MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
FROM: JIM CANNON
SUBJECT: H.R. 12961 - Repeal of State Consent to Certain Medicaid Suits

Attached for your consideration is H.R. 12961, sponsored by Representative Rogers.

P.L. 94-182, signed December 31, 1975, added a provision to title XIX (Medicaid) of the Social Security Act, effective January 1, 1976. It required that States amend their medical assistance plans to include consent by the State to be sued in the Federal courts by or on behalf of any provider of services on questions relating to the payment of reasonable cost for inpatient hospital services and a waiver of State immunity to suit conferred by the 11th amendment to the Constitution. The penalty for noncompliance was reduction by 10% of the amount a State was otherwise due from the Federal Government for a calendar quarter under the Medicaid program.

H.R. 94-182 passed the House by voice vote on May 12, 1976 and passed the Senate by voice vote on October 1, 1976.

A detailed discussion of the enrolled bill is provided in OMB's enrolled bill report at Tab A.

A number of States have brought lawsuits challenging the constitutionality of P.L. 94-182's requirement that a State waive its sovereign immunity. Attached at Tab B is a letter from the National Association of Attorneys General urging your support of H.R. 12961. Governor Meldrim Thomson has also written to you urging your support.

OMB, Max Friedersdorf, Counsel's Office (Lazarus) and I recommend approval of the enrolled bill.

RECOMMENDATION
That you sign H.R. 12961 at Tab C.

Last Day for Action
October 20, 1976 - Wednesday

Purpose
Repeals P.L. 94-182 which (1) requires States in the Medicaid program to waive their constitutional immunity to suits brought against them by providers of hospital services and (2) reduces by 10% Medicaid payments to non-complying States.

Discussion
H.R. 12961 repeals P.L. 94-182, effective January 1, 1976. P.L. 94-182, signed December 31, 1975, added a provision to title XIX (Medicaid) of the Social Security Act, effective January 1, 1976. It required that States amend their medical assistance plans to include consent by the State to be sued in the Federal courts by or on behalf of any provider of services on questions relating to the payment of reasonable cost for inpatient hospital services and a waiver of State immunity to suit conferred by the 11th amendment to the Constitution. The penalty for noncompliance was reduction by 10% of the amount a State was otherwise due from the Federal Government for a calendar quarter under the Medicaid program.
H.R. 12961 passed the House by voice vote on May 12, 1976 and passed the Senate by voice vote on October 1, 1976.

Background:

The Medicaid program, established under title XIX of the Social Security Act, is a program of medical assistance for low-income individuals and families. Medicaid is financed jointly with State and Federal funds, with the Federal contribution ranging from 50 to 83 percent. It is administered by each State, within broad Federal requirements and guidelines.

Title XIX requires that certain basic services must be offered in any State Medicaid program. These include inpatient hospital services, outpatient hospital services, skilled nursing facility services for individuals 21 and older, and physicians services. In addition States may provide a number of other services. They also generally determine the reimbursement rate for services, except for inpatient hospital care where they are required to follow the Medicare reasonable cost payment system unless they have approval from the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to use an alternate payment system.

The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare is responsible for assuring that States follow the requirements of the Federal law in their Medicaid program. If a State fails to comply with Federal requirements, the Department is empowered to hold a conformity hearing on the matter, and on a finding of noncompliance, to cut off all Federal Medicaid funds. The hearing mechanism has proved to be unwieldy and time-consuming and has, in fact, only been undertaken twice by HEW. No penalties have ever been assessed under this procedure.

P.L. 94-182 was designed to address the problem of States freezing payment levels to hospitals or otherwise changing their reimbursement system without receiving HEW approval for the variation from the Medicare method of paying for hospital care. Providers feared that HEW would be slow to determine if State action was legal.

P.L. 94-182 did not take into account the difficulty States would have in complying since some States would have to amend their constitutions to modify sovereign immunity provisions. Furthermore, HEW believes it was inappropriate to impose on noncomplying States a penalty of 10% of their total Medicaid funds. During congressional consideration, HEW supported enactment of H.R. 12961.
Present status:

HEW has addressed the problem by requiring States to adopt the payment standards under Medicare for their Medicaid program or to obtain Departmental approval to adopt payment standards meeting certain alternative requirements including an opportunity for public review and consent of the proposed payment standards. HEW also requires the States to give individual providers of inpatient hospital services under the State plan an opportunity to obtain administrative review of payment rates applied to them in certain circumstances.

Agency Recommendations:

HEW recommends approval. The Department indicates that it has taken steps to ensure that States provide a forum in which hospital providers can arbitrate their differences with the States on Medicaid reimbursement issues.

Justice defers to HEW. The Department notes that a number of States have brought lawsuits challenging the constitutionality of the requirement that a State waive its sovereign immunity. Since H.R. 12961 would apply retroactively to January 1, 1976, a provider who has already brought suit might argue that the retroactive repeal of P.L. 94-182 is an unconstitutional denial of due process. Justice concludes that the existence of this possible constitutional issue "would not seem to be a basis for withholding Executive approval."

We concur with HEW and, accordingly, recommend approval.

Dear Mr. President:

Re: H.R. 12961

Numerous states are involved in court proceedings pending in several federal district courts testing the constitutionality of Section 111 of P.L. 94-182. That section requires states to waive certain rights they enjoy under the Eleventh Amendment to be immune from suit in order to participate fully in the Medicaid program. It further provides for a 10 percent penalty against those states which refuse to waive that constitutional right.

In the last hours of its session, the Congress passed H.R. 12961 repealing that section.

We would like to call your attention to the importance of that bill. Numerous Federal judges, U.S. Attorneys, and state attorneys are awaiting a final disposition of this legislation. If the bill were not to become law, wasteful, protracted and time-consuming litigation would resume and uncertainty with respect to its outcome would prevail for months and months. Accordingly, we urge that you sign this measure into law. If there is any concern over its purpose or effect, we would be glad to work with you or your advisors thereon.

