FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE JULY 25, 1975

Turkey has made clear for some months its intention to use United States military bases as hostage to force the United States to change its principles on arms sales.

The United States cannot allow a purchaser of U.S. arms to intimidate us by closing facilities which presumably serve mutual interests.

Turkey should take steps to achieve a just settlement on Cyprus, and not overreact in still another attempt to force the United States to abandon fundamental policies.

FOR IMMEDIALE RELEASE

Office of the White House Press Secretary

THE WHITE HOUSE

STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT

I am deeply disappointed by the refusal of the House of Representatives to partially lift the embargo on the shipment of arms to Turkey. It is my strong conviction that this negative vote can only do the most serious and irreparable damage to the vital national security interests of the United States, including our normally excellent relations with the Government of Turkey, U.S. security interests in the Atlantic Alliance and the Eastern Mediterranean, and U.S. efforts to assist the governments of Greece, Turkey and Cyprus to reach a just and equitable Cyprus settlement. It will also seriously affect important interests elsewhere.

I and members of my Administration worked hard to persuade Members of the House of Representatives that vital, national defense interests are at stake in this issue. I am very proud of those 206 Members of Congress of both Parties, as well as the Members of the Senate who supported a similar measure, for casting their votes in the national interest. I deeply appreciate the efforts of the Bi-Partisan Leadership of the Congress and the members of the House and Seante Committees on International Relations and Foreign Affairs who supported the legislation. I will continue to make every effort to assist in achieving an equitable settlement of the Cyprus dispute. I will work to reassure our allies, Turkey and Greece, of our continuing desire to maintain strong and effective relationships with them despite this set-back. I hope the House of Representatives will reconsider its failure to act affirmatively.

NOT VOTING

Fulton Carter

Hinshaw

So the bill was not passed. The Clerk announced the following pairs.

Mr. Danielson with Mr. Heinz, Mr. Fulton with Mr. Carter.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MORGAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members desiring to do so may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks in the course of the consideration of the Senate bill, S. 846, which was just defeated.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

(Mr. ANDREWS, of North Carolina asked and was given permission to extend his remarks at this point in the RECORD.)

Mr. ANDREWS of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, today I have voted in opposition to S. 846 fully cognizant of the serious implications which this legislation poses for the United States. My review of the legal and foreign policy aspects of the problem indicate that each of the conflicting positions has considerable merit. This is an extremely complicated measure reflective of the events which have taken place in a region of complexity involving two of our Nation's most valued allies. I am continuing my study of this matter with a view to developing a more thorough and comprehensive understanding of these issues.

AMENDMENTS TO NATIONAL AD-VISORY COMMITTEE ON OCEANS AND ATMOSPHERE

Mr. MURPHY of New York. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take from the Speaker's table the bill (H.R. 5447) to amend the act of August 16, 1971, as amended, which established the National Advisory Committee on Oceans and Atmosphere, to increase and extend the appropriation authorization thereunder, with Senate amendments thereto, and concur in the Senate amendments.

The Clerk read the title of the bill. The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

Page 2, lines 4 and 5, strike out "each of". Page 2, line 5, strike out "years" and in-

SEC. 2. Section 4 of such Act (33 U.S.C. 857-9) is amended-

(1) by inserting after "review of" and be-ore "the progress" the following: "national ocean policy, coastal zone management, and"; and

(2) striking out "the President." at the end of the second sentence thereof and inserting in lieu thereof "the President and the Congress.'

Amend the title so as to read: "An Act to amend the Act of August 16, 1971, as amended, which established the National Advisory Committee on Oceans and Atmosphere, to increase and extend the appropriation authorization thereunder, and for other purposes.".

Mr. MOSHER. Mr. Speaker, I agree with my subcommittee chairman, Mr. MURPHY, in supporting the conference report on H.R. 5447, a bill to extend the authorizations for the National Advisory Committee on Oceans and Atmosphere. I agree with only a minor reservation.

Our Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries approved H.R. 5447 on May 16 of this year. The House subsequently considered and approved this authorization on May 19. The bill as passed by the House would have increased the level of authorizations from $400,000 to $445,000 for the fiscal years to and including 1978.

The other body has considered this legislation and has passed favorably upon it with the addition of three amendments. These Senate changes to our original bill would accomplish the the following:

First. It would extend authorization for NACOA for 2 years as opposed to our suggested 3 years:

Second. Instead of requiring NACOA to be exclusively responsive to direct requests by the President, it would add a section to require that the Advisory Committee would have to respond to requests from the Congress and the President.

Turkey has made clear for some months its intention to use United States military bases as hostage to force the United States to change its principles on arms sales.

