MEMORANDUM FOR:

BRENT SCOWCROFT

FROM:

PHILIP BUCHEN IW.B.

Attached for your review and handling is the original of a letter to the President from Mr. Robert M. Hutchins, President of The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

In a separate letter to me, Fred Warner Neal of the Claremont Graduate School, who is also affiliated with The Center, said that he had discussed the subject of the letter to the President with Dr. Kissinger and with Ambassador Dobrynin, both of whom he reports appear to favor the idea of a convocation on foreign policy which would feature addresses by the President, by Dr. Kissinger, and by Chairman Brezhnev.

July 7, 1975

Dear Fred:

Many thanks for your letter of June 13 in which you enclosed a letter from Chairman Hutchins of The Center inviting the President to address The Center's foreign policy convocation and enclosing a copy of the Pacem in Terris.

I have passed on the letter for the President to General Brent Scowcroft who is Henry Kissinger's Deputy at the White House, and I will urge that it be given favorable consideration.

I much appreciated receiving the set of books on foreign policy which were mailed from The Center at your suggestion.

I truly enjoyed our visit together, and I must tell you that Stan Swinton did send word to me about your coming to Washington but his letter arrived after you had been here.

Warmest regards and best wishes.

Sincerely,

President Gerald R. Ford The White House Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

The uncertainties in international affairs, and in America's relation to them, probably constitute the most vital area of public issues at this time. The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions has concluded it can make a contribution to strengthening public understanding of foreign policy generally, and of your own foreign policies in particular, by sponsoring a major national discussion focused primarily — but not exclusively — on American—Soviet relations. With the post-Vietnam era before us and your us that now is the time to help clarify public thinking about where we should go and are going from here.

Our plan is to hold a Convocation in Washington at the time Chairman Brezhnev is here in the fall, and we would like to have it opened by addresses by you and Mr. Brezhnev on the topic "The Future of American-Soviet Detente." As you perhaps know, the Center has in the past organized three other Convocations -- under the name Pacem in Terris I, taken from the Encyclical of the late Pope John 23rd. Pacem in Terris I, held in New York in 1956 probably can be said to have marked the beginning of a public dialogue with the Russians on issues affecting both nations. Pacem II, in Geneva in 1967, succeeded in bringing representatives of East and West G rmany together publicly for the first time. Pacem in Terris III, in Washington in the fall of 1973, was opened by Secretary Kissinger and Senator Fulbright before an audience of 4,000 persons and was nationally televised. This year we have thought also of orienting the Convocation on the upcoming bicentennial celebration, perhaps entitling it "A Foreign Policy for our Bicentennial Year."

Assuming the opening session is an evening affair, our plan is to devote the next day to a follow-up divided into three sessions a discussion of "Detente in Practice," with an address by Secretary Kissinger; a discussion of problems of arms control, with an address by Secretary Schlesinger; and a third session at which declared Presidential candidates would have an opportunity to state their foreign policy views. We would select discussants for the parties, and when we get down to actually picking names would appreciate suggestions from the White House. We hope in this man-Branch on foreign policy matters:

After initiating a conversation on the general question of the foreign policy Convocation with Mr. Buchen, our Consultant on International Affairs, Dr. Fred Warner Neal, explored it with Secretary Kissinger, whose reaction was favorable. He then discussed the question of Brezhnev's participation with Ambassador Dobrynin, who indicated a high degree of interest, depending ultimately, of course, on your agreement.

We recognize there is still some question regarding Mr. Brezhnev's visit, which we are hopeful will take place in October. Naturally, it is most important for us to know about this as soon as possible in order to make necessary plans. In the event we cannot know in time, or if Mr. Brezhnev does not come to Washington, we still will go ahead with the Convocation -- possibly then in December -- and would like you to make the opening address. In such case, we would, if agreeable to you, explore the possibility of having Mr. Brezhnev make an address from Moscow via telestar.

