The President today signed H.R. 13367, a three and three-quarters year extension of the Federal Revenue Sharing program.

The bill provides a total of $25,555,856,277 to be distributed over the 45-month period (January 1, 1977 through September 30, 1980) to eligible State and local governments.

BACKGROUND

History - The General Revenue Sharing program was authorized by Title I of the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972, which was signed into law on October 20, 1972. The present law expires on December 31, 1976. Under the current program States and local governments will have received $30.2 billion.

Use - State and local governments have used these funds to maintain and expand a wide range of programs and services. According to the testimony of governors, mayors, and county officials, failure to extend the General Revenue Sharing program would have resulted in increased property taxes, cutbacks in essential services or more unemployment.

Provisions - The bill which cleared the Congress on September 30, 1976, closely follows President Ford's legislative recommendations to preserve the essential concept of the current Act, provide continued growth in funding, and improve and strengthen the program.

Renewal - President Ford recommended renewal of the General Revenue Sharing program on April 25, 1975, urging "that the Congress act to continue this highly successful and important new element of American Federalism well in advance of the expiration date, in order that State and local governments can make sound fiscal plans."

Extension and Funding - H.R. 13367 extends the General Revenue Sharing program through fiscal year 1980, from January 1, 1977, through September 30, 1980. It authorizes funds to be appropriated to the State and Local Government Fiscal Assistance Trust Fund to pay revenue sharing entitlements in the following amounts: for the period January 1, 1977, to September 30, 1977, $4.99 billion; for each of fiscal years 1978, 1979, and 1980 a maximum of $6.85 billion. The actual authorization for each of these... years will be determined by multiplying $6.65 billion by the ratio of individual Federal income tax receipts for the calendar year ending more than one year before the end of the entitlement period, to 1975 receipts.

This funding compares to the current annual funding rate of $6.65 billion. The Concurrent Resolution for Fiscal Year 1977 includes outlays of $6.7 billion for the program.

Present law provides for the appropriation of revenue sharing funds in the authorizing Act which removes them from the annual appropriations process. H.R. 13367 requires annual appropriation action.

- Nondiscrimination provisions - H.R. 13367 significantly amends the nondiscrimination provisions of the existing bill by broadening their coverage and providing new expedited enforcement mechanisms. Prohibitions against discrimination on the basis of age, handicapped status, and religion are added to those in present law of race, color, national origin, and sex in programs or activities funded in whole or in part with revenue sharing funds. When an allegation of discrimination is made, the unit of government will have to meet a new test of "clear and convincing evidence" that the program or activity is not directly receiving revenue sharing funds.

The bill requires the Secretary of the Treasury to endeavor to enter into agreements with State and Federal agencies to investigate noncompliance with the nondiscrimination provisions. It adds an expedited process for determining noncompliance and ending payments, including hearings by administrative law judges. H.R. 13367 authorizes civil suits by private citizens, after exhaustion of administrative remedies, for redress of any act or practice prohibited by law, and authorizes the Attorney General to intervene in private actions "of general public importance" brought for violation of the nondiscrimination provisions. Courts are authorized to award reasonable attorney fees to a prevailing plaintiff or defendant, other than the United States.

- Other major provisions of H.R. 13367:

  - provides for greater public participation by requiring at least one public hearing on the possible uses of revenue sharing funds and at least one public hearing on the proposed use of revenue sharing funds in relation to the unit of government's entire budget.

  - requires more detailed reporting by State and local governments on the use of revenue sharing funds, including setting forth the amounts and purposes for which the funds have been appropriated, spent, or obligated and showing their relationship to functional items in the government's budget and identifying differences between the actual use of funds received and their proposed use.

  - requires units of government which expect to receive revenue sharing funds to have an independent audit of all their financial statements, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, to determine compliance with the revenue sharing law, at least once every three years. This requirement is waived for periods in which a unit of government receives less than $25,000. Present law does not require an independent audit, nor does it include waiver authority.