The United States cannot allow a purchaser of U.S. arms to intimidate us by closing facilities which presumably serve mutual interests.

Turkey should take steps to achieve a just settlement on Cyprus, and not overreact in still another attempt to force the United States to abandon fundamental policies.

COMMENTS FROM MEMBERS CONTACTED FOR THEIR REACTION TO THE ANNOUNCED TURKISH TAKEOVER OF UNITED STATES AND NATO INSTALLATIONS

Satterfield (D.-Va.)

- --- It is evident Congress committed a gross and serious error by its vote yesterday.
- --- While yesterday many Members believed they had "called the Turks bluff", today Members were extremely shocked when the news of the base take-over was announced.
- --- Indicated people in his district will not look lightly on Congress action of yesterday.
- --- Said he would work over the weekend and on Monday to get a feel of the positions of those Members who voted against the bill (but without strong conviction for a negative vote)
- --- Believes it is most important to get appropriate legislation through Congress between now and the time Congress recesses.

Zablocki (D.-Wisc.)

- --- Upon receipt of the announced action to be taken by Turkey tomorrow, Congressman Zablocki took the floor to announce out of order the Turkish plans. The Congressman stated there was utter silence on the floor.
- --- Because of a change in 6 or 7 votes the bill would have passed the House yesterday, he feels Congress should take action immediately.
- --- Indicated it was his opinion that any compromise legislation should go no further than the bill considered by the House yesterday--because both the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State publicly stated that the House bill was as far as the Administration could go.

- --- Believes that the congressional actions of yesterday was irresponsible and that the Turkish action today is irresponsible. Both the United States Congress and Turkey should have second thoughts. Now is the time to move with appropriate legislation.
- --- Addressing what he would be the Greek American reaction today, he noted that the American Greeks should be most concerned that Turkey does not immediately move to take over Cyprus and the Aegean Islands.

Sikes (D.-Fla.)

- --- Believes the American public will be stunned into realization that Congress has made a fool of itself.
- --- Congress should pass legislation for submission to the President before its recess.
- --- It is imperative that legislation be enacted upon by the House and Senate.

Broomfield (R.-Mich.)

- --- He is exploring the possibility of reintroducing legislation the first of next week.
- --- Noted that several Members of Congress today informed him that they wish they could now change their negative vote to a vote in favor of the legislation. (These desires were made before the announcement of Turkish action)

Speaker Carl Albert

Did not know of statement by Turkey requesting United States to vacate bases by Saturday. He expressed amazement at same. He had no immediate reaction to the question of what could be done legislatively next week to reverse the House action on aid to Turkey. Felt that it was something that should be thought about over the weekend and stated he would defer to the judgment of Morgan and Hays. The Speaker then called Hays and asked Hays what he thought could be done. The Speaker stated that Hays didn't know of anything to do legislatively but stated that Hays told the White House to tell the President to see what he could do in his meetings in Helsinki to forestall any precipitous reaction by Turkey and others.

The Speaker then called Doc Morgan and asked him if there was anything that could be done legislatively. Morgan advised the Speaker that he felt the best thing to do was to await the reaction of the American people.

The Speaker read both Morgan and Hays' statement released by Brademas etal, a copy of which is attached.

Rep. John McFall

Says Turkey's reaction is what he expected and he blasted the "chicken" Republicans who would not stick with a "yea" vote after the Democrats made a commitment of 100 yea votes. McFall said to send them pictures of the base closings.

McFall did state that one legislative approach would be to pass the same bill in the Senate and attach it to a bill that had to come over to the House next week. That way the House could get another vote on it and probably pass it.

McFall says if the Senate passed the same bill with enough comment, etc. about the importance etc. of the legislation it might have a favorable effect on the vote of the House Members.

Rep. Thomas "Doc" Morgan - talked to Max.

COMMENTS FROM MEMBERS CONTACTED FOR THEIR REACTION TO THE ANNOUNCED TURKISH TAKEOVER OF UNITED STATES AND NATO INSTALLATIONS

Jim Martin (R-N.C.)

- --- If the Turks publicly indicate that they are now prepared to make a good faith effort to resolve the refugee/territorial problems on Cyprus, Congressman Martin could support some form of embargo relief.
- --- However, before supporting such legislation, the Turkish statement must be clear as to their prospective actions in reaching an agreement on Cyprus.

Don Clancy (R - Ohio)

- --- While he has strong Greek pressures from his District, the Congressman indicated he would now be willing to support some form of embargo relief legislation.
- --- He said, "If needed", he would now definitely support the Administration's position.

Roy Taylor (D-N.C.)

