

The original documents are located in Box 1, folder “National Business Women's Week, 1975” of the Eliska Hasek Files at the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

Copyright Notice

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Gerald R. Ford donated to the United States of America his copyrights in all of his unpublished writings in National Archives collections. Works prepared by U.S. Government employees as part of their official duties are in the public domain. The copyrights to materials written by other individuals or organizations are presumed to remain with them. If you think any of the information displayed in the PDF is subject to a valid copyright claim, please contact the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

National Business Women's Week
October 19 - 25, 1975

National Business Women's Week gives me the chance to greet the Business and Professional Women's Clubs throughout our country and to join in recognizing the successes and contributions of America's working women.

In sponsoring this annual event, the members of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs help in every area of national life. Through your programs you help to equip interested women to meet the challenges of the business and professional world in a way that benefits the whole of our society.

Your efforts in support of the Equal Rights Amendment and your dedication to the ideals of International Women's Year have greatly advanced our common goal of ensuring fuller participation by all our citizens in the work of community development and national progress.

You have my very best wishes and the nation's gratitude as you continue to pursue these vital objectives during this observance and throughout the year ahead.

Gerald R. Ford