— repeals the provision limiting the use by local governments of revenue sharing funds to priority expenditure categories such as maintenance and operating expenses for public safety, environmental protection, public transportation, health, and capital expenditures authorized by law. This will give units of local government more flexibility in deciding how to use revenue sharing funds.

— repeals the prohibition on the use of revenue sharing funds by State or local governments for the matching share needed to receive other Federal grant funds.

— requires the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations (ACIR), effective February 1, 1977, to study and evaluate the American Federal fiscal system in terms of the allocation and coordination of public resources among Federal, State and local governments and to report within three years of the first appropriation for the study, to the President and the Congress on its findings and conclusions together with recommendations for legislation it deems advisable.

— amends the provisions on State maintenance of transfers to local governments to require that States maintain transfers at or above the average of their intergovernmental transfers to localities during the immediately preceding two years. Present law compares the level of transfers to those made in fiscal year 1972.

— requires the Secretary of the Treasury to report to the Congress not later than March 1 of each year on compliance with requirements on the use of funds by recipients, and to make proposals to remedy significant problems in the administration of the Act through appropriate legislation.

Thank you for your phone call of the other day and for sending me the materials about Revenue Sharing.

May I suggest, please, that you send a follow-up note on behalf of both of us to Mrs. Bellcourt (and send me a copy) since I hesitate to draft a letter here which deals so directly with your own regulations and which bears so closely on an active disciplinary case which your office is handling.

Please advise Mrs. Bellcourt on what her rights are to get access to the audit reports, tell her what you can about the disciplinary proceedings re the Tribal Council.

Definitions of Common Revenue Sharing Terms

ORS—These initials stand for the Office of Revenue Sharing.
GRS—These initials stand for General Revenue Sharing.
Appropriation—A budgetary action by a government (a vote of the governing body such as a city council, a town council, a county commission or a tribal council) to make available money in its budget for some specific purpose. For example, a county commission votes to appropriate (to make available) $10,000 to its department of recreation.
Capital Expenditures—Costs to a government which are usually non-recurring, from year to year such as the acquisition of land, construction or major alterations or replacement of buildings; improvements to existing facilities; the purchase of machinery and equipment.
Chief Executive Officer—The elected or legally designated official or officials who have primary responsibility for the conduct of that unit's governmental affairs. Examples are mayor, city manager, county executive or chairman of county board, governor, chief or president.
Entitlement Period—Any of seven pay periods from January 1, 1972 to December 31, 1976, designating various sums of general revenue sharing money to be distributed and varying in length from 6 months to one year.
Fiscal Year—A twelve-month accounting period. It may be the same as the calendar year or it may be different. In many places the fiscal year begins July 1 and ends on June 30.
Local Government—For purposes of this program, a unit of general government below the state government level, such as a city, county, township, Indian tribe, Alaskan native village, borough, or parish.
"Matching" Funds—A financial agreement between the Federal government and a state or local government in which the Federal government will provide a specific amount of money if a state or local government will put up a specific amount of money for a program, activity or a construction project. For example, new equipment for a city's vocational rehabilitation center is going to cost $100,000. The Federal government agrees to pay part of this cost by giving the city $75,000 only if the city will pay $25,000 of the cost. Also contributions by a state or local government in the form of personnel, equipment or facilities may qualify as matching contributions (called "in-kind matching").
Obligation (Encumbrance)—Any contractual or binding financial agreement entered into by a government to pay for services, equipment, or construction projects. In other words, a binding financial agreement for a government is 1) a contract, 2) a purchasing order issued to a company or organization to buy equipment or material or 3) payment of employee salaries for services rendered.
Operating and Maintenance Expenditures—Recurring expenses to a government such as salaries.
Recipient Government—Any general government including Indian tribes and Alaskan native villages eligible to receive General Revenue Sharing money.
Your Government's General Revenue Sharing Trust Fund—Either a separate bank account in which your government must deposit its GRS money or a separate set of GRS accounts maintained in your government's financial records or books.