- --- Stated that his decision to vote "no" last Thursday was a very difficult one -- he is torn between the Turkish violation of international agreement v. national security interests of the U.S.
- --- Notwithstanding the Turkey announcement of yesterday, this issue has continued to cause great consternation.
- --- Even though the announced Turkish action would be viewed as political blackmail by the Turks on the U.S., he believes if Turkey would make a public commitment that they were sincere in resolving the Cyprus question, the House of Representatives would remove the embargo.

William Whitehurst (R -Va.)

--- Needs some indication by Turks that they are willing to compromise in order to vote to lift embargo. If the Turks would make some move then he would support lifting of embargo on arms paid for.

John Rousselot (R-Calif)

- --- He needs better justification in order to change his vote. He is willing to work with Michel to get the 15 conservatives to change. Feels that Fascell, Brademas, etc. are ready to talk.
- --- Will support something if we can work on it. His problem is that Turks must show some willingness to negotiate and resolve the refugee problem.
- --- Pointed out that there is a real distrust of Kissinger. From February 5th on Kissinger told Turkish government, "Don't worry about Congress. We will find a way to turn the Congress around."

Goodloe Byron (D -Md.)

- --- He hasn't given it any thought since the vote. If we can work out some legislative position, he will be happy to try and cooperate but wants to think about it over the weekend.
- --- Feels need to take care of domestic situation but doesn't want to tie hands of the President.
- --- Will not vote for foreign aid, military or otherwise. May vote for cash sales on barrel head. Will not vote for aid to Israel. Not upset about Greek-Turkey situation -- but wants cash on barrel head.

Jack Wydler (R-NY)

- --- He can't go from one position to another without looking foolish. Wants to help but has to count votes in own District. But he is not delighted with the vote cast.
- --- What's really happening to our bases on Turkey?
- --- We need something to quiet the Greek community which is very emotional. Need some indication from Turks that they will do something in good faith on Cyprus.

Turks should take action in Cyprus -- like take home troops or machinery -- something he can hang his hat on.

IMPACT OF LOSS OF ELECTRONIC INTELLIGENCE COLLECTION ACTIVITIES IN TURKEY

As a result of the suspension of operations at U.S. intelligence collection facilities in Turkey, the United States suffered a significant loss of electronic intelligence on Soviet activities.

These activities fall into two general categories: first, Soviet weapon system development, and second, information on Soviet general purpose force development and activity in the southwestern USSR.

Experience gained since the shutdown and the adjustment to our intelligence activities which have been possible show that our actual loss has been greater than we had anticipated.

In the category of Soviet weapons systems development throughout the USSR there has been a net loss of about 15% of the total information available to the United States. Within this number there is a qualitative loss of great significance since it includes a total loss of information on some critically important weapon systems which is uniquely available from Turkey. This information includes activities in the areas of research and development and of operational forces -- both of which are of great potential significance to U.S. national security. In the category of Soviet military forces in the southwest USSR, we have lost more than 50% of our surveillance capability which severely reduces our ability for timely understanding of military movements in that part of the world.

In order to recover these losses, if we are unable to resume operations in Turkey, large additional expenditures of money($75-100 million capital investment estimated) and of time (two years minimum) will be required.

A related impact is the negative effect this loss has had on Turkey's abilities to perform effectively her role as a member of NATO. The Turks have relied heavily upon U.S. technical data and assistance in assessing the Soviet threat and providing warning of hostile actions. With the suspension of our operations, we have been forced to suspend most of this assistance and the Turkish ability to obtain indications of Soviet activities and to fulfill their responsibilities on the southern flank of NATO is therefore greatly reduced.

In summary, electronic intelligence derived from U.S. bases in Turkey was extensive, important, and often unique. Its greatest value was information on Soviet missile research and development activity, and on early indications and warnings of Soviet force readiness and movement in the area. We can replace this source only partially and only through significant investment in time and money. We want to resume operations in Turkey if possible and we can do this rapidly if Turkey will permit us to do so. If this is not possible we need to initiate action immediately to restore as much of our capability as possible.

House Vote On Turkey Produces High Cost by Howard K. Smith - ABC

The cost of the House's refusal to renew arms shipments to Turkey is being counted up here and it runs high. The main overlooked cost is in intelligence about Russia. Turkey is packed with our equipment for monitoring all developments in Russia including troop movements: now it's estimated 25 percent of our surveillance capacity in the world goes out of action.

Second is the conventional military cost. Last April Russia held the biggest combined naval and air maneuvers ever held, code named Okaon. Though maneuvers covered all the seas of the world, first priority was given to the oil routes from the Persian Gulf, whence free Europe gets nearly all its fuel, the route of the super tankers down around South Africa and the route of the smaller tankers through Suez and the Mediterranean. While Russia revealed the value of her many new bases along all those routes we now lose one main one to counter Russia in Turkey.