We see this Convocation as not only something which will contribute importantly to public understanding of foreign policy problems but which also will be of assistance to you and your Administration in the always difficult and complex matter of formulating and carrying out a foreign policy in the national interest. We would be honored, therefore, if you will consider participating with us in this endeavor.

Sincerely yours,

Robert M. Hutchins President

Dear Phil:

It was great to have seen you. I enjoyed our conversation very much. And I do appreciate your having sandwiched

Enclosed is the letter inviting the President to address the Center's foreign policy convocation. I am extremely hopeful you and he will find it attractive not only from the viewpoint of educating public opinion but also of enhancing Mr. Ford's stature.

As I told you, Kissinger seemed to think the general idea was good. Dobrynin was highly interested in the idea of having Brezhnev join with the President in addressing the convocation but emphasized that it could be considered only if it completely meets with the President's approval. I want to make clear that as much as we would like to have the two of them, it is Mr. Ford's participation that is of greatest importance.

The problem, of course, is the uncertainty surrounding the Brezhnev visit. As I understand it from the State Department the visit most likely depends on a SALT agreement; and while they feel optimistic that there will be one they aren't yet 100 per cent sure. While probably we could wait until the end of August, it is terribly important to know about it as soon as possible. I would appreciate it if you would advise me as soon as you know anything — assuming, as you will permit me to check with you from time to time.

Mr. Philip W. Buchen

We will hold the Convocation in one of the big hotels, or possibly some place like Constitution Hall. I am assuming an evening session beginning at 8 p.m., with the President ready to depart as soon as he and Brezhnev (if both participate) conclude their addresses.

Please do let me know if you have any questions about all this. I could, of course, come East to talk about it if desired, at any time you wished.

I am enclosing also, for your information, a copy of the Pacem in Terris III Convocation.

Regarding the other subject of our conversation — the Trade Act — I took your suggestion about getting together (i.e., members of the American Committee on U.S.-Soviet Relations) with representatives of Jewish groups very seriously and will keep you appraised of developments.

I will also be sending you in a few days the letter to the President about the matter which we discussed. In regard to this matter also, please do let me know if we can be useful in any way.

Again, it was nice to have seen you again after all these years. All best wishes.

Yours sincerely

Dear Phil:

Over the weekend up in the country, I had a call from Fred Warner Neal, now a professor in California. You'll remember him as a Daily editor in our era. He's now a distinguished member of the academic community, I'm told.

Fred said he was coming East and would be in Washington. He said he'd like to see me briefly in New York and you in Washington for 10 minutes if possible.

I explained you were extremely busy. Fred felt a phone call from him to you might not get through so he asked if I'd at least alert you to the fact he would contact your office and ask for ambrief meeting.

Dr. Mikhail Shtern

Thank you for your memorandum of June 18 concerning your recent meeting with Mrs. Weissman and Dr. August Shtern, during which they sought the help of the President or Secretary Kissinger in behalf of Shtern's father, Dr. Mikhail Shtern.

Our embassy in Moscow reports that Mikhail Shtern was arrested for the economic crime of speculation, but that this arrest was probably linked to his own advocacy of the right to emigrate and his son's emigration to Israel. The case is in the hands of the Soviet Government, which regards it strictly as an internal matter. Nevertheless, the expressions of concern in the U.S. -- a humanitarian concern -- have been made known quite clearly to the USSR. We feel that the best way to make progress on emigration and humanitarian issues is to continue to strengthen our relations with the Soviet Union on a broad front, thus encouraging Soviet flexibility and respect for issues so important to the United States.

As you know, the Soviet Union views emigration and criminal cases as extremely sensitive elements in our relations and tendsto view each action in this area -- official or private -- as reflections of U.S. policy. I believe, as a general rule, it is in our best interests to turn inquiries or requests for meetings concerning Dr. Shtern or other similar cases over to the Department of State for action and reply. State is accustomed to dealing with these requests and with individuals wishing to express their concern over these sensitive cases. Furthermore, the State Department is usually aware of the specific circumstances involved in each special case and can therefore more appropriately deal with the problem.

