

The original documents are located in Box 1, folder “National Newspaper Carrier Day Message, 1974” of the Eliska Hasek Files at the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

Copyright Notice

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Gerald R. Ford donated to the United States of America his copyrights in all of his unpublished writings in National Archives collections. Works prepared by U.S. Government employees as part of their official duties are in the public domain. The copyrights to materials written by other individuals or organizations are presumed to remain with them. If you think any of the information displayed in the PDF is subject to a valid copyright claim, please contact the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

National Newspaper Carrier Day, 1974

The hard-working young people who carry the news of the world to our doorsteps represent the finest spirit of America. It is most appropriate that we set aside a special day each year to salute them.

Through the sense of dedication and responsibility they develop along the newspaper route, these youngsters are better able to achieve success and personal fulfillment in their later lives.

Countless national leaders, both in the private and public sector, look back with pride and satisfaction on their experience as newspaper carriers. And communities across America are stronger because of the qualities these young people derive from this fine occupation.

On behalf of all my fellow citizens, I commend America's newspaper carriers on this merited national observance.

Gerald R. Ford

September 30, 1974

MEMORANDUM FOR RON WESSEN

Attached are 15 copies of the President's message for National Newspaper Carrier Day which is October 12. You may wish to release this to the press. I have more copies if you need them.

Eliska Hasek

Atts.