Very respectfully yours,

C. Raymond Marvin

Cc: Stephen G. McConahey, Special Assistant to the President
    Honorable Slade Gorton, President, National Association of Attorneys General
    Honorable Robert List, Chairman, Welfare Committee, National Association of Attorneys General
The Honorable James T. Lynn
Director, Office of Management and Budget
Washington, D.C. 20503

Dear Mr. Lynn:

This is in response to your request for a report on H.R. 12961, an enrolled bill "To amend the Social Security Act to repeal the requirement that a State's plan for medical assistance under title XIX of such Act include a provision giving consent of the State to certain suits brought with respect to payment for inpatient hospital services". The amendment would be retroactive to January 1, 1976.

We recommend that the enrolled bill be approved because the objective that underlay its enactment, the provision of a forum in which hospital providers could arbitrate their differences with the States on Medicaid reimbursement issues, is more effectively served by steps that the Department has now taken to ensure that the States will provide this forum.

Public Law 94-182, in addition to amending section 1902(g) of the Social Security Act to require States participating in the Medicaid program to waive their Eleventh Amendment immunity to suits brought against them in Federal courts by providers of inpatient hospital services, also amended section 1903(1) of the Act to reduce by 10 percent, beginning with the first quarter of 1976, amounts otherwise payable by the Secretary under the Medicaid program to a State that has not complied with section 1902(g).

These provisions were the result of last-minute amendments to the bill, which neglected to take into account the impossibility of prompt State compliance and the inappropriateness of imposing upon noncomplying States a penalty of 10 percent of their total Medicaid funds.
Accordingly, the Department supported repeal of the provision in its letter of April 12 to the House Subcommittee on Public Health and the Environment. Nevertheless, the Department remained concerned about the absence of an adequate forum for the providers. Therefore, the Department's Assistant Secretary for Legislation testified on June 7, 1976, before the Subcommittee on Health of the Senate Finance Committee, that the Department would not object to a statute that deemed continuing State participation in Medicaid programs to be a waiver of State immunity to suits by providers in Federal court. Such legislation would not have placed the States in jeopardy of losing Medicaid funds because of State incapacity to act within a given period. Subsequently, Subcommittee staff informed the Department that the Committee preferred a simple repeal of the waiver requirement coupled, if necessary, with the enactment of statutory language requiring adequate State hearing procedures for providers to raise objections to reimbursement rates.

Rather than agree to accept the statutory language that Subcommittee staff proposed, the Department moved to achieve the same result through a clarification of certain existing Department regulations and policies. On August 25, 1976, we published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking dealing with reasonable cost reimbursement of inpatient hospital services in the medical assistance program. A State plan for payment to Medicaid providers would be required to adopt the standards and principles governing Medicare provider payments or, with the approval of the Secretary's designee (the Regional Commissioner of the Social and Rehabilitation Service), standards and principles meeting certain alternative requirements. To those latter requirements the new rule would add the obligation that a State seeking such approval provide an opportunity for public review and comment on the payment methods it proposes to employ under them before those methods may become effective. The rule would also require the State to accord to individual providers of inpatient hospital services under the State plan an opportunity to obtain administrative review of payment rates applied to them in some circumstances.
Enactment of the enrolled bill is therefore fully in accord with the views of this Department. A fact statement is enclosed.

Sincerely,

Enclosure
H.R. 12961 repeals a provision of Public Law 94-182, originally enacted on December 31, 1975, that required States participating in the Medicaid program to waive their Eleventh Amendment immunity to suits brought against them by providers of inpatient hospital services, and to reduce by 10 percent, beginning with the first quarter of 1976, amounts otherwise payable by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare under the Medicaid program to a State that did not comply with the waiver requirement. The repeal is retroactively effective to the date that the waiver requirement was originally enacted.
October 12, 1976

Honorable James T. Lynn
Director
Office of Management and Budget
Washington, D.C. 20503

Dear Mr. Lynn:

In compliance with your request, we have examined a facsimile of the enrolled bill (H.R. 12961), "To amend the Social Security Act to repeal the requirement that a State's plan for medical assistance under title XIX of such Act include a provision giving consent of the State to certain suits brought with respect to payment for inpatient hospital services."

This bill would repeal two provisions of Public Law 94-182 (Dec. 31, 1975) added to the Social Security Act, § 1902(g), 42 U.S.C. 1396a(g) (1975 Supp.), and § 1903(1), 42 U.S.C. 1396b(1) (1975 Supp.). The first provision, § 1902(g), requires that any state plan for medical assistance include a consent by the state to certain types of suits brought in a federal court by a provider of medical services (e.g., a hospital) and a waiver of any Eleventh Amendment immunity from such suits. The second provision, § 1903(1), states that, the amount payable under the Medicaid statute to a state is to be reduced by ten percent for any quarter in which the state is not in compliance with the provision concerning consent and waiver.

Under the bill, the repeal of the two subsections would be retroactive and would take effect as of January 1, 1976.

Regarding the question whether the bill should receive Executive approval, we defer to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

We wish to point out, however, that certain applications of the bill might raise a constitutional issue. It may be that suits by providers are pending which depend in part upon § 1902(g), i.e., upon a state's consent... to suit which consent results from § 1902(g). Retroactive application of the bill might mean that the state which is the defendant would rescind its consent and would assert immunity from the pending suit to the extent that monetary relief is sought. Should this occur, the provider bringing the suit might argue that the retroactive repeal and the consequent denial of the money-judgment remedy violated the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment. In our view, it is not necessary to predict how such a question would be decided. Even assuming that a court would hold the retroactivity provision unconstitutional as applied, it does not seem that such a holding would affect the statute insofar as it relates (1) to providers' lawsuits filed after the repeal of § 1902(g) or (2) to the repeal of § 1903(1). Accordingly, the existence of the possible constitutional issue would not seem to be a basis for withholding Executive approval.