With respect to the above-described memorandum, the only question requiring the President's attention at this time is the Presidential Determination (the first paragraph of the memorandum and the first recommendation). The budget revision does not require the President's approval. As to support for the Meo tribesmen, NSC should request the appropriate agencies to develop the necessary plan by August 15 without bringing the issue to the President at this time.

I also recommend the addition of the following paragraphs at the end of the Presidential Determination:

"The Secretary of State is requested to inform the appropriate Committees of the Congress of this Determination."

"This Determination shall be published in the Federal Register."

The NSC staff has informally advised my office that they have no problem with these additions. NSC also indicated that the initial Presidential Determination, 75-13, does not require continued classification, and they will make sure that it is published prior to or concurrently with the new Determination.

Dear Mr. Powers:

This is in response to your letter of June 21, 1975, to the President describing the financial difficulties of Frazar and Company, Inc., and in which you request consideration for appropriate federal assistance to your company on the basis of its past associations with the government.

I have been advised by the National Security Council that your company was of considerable assistance to the United States Government, without request for compensation, for more than 17 years during the 1950's and 1960's. Despite that assistance, it simply is not appropriate for the White House to request consideration of an application for financial assistance by any Federal agency that assists business, for example, the Small Business Administration. A request from this office merely to consider such an application may be misconstrued.

I trust that you understand our position and I can assure you that this decision is in no way intended to reflect upon your motives in writing, or to lessen our appreciation for the assistance you have provided to the United States in the past.

Your inquiry is appreciated.

Mr. President: -

In a Radio Broadcast on June 17,1975 you stated your opinion that the recession was bottoming out and that you would see to it that Small firms would not be "Suffocated".

Although we are currently Small (we by no means were previously small) as at one time we were among the largest firms in The United States in International Trade, including many Offices Abroad.

During the writers full life association with this Organization, the writer through International Trade was very active in many Areas for OSS and subsequently for many years in many Areas for The CIA.

In the past approximate 10 years unfortunately our organization has deteriorated severely, due to many conditions beyond our control, so much so that we are in imminent difficulty, even though through considerable hard work our requirements to continue are not large and again, unfortunately changes in The South Korean situation.

The writer has tried hard to obtain understanding of our problems and to obtain temporary back up help from The CIA, even by guaranteeing whatever help might be given by them, by Assigning recently Term Life Insurance on the writer to whatever Company or Organization may be designated. Additionally, an option has been suggested to them to control and/or continue to use our company in the future, if they care to do so.

Although it is understood that things currently with many U.S.Government Organizations, etc. and particularly with The CIA are difficult and under serious investigations, we nevertheless have gone through our difficult years trying to Honorably stay in existance even by refusing to give information recently to The New York Times Newspaper when they contacted the undersigned on what appears to be "Leaks" that apparently have been undersigned's involvement.

Regrettably, we cannot look to any prompt help from The CIA since they unfortunately currently have their own problems, including what appears to be their own survival - and - if our Company/Corporate Statement position Bankwise were currently proper, this letter would not be written.

However, in view of the considerable number of years as applied by the writer to Various Government matters and because Independent Foreign Trade is so difficult for the Small International Trade Firms, without Government Assistance - and if your Program is as mentioned in the First paragraph of this letter, we trust that our situation and background will be given perhaps Special and Prompt consideration for help in the continuity of our endeavors.

Although it is recognized that with all of your Current Domestic and International problems, our problems are very Minor by nature, just to be sure this letter is actually received and read by you, it would be gratefully appreciated if some acknowledgement of this letter, as having been read by you, could be made to us (or the undersigned) as soon as reasonably possible.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

BRENT SCOWCROFT

FROM:

PHIL BUCHEN T.W.13.

SUBJECT:

Selective Service Annual Registration

This is in reply to your memo of September 1 requesting my comments about the domestic implications of annual selective service registration for 18 year olds.