Introduction

On October 20, 1972, the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act, better known as general revenue sharing, was signed into law. The program's basic purpose is to provide state and local governments with the opportunity and the money to deal with community problems at a local level. Traditionally, federal categorical grants have been made for very specific purposes, legislated by Congress and administered by federal agencies. Under the general revenue sharing program, governors and state legislators, mayors and city councils, county executives and county councils, tribal chiefs and tribal councils, and the people of all of these communities are determining how this money is to be used.

In each state, it will be local officials, responding to local conditions and local constituencies who will decide what should happen; and more importantly, individual citizens can now hold their own elected officials directly accountable for the expenditure of revenue sharing funds.

Community members may become involved in the decision-making for this money by talking with local officials, attending council or commission meetings, serving on community advisory groups, writing letters to the editor, encouraging community awareness and discussion. The purpose of this booklet is to provide information about the general revenue sharing program, especially about its aspects which directly encourage public involvement in decision-making. Your Involvement

This section discusses your government's general revenue sharing reporting responsibilities to the public and presents suggestions for your participation in local government decision making.

Reporting Responsibilities

Reports are published in local newspapers for the public's information. This is where you get involved! Each government receiving GRS money must file reports each year with ORS:

1) The Planned Use Report shows a government's proposals for the use of its GRS money for a specific entitlement period.

2) The Actual Use Report indicates a government's actual expenditure of GRS money.

The Planned Use Report

The Act requires that Planned Use Reports be filed with the U.S. Treasury Department and published in a newspaper of general circulation within the geographic area of your government.

- The purpose of this publication requirement is to provide you with information about how your government proposes to use its general revenue sharing money. The published report will inform you of the whole range of funding choices available to your government under the general revenue sharing program.

- Your government is not legally obligated to carry out the proposed uses of GRS money which are reported on the published Planned Use Report. Therefore, after surveying your community's needs and reading the Planned Use Report, give your suggestions for "priority uses" of this money. The reporting mechanism gives you an opportunity to react to your government's views of local spending priorities and to suggest alternatives!

OR Spills supplies the report form to each government.

3) Planned Use Reports must be published in a local newspaper and filed with the ORS before the beginning of an entitlement period. Units of government failing to file the report are not in compliance with the law, and their GRS payments will be delayed until the report is filed.

- The report must show the amounts and purposes for which your government proposes to use the GRS money it expects to receive for an entitlement period based on an estimate supplied by the ORS.

- Each government receives its Planned Use Report about 60 days before it must be returned to the ORS.

Your government must:

- Publish an exact copy (it may be reduced in size but not abbreviated) of the Planned Use Report in a newspaper of general circulation within its geographic area.
The Rules and Regulations for general revenue sharing do specify the filing date of the report with GRS but not the date of publication in your local newspapers. Ask your government when these reports are ordinarily published.

- Advise all other local news media, including minority and bilingual news media, about the publication of the report.
- Have the chief executive officer sign a statement of assurances (see “Your Government’s Responsibilities to the Federal Government” in the Supplementary Information section).
- Make available for public inspection during normal working hours a copy of the report and any documents which explain and support the information submitted on the report.

The Actual Use Report

The Act requires that an Actual Use Report be filed with the U.S. Department of Treasury and be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the geographic area of your government. Sec. 123 (a) & (4)

- The report form is supplied by ORS.
- The Actual Use Report must be filed after the end of each entitlement period.
- The report shows the amount and purposes for which GRS money was actually spent or obligated (encumbered).
- The report shows any interest earned and any unexpended balance in the trust fund.

Your government must comply with the same publication and publicity requirements for the Actual Use Report as are required for the Planned Use Report.

The Actual Use Report may differ from your government’s published Planned Use Report. The Actual Use Report is providing information about actual expenditures, not proposed expenditures. For example, your government may have changed its proposed use of its GRS money because of an unanticipated emergency or because citizens organized and requested GRS money for a community need that had not been considered a priority need in your government’s original proposals. Such changes do not require that a new Planned Use Report be filed and published. Therefore, in order to be aware of changes in your government’s proposed uses, the public should monitor actual expenditures of GRS money.