Sincerely,

Michael M. Uhlmann
Assistant Attorney General

Repeal of State consent to certain Medicaid suits

We have received letters of support for H.R. 12961, including the attached letter from the National Association of Attorneys General and telegram from Governor Meldrim Thomson, Jr. of New Hampshire.

The major argument given by NAAG is that by signing the bill the President would be preventing months of litigation now pending and would be saving taxpayers this expense.

I recommend that the President sign this bill.

I would urge you to sign HR12961 that will repeal Section 111 of Public Law 94-182.

MELDRUM THOMSON JR. GOVERNOR OF NEW HAMPSHIRE
REPEAL OF CONSENT TO SUITS RESPECTING HOSPITAL PROVIDER COST UNDER MEDICAID

May 11, 1976.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union and ordered to be printed

Mr. Staggers, from the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, submitted the following

REPORT

including cost estimate of the Congressional Budget Office

[To accompany H.R. 12961]

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, to whom was referred the bill (H.R. 12961) to amend the Social Security Act to repeal the requirement that a State's plan for medical assistance under title XIX of such act include a provision giving consent of the State to certain suits brought with respect to payment for inpatient hospital services, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

I. SUMMARY

The amendment repeals two provisions of current Medicaid law which:

1. require that a State include in its State plan for medical assistance a provision granting the State's consent to suit in the Federal courts by or on behalf of providers of service on questions relating to the payment of reasonable cost for inpatient hospital services; and
2. provide for a reduction of 10 percent of the amount of Federal Medicaid matching funds otherwise payable under title XIX of the Social Security Act to the State for expenditures in each quarter for which the State fails to include such provision in its State plan.
The Medicaid program, established under title XIX of the Social Security Act, is a program of medical assistance for certain low-income individuals and families. Medicaid is financed jointly with State and Federal funds, with the Federal contribution to the cost of the program ranging from 50 to 83 percent. It is administered by each State, within broad Federal requirements and guidelines.
with respect to such quarter under the preceding provisions of this section if such State is found by the Secretary not to be in compliance with section 1902(g).

(c) The amendments made by this section shall (except as otherwise provided therein) become effective January 1, 1976.

The problem which the provision requiring States to consent to suit was designed to address related to actual or potential action by several States to freeze payment levels to hospitals or otherwise change their reimbursement system without receiving HEW approval for the variations from the Medicare method of paying for hospital care. Specifically, in Illinois, for example, the State had frozen the rate of interim payments to hospitals, without receiving approval from HEW for this change in procedure. The providers feared State-derived changes in hospital reimbursement would result in a loss of funds, or delay in receipt of payments. The providers feared that HEW would be slow to determine if State action was legal, and to bring a conformity hearing to cut off Federal funds if they did find the State out of compliance. Although the providers could sue the State to enjoin action, States were immune from suits which would require payment of funds unless the State waived its immunity from such actions. The provision requiring States to consent to be sued in the Federal courts on issues relating to the payment of reasonable cost of hospital care effectively removed that immunity.

The provision itself, however, has become the cause of serious concern. First, in an effort to deal with a particular situation which had arisen in one or two States, a provision was adopted which now requires all States to waive one of their basic rights—immunity to suit. Further, it required them to waive their immunity to suit on all questions relating to the payment of the reasonable cost of inpatient hospital services; it is not limited to those situations where an alternate reimbursement system from that used by Medicare has been adopted. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the Governors and Attorneys General of the States are all concerned that the result will be an unreasonable burden of suits which will be costly in terms of time and legal manpower, and which will make efficient program administration virtually impossible. Appendix I contains communications from the National Association of Attorneys General and the National Governors’ Conference expressing their grave concern.

Secondly, the provision added by Public Law 94–182 also provides that any State which fails to include in its State medical assistance plan to consent to suits by providers concerning payment of reasonable cost is subject to a penalty of a reduction of 10 percent in the amount of the Federal share of their Medicaid funds. This sizable penalty went into effect almost immediately upon enactment of the legislation; the bill became law on December 31, 1975, and States had to change their plans before March 31, 1976. This rapid change in plans has been impossible for many States to affect; some even require a meeting of the State legislature to change the State plan.

Further, several States have refused to make the change in State plan because they do not wish to lose their current system which gives them their immunity. Many States are thus now subject to the penalty, in amounts which could total over $40 million in the first quarter. This substantial penalty bears little relation to any substantive question relative to these States’ administration of the Medicaid program. (Appendix II indicates the status of the various States according to information supplied by HEW.)

Finally, serious questions have been raised concerning the constitutionality of the provision. At least 12 States have instituted suits challenging it.

V. COMMITTEE FINDINGS

The Committee finds that the pressing problems resulting from the requirement that States consent to suit make repeal of the requirement necessary, and the potential imposition of the penalty involving millions of dollars make timely action imperative. The Committee recommends that H.R. 12961 be adopted.

The Committee notes, however, that the problem which gave rise to the original consent-to-suit provision is of concern. In addition there are others—recipients of the program as well as other providers—who may reasonably expect a more satisfactory way to assure that States administer their Medicaid programs in compliance with the requirements of Federal law. The Committee has requested the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to provide the Congress with recommendations for alternate ways to respond to these concerns. HEW has responsibility to assure that States operate in compliance with the requirements of the Federal law. If the tools available to it currently are not sufficient to accomplish this, the Committee expects the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to request the changes in law that are needed. Nonetheless, the Committee is convinced that the urgent nature of the problems occasioned by the provisions of sec. 111 of Public Law 94–182 require immediate action to remove it from the law.

VI. INFLATION IMPACT STATEMENT

The legislation has no inflationary impact because it has no budgetary impact (see Cost of Legislation).

