Here it is; the Femmes Issue. We didn't get quite enough material to fill it completely with the feminine touch so we supplied the difference. To those who responded to our attempt to give women a chance to voice their opinions on West Point, cadets and life in general we offer our thanks. But there is one person in particular I would like to thank for outstanding material in both quality and quantity: Paula Holt. Paula and I have known one another since we were born. We survived childhood, horses and growing up together. Without Paula's contribution we wouldn't have had a cover and four pages of art inside. Her efforts made the job of assembling this issue a great deal easier. I owe her a plague of dinners at her favorite Greek restaurant for this!

Thanks once again to everyone who contributed, it meant we could study for term ends!
