Dear Dr. Hargis:

Thank you for your August 27 letter forwarding copies of the NACOA reports and recommendations as well as the NOAA responses.

We have no further recommendations for the Committee's consideration at this time. You may, however, expect to receive suggestions from the Domestic Council during the forthcoming year.

Sincerely,

James M. Cannon
Assistant to the President
for Domestic Affairs

Dear Mr. Cannon:

As you requested during our recent meeting, I am forwarding copies of our NACOA reports and a summary of past NACOA recommendations together with Administration responses. This last was prepared by the Associate Administrator of NOAA upon the request of Congressman Murphy, Chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Subcommittee on Oceanography, during NACOA authorization hearings in the spring.

A complete answer to your other question concerning subjects which NACOA intends to address this coming year will have to await further Committee deliberation. Having just finished our Fourth Annual Report, we are now in the process of drafting our work plan for the next cycle. This would be an excellent time for suggestions the Domestic Council might have for us, and I know they would be welcomed by the Committee.

We are already working on several topics begun last year but not completed at annual report time in June. These are:

- Recommendations regarding the International Decade of Ocean Exploration (IDOE) - for the Director, NSF (in press).
- Information Needs of Coastal Zone Managers - for the Secretary of Commerce (in draft).
- Environmental Services for Operations in the Offshore Economic Resources Zone - for next annual report.

- Evaluation of the Sea Grant Program - for special report.
- Follow-up on agency response to NACOA recommendations in our 1972 report on Hurricane AGNES - for fifth annual report.

I trust this information will be of use to you and that you will not hesitate to let me know how I - and NACOA - can be of assistance.

Sincerely,

William J. Hargis, Jr.