General Revenue Sharing and Your Government’s Budget

The general revenue sharing law states that governments receiving GRS money must use it in accordance with the same rules and procedures that regulate the expenditure of the government’s own money, Sec. 123 (a) (4)

Citizens should learn their government’s procedure for preparing and approving its budget and discover where their involvement and assistance may be most effective. This is where you get involved!

The general revenue sharing money that your government receives is new uncommitted money which makes it different from much of your government’s budget which is already committed from year to year for such expenses as salaries, ongoing projects, pensions, repayment of debts and paying interest on bonds and notes. Your involvement in the local decision-making process can determine how this “new money” is to be spent.

The Budget

Your government’s budget consists of legislatively approved appropriations (the state assembly, city council, county commission, tribal council votes approval of the budget.) Each state and local government receiving GRS money has its own procedural laws for preparing and approving its budget. Inquire about them! The diagram shows the basic aspects of this procedure.

The steps in your government’s regular budgetary procedure are followed when it determines the uses of GRS money.
1. Preparing Budget Requests

The Government...several months before the government's legislative body will meet to discuss the budget, agencies and departments within the government begin to figure out how much money they will need in the next fiscal year. They consider present operating costs and the expense of proposed new or expanded programs, and prepare budget requests which are forwarded to the Chief Executive Officer and his Budget Committee.

The Public...citizens actively studying community needs may submit factual budgetary requests to their government's agencies and departments. Moreover, interested groups may assist officials in researching community needs for services and in evaluating existing services during this phase of preparing the budget.

2. Review of Budget Requests

The Government...the Chief Executive Officer, budget officials, and departmental administrators meet to review and coordinate the requests from all the parts of the government. They ask the government's financial officers (Controller, Department of Revenue, Finance or Assessment) for information about how much money the government will receive in the next year. The requests usually exceed the estimate of available funds. Requests are confirmed, denied, or altered to fit within the government's projected income.

The Public...informed and well-researched budget requests made by citizens can assist officials as they justify agency and departmental budget requests.

3. Presentation of the Budget

The Government...the Chief Executive Officer presents the budget to the legislative body. This document proposes how much money is going to be spent, for what, by whom, (department, agency, committee, etc.) and from where the money will come (property tax, federal grants, license and permit fees, death and gift tax, sales tax from gasoline, liquor, tobacco and general revenue sharing money). It also divides expenditures into three broad categories:

- current expenses (operating and maintenance costs such as salaries, supplies, contractual services)
- capital expenditures (nonrecurring expenses such as the purchase of equipment or the construction of a building)
- debt service

This proposed budget is the government's financial plan of income and expenses for one or more fiscal years.

The Public...copies of this budget document are made available to the media, libraries, civic groups, other public interest groups and to individual citizens. Extra copies of the document are on file for public inspection in the Office of the Chief Executive.

4. Legislative Review and Public Hearings

The Government...The government's legislative body meets to discuss and study the budget proposed by the Chief Executive Officer and his staff. Legislative committees may study specific parts of the budget document and make recommendations to the legislature as a whole.

The Public...the legislative body usually holds public hearings on the various parts of the proposed budget. Community groups and individuals now have the opportunity to formally express their opinions about the budget and can make sound requests and recommendations about any part or proposal.

5. Legislative Action...the full legislature votes on the budget after considering testimony at the public hearings and the recommendations of its committees. At this point the vote generally is whether to adopt the entire budget as presented by the executive, to change certain parts, add new provisions or to "cut out" some programs.

Small Governments (5,000 or less population)

The budgetary process for governments of this size is usually less formal and less complex. Generally, citizens living in these smaller communities are much closer to their government's day-to-day operations, having many informal discussions of community needs and governmental expenditures. Citizens have more opportunity for personal contact with their government officials and can easily discuss budgetary requests with them.

The budget is usually prepared, presented to the legislative body for review and approved at two or three meetings.

Amending the "Adopted Budget"

A local government's and even a state's budget can be amended during the fiscal year, and the process for amendment is very similar to the process of approving a budget. The legislative body votes on all amendments to the budget. Citizens may suggest amendments to the budget during the year.