The third cost is the lost hope for a Cyprus settlement and the renewal of NATO's southern end. Turkey which by possession has 9 points of the law now will not negotiate. Greece which needs the settlement can't have it unless by war. Since Turkey's armed force is about double Greece's, that is virtually out. It seems an odd self-defeating way to run foreign policy in a time when our power is in retreat all over the world and Russia's is on the move that we have a Congressional democracy and Congress has decided. COMMENTS FROM MEMBERS CONTACTED FOR THEIR REACTION TO THE ANNOUNCED TURKISH TAKEOVER OF UNITED STATES AND NATO INSTALLATIONS

- --- It is evident Congress committed a gross and serious error by its vote yesterday.
- --- While yesterday many Members believed they had "called the Turks bluff", today Members were extremely shocked when the news of the base take-over was announced.
- --- Indicated people in his district will not look lightly on Congress action of yesterday.
- --- Said he would work over the weekend and on Monday to get a feel of the positions of those Members who voted against the bill but without strong conviction for a negative vote
- --- Believes it is most important to get appropriate legislation through Congress between now and the time Congress recesses.

Zablocki (D.-Wisc.)

- --- Upon receipt of the announced action to be taken by Turkey tomorrow, Congressman Zablocki took the floor to announce out of order the Turkish plans.

 The Congressman stated there was utter silence on the floor.
- --- Because of a change in 6 or 7 votes the bill would have passed the House yesterday, he feels Congress should take action immediately.
- --- Indicated it was his opinion that any compromise legislation should go no further than the bill considered by the House yesterday--because both the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State publicly stated that the House bill was as far as the Administration could go.

- --- Believes that the congressional actions of yesterday was irresponsible and that the Turkish action today is irresponsible. Both the United States Congress and Turkey should have second thoughts. Now is the time to move with appropriate legislation.
- --- Addressing what he would be the Greek American reaction today, he noted that the American Greeks should be most concerned that Turkey does not immediately move to take over Cyprus and the Aegean Islands.

Sikes (D.-Fla.)

- --- Believes the American public will be stunned into realization that Congress has made a fool of itself.
- --- Congress should pass legislation for submission to the President before its recess.
- --- It is imperative that legislation be enacted upon by the House and Senate.

Broomfield (R.-Mich.)

- --- He is exploring the possibility of reintroducing legislation the first of next week.
- --- Noted that several Members of Congress today informed him that they wish they could now change their negative vote to a vote in favor of the legislation. (These desires were made before the announcement of Turkish action)

Turkey has made clear for some months its intention to use United States military bases as hostage to force the United States to change its principles on arms sales.

The United States cannot allow a purchaser of U.S. arms to intimidate us by closing facilities which presumably serve mutual interests.

Turkey should take steps to achieve a just settlement on Cyprus, and not overreact in still another attempt to force the United States to abandon fundamental policies.

Speaker Carl Albert

Did not know of statement by Turkey requesting United States to vacate bases by Saturday. He expressed amazement at same. He had no immediate reaction to the question of what could be done legislatively next week to reverse the House action on aid to Turkey. Felt that it was something that should be thought about over the weekend and stated he would defer to the judgment of Morgan and Hays. The Speaker then called Hays and asked Hays what he thought could be done. The Speaker stated that Hays didn't know of anything to do legislatively but stated that Hays told the White House to tell the President to see what he could do in his meetings in Helsinki to forestall any precipitous reaction by Turkey and others.

The Speaker then called Doc Morgan and asked him if there was anything that could be done legislatively. Morgan advised the Speaker that he felt the best thing to do was to await the reaction of the American people.

The Speaker read both Morgan and Hays' statement released by Brademas etal, a copy of which is attached.

Rep. John McFall

Says Turkey's reaction is what he expected and he blasted the "chicken" Republicans who would not stick with a "yea" vote after the Democrats made a commitment of 100 yea votes. McFall said to send them pictures of the base closings.

McFall did state that one legislative approach would be to pass the same bill in the Senate and attach it to a bill that had to come over to the House next week. That way the House could get another vote on it and probably pass it.

McFall says if the Senate passed the same bill with enough comment, etc. about the importance etc. of the legislation it might have a favorable effect on the vote of the House Members.

Rep. Thomas "Doc" Morgan - talked to Max.

COMMENTS FROM MEMBERS CONTACTED FOR THEIR REACTION TO THE ANNOUNCED TURKISH TAKEOVER OF UNITED STATES AND NATO INSTALLATIONS

Jim Martin (R-N.C.)

