MEMORANDUM FOR: DICK CHENEY
FROM: JIM CAVANAUGH
SUBJECT: Plans to Announce the President's
Decision on the Agricultural Policy
Committee

If the President decides to go with the new committee that has been proposed, we have the option of announcing it prior to the President's trip to Springfield on Friday or announcing it in Springfield when the President meets with the farmers.

I prefer announcing it prior to the trip. It's a story that will stand on its own in the agricultural community, yet the President can still benefit from it by talking about it during his Springfield appearance.

I suggest the following sequence of events:

1. Have Earl Butz over Wednesday or Thursday of this week for a brief meeting with the President. The meeting should be prior to Ron Nessen's morning press briefing, and we should do a photo opportunity.
2. Ron Nessen will then make an announcement at the morning briefing indicating the establishment of the committee, the membership of the committee (someone this morning suggested Virginia Knauer-- that's a great idea and she should be on it), and the purpose of the committee.

A draft statement for Ron's use is attached.

SUBJECT: Agricultural Policy
Making Reorganization

Current Situation

Four principal entities have been created by your Administration to coordinate and review agricultural policy:

1. The Economic Policy Board was created on September 30, 1974, to advise you on the formulation, coordination, and implementation of all economic policy --- including agricultural policy.
2. The Food Deputies Group was created to monitor agricultural developments and prepare materials on selected issues for consideration by the Economic Policy Board. It reports biweekly to the EPB Executive Committee. This group is chaired by CEA (Paul MacAvoy).
3. The International Food Review Group (IFRG) was established on November 12, 1974, to coordinate the follow-up to the World Food Conference. The IFRG working group is chaired by State (Joe Greenwald).
4. The EPB/NSC Food Committee was created by you on September 9, 1975, for the purpose of developing negotiating strategy for and monitoring the negotiations on grain sales to the Soviet Union. This Committee is chaired jointly by Treasury and State (Bill Simon and Henry Kissinger).

The Problem

The agricultural community is disturbed over the fact --- or the perception --- that USDA (i.e., Secretary Butz) is not in the leadership role in the development of agricultural policy.

EPB Proposed Solution

In a February 6 memorandum to the Executive Committee of EPB, Bill Seidman outlined a recommendation for agricultural policy making reorganization.

According to this proposal, the Economic Policy Board will continue to be responsible for the overall coordination of agricultural policy issues.

The EPB/NSC Food Committee will be modified as follows:

1. The Department of Agriculture will chair this Committee.
2. Membership on the Committee will be at the Assistant Secretary level or above.
3. The Committee will be renamed the EPB/NSC Agricultural Policy Committee.
4. The Committee will report to the Economic Policy Board Executive Committee periodically on policy issues with options and recommendations. The scope of the Committee will include both domestic and international issues and will include the international policy issues that previously were the responsibility of the International Food Review Group.

The Secretary of Agriculture and the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs will continue to be invited to attend EPB Executive Committee meetings when agricultural policy issues are considered.

The Food Deputies Group will, as at present, be responsible for staffing and monitoring food related issues and reporting to the EPB Executive Committee on a biweekly basis.

Final recommendations to you on international agricultural issues will be submitted in a joint memorandum from the EPB and NSC.

Another Alternative

In order to achieve the full symbolic value from an agricultural policy making reorganization, it might be preferable to make the following change:

1. Establish an "Agricultural Policy Committee" which will submit final recommendations directly to you.
2. The Committee will include:
 - Secretary of Agriculture
 - Secretary of State
 - Secretary of the Treasury
 - Secretary of Commerce
 - Assistant to the President for Economic Affairs
 - Assistant to the President for Domestic Affairs
 - Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers
 - Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs
 - Director of the Office of Management and Budget
3. The Secretary of Agriculture will chair the Committee.
4. The scope of the Committee will include both domestic and international issues. It will advise you on the formulation, coordination and implementation of all agricultural policy.
5. The International Food Review Group and the EPB/NSC Food Committee will be disbanded and the Agricultural Policy Committee will assume all agricultural policy responsibilities of the EPB.
6. The Food Deputies Group will become the "Agricultural Policy Working Group" of the Agricultural Policy Committee.

Conclusion

The EPB proposal has the advantage of keeping agricultural policy within the current economic and international policy making frameworks. However, this solution probably would not be perceived as a full return of agricultural policy leadership to USDA and Secretary Butz.

The other alternative outlined above is designed to achieve maximum political and symbolic effect by putting Secretary Butz and USDA in the leadership role of a committee with direct access to the Oval office. However, this proposed change --- if adopted --- will remove domestic and international agricultural policy issues from the EPB and NSC frameworks and, as a consequence, may arouse bureaucratic resistance.

MEMORANDUM FOR: JIM CONNOR
FROM: BRENT SCOWCROFT
SUBJECT: Reorganization of Agriculture
Policy Making

Of the two proposals contained in the unsigned memorandum to the President on the reorganization of agriculture policy making, I strongly recommend the first. Because of the sensitivity of agriculture policy to our international relations, it should definitely not be formulated outside the EPB/NSC process. If possible, however, the first proposal should be modified to allow the International Food Review Group (IFRG) to continue with lead responsibility for matters related to the follow-up to the World Food Conference.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: WILLIAM F. GOROG WFG
SUBJECT: Agricultural Policy Making Reorganization

I urge that you adopt the EPB proposed recommendation for agricultural policy making reorganization designating Secretary Butz as Chairman of the EPB/NSC Food Committee.

Such action should clearly eliminate the perception that Secretary Butz is not in the leadership role in the development of agricultural policy without establishment of another independent committee to accomplish this objective.

The alternative of establishment of an independent committee is a step backward in our coordination process. The present EPB/NSC coordination route has become an established method of obtaining rapid coordination in such matters with principals regularly in attendance. Our recent grain decisions established the value of these procedures.

Establishment of a new Committee, without staff support, would have the effect of disabling the coordination process which has taken a great deal of time to "shake down." The original objective of our proposal was to remove a "cosmetic" problem and clearly show the public that we were not downgrading the position of the Secretary of Agriculture. In our attempt to solve this problem we should not disrupt our established procedures.

I have coordinated this position directly with Bill Seidman and Bill Simon. They concur in my recommendations, and Bill Simon requested that I convey to you his strong feelings that the second alternative would be very destructive to the present smooth working EPB/NSC relationship and coordination procedures.
