Betty Ford, the nation's First Lady and Central High School's most famous graduate, was to arrive in Grand Rapids Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Ford was graduated from Central in 1936, and the school has decided to grant her its first Alumni Award. She will receive a plaque in

A Lock Was on the Way

Singer Connie Francis broke down and sobbed uncontrollably as, testifying in New York, she described how she was raped in a motel room after a man put a knife to her throat and said, "Kiss me or I'll kill you." The attack occurred in 1974 while the singer, 37, was appearing at the Westbury Music Fair on Long Island. Francis is suing the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge where she stayed for $5 million. She claims the attack shattered her entertainment comeback.

Thomas Kirk, an attorney for Howard Johnson's, said the rape was unforeseeable. And he added a strike by United Parcel had delayed delivery of safety locks intended for the motel doors.

Shocking News From Grand Rapids

Betty Ford and her staff spent more than an hour (!) in a bar in Grand Rapids singing along with a piano player. Turns out she once worked with the piano player, Charles Anderson, in a department store — but in Grand Rapids and not Chicago. The First Lady was showing off the town to her staff after she addressed commencement exercises for Union High School where she graduated in 1936. Some members of the party reportedly were drinking beer which is often helpful, some feel, when singing.

The Long Wait Begins

Spiro T. Agnew, the former Veep who has taken up writing, reports he plans to begin writing his memoirs this year and expects to spend two years before the task. He was asked by reporters if it will contain any surprises. He said: "Why would a person of average intelligence go on the air on three networks in California and positively declare he would not resign and then less than 10 days later resign? There is a reason for this and that reason has to be told." Elizabeth Ray, a faster writer, should be well into her history of typing in major world capitals by then.

New Haven, Conn. — ELSIE TYLER, a New Haven widow, is making a sign reading "I did your father's laundry" for display on July 10 when Britain's QUEEN ELIZABETH arrives here on her bicentennial visit. It won't be a joke. In 1911, Mrs. Tyler was 13 year-old Elsie Blank, and she worked in a laundry at Dartmouth, England, where clothes for the Royal Naval Academy were washed. The queen's father, the late KING GEORGE VI, was an academy student at the time.

Grand Rapids, Mich. — BETTY FORD took her staff on a tour of her hometown the other day and spent more than a hour singing along with the piano player at a downtown tavern. The first lady harmonized with CHARLES ANDERSON, the piano player at the Back Room Saloon in the Pantlind Hotel. He said that he had worked with Mrs. Ford at a Grand Rapids department store before her marriage in 1948.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke (R-Mass.) said in a Boston Globe interview yesterday that he is "stunned" at his wife's announcement that she will contest the no-fault divorce action he filed.

Brooke also said he pays more than half his net monthly Senate salary of $2,200 to his wife in cash and expenses. Remigia Scacco Brooke, who said she was recovering from surgery on the West Indies island of St. Martin, said in a telephone interview, "He doesn't give me enough money for medicine or anything."

The Ford women spent the weekend campaigning — First Lady Betty Ford in Oakland, Calif., and her daughter, Susan, in Harvard, Ill.

In Oakland, Betty Ford was asked her views on women in high office. Ronald Reagan, President Ford's opponent in the California Republican primary next Tuesday, has reportedly been considering a woman as a vice-presidential running mate if he is nominated.

"I'm definitely in favor of women in government," Mrs. Ford said. "And I think a female vice president would be fine. But I think it is a little too soon to vote for a female for vice president. I think we have to take our time to get there."

Susan Ford milked a cow, reviewed a parade and shook hands in Illinois, at the 35th Annual Harvard Milk Festival.

Actor Richard Burton arrived in Haiti Saturday to get a divorce from Elizabeth Taylor, the office of tourism and information said.

Burton was scheduled to return to Hollywood Wednesday and arrived in Port-au-Prince with an unidentified woman.

In New York, a spokesman for Taylor refused to confirm the divorce report or make any other comment. Taylor is in New York to receive an award today from the American Jewish Congress as "an artist and humanitarian."

Two weeks ago, as she left on a junket to Iran, Taylor said, "Don't ask me about it. He's getting the divorce."

Candice Bergen and Edward Albert — both actors who are normally possessed of blond good looks — apparently got tired of being gorgeous in front of photographers hanging around the movie set.

WASHINGTON (AP) -- PRESIDENT FORD VIRTUALLY CONCEDED TODAY THAT HE EXPECTS TO BE DEFEATED IN CALIFORNIA'S REPUBLICAN PRIMARY, SAYING THAT HE NEEDS A STRONG SHOWING IN OHIO AND NEW JERSEY "IN PARTIAL OFFSET OF THE ANTICIPATED SITUATION IN CALIFORNIA."

FORD TALK A GROUP OF OHIO BROADCASTERS AT A WHITE HOUSE BRIEFING THAT HE IS AN UNDERDOG TO RONALD REAGAN IN CALIFORNIA. BUT HE REPEATED HIS PREDICTED FIRST BALLOT NOMINATION AT THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

THE PRESIDENT SAID THAT OHIO'S 97 REPUBLICAN DELEGATES ARE EXTREMELY SIGNIFICANT BECAUSE THEY ARE DIVIDED ACCORDING TO THE POPULAR VOTE. IN CALIFORNIA'S REPUBLICAN PRIMARY, THE WINNER TAKES ALL.

"WE FEEL THAT WITH THE MOMENTUM WE HAVE GOING THAT WE CAN GET A SIGNIFICANT NUMBER OF THE OHIO DELEGATES IN PARTIAL OFFSET OF THE ANTICIPATED SITUATION IN CALIFORNIA. THAT DOESN'T MEAN WE'RE GOING TO GIVE UP IN CALIFORNIA. QUITE THE OPPOSITE," HE SAID.