There is a danger that a substantial number of the estimated 1.7 million 18 year olds will fail to register if given only one day a year to do so. As you are aware, failure to register is a felony crime. Thus, we may be embarrassed after the first annual registration day if several hundred thousand young Americans have become felons by failing to register.

Additionally, a single registration day may become a point of focus for those who object to the draft and who distrust the Selective Service System. Terrorist acts and demonstrations might be fueled by such a highly visible registration day.

A system calling for quarterly registration would be more attractive to me. Such a system would offer a greater opportunity to 18 year olds to register during the year than a single day, and a quarterly system still might allow a cut back from the cost and manpower required to operate our present system of registration.

However, after reviewing the background of the development of the annual registration day concept, I believe it would be difficult, if not impossible, to change to a different system at this time. My review indicates the following:

- numerous study groups have considered this issue since the late fall of 1972;
- in December 1974, the President directed the Director of Selective Service to "implement and determine viability of annual registration";
- the Director has begun to implement the President's decision by doing the following:
 - * appointing a steering committee in June 1975 of State Directors of Selective Service to oversee annual registration;
 - * developing and circulating an Annual Registration Manual to 56 State Directors of Selective Service;
 - * permitting passage of resolutions by the American Legion and VFW national conventions pledging cooperation during a national registration day;
 - * requesting and receiving the support of the Advertising Council in a nationwide media campaign publicizing annual registration day.

Accordingly, while I do not favor an annual registration day for the reasons stated above, I conclude that it would be difficult to halt preparations which are currently underway for such a registration day.

SUBJECT:

Selective Service Annual Registration

In December 1975, at the direction of the President, the Selective Service plans to institute new administrative procedures for the management of a standby draft capability. As part of this new system, Selective Service proposes to convert from present registration procedures requiring each male citizen to register during the month of his eighteenth birthday, to an annual one-day registration of all young men reaching age eighteen during the calendar year. The first annual registration is scheduled to take place on March 31, 1976.

As currently envisioned, this registration would involve the physical reporting of the majority of approximately 1.7 million eligible men to some 20,000 temporary registration sites around the country. Manned by volunteers, these sites would be located at American Legion/VFW posts, National Guard armories, Army Reserve centers, high schools, and so on. Registration day would be preceded by an extensive publicity effort, initiated by the publication of a Presidential proclamation.

It occurs to us that, because of its visibility, such a procedure might have domestic implications worth considering before the plan is finalized. We would therefore appreciate your comments.

SUBJECT:

Procedures for Dealing with Various Types of Non-Military Incidents

The President has reviewed the Under Secretaries Committee report on this subject submitted by memorandum of the Under Secretary of State, dated February 24, 1972. He considers that there is a need for more uniform and clearly understood procedures within the government for dealing with various types of non-military incidents which could have an adverse impact upon the conduct of our foreign relations.

Accordingly, the President has confirmed that the Department of State has the primary responsibility for coordinating, with White House concurrence, government planning, actions, and public statements dealing with such incidents. He has directed that the Department of State Operations Center will function as the focal point of coordination. In this connection, he has directed that the following basic procedures for dealing with such incidents be put into effect immediately:

- -- All Departments and Agencies in receipt of this directive are hereby charged to establish a 24-hour watch supervised by a responsible officer, or such other comparable mechanism as will in the opinion of the Department/Agency and the Department of State be adequate to achieve the objectives of this directive. It will be the responsibility of this watch to advise the Operations Center of any incident that is developing in a way that could impact adversely upon U.S. foreign relations. Agency recommendations for dealing with the incident will likewise be made to the Operations Center. Watch officers shall be kept informed of all consultations concerning the incident between officials of various Departments and Agencies.
- The Operations Center will promptly inform appropriate Department of State officers and the White House Situation Room of such incidents, and will assure timely communication to the White House Situation Room of information concerning an incident and its development, proposed courses of action, and actions already taken.

