MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: ROBERT T. HARTMANN RTH
SUBJECT: Newark, New Jersey, Visit
October 4, 1975

The following information has been compiled by Gwen Anderson through the Republican National Committee and other sources:

NEW JERSEY REPUBLICAN FUNDRAISER
AND PROMINENT REPUBLICANS

The New Jersey fundraising events will consist of a small reception for major contributors with anticipated attendance of 30 persons followed by dinner with attendance of about 800 planned. The ticket prices will be $1,000 for the reception and $100 for the dinner. They hope to raise upwards of $100,000.

Your attendance at this event has been highly recommended by the Republican National Committee in view of New Jersey's statewide Assembly races in 1975. Preceding the dinner, you will have a photo session with the Assembly candidates. Republicans experienced tremendous losses in 1973 statewide elections. This year they feel they have a great opportunity to elect a Republican majority to the lower house of the New Jersey Legislature. All 80 Assembly seats (66 Democrats and 14 Republicans) are up for election. A special legislative campaign committee, The Committee for an Effective Assembly, has been set up which will receive the first $30,000 raised by the fundraiser as well as 50% of the net intake. The remaining funds raised will go to the State Committee to help offset its sizeable debt.

It is felt by New Jersey GOP leadership that your attendance at this event in honor of the Republican Assembly candidates will provide the

BEN DANSKIN, Chairman of the County Chairmen's Association

THOMAS BELLUCCI, President of the New Jersey Young Republicans

ANN FLYNN, State Republican Vice Chairman

NOEL GROSS, President of New Jersey Federation of Republican Women

FRED REMINGTON, Essex County Republican Chairman

CHARLES W. SANDMAN, Former Member of Congress

MILFORD A. VIESER, Former State Republican Finance Chairman

TONY SCALA, Former State Republican Treasurer

Also present and seated at the head table will be the Democratic Mayor of Newark, KENNETH GIBSON, who has been invited as a courtesy to attend this event.

Reception Co-Chairman C. DOUGLAS DILLON, former Secretary of the Treasury, will not be present as he is in Europe.

greatest possible assistance to their 1975 efforts. It is also felt that by strengthening the Party's position this year, significant groundwork will be laid for 1976 GOP success, and beyond that to winning the 1977 Governor's race.

As Vice President, you visited New Jersey for a Republican fundraising event on March 23, 1974.

Prominent Republicans who will be seated with you at the head table are:

WEBSTER (WEB) TODD, State Republican Chairman

KATHERINE (KAY) NEUBERGER, Republican National Committeewoman

BERNARD (BERN) SHANLEY, Republican National Committeeman

JOHN H. (JACK) EWING, State Republican Finance Chairman

STEVE DUDIAK, Dinner Chairman and Passaic businessman

CLIFFORD P. CASE, U.S. Senator and Dinner Co-Chairman

EDWIN FORSYTHE, U.S. Representative, 6th District, and

Master of Ceremonies

MATTHEW RINALDO, U.S. Representative, 12th District

MILLICENT FENWICK, U.S. Representative, 5th District

W. PAUL STILLMAN, Reception Co-Chairman and Chairman of the Board of First National State Bank of New Jersey

THOMAS KEAN, Minority Leader of the New Jersey Assembly

(and son of former Congressman Bob Kean)

NEW JERSEY REPUBLICAN PARTY

The New Jersey Republican State Committee had been deeply divided for some time over the handling of the Party's finances. In order to direct the Party's full energies toward winning Republican control of the Assembly in the upcoming November 1975 legislative elections and so that a unified New Jersey Republican Party would welcome you for this fundraising event, accord has been reached between the feuding factions. At the root of the feud has been a dispute over who would handle fundraising and disbursement of funds -- the State Party organization, headquartered in Trenton and led by Party Chairman Webster Todd, or the state party finance organization, previously headquartered in Newark and formerly headed by William Barba, a law partner of Republican National Committeeman Bern Shanley.

The situation has been further complicated by the estimated $100,000 debt remaining from Charles Sandman's disastrous 1973 gubernatorial race. Division among Republicans as to whether the State Party should assume any of this debt was apparently resolved recently when the new State Finance Chairman, Jack Ewing, declared that Sandman would have to bear the responsibility himself. The State Party itself has a debt of around $140,000.

In the compromise arrangement, the New Jersey Republican Finance Committee has a new chairman, Ewing, and its headquarters have been moved to Trenton. The 1975 legislative campaign committee, The Committee for an Effective Assembly, which was organized with the assistance of Bern Shanley and reportedly loaned seed money by Web Todd, is to receive the majority of the funds raised at the event you will be attending in Newark. All of the primary personalities involved in the dispute are working together on the event, and there is a semblance of unity at the present time. It is apparent from conversations with a number of Party sources that much of the old bitterness still exists, but it also appears that the various parties involved are willing to put aside much of the feuding in order to direct Republican energies toward the upcoming elections.

The action-oriented leadership in New Jersey Republican politics is being assumed by younger politicians such as Tom Kean, Assembly Minority Leader, and Raymond Bateman, State Senate Minority Leader.