"MY WIFE BETTY WOULDN'T BE GOING TO CALIFORNIA IF WE WERE. BUT WE'RE AN UNDERDOG IN CALIFORNIA. WE RECOGNIZE IT AND SO IT IS VITALLY IMPORTANT THAT WE MAXIMIZE OUR VOTE IN OHIO AS WELL AS IN NEW JERSEY," HE ADDED.

THE PRESIDENT WAS ASKED ABOUT VICE PRESIDENT NELSON'S ROCKEFELLER'S PREDICTION THAT FORD WOULD WIN ABOUT 20 DELEGATES FEWER THAN NEEDED TO NOMINATE HIM ON THE FIRST BALLOT.

HE REPLIED: "I WOULD AGREE MORE OR LESS WITH THE OBSERVATIONS BY THE VICE PRESIDENT AND BY MOST ANALYSTS THAT WE WILL GO INTO THE CONVENTION WITH NEARLY ENOUGH COMMITTED VOTES.

"I THINK WE CAN MAKE SOME HEADWAY WITH THE NON-COMMITTED VOTES BETWEEN NOW AND THEN AND THEREFORE, I THINK WE'LL HAVE A FIRST BALLOT VICTORY IN KANSAS CITY," HE SAID.

FORD HAS DESCRIBED SOME OF REAGAN'S POSITIONS AS IRRESPONSIBLE. BUT THE PRESIDENT SAID EVEN THOSE STANDS HAVE NOT LED HIM TO RULE REAGAN OUT AS A POSSIBLE VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

"I DON'T EXCLUDE ANY REPUBLICAN AS A POTENTIAL CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT," HE SAID.

"I CERTAINLY WOULD TAKE SUCH COMMENTS INTO CONSIDERATION IN THE ANALYSIS OF WHETHER AN INDIVIDUAL WOULD BE ON THE TICKET WITH ME. BUT I DON'T WANT THAT TO INDICATE THAT I'M PRECLUDING HIM AT THIS TIME BECAUSE I'M NOT EXCLUDING ANYBODY."

A walk with Betty Ford

By Maury DeJonge

Walking with Betty Ford is like a walk with your best girl.

But when it's over you realize she's the wife of the President of the United States.

I met the First Lady at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Secchia, 2833 Bonnell Ave. SE, close friends of the Ford family.

Local police and somber Secret Service agents guarding Mrs. Ford seemed to fade away as we walked to the home of Kate Welch, 2747 Darby Rd. SE. There Mrs. Ford was guest at a special luncheon of the Grand Rapids Junior League.

Ever gracious, Mrs. Ford deliberately walked at a leisurely pace so I would have the maximum amount of time to ask my questions.

She said it would "Be nice" if her husband won 40 per cent of the vote in the California primary. (He fell short.)

Mrs. Ford came to Grand Rapids from California where she had been campaigning for the President. On the California trips she has not seen the Nixons, she said, but did send Mrs. Nixon a present on her birthday March 17. "I received a nice letter thanking me for the gift."

Asked about her unscheduled visit to the Back Room Saloon Monday night, after the graduation ceremonies for Central High School, she said, "I called my husband first and told him I wanted my staff to see Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Ford said she told him exactly what she had in mind: "He said, 'Buy them all a beer for me, too.'"

She admitted she likes the campaign buttons, "I'm for Betty's husband." The slogan gets two messages across, as far as she's concerned: The wearer likes her and intends to vote for President Ford.

And what about that day when the Ford family moves out of the White House, either next January or four years from now? Where will the Fords go?

"The question is what my husband's job will be," Mrs. Ford said. "I don't want him home for lunch every day."

But what the First Lady really wants is for the nation to elect Gerald R. Ford. "It's a sacrifice we are willing to make for the good of the country," Mrs. Ford said. "I think he's done a tremendous job and the public should recognize that and give him a chance to serve another four years to complete the job he has begun."

Mrs. Ford said she thinks it will take someone new "at least two years" to become familiar with the office and that the last two years would have to be spent getting ready for the next presidential campaign.

As she finished those words, we were at the Welch home, and many women from the Junior League were anxious to greet her. Festive balloons decorated the front lawn which served as the President and Mrs. Ford's Grand Rapids White House during their visit here three weeks ago.

A balloon burst, bringing me back to reality. There was a friendly farewell, but a lasting memory of a walk with the President's wife.

Trying to find some original film fare is becoming as difficult as finding a Congressman who's never heard of Elizabeth Ray. Add to the list of such films as "EXORCIST II"... "KING KONG I"... "II"... and maybe even "III"... "AIRPORT '77"... the third in the series... which will star Jack Lemmon when it gets rolling this August... and "JAWS II"... which begins filming next spring... once again in Martha's Vineyard... and once again with "JAWS I" star Roy Scheider replaying his role as chief of police Martin Brody. And the season of the sequel continues here in Hollywood.

Sunday... where she officiated at the grand opening of Los Angeles' new multi-million-dollar addition to the Cedars-Sinai Medical Center. After breaking the obligatory bottle of champagne... First Mama moved on to Beverly Hills for a private party for 14 held at the home of Sammy Davis Junior... the kissing bandit of the 1968 Nixon campaign. You can be pretty sure that any similar smooch of approval for Ford will be carried out in private. And Betty's not the kind of gal to kiss and tell... even in an election year.

Until next time, keep thinking good thoughts... This is Rona Barrett in Hollywood.