- -- The Operations Center is charged with transmittal of guidance from the White House and the State Department to the relevant authorities.
- -- The coordination of press guidance shall be handled in conformity with the procedures described above.

The President further directs that the Chairman, Under Secretaries Committee, shall prepare detailed directives to implement this guidance. Departments and Agencies in receipt of this memorandum shall prepare internal implementing directives and watch lists for transmittal to the Chairman, Under Secretaries Committee, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, the White House Situation Room, and the State Department Operations Center.

The President expects that each Department or Agency in receipt of this memorandum shall provide the fullest possible support to the Department of State in the discharge of its responsibilities under this guidance, including, as necessary, the assignment of supporting personnel to augment the coordination capabilities of the Operations Center.

The President has directed that the Under Secretaries Committee should monitor implementation of the procedures set forth in this memorandum for dealing with various types of non-military incidents, and should recommend improvements as necessary.

MEMORANDUM FOR SECRETARY KISSINGER

FROM:

Mr. Clift

SUBJECT:

Guidance to Attorney General on Cases With

Foreign Policy Implications

Background

On June 27, 1975, the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested Mr. Sarkis O. Paskalian and Mr. Sahag K. Dedeyan on the charge of conspiracy to commit espionage for the Soviet Union. The FBI issued a press release at the time of arrest.

The White House was not notified in advance of the arrest. The Department of State was informed at the Office of Soviet Affairs level approximately an hour in advance of the arrest, then being advised by Justice: 1) the arrest would take place and 2) there would be a press release.

The manner in which this case was handled indicates insufficient consultation and coordination within the Executive Branch on a matter having a very direct impact on U.S. foreign relations and a lack of familiarity with established procedures regarding these matters as set forth in NSDM 207.

Recommended Action

As requested, I have drafted the memorandum at Tab A for your signature to the Attorney General attaching a copy of NSDM 207 and requested that he make appropriate arrangements in the future to inform the President sufficiently in advance so as to permit his review of the intended Justice/FBI action in the context of NSDM 207. Your memorandum also would advise that press releases and press guidance be coordinated as prescribed by NSDM 207.

I had a phone call from Jerry Harper in Senator Person's office (224-4774) concerning our reply of August 21st to the Senator's letter of August 15th concerning a Presidential determination of the termination date of the Vietnam conflict for purposes of the Military Claims Act.

In going back to our files, I find that the original of the memo to General Scowcroft inadvertently got stapled to the back of our material from Senator Pearson.

Very sorry.

I have acknowledged the attached letter from Senator Pearson concerning a Presidential determination of the termination date of the Vietnam conflict for purposes of the Military Claims Act. I would appreciate the NSC's views on this question. In addition, if it has not yet been done, it may be appropriate to direct DOD to review their statutes to identify similar decisions by the President that may also have to be made. My office is available to assist in this project as needed.

Thank you.

Dear Mr. Buchen:

I have a constituent who is faced with a dilemma. He has a potential claim under the Military Claims Act, 10 U.S.C. 2731 et seq., but cannot proceed with it until a determination is made as to the ending date of the Vietnam conflict for purposes of 10 U.S.C. 2733 (b).

The statute provides for a determination by the President, or, in the alternative, a resolution by Congress. Since the presidential approach appears much more expeditious, I thought the need for such a determination should be called to your attention.

I would appreciate your assistance in this matter and am hopeful that a decision could be made in the near future.

Jim Wilderotter has received a request from Mr. Schwarz, Chief Counsel of the Senate Select Committee, for a copy of the October 24, 1952 memorandum from President Truman to the Secretaries of State and Defense regarding NSA activities (copy attached). They have agreed to receive the memorandum on a classified basis but they intend to request its declassification in whole or in part.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

BRENT SCOWCROFT

FROM:

PHILIP BUCHEN .