VII. OVERSIGHT FINDINGS

No formal oversight findings were part of the Committee consideration of the legislation. The Committee acted rapidly to remove the requirement because of the emergency nature of the problems raised by the original provision.

No findings on the subject have been received from the Committee on Government Operations or this Committee’s Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigation.

VIII. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1 of the bill repeals the section of title XIX which requires States to include in the State plan for medical assistance a consent by the State to suit in the Federal courts by or on behalf of a provider of services concerning the payment of reasonable cost of inpatient hospital services, and repeals the section of title XIX which provides for a reduction of 10 percent in the Federal matching funds otherwise payable to a State for medical assistance for each quarter in which the State has failed to include a consent to suit in the State medical assistance plan. Section 2 of the bill makes the repeal effective retroactively to January 1, 1976.

IX. Agency Reports

The favorable report of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on H.R. 12961 is as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

May 10, 1976.

Dear Mr. Chairman: This is in response to your request for reports on H.R. 12915 and H.R. 12961, similar bills to amend title XIX of the Social Security Act to repeal the requirement that a State's Medicaid plan include the consent to suit provision to suit in Federal court by providers of inpatient hospital services.

In summary, although we believe that hospital providers should have some forum in which to arbitrate their differences with the States on reimbursement issues, we nevertheless are of the view that the consent to suit requirement is ill-considered and should be repealed.

In addition to amending section 1902(g) of the Social Security Act to require States to participate in the Medicaid program to waive their Eleventh Amendment immunity to suits brought against them by providers of inpatient hospital services, Public Law 94-182 also amended section 1903(a) of the Act to reduce by 10 percent, beginning with the first quarter of 1978, amounts otherwise payable by the Secretary under the Medicaid program to a State that has not complied with section 1903(a).

These provisions were the result of last-minute floor amendments to the bill. Had the responsible congressional committees been given the opportunity to consider and hold hearings on the amendments it would have become apparent that prompt compliance was impossible for a number of States.

In some cases, State constitutions must be amended and the legislatures are not in session. In other cases State legislatures were not in session for a sufficient period to pass the necessary implementing laws by March 31, 1976, the date set for compliance.

Moreover, inasmuch as the amendments seek to remedy a problem that relates only to Medicaid expenditures for inpatient hospital services, their imposition of a penalty on a noncomplying State of 10 percent of its total Medicaid funds seems harsh and unreasonable.

Under present law, Medicaid providers of inpatient hospital services are required to be compensated for what are known as their "reasonable costs." This rule has subjected the States and the Federal Government to substantial and rapidly escalating Medicaid expenditures: expenditures that are not proportionate, in our judgment, to the value of the services provided. For this reason the President, in his February 9 Message to the Congress, recommended limiting increases in Medicaid payment rates in 1977 and 1978 (rates that control, also, Medicaid reimbursement) to 7 percent a day for hospitals.

The inflation of health costs has created a new crisis condition in the budgets of some States. To meet this condition several States have imposed a freeze on their hospital reimbursement rates under Medicaid. This freeze raises a substantial question with respect to the compliance of those States with title XIX of the Social Security Act and the new matter is printed in italics, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):

Mr. Long, from the Committee on Finance, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany H.R. 12961]

The Committee on Finance, to which was referred the bill (H.R. 12961) to amend the Social Security Act to repeal the requirement that a State's plan for medical assistance under title XIX of such act include a provision giving consent of the State to certain suits brought with respect to payment for inpatient hospital services, having considered the same, reports favorably thereon with an amendment and with an amendment to the title and recommends that the bill as amended do pass.

I. SUMMARY OF THE BILL

H.R. 12961 as passed by the House contained a provision to repeal the requirement that a State's plan for medical assistance under the medicaid program include a provision giving consent of the State to certain suits brought with respect to payment for inpatient hospital services. The Committee approved this repeal without modification, but added certain provisions dealing with fraud and abuse.

OFFICE OF CENTRAL FRAUD AND ABUSE CONTROL

The first provision establishes within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare an Office of Central Fraud and Abuse Control. This unit would have overall responsibility to direct, coordinate and make policy with respect to fraud and abuse monitoring and investigation at all Federal organizational levels in Medicare and Medicaid.
PROHIBITION AGAINST ASSIGNMENT OF CLAIMS FOR SERVICES

This Committee provision clarifies that the prohibition against assigning Medicare and Medicaid claims to third parties, such as factoring firms, also applies to situations where a hospital or doctor tries to bypass the prohibition by using a power of attorney.

DISCLOSURE OF OWNERSHIP AND FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The next Committee provision would require disclosure by providers and suppliers of services under Medicare and Medicaid—including so-called Medicaid mills—to the Secretary of HEW and the Comptroller General of full and complete information as to the owners of the facilities; those sharing in the proceeds or fees (to the extent that interests exceed five percent or more); business dealings between the facilities and owners, and where appropriate certified cost reports.

This provision would also require the Secretary and the States to have agreements with independent laboratories, independent pharmacies and independent durable medical equipment suppliers, who are paid directly with Government funds, under which such organizations would agree to provide access to their books and records pertaining to billing and paying for goods and services. Additionally, Federal personnel and the Comptroller General would have direct access to provider records under Medicaid and could duplicate such records during the course of an investigation.

PENALTY FOR FRAUD

The Committee amendment would define fraudulent acts and false reporting as felonies punishable by up to five years imprisonment and up to $25,000 in fines.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS REVIEW ORGANIZATIONS

The final Committee provision would require the Secretary to give priority to requests from a PSRO which desires to undertake review of care in "shared health care facilities"—the so-called Medicaid mills. This provision further clarifies that, where the Secretary has delegated review responsibility to a PSRO, this review is binding for both Medicare and Medicaid; all other duplicative review requirements under other provisions of law terminate; and reiterates the legislative intent that the costs of PSRO operations are to be financed wholly by the Federal Government with respect to Medicare and Medicaid review activities.