- If the Turks publicly indicate that they are now prepared to make a good faith effort to resolve the refugee/territorial problems on Cyprus, Congressman Martin could support some form of embargo relief.
- --- However, before supporting such legislation, the Turkish statement must be clear as to their prospective actions in reaching an agreement on Cyprus.

Don Clancy (R - Ohio)

- --- While he has strong Greek pressures from his District, the Congressman indicated he would now be willing to support some form of embargo relief legislation.
- --- He said, "If needed", he would now definitely support the Administration's position.

Roy Taylor (D-N.C.)

- --- Stated that his decision to vote "no" last Thursday was a very difficult one -- he is torn between the Turkish violation of international agreement v. national security interests of the U.S.
- Notwithstanding the Turkey announcement of yesterday, this issue has continued to cause great consternation.
- --- Even though the announced Turkish action would be viewed as political blackmail by the Turks on the U.S., he believes if Turkey would make a public commitment that they were sincere in resolving the Cyprus question, the House of Representatives would remove the embargo.

William Whitehurst (R -Va.)

--- Needs some indication by Turks that they are willing to compromise in order to vote to lift embargo. If the Turks would make some move then he would support lifting of embargo on arms paid for.

John Rousselot (R-Calif)

- --- He needs better justification in order to change his vote. He is willing to work with Michel to get the 15 conservatives to change. Feels that Fascell, Brademas, etc. are ready to talk.
- --- Will support something if we can work on it. His problem is that Turks must show some willingness to negotiate and resolve the refugee problem.
- --- Pointed out that there is a real distrust of Kissinger. From February 5th on Kissinger told Turkish government, "Don't worry about Congress. We will find a way to turn the Congress around."

Goodloe Byron (D -Md.)

- --- He hasn't given it any thought since the vote. If we can work out some legislative position, he will be happy to try and cooperate but wants to think about it over the weekend.
- --- Feels need to take care of domestic situation but doesn't want to tie hands of the President.
- --- Will not vote for foreign aid, military or otherwise. May vote for cash sales on barrel head. Will not vote for aid to Israel. Not upset about Greek-Turkey situation -- but wants cash on barrel head.

John Ashbrook (R -Ohio)

--- Unavailable for comment

Sam Steiger (R -Ariz.)

--- Unavailable for comment

Del Clawson (R-Calif)

--- Unavailable for comment

Jack Wydler (R-NY)

- --- He can't go from one position to another without looking foolish. Wants to help but has to count votes in own District. But he is not delighted with the vote cast.
- --- What's really happening to our bases on Turkey?
- --- We need something to quiet the Greek community which is very emotional. Need some indication from Turks that they will do something in good faith on Cyprus.

Turks should take action in Cyprus -- like take home troops or machinery -- something he can hang his hat on.

Dear Charley:

I wanted you to know that I have had a thorough conversation on the drug situation with Prime Minister Demirel of Turkey.

I know that you will be as pleased as I was to hear how strongly the Prime Minister believes in the most effective controls on the production of opium poppies. He explained to me the strict measures Turkey has taken under a un-approved plan. He said that all controls have been centralized under the Agriculture Department, that he has more than a thousand people involved in inspection, and that he had discussed the matter before the entire Cabinet 3 or 4 times to make sure that all his Ministers understand the policy he intends to pursue.

Finally, Prime Minister Demirel authorized me to say quote that he intends to do whatever is necessary - not just to do his best - but everything that is necessary to assure control as we promised unquote.

I hope that you will find these views as reassuring as I did. I know that the Turkish authorities are as anxious as we are to guarantee that poppy production is used only for the real needs of the medicinal world for legal supplies of opiates.

Sincerely,

/s/ Gerald R. Ford

Dear Charley:

It has come to my attention that many of the votes against the bill to lift the embargo on military assistance to Turkey were based on a misunderstanding of the policies of my Administration regarding the threat to this country posed by foreign producers and exporters of opium.

I want you to know that I have had a thorough conversation on the opium situation with Prime Minister Demirel of Turkey earlier this week. I explained to him the high priority which I place on this problem. I know that you will be pleased as I was to hear how strongly the Prime Minister believes in the most effective controls on the production of opium poppies.

I also want you to know that my concern in Turkey is the same as my concern in every nation in which opium poppies are grown. All nations of the world -- friend and adversary alike -- must understand that America considers the illicit export of opium to this country a threat to our national security. Secretary Kissinger and I intend to make sure that they do.

As I mentioned to you on the phone from Helsinki this morning, I look forward to discussing this further with you and the Congress upon my return.

Sincerely,

/s/ Gerald R. Ford