SUBJECT:

Gifts to U. S. Government Officials

In view of the information being disclosed to the House Select Committee involving the Barzani gifts and the discussions we had last evening, I attach the following:

- (1) A copy of the statute on foreign gifts and decorations (5 USCA, Section 7342).
- (2) Regulations issued from the State Department on acceptance of gifts and decorations from foreign governments (22 CFR, part 3).
- (3) Procedures adopted for processing of gifts received by or on behalf of the President which are from foreign sources.
- (4) Page 4 of the Standards of Conduct for the White House staff with possibly relevant subparagraphs marked.

If the gifts in question were from an "official agent or representative" of a foreign government, the statute and the regulations would apply and the use or the disposition thereof would be controlled by Section 3.6 of the regulation. If the gifts are not from such an official agent or representative, they are then subject to the Standards of Conduct for the White House staff as shown in the attached excerpt.

This excerpt comes from the current Standards of Conduct, but the same provisions appeared in the Standards of Conduct which were in effect under President Nixon. I do not have copies of the State Department's standards of conduct, but I assume they contain similar provisions.

I am very fearful that unless there is compliance with the procedural requirements imposed by either the foreign gifts regulation or the standards of conduct, the Committee may use the information supplied to make telling charges of non-compliance. It is also likely that the Committee may use this opportunity to investigate the whole story of gifts involving persons in the service of the State Department, CIA, and the White House insofar as gifts or other favors have come from governments, organizations, or persons benefiting from covert activities or other intelligence related functions of the U. S. government.

The urgency of this situation, I believe, requires that a meeting be held promptly which should include Jack Marsh and Don Rumsfeld or someone from Don's office.

Here is the Washington Post article on Sanders Associates. Inc., about which I talked to you.

U.S. Firm Eyes A Saudi Contract Barred to AID

By Laurence Stern

The New England firm of Sanders. Associates, Inc., which flourished on top-secret electronic warfare contracts and then foundered in the post-vietnam defense spending slump, is joining the new corporate gold rush in Saudi Arabia.

It is negotiating with the Saudi Ministry of Interior to sell $172 million worth of the identification and other facets of internal security.

The 1,200-page study, according to an AID spokesman, carries a "secret" U.S. government classification—at the request of the Saudi government. It was prepared by an 18-member U.S. task force that traveled to Saudi Arabia and worked under Goin's direction.

Mr. Per-Olof Jonsson Box 28 150 20 Jarna, Sweden

Mr. Philip W. Buchen, Counsel to the President The White House Washington, D.C., U.S.A.

Dear Mr. Buchen:

During the last year or so I have written a number of appeals to Mr. Brezsnev concerning some of his problems of human rights in the form of persons such as the Panov-family, Grigorinko, Fjodorovna, and two or three others. Between the lines, the tone of these communications was not at all humble, and had I been in the position of Mr. B. or his agent, then I would probably have reacted à la "that fellow has a very big mouth and obviously must think that we cannot get to him due to his American citizenship in combination with his estimate of the facts of life in the Swedish Foreign Office."

It was therefore a kind of rude awakening for me to read in the local press over the weekend from the Sacharov-tribunal in Copenhagen that the KCB is allegedly able to pursue some rather ugly bugging-operations around people even in the United States. To be sure, there have been various cases of Soviet espionage in the U.S. over the years, but I have never before heard of such cases of personal intimidation, involving persons who were apparently not in any conspiratorial relationship with agents of the Soviet Government. Personally, I would not have cared to remain in office as the Director of the FBI very long unless I could secure a very hasty end to such activities.

By the way, I read in the paper about a Polish journalist here in Sweden, Ryszard Turowski, who without success so far has invoked the Helsinki-agreements in trying to secure permission for his wife and two children to move from Poland to Sweden. He claims that his own departure from Poland was a family scheme, since he was being heavily discriminated against employment-wise on account of having been convicted at the age of 15 for membership in an anti-Communist organization—that was about 25 years ago. At any rate, one finds it hard to escape the impression that these agreements in Helsinki may in real life acquire the character of Tsar Alexander I's Holy Alliance.

