THE WHITE HOUSE
OFFICE OF THE PRESS SECRETARY TO MRS. FORD

Singer/dancer/actor, Ben Vereen, will entertain at the White House Wednesday evening for the state dinner honoring the Prime Minister of Ireland and Mrs. Cosgrave.

Ben Vereen is perhaps best known for his performance in the Broadway musical "Pippin." He was first recognized for that performance with the Drama Desk Award for Best Actor in a Musical in 1973. He later received the 1973 Tony Award, also for "Pippin," and the CLIO Award for best television commercial in 1974 for Pippin.

Vereen was voted the 1975 "Entertainer of the Year" by the American Guild of Variety Artists for his portrayal of Satchmo in ABC-TV's special "Louis Armstrong-Chicago Style." The Guild also honored him with its "Rising Star" and "Song-and-Dance Star" awards. He is the first performer ever to win all three awards.

Another performance Vereen is noted for, is the role of Judas in Jesus "Christ Superstar" for which he won the Drama Desk Award for Best Actor in a Musical in 1972.

Ben Vereen has also performed in Broadway's "Sweet Charity;" "Golden Boy" in London; "Hair;" and the Mary Tyler Moore Special for CBS-TV. Vereen hosted his own variety show on NBC last summer. His act includes sets, ballet, drama, jazz and magic.

Ben Vereen is 29, was born in Miami, Florida, and reared in Brooklyn, New York. His interest in the performing arts date back to his singing in the church choir at four years of age. He was accepted at the High School of Performing Arts and in his senior year received the Helen Tamiris scholarship for his achievement in dance. During high school, Vereen was a member of Brooklyn's Bernice Johnson Dancers.

THE WHITE HOUSE

The President and Mrs. Ford will host a black-tie dinner honoring His Excellency the Prime Minister of Ireland and Mrs. Cosgrave Wednesday, March 17 at 8:00 PM.

Ben Vereen, singer/dancer/actor, will entertain in the East Room following dinner.

Mrs. Ford has chosen centerpieces which depict "The Winners Circle" of the Kentucky Derby. Bronze sculptures of Kentucky Derby winners will be placed on beds of natural bark covered with moss and hedged with southern smilax and frosted tulip votive candles. Embedded in the moss will be shamrock, ferns and ivy accented by gerbera daisies. Flowering white quince will give the tree affect.

The round tables will be draped with tableclothes of green and white cotton plaid with a ruffled border. Tables will be set with the Johnson China, Monroe vermeil flatwear and the Kennedy Morgantown crystal.

Hanging plants of swedish ivy, tradescanthia, begonias and ferns along with ficus trees will be used in the State Dining Room. Apple blossom, flowering pear and crab apple trees will line the Grand Hall. Arrangements of white tulips, pussy willow, apple blossoms and bells of Ireland will be throughout the State Floor.

Robert King and Michael Bonnet, Floral Arts, Inc., of Washington, D.C. have coordinated the decoration. The bronzes have been loaned to the White House by the Kentucky Derby Museum at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Kentucky; Long Gallery in Houston, Texas; and from the private collection of Mr. Paul Mellon.

The menu: Poached Columbia River Salmon; Fleurons; Supreme of Royal Squab Veronique; Wild Rice; Broiled Tomatoes with Artichoke Hearts; Bibb Lettuce Salad; Brie Cheese; Baked Alaska Flambe; Black Cherries with Irish Mist; Irish Coffee.

Wines: Chappellet, Johannisberg Riesling; Saint Michelle, Cabernet Sauvignon; Schramsberg, Blanc de Blancs.

"Emerald Isle"

Image from Space

Using data acquired by the Landsat II satellite, a composite image of Ireland has been created.

The colors employed are produced during processing of the electronic image, and do not represent actual colors which would be seen by the human eye at the vantage point of the satellite. The purplish tones represent built-up urban areas with very little vegetation, while the near-white, light green and darker green areas in the north, east and south, respectively, represent areas of sparse, moderate, and heavy vegetation. Dublin can be seen on the central eastern coast; and Galway Bay is clearly visible to the west.

This image of Ireland was produced using three separate satellite passages and a total of fifteen images. The eastern portion was obtained during early summer 1975 with relatively cloud-free conditions. Substantial cloud coverage existed, however, in late summer 1975 when the satellite again passed, and this is shown by the large white mass overlying central Ireland. The western portion was obtained during February 1976 when, because of the lower sun angle, noticable shadows occurred behind hills, in valleys and in low-lying areas.

Landsat images of this type have been used by scientists for research in a wide range of disciplines including geology, geography, hydrology, urban planning, land management, cartography and agriculture.

The Landsat satellite, orbiting approximately 500 miles above the surface, employs electromagnetic sensing equipment to detect radiation in four bands:

red, blue, and two infrared bands just below the visible spectrum. The earth's surface at the same local time once every eighteen days.

THE IRISH WAY

"Nobody," said the venerable George Bernard Shaw, "can set foot on Irish grass and breathe its air without being the better or worse for it."

As a place to escape the madding crowds, Ireland is indeed a tonic: It's tranquil, unspoilt and small enough to traverse in a day, yet the troubled North seems light-years away. The abandoned country roads and fields as green as emeralds are not hearsay — neither is the conclusion that the Irish themselves are some of the most warmhearted, hospitable, funny, loquacious people in the world.

Ireland's heroes may be dead and gone, but present-day Irish are binding a living culture together, and the arts are flourishing.

Says contemporary writer Tom Keyes: "Ireland is a green zone ... a large park — and one of these days, it's going to be the playground of Europe."
