TO: THE VICE PRESIDENT

With further reference to the Panama Canal, State Department officials called to request that you emphasize to the Panamanians that the Canal is a vital communications link for U.S. trade and commerce. I am not inclined to dwell too heavily on this point, because it seems to me to hurt our bargaining position.

MEMORANDUM FOR

THE VICE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with the Foreign Minister of Panama

As per our conversation, considerable importance is attached to your meeting with Juan Tack, Minister of Foreign Relations of Panama, by the State Department.

Specifically, they are interested in your conveying to him the same message you gave to Ambassador Jordan before he departed for Panama and Ambassador Bunker when he met with you on the same situation.

Attached is some background material which relates to these earlier conversations. Also, I have attached the names of those members of the Senate who have signed a resolution opposing our making concessions on the Canal.

Memorandum of Conversation

PLACE: OEOB
TIME: 3:15 p.m.
DATE: March 14, 1974

SUBJECT: Ambassador Jordan's Call on the Vice President

PARTICIPANTS: The Vice President
Mr. John O. Marsh, Jr.

Ambassador William J. Jordan
Mr. S. Morey Bell, Deputy Negotiator,
Department of State

Vice President: Inquired as to the status of the Panama Canal negotiations.

Jorden: Responded that the Panamanians may expect too much by way of U.S. concession.

Vice President: Issued a strong concern about the attitude on Capitol Hill and cautioned that State may be over-optimistic about the Hill.

Jorden: Will advise Panama of the Hill attitude.

Vice President: Told Jorden to caution Panama-- no more concessions because they will cause problems here.

Jorden: Said he felt there was a change of mind in Panama -- more realistic attitude of not demanding too much.

Vice President: Cautioned Jordan there was no U.S. constituency to help you and that this is a type issue that can be used against an incumbent member. He emphasized it was a challenger's issue.

Jorden: Indicated his concern that if we don't make some moves, violence could erupt in Panama which might require strong U.S. countermeasures. If some progress is desirable we can avoid this eruption.

Vice President: Inquired about the status of the second canal.

Jorden: Responded there was no progress--it was not a key issue in the negotiations. He did point out that the present canal, because of its size, limits traffic.

There was a short exchange on the use of nuclear explosion for construction purposes (Plow Share).

Jorden: Indicated a test ban agreement would preclude.

Earlier Jordan had indicated Bunker would be in the Panama area prior to his arrival there, about 1 April. The conversation closed on a discussion about Britt Gordan, a friend of the Vice President, for whom Jordan expressed a high regard.

PLACE: OEOB
TIME: 2:00 p. m.
DATE: March 21, 1974

SUBJECT: Ambassador Bunker Visit

PARTICIPANTS: The Vice President
John O. Marsh, Jr.

U.S. Ambassador at Large Ellsworth Bunker
Mr. S. Morey Bell, Director, Office of Panamanian Affairs

Ambassador at Large Bunker met with the Vice President to discuss the Panama situation. He said the atmosphere in Panama was better, but could recognize lines were being drawn on Capitol Hill with strong opposition from Dan Flood and his followers.

The Vice President urged that there be no further announcements about Panama this year, and can shoot for 1975 as the year of decision and implementation.

Bunker said that DOD had been very helpful, but agreed there were problems ahead.

Reference to the negotiations he said we were asking for 50 years on the Canal but Panama wanted a termination end of 1999. By termination, this means they will get the Canal and the Zone. In the meantime, there will be a phasing-in of Panama jurisdiction. As a part of the arrangements, we are seeking to build a new sea level canal or to expand the old canal, but with an extension of time for operations.

Sea level canal through Nicaragua or Colombia is not practical, but it is necessary to have a new facility or a modernized old facility since the present canal will not accommodate some of the larger vessels.

A sticking point in the negotiations is the Colombian right under the 1914 agreement to transit the canal with their warships.

Any agreement with Panama will require that the canal be open for international shipping.

Approval for implementation is necessary in both houses of the U.S. Congress and Bunker has talked to Albert, Morgan, Scott and Mansfield.

In response to a question, Bunker said that the present canal is breaking even financially.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: JACK MARSH

SUBJECT: Turkey Vote

You may get a chance tonight to talk with some of the Leadership about the Turkey vote. As you have heard, we are having slippage on this.

Lee Hamilton believes we are in trouble on the Floor and this is a view shared by others. Although we had a 10-5 vote on the Rules Committee, there was far more difficulty than the vote indicates and at one time it looked like a 8-7 vote. Of the 16 votes in the Rules Committee, it is reported that only 6 will vote for the bill on the Floor.

McFall will have a firmer report on the Democratic strength. The present report shows 50 firm Democrats with a great chance of 40-50 more.

The Republican Whip count shows:

96	Yea
20	Nay
19	Undecided
6	No response

The Turkey vote has been slipped to Friday. It is reported that some of the Democrats at the breakfast tomorrow plan to raise with you your request for their help on Turkey while you continue to veto measures they send to you.

I think the response to this is that matters of grave national security should not be subject to a quid pro quo. That whether they agree or disagree, you exercise your veto on what you feel is in the national interest and that you will ask their help on a matter that relates to war and peace because relief to Turkey is in the national interest.

The Members report a tremendous effort by the Greek Lobby, and I have noticed them at work on the Hill.

SUBJECT: Senator Mansfield

Max has had a report that Senator Mansfield is concerned about press inquiries which allege that White House sources have said the Congressional Leadership have been consulted on the forthcoming Helsinki Conference.

Mike says this is not the case. He does not want to issue a denial, but would like to see this clarified in a way that avoids that.