The amendment would also require the Secretary to make payment for expenses incurred in defense of any suit, action or proceeding brought against a PSRO or to any member or employee in the performance of their duties and functions under the law.

II. GENERAL EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

REPEAL OF CONSENT TO SUIT REQUIREMENT

(Sec. 1 of the Bill)

Medicaid law requires a State to pay hospitals on a reasonable cost basis in accordance with methods and standards developed by the State. The reasonable cost under those methods and standards may not exceed the amount which would be determined reasonable under Medicare. States which wish to use alternatives to Medicare's cost reimbursement principles are required to have approval from the Secretary of HEW before they can employ an alternative. During 1975, several States instituted alternative payment mechanisms without first obtaining Secretaryial approval. Generally these methods were adopted in response to budgetary pressures in the States. Hospitals claimed the methods resulted in "less than reasonable cost" payment but, under existing law, they had no recourse to compel State compliance with the statute.

Public Law 94-182, signed on December 31, 1975, included an amendment to Medicaid intended to deal with this problem. Section 111 requires States to amend their Medicaid plans to include consent by the States to be sued in Federal courts by or on behalf of hospitals on questions relating to the payment of reasonable costs for hospital services. A State which fails to include such a provision in its State plan would, beginning January 1, 1976, be subject to a reduction of ten percent in the amount of the Federal share of its Medicaid funds. The Committee bill does not modify the House bill which repeals this section.

In acting to repeal Section 1902(g) of the Social Security Act (Section 111 of Public Law 94-182), the Committee remains aware of the problems to which this provision was originally addressed. Current law requires that providers of Medicaid services be reimbursed at a reasonable level for the costs of providing health care services to the medically indigent. Under laws and regulations enacted prior to the passage of Section 1902(g), State Medicaid plans were (and are) required to provide for the payment of the costs of inpatient hospital services at reasonable rates of reimbursement. However, the definition of reasonableness in reimbursement remains imprecise. For various reasons, several States have apparently failed to reimburse providers at adequate levels. Unfortunately, other than Section 1902(g), few mechanisms exist for providers to assert a claim to reimbursement at reasonable rates.

Section 1902(g), which requires that States waive their constitutional immunity to suits for money judgments in federal court, was designed to afford providers access to a judicial remedy for purposes of enforcing their legal rights. However, upon reconsideration of this matter, the Committee is unconvinced as is the House of Representatives of the desirability of compelling States to waive their constitutional immunity to suit or of the feasibility of assessing monetary sanctions against States failing to do so in a time of economic stringency at all governmental levels. For this reason, the Committee strongly recommends that the Senate act expeditiously in repealing this well-intentioned but, in retrospect, inappropriate legislation.

The Committee believes, nonetheless, that some alternative mechanism for the adjudication of disputes concerning Medicaid reimbursement rates should be developed. The Committee has recommended to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare that existing regulations be modified to deal with this problem. It should be noted that the Department shares this concern and has drafted and issued a proposed regulatory change. The Committee suggests that the following three subjects be addressed forthwith in the final regulation:

(a) A way of measuring the "reasonableness" of any State departure from the Medicare reasonable cost approach. With the enactment of the Social Security Amendments of 1972, the Department was charged with the development of suitable criteria for determining whether rates established by State Medicaid agencies are in fact reasonable. For whatever reason, such standards have not yet been developed and promulgated. In spite of the complexity of this task, the Committee believes that it must be accomplished in the most timely fashion practicable. Where a State Medicaid plan denies providers adequate reimbursement according to the criteria of reasonableness the Secretary or his designee should not approve such a plan.

(b) In those cases where a State Medicaid agency proposes revisions of general reimbursement rates, providers should be formally notified and given the opportunity to comment on such proposals. Further, such comments by providers and the record of the State Medicaid agency's consideration of such comments should be preserved in written form for transmittal to the Secretary or his designee for his use in the consideration of whether the State agency's revision of reimbursement rates should be approved; and

(c) In cases where a significant proportion of providers of Medicaid services believe that a recently-established rate of reimbursement is injurious to them, a formal administrative hearing by the State Medicaid agency should be held. If the providers and the State agency fail to reconcile their differences at the administrative hearing, the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare or his designee could resolve such dispute by approving or disapproving the revision of the State Medicaid plan's reimbursement rate in a timely fashion, say, within sixty days of the revised plan's submission to him.

The development and promulgation of these regulations should not be construed as in any way constraining or constraining the rights of the providers of Medicaid services, the State Medicaid agencies, or the Department to seek prospective, injunctive relief in a federal or state judicial forum. Neither should the repeal of Section 1902(g) be interpreted as placing constraints on the rights of the parties involved to seek such prospective, injunctive relief.

office space in a medical clinic. The billing practices employed by these laboratories are also often highly questionable. Techniques which constitute abuse or actual fraudulent practices include charging for services not ordered by the physician; charging for inappropriate tests not ordered by the patient’s physician; charging Medicaid more than private patients; billing Medicaid patients for automated parts of profile tests; and use of forms supplied by the laboratory which make it impossible for physicians to order certain lab tests without ordering related tests. Profiteering, at the expense of patients, has also been shown to exist in the country’s nursing homes where gang visits, kick-backs, collecting duplicate payments from Medicare and Medicaid, and billing for deceased or discharged patients are not unusual practices.

Despite the evidence that has accumulated in the last several years on fraud and abuse in the Medicare and Medicaid programs, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare has been unable to take effective or timely action, particularly in the case of the Medicaid program. (By this, the Committee does not intend to disparage nor discourage recent anti-fraud efforts by the Department.) But, the Committee bill would provide for an immediate strengthening, restructuring, and an addition to the current Department activities in this area. The Committee intends that violators be prosecuted and removed from program participation, and that scarce program funds be used to finance the relatively small percentage of providers, who generate a disproportionately large amount of the services—those providers who are cheating both the programs and the patients.

