor Daley accused the press of conducting a blackout on Michael Howlett's campaign for governor.

10/5/76 Article

Mayr Daley blasted James Thompson's record as U.S. attorney and questioned his truthfulness and legal ethics. Daley said Thompson did not have the experience to become governor.

10/5/76 Article

The re-election campaign of three indicted legislators and another who has been convicted of bribery goes well. They are heavy favorites. Rep. McAvoy (Republican, Chicago) has no opposition; Rep. Hanakan (Democrat, McHenry) and John Wall (Republican, Chicago) did well in promary election. Rep. Craig (Democrat, Danville) was convicted in June for a ready-mix concrete scandal, has not been sentenced and has been allowed to stay on ballot pending sentencing. McAvoy and Wall are both Republicans with close ties to the Democratic machine.

LOCAL ISSUES

Editorial 10/9/76      Shortage of GOP Election Judges

The critical shortage of Republican election judges "puts us in a crisis situation," Chicago Board of Election Commissioners John Hanly says. ... "cannot have good election with this large a percentage of GOP vacancies."

BUTZ

Article 10/5/76

In an article "Outster is bad news on Farm" reaction to the Butz resignation is considered. Both the Illinois Farm Bureau and the American Farm Bureau Federation had urged the President not to fire Butz, saying his personal attitudes are eloquent testimony he is not a racist. One midwest farm leader was quoted as saying "the Butz resignation would help Carter in Illinois."

Editorial 10/5/76

pro-resignation

In an editorial describing Earl Butz as "a good secretary of Agriculture -- probably the best in several years" the Chicago Tribune concludes that since it was not his first offense that resignation was probably the best solution. Indicates that the Butz "indiscretion put President Ford in an intolerable position in the midst of a difficult campaign."

Economy

Article 10/7/76

The lull in the economy has caused economists to review their forecasts, jitters in the stock market and damaged Ford's campaign. Then statistics and forecasts are given for the coming years.

Agriculture

Column 8/23/76

neutral

In an interview prior to Carter's speech before the Iowa State Fair, P.R. Bobby Smith, Carter's chief agricultural advisor outlines some of Carter's thinking on farm issues. Besides higher federal price guarantees for grains, soybeans, milk, peanuts and cotton, Carter also believes the U.S. should have up to 60 days supply of grain reserves with at least 50% controlled by farmers.

FOREIGN POLICY

Editorial 9/18/76 Africa

pro-Administration

On the Kissinger mission to Africa: "The latest Kissinger efforts gives us the satisfaction of knowing the United States has done what it could to avert disaster."

Editorial 9/30/76 Israel - Saudi Arabia Arms

pro-sales

Saying it is not "in Israel's interest -- any more than it is in ours to have Saudi Arabia so lightly defended as to be a tempting target," editorial criticizes Senate Foreign Relations Committee for their initial vote to bar the sale of 650 air-to-surface missiles to Saudi Arabia which was later changed after efforts by Committee Chairman Sparkman and Secretary Kissinger.

Busing

Editorial 10/11/76

pro-Administration

Calls brief filed by the Dept. of Justice with the Texas Supreme Court "the only sensible position in the emotional issue of race and the schools." Says it "reaffirms the commitment of the executive branch of the federal government to colorblind public services."