At any rate, it is to be hoped that you all will be able to keep the KCB away from at least American territory except in conjunction with activities that you have sanctioned yourselves.

Sincerely Yours.

Dear Mr. Field:

In response to your December 8 letter, we can find no drafts of USIB Monitoring Reports on SALT in our files and no documents reviewing such drafts. Nor do we have any correspondence between the JCS and the NSC on "hold" items.

With regard to the SA-5 radar, this issue was never placed on "hold" as noted in CIA documents provided the Committee.

With regard to the matter of concealment at Plesetsk, we have already supplied to the Committee a memorandum from then DCI Helms to Mr. Kissinger of November 8, 1972, transmitting a report by the USIB Monitoring Group on this subject.

Other documents requested in your December 8 letter, insofar as they may exist, would be considered internal memoranda from an NSC staff member to Mr. Kissinger and not available for provision to the Committee.

Dear Stu:

We have a new citizen of this country, Conchita Lacsa Lage, leaving on December 18 for the Philippines for one month. She expects to bring her eighteen year old daughter, Daisy Lynn Dayrit, back with her. It is my understanding all paper work etc. has been completed; hopefully no problems.

The help needed is with the processing of the papers to bring Conchita's Mother, Lina Lim Lacsa AKA Lina Constantino. Conchita expects to file the papers with the U.S. Embassy upon her arrival December 19. Since being investigated and found to be financially and morally responsible for her daughter, it is hoped some of the red tape could be rushed so Conchita's Mother, along with daughter, could come home together on 18 January, 1976.

It would be sincerely and deeply appreciated if the U.S. Ambassador, William H. Sullivan, could be contacted to give it his personal attention that this application be expedited.

Conchita is supervisor of one of our most important clerical operations for the State of California. She and her husband, Paul, are fine people - a real asset to our country.

Most sincerely,

Hale

- 1. Daisy Lynn Dayrit. Petition filed by Paul A. Lage in April 1972. Have been informed by the Immigration and Naturalization Service in San Francisco that the investigation reports awaited by the U. S. Embassy in the Philippines have already been forwarded to them. Said reports were the reason why papers of Daisy Lynn Dayrit were held pending by the U. S. Embassy in the Philippines. Request that the papers of Daisy Lynn Dayrit be processed now so that she may be able to join her mother, Mrs. Conchita L. Eage, on her return trip to the United States on January 18, 1976.
- 2. Lina Lim Lacsa aka Lina Constantino mother of Conchita Lacsa Lage. Petition to classify her status for issuance of immigrant visa will be filed by her daughter, Conchita Lacsa Lage, in the U. S. Embassy in the Philippines upon her arrival there on December 19, 1975. Request that petition be approved in order that said Lina Lim Lacsa aka Lina Constantino can join her daughter, Mrs. Conchita Lacsa Lage, and her grand-daughter, Daisy Lynn Dayrit, on January 18, 1976, when Mrs. Conchita Lacsa Lage will return to the United States.

Above request is made so that safe arrival of them will be assured. This request is made also in order that Mrs. Conchita Lacsa Dayrit can be reunited once more with her only family, Lina Lim Lacsa aka Lina Constantino and Daisy Lynn Dayrit, her mother and daughter, respectively, whom she has not seen for five long years.

My Dear Excellency:

Over the years, St. Louis has been privileged to have many distinguished guests of the very highest rank, but in no instance that I can remember, has the afterglow of the visit been as warm and as enthusiastic as that occasioned by your visit with the President's Council of Saint Louis University.

Most particularly do I want to thank you for the reasoned and lucid response to my question regarding President Ford's visit to China. While much of our press does a pretty good job in being professionally journalistic, many thoughtful Americans have little opportunity to learn how they are professionally adjudged by other nations and particularly senior statesmen of other nations.

It was a pleasure to greet you, and in one way or another, I hope our paths might cross again in the future.