The Committee bill establishes within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare an Office of Central Fraud and Abuse Control. This unit would have overall responsibility to direct, coordinate and make policy with respect to fraud and abuse monitoring and investigation at all organizational levels in Medicare and Medicaid. Unit personnel could also initiate and conduct investigations of alleged fraud and abuse. The establishment of such a unit has been recommended by the Comptroller General of the United States.

To meet the needs of U.S. Attorneys and State prosecutors, the unit, at the request of prosecutors, would be required to the maximum extent practicable to provide all appropriate investigative support and assistance, including temporary assignment of Federal personnel to assist U.S. and State prosecutors in the detection and prosecution of fraud cases arising out of Medicare and Medicaid.

The Committee expects that the Central Fraud and Abuse Unit would be established promptly upon enactment of this legislation with adequate staffing, including a fairly large number of trained and experienced investigators assigned to the crisis situations which have been identified throughout the country. It is expected that the Director of the new Office will be immediately responsible to the Secretary and that the Director of such Office will restructure or revise current Department fraud and abuse activities, as necessary, to effect the new responsibilities.

The Committee recognizes the importance of full utilization of the knowledge and experience of program integrity personnel in the operating programs. The Committee expects that these present program functions, to the extent found effective in their present form and location by the Office of Central Fraud and Abuse Control, will continue as a basic part of anti-fraud and abuse activities under the general direction of the Office of Central Fraud and Abuse Control.

The Committee expects the Office, upon the request of the Congress, to periodically provide timely information on its activities including the number of suspected cases of fraud and abuse identified, the number referred for prosecution, and the disposition of such cases.

PROHIBITION AGAINST ASSIGNMENT BY PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS OF CLAIMS FOR SERVICES

(Sec. 4 of the Bill)

In 1972, the Committee noted that some physicians and other persons providing services under Medicare and Medicaid reassigned their rights to other organizations or groups under conditions whereby such organizations or groups submitted claims and received payments in their own name. Such reassignments became a significant source of incorrect and inflated claims by services paid for by Medicare and Medicaid. In addition, the Committee also found cases of fraudulent, billings by collection agencies and substantial overpayments to these so-called “factoring” agencies.

The Committee recommended and the Senate and House agreed that such arrangements were not in the best interest of the government or the beneficiaries served by the Medicare and Medicaid programs. The Social Security Amendments of 1972, P.L. 92–603, therefore, included the expressed prohibition against the reassignment of claims to benefits to anyone other than the patient, his physician, or other person who provided the service, unless the physician or other person was required as a condition of his employment to turn his fee over to his employer, or unless the physician or other person had an arrangement with a facility in which the services were provided and the facility billed for such services.

Despite these efforts to stop factoring of Medicare and Medicaid bills, some practitioners and other persons have circumvented the intent of law by use of the device of power of attorney. The Committee believes, as does the Comptroller General of the United States, that such use of power of attorney in these instances negates the purpose of the statutory prohibition against reassignment of Medicare and Medicaid claims and continues to result in the program abuses which factoring activities have been shown to produce in the past. The Committee also believes that the conditions which have fostered factoring practices—e.g., delays in payments—are being overcome, thereby minimizing or eliminating significant cash flow problems.

The Committee bill, therefore, amends existing law to preclude reassignments of benefits under Medicare and Medicaid by use of the device of power of attorney (other than an assignment to a governmental entity or establishment, or an assignment established by or pursuant to the order of a court of comparable jurisdiction from a physician or other person furnishing services). The Committee also provides for similar prohibitions with respect to billings for care provided by institutions under Medicare and Medicaid. However, the bill would not preclude the agent of a physician or other person furnishing services from receiving any payment, if (but only if) such agent does so pursuant to an agreement under which the compensation paid the agent for his services or for the billings or collections of payments is unrelated (direct or indirect) to the amount of the billings or payments, and is not dependent upon the actual collection of any such payments. Thus, the use of efficient billing agents by doctors and others, when paid on a basis related to the cost of doing business and not amounts billed or collected would not be impaired.

(Sec. 5 of the Bill)

The Committee bill contains disclosure requirements designed to assist in the detection and investigation of the kinds of overcharging, kick-backs and rebates that have been revealed by Congressional hearings and investigations. The new provisions apply to non-governmental providers or suppliers of health care (including shared health facilities as defined in the bill) which furnish or arrange for the furnishing of a significant volume of services for which Medicare or Medicaid reimbursement is claimed. They also apply to Medicare intermediaries and carriers and to Medicaid fiscal agents. Under the bill, these entities would be required to comply with requests made by the Secretary or the Comptroller General of the United States for information concerning the identity of persons having direct or indirect equity (at least 5 percent) in the entity, lease or rental agreements, the names of any officers or partners and similar information, and information concerning business dealings between these individuals and the entity. After appropriate notice, Federal funds would be withheld from entities that do not fully respond to such requests; Medicare agreements with any of its fiscal agents that fail to respond will be terminated.

It is not intended that the term “shared health facility” include hospital shared services organizations such as those meeting the requirements of Section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, other arrangements whereby a group of hospitals acting together provide services to the members of the group, nor to one tax-exempt nonprofit hospital providing services to another such tax-exempt nonprofit hospital.

The bill would further provide that no Medicare benefits would be paid on the basis of an assignment, and no Federal funds would be provided under Medicaid of items or services provided by an independent pharmacy, an independent laboratory, or an independent supplier of durable medical equipment unless the entity agrees, if requested to do so, to provide the Secretary or the Comptroller General reasonable access to the books and records which pertain to the entity’s provision of billing and payment related to Medicare and Medicaid.