According to RNC field reports, Party organization at all levels is improving. The RNC field man indicates that the last State Central Committee meeting was the best one in years with no squabbling among members. County party organizations, greatly weakened in recent years, are making a significant effort to upgrade their operations. There has been a lot of turnover in County party leadership according to State sources, with a younger, more dynamic group of leaders coming in. The widespread dissatisfaction in the State with the policies and leadership of Democratic Governor Brendan T. Byrne has given New Jersey Republicans a strong issue to unite behind as they approach the legislative elections and there is a good deal of optimism and enthusiasm as a result. Republicans have nicknamed Byrne, "OTB," standing for "One Term Byrne." Byrne's administration has been termed by Democrats and Republicans alike as disastrous. Issues of primary importance include debate over the merits of a state income tax, inflation, unemployment (special concern over possible closing of Fort Dix and other military bases), energy, and the threat of a shortage of natural gas this winter.

While State Party sources express optimism about winning a sizeable number of Assembly seats in this year's elections, they are more cautious about predicting that Republicans will gain control of the Assembly. This is the first time that all 80 Assembly seats have been up at the same time. Previously, one-third of the seats were up in each election. It is considered a great opportunity for Republicans to recoup losses suffered in 1973 when gubernatorial candidate Charles Sandman was so soundly defeated. The Committee for an Effective Assembly, the recently-formed Republican legislative campaign committee, is headed by Assembly Minority leader Tom Kean, whose father served in the U.S. Congress for many years. Kean is highly regarded and thought to be a likely candidate in the future for higher office. He was very narrowly defeated by Rep. Millicent Fenwick for the nomination in the 5th Congressional District in 1974.

With the major effort going into this year's statewide Assembly races, little attention has been paid yet to the 1976 Congressional races in the State. Although the Senate seat held by Harrison Williams will be up next year, there is far more interest in the 1977 gubernatorial race. Among the possible GOP candidates mentioned so far for the gubernatorial nomination are Treasury Secretary William Simon; State Senate Minority Leader Raymond Bateman, a moderate; State Senator James Walwork, a conservative; and Assembly Minority Leader Tom Kean.

It is felt that if the 1975 races go well for Republicans, it would offer encouragement to candidate recruitment efforts next year. It is expected that you and Vice President Rockefeller will do well next year, and that this will also be a major encouragement for Republican candidates.

There is no apparent Republican candidate yet to oppose Senator Williams and unseating him is viewed as unlikely. In the House races, however, it is probable, according to State Party sources, that a number of seats will be targeted, including the four Republican Congressional seats lost in 1974, and possibly the seat of incumbent Democrat Henry Helstoski.

The State of New Jersey will be represented by 67 delegates at the Republican National Convention in 1976. Delegates are elected in an advisory presidential preference primary which will be held on June 8, 1976. It is expected that support for your candidacy will be strong among the New Jersey convention delegation. Vice President . Rockefeller is very popular among New Jersey Republicans and New Jersey voters at large, and he is considered a strong asset for attracting New Jersey's Independent and Democratic voters in the general election. The President Ford Committee has not yet organized in the State, although preliminary contacts have been made concerning the choice of a campaign chairman.

Ronald Reagan was in the State two months ago for a fundraiser for Charles Sandman. One Party source described the event as "no great success" and further stated that Reagan was no threat.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TRIP TO ELKINS, WEST VIRGINIA

Saturday - October 4, 1975

Departure: 12:30 P.M.

From: Terry O'Donnell TD

BACKGROUND

You have agreed to participate in the Grand Feature Parade of the 39th Annual West Virginia Mountain State Forest Festival at 2:00 p.m. today in Elkins, West Virginia. You will make the 1 hour, 20 minute flight to Elkins via helicopter since the airport facilities are not of sufficient length to allow either Air Force One or the Jetstar to land. Senators Randolph and Byrd and Representatives Slack and Hechler will be guests aboard the helicopter.

Upon arrival at Elkins High School, a Welcoming Committee including Governor and Mrs. Arch Moore, Representative and Mrs. Harley Staggers, Mayor and Mrs. Willard Herron of Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jim Loy, Mountain State Forest Festival President, and Miss Lynette Lee Evans, Forest Festival Queen Silvia XXXIX will greet you. After a brief arrival statement which the local radio stations will broadcast "live" and feed directly to speakers positioned along the motorcade route, you board your limousine (with the glass-enclosed top) and drive along the 35-minute parade route through downtown Elkins.

Although Elkins is a small rural town of 8,500 located in Randolph County, some 50,000 are expected to attend the parade. This will be your first visit to West Virginia as President, although you went to White Sulphur Springs twice as Vice President and visited sites in West Virginia three times as a Congressman (the earliest being May 24, 1951). Presidents Richard Nixon (1971) and Franklin Roosevelt (1936) are the only Presidents in office to attend the festival, although neither participated. From the first festival in 1930, the emphasis has been on the rich natural resources and the scenic beauty of West Virginia and the need for conserving her forests and streams.

The week-long Festival activities include plug and fly casting, horse pulling contest, a Grand Ole Opry performance, wood chopping and sawing contests, and the coronation of Lynette Evans, the 39th Queen Silvia who was chosen from Princesses representing all 55 counties in the State.

You will return to the White House at 4:05 p.m., have 55 minutes Personal Time, then depart via helicopter at 5:00 p.m. for Andrews AFB and Newark, New Jersey.