PENALTY FOR DEFRAUDING MEDICARE AND MEDICAID PROGRAMS

(Sec. 6 of the Bill)

Existing law provides specific penalties under the Medicare and Medicaid programs for certain practices that have long been regarded by professional organizations as unethical, as well as unlawful in some jurisdictions, and which contribute significantly to the cost of the programs. Such practices as the soliciting, offering, or acceptance of kick-backs or bribes, including rebates or a portion of fees or charges for patient referrals, are currently misdemeanors under present law. Also defined as misdemeanors are such crimes as submission of false claims or the making of false statements concerning material facts with respect to the condition or operation of a health care facility. Recent hearings, however, have indicated that such penalties have not proved to be adequate deterrents against illegal practices by some individuals who provide services under Medicare and Medicaid.

The Committee bill, therefore, would increase current penalties by changing the classification and penalties for such crimes from misdemeanors to felonies, increasing terms of imprisonment from one year to five years and maximum fines to $25,000. The Committee believes that the defrauding of the Government in Medicare and Medicaid is not dissimilar to similar practices involving fraud under the income tax laws, and should be dealt with just as severely. The committee also expects that, by increasing the criminal penalties for illegal acts under Medicare and Medicaid, more aggressive prosecution of such illegal practices will be undertaken by U.S. attorneys and other State and local law enforcement agencies.

AMENDMENTS RELATED TO PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS REVIEW ORGANIZATIONS

(Sec. 7 of the Bill)

The Committee bill would make a number of changes in the Social Security Act that would clarify the nature and scope of the PSRO’s review responsibilities and facilitate these activities. These changes should enhance the capability of PSRO’s to carry out their responsibilities under present law with special emphasis on early capability to review care and deal with any abuse in the so-called “Medicaid mills.” The Committee recognizes that the Professional Standards Review Organization is not primarily a fraud detection organization, and the PSRO will not be expected to operate in that fashion. A PSRO can bring the expertise of the medical profession directly to bear on these responsibilities which have already been given to it under present law. It can make those decisions about the medical necessity and quality of care furnished which only the medical profession, organized through a PSRO, can provide.

The Committee is well aware that in asking PSRO’s to offer their review services with respect to these facilities that it is asking for a difficult task to be performed. Moreover, the Committee recognizes that initial efforts, while less than that required, will expand.

It is the intent of the Committee that the Secretary, utilizing the various waiver provisions under present law, cut through as much “red tape” as possible to facilitate prompt assumption by PSRO’s of review responsibility for services in “shared health facilities.” Additionally, where necessary, the Secretary is expected to reimburse any reasonable security costs required to protect personnel involved in these review activities.
Nonetheless, PSRO's have shown the capability and interest in meeting the obligations of the medical profession to assure the quality of the care provided, in the Medicaid mills and elsewhere.

Under present law, a PSRO is required to review only care provided by or in institutions unless it requests to review other kinds of health services and the Secretary approves the request. The bill provides that the Secretary will give priority to requests made by conditionally designated or fully qualified PSRO's to review services furnished in shared health facilities, with the highest priority to be given to requests from PSRO's in areas that have a substantial number of these so-called "Medicaid mills."

Under present law, PSRO's may discharge their review responsibilities with respect to hospital care in one of two ways—they can delegate the review responsibility to a hospital where they find that hospital capable of carrying out the review, or they can perform the review directly. Review activities delegated to the hospitals are reimbursed by the Medicare trust fund to the hospital as a part of such a hospital's Medicare costs. Prior to the enactment earlier this year of P.L. 94-182, direct review activities carried out by the PSRO were not reimbursed as part of hospital costs, with the result that the hospitals were not reimbursed as part of hospital costs, with the result that the hospitals would be required to fund such direct review activities from their own administrative budget. This resulted, in some cases, in a disincentive for the PSRO's to perform direct review and inappropriate delegation of the review process.

P.L. 94-182 permitted PSRO's to be reimbursed by hospitals for costs which the PSRO's incurred in performing direct review with respect to hospital inpatients. Payments are made by the hospital to the PSRO with the hospital, in turn, receiving reimbursement in full for these payments from Medicare. The Committee would utilize this payment method for PSRO review activities involving hospital outpatients.

Under present law, Medicare payments and the Federal share of Medicaid payments may not generally be made for health care services which a PSRO has, in the proper exercise of its duties, disapproved. To clarify the PSRO's authority in this area and to avoid unnecessary and disruptive duplicative reviews by Medicare agents and Medicaid agencies, the bill provides that where a conditionally designated or a qualified PSRO has been found competent by the Secretary to assume review responsibility with respect to specified types of health care services or specified providers or practitioners and is performing such reviews, determination shall be made in connection with such reviews whether payment is or is not to be allowed by Medicare intermediaries and carriers or by Medicaid State agencies or their fiscal agents.

Under present law, the Secretary is authorized to waive any or all of the review, certification or similar activities otherwise required under the law where he finds, on the basis of substantial evidence of the effective performance of review and control activities by PSRO's, that the activity or activities are no longer needed for the provision of adequate review and control. This provision was intended to avoid duplication of functions and unnecessary review and control activities.

The bill would permit the Secretary to waive one or more of those statutory review and certification requirements on a selective basis, where he finds that a given PSRO is competent on the basis of performance to assume review responsibilities with respect to specified providers or types of health services, he could waive any of a number of specified requirements with respect to those specific providers or services at the time the PSRO undertakes those review responsibilities, but only to the extent that they would represent duplicative review and certification activities. For example, the Secretary could waive, with respect to some or all of the facilities in a PSRO's service area, the requirement that physicians certify that their skilled nursing facility patients needed skilled nursing or skilled rehabilitation services on a daily basis if the Secretary finds that the PSRO can competently review the needs of the Medicare skilled nursing facility patients and the services they receive, and will properly apply the programs' level of care requirements.

In addition, the Secretary could waive any or all of the Medicare requirements that psychiatric and tuberculosis hospital records establish that a covered level of care has been provided; the Medicare provisions relating to the existence or activities of utilization review committees; the Medicare requirement that participating skilled nursing facilities cooperate in programs of medical evaluation and audit; the Medicaid requirement that State plans provide for a program for the medical review of each skilled nursing facility and mental hospital patient's needs; the Medicare requirement that State plans provide for methods and procedures related to the utilization of, and payment for, covered services; the Medicaid requirement that State plans provide for independent professional review of care in intermediate care facilities; the Medicaid requirement that State plans provide for the State health agency to establish a plan for the review of covered services; and the Medicaid provisions for reducing or denying Federal matching in certain cases where the State does not effectively control utilization.

Under present law, any data or information acquired by a PSRO in the exercise of its duties must be held in confidence and may not be disclosed to any person except (1) to the extent that may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the PSRO provisions, or (2) in such cases and under such circumstances as the Secretary shall by regulations provide to assure adequate protection of the rights and interests of patients, health care practitioners, or providers of health care. The bill provides that such data or information may be disclosed by a PSRO to the responsible State and Federal agencies, at their request, to assist them in identifying or investigating cases of suspected cases or patterns of fraud or abuse.

Under present law, a PSRO is authorized to examine pertinent records of any practitioner or provider of health care that is subject to PSRO review; the bill would also permit the PSRO to abstract from such records to facilitate review of the premises of the party that... furnished the care. This authority may be especially important in the review of shared health facilities.

Under present law, expenses incurred by PSRO's are made payable from Medicare trust funds and from funds appropriated to carry out the other health care provision of the Social Security Act. The bill would make it clear that it is not intended that States or local governmental entities contribute toward these expenses.

The bill would also make clarifying changes in the provisions of law under which the Secretary may, at the recommendation of a PSRO, withdraw a medical care provider's eligibility to participate in Social Security Act medical care programs where it is determined that they are not willing, or cannot, carry out their obligations to order and provide only necessary care of acceptable quality. The bill would make it clear that the provisions in question apply to any health care practitioner, or any hospital or other health care facility, agency or organization which is subject to PSRO review.

Under present law, a PSRO or a member or employee of a PSRO (including a person who furnishes professional counsel or advice to a PSRO) may be sued in connection with the performance of duties provided for under the social security law. The Committee bill provides for the Federal Government to reimburse the sued party for expenses incurred in connection with defending such a suit.

III. Costs of Carrying Out the Bill

In compliance with section 252(a) of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1970, the following statement is made relative to the costs to be incurred in carrying out this bill.

Properly carried out, effective efforts to detect and punish fraud and abuse should result in significant moderation in Medicare and Medicaid program expenditures. This would result from deterrence of fraudulent or abusive activities as well as denial of payment or recoveries of payments inappropriately made.

For obvious reasons, it is difficult to supply specific or even approximate dollar amounts of savings. It is certainly fair to say, again assuming reasonable implementation, that cost-savings would far outweigh any administrative expenses involved. The Budget Committees of the Congress have assumed that a reduction of $100 million in Medicaid expenditures would result from enactment of this bill.

IV. Vote of Committee in Reporting the Bill

In compliance with section 133 of the Legislative Reorganization Act, as amended, the following statement is made relative to the vote of the committee on reporting the bill. This bill was ordered favorably reported by the Committee without a rollcall vote and without objection.

V. Changes in Existing Law Made by the Bill, as Reported

In compliance with subsection (4) of rule XXIX of the Standing Rules of the Senate, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (existing law proposed to be omitted is enclosed in black brackets, new matter is printed in italic, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):
In case the Comptroller General makes a request after the close of such period, advise the Secretary of the fact that such request has not been fully complied with, except that, in the administration of this paragraph, no such request shall be made of an entity described in paragraph (A) if such entity does not furnish a significant volume (as defined by regulations of the Secretary) of the items or services referred to in such paragraph.

(b)(A) If at the close of the sixty-day period which begins on the date a request (as described in paragraph (1)) is made of an entity described in paragraph (1) (A), or (B), such request has not been fully complied with, then—

(i) in case such entity is an entity described in paragraph (1) (A), the Secretary may notify such entity that no payment will be made to such entity under title XVIII, and no Federal funds shall be available with respect to any expenditures made under or pursuant to title V or XIX (or a program or plan approved thereunder), for goods and services furnished, on or after the first day of the first calendar month which begins not less than ninety days after the date of enactment of this subsection, to a patient (directly or indirectly) by any entity which is an independent pharmacy, independent laboratory, or an independent supplier of durable medical equipment unless such entity agrees to give the Secretary or in the case of title XIX the State agency under which such entity agrees to provide to the Secretary (or any authorized officer or employee of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare) and to the Comptroller General reasonable access to the books and records thereof which pertain to the provision of billing and payment for goods and services supplied or rendered by such entity.

SHARED HEALTH FACILITY

Sec. 1133. For purposes of this Act, the term "shared health facility" means any arrangement whereby two or more health care practitioners, one or more of whom receives payment on a fee for service basis under titles V, XVIII, and XIX of this Act which are substantial in amount (as determined in accordance with regulations of the Secretary)—

(1) practicing their professions at a common physical location; or

(2) share (i) common waiting areas, examining rooms, treatment rooms or other space, (ii) the services of supporting staff, or (iii) equipment, and

(3) a person other than all of such practitioners is in charge of, controls, manages, or supervises, substantial aspects of the arrangement or operation for the delivery of health or medical services at such common physical location, other than the direct furnishing of professional health care services by such practitioners to their patients, or a person makes available to such practitioners the services of supporting staff who are not employees of such practitioners.