The Budget Calendar

Most governments have a budget calendar which determines the beginning date of their fiscal year, the date for presenting the budget to the legislative body, the date by which the budget must be approved, the general scope of the budget, and the responsibility and authority for budget preparation and execution. The deadline dates of a government's budget calendar are set by state law, city charter, county resolution, ordinance, etc.
Annual Financial Report

Generally, governments publish an annual financial report which provides information about their financial condition, organization of the government, tabulations and other statistics. This report is usually filed after the close of the fiscal year and is available for public inspection in the Office of the Chief Executive.

Interested members of the public may find this report helpful in researching the spending trends of their government, determining what money is already "committed" for the coming year (salaries, pensions) and in establishing justification for budget requests.

An Organized Citizen Group and Public Hearings

The City Council of Phoenix, Arizona, conducted a public hearing on a staff-prepared list of projects to be funded by CRS money. Citizens urged Phoenix officials to place higher priorities on human needs and social services. Nearly 90% of the staff-proposed CRS budget was for one-time, nonrecurring expenses, with most of the emphasis placed on capital expenditures. Representatives of the Southwestern Indian Development had met with City officials soon after the general revenue sharing program passed Congress and asked that funds be included for Indian requests. The staff did not accept their original request, but included $50,000 for social services after the group renewed their request at the public hearing.

Citizen Reaction to Government's Spending Recommendation

Approximately $4 million in general revenue sharing money was received by New Castle County, Delaware, during the first year of the program. The majority of this money was planned for one-time expenditures (capital expenditures). The County Executive recommended that $485,000 be spent on "human and social needs." An organization called the "Human Resources Coalition" requested that more of the county's revenue sharing money be spent for social services. A compromise was reached and the county agreed to spend $705,000 for social services.

Examples of the Public Participating in the Local Decision Making Process for General Revenue Sharing

The county council set up a screening committee to distribute this money. The committee was composed of two representatives of the County Executive, two representatives of the county council, two representatives of the Human Resources Coalition and one representative of the United Fund.

The original $705,000 was increased by $50,000 in accumulated interest making the total $755,000. Of this amount, $255,000 was given to the Housing Authority, $15,000 for salary and expenses of the revenue sharing planner and the remaining $435,000 was divided among 18 other social service programs.

Citizen Requests at Public Hearings

Jefferson County, which encompasses the Birmingham, Alabama area, received over $4 million in general revenue sharing during the First Entitlement Period. The County Board of Commissioners immediately decided to convene public hearings to discuss how the money should be allocated. The commissioners advertised the time, place and nature of the hearings in several Birmingham newspapers. Social service groups were the main attendees of the hearings. Therefore, when the Commissioners decided how the funds would be spent, it was not surprising that over one third of the total allocation went for social services and social development programs. The county spent $1,247,500 to enlarge the home for the aged and the poor. Part of this money paid for hospital beds and other furnishings, and $47,500 was used to pay for a substantial part of the new quarters for the mental health center.
A Community Organization

The San Francisco Study Center reports that in the City of San Francisco, during November of 1972, just before the first general revenue sharing money was to be received, the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors held a joint public hearing to ascertain citizen views on how the money should be spent. In January, the Mayor’s office released a Preliminary Revenue Sharing Program followed by a series of three neighborhood hearings to get citizen reactions. Finally, in April, the Mayor released his revised Program and forwarded it to the Board for review and approval.

Response to some of the citizens’ requests included $250,000 for the Haight Ashbury neighborhood, to be used in whatever manner the residents might agree upon; $100,000 for a consumer fraud division within the District Attorney’s Office; and $100,000 for a child care services coordination program.

Of particular interest was the approval of $100,000 for recreation and park improvement in Visitacion Valley, a mixed ethnic and income neighborhood in southern San Francisco. During the summer of 1972, a group of residents active in the affairs of that neighborhood secured a grant from a local foundation to hire a professional community organizer to put together a democratic organization. They began moving on small issues of immediate interest to large numbers of residents in order to gain credibility, experience and wide participation. Within seven months they were able to hold a Community Congress (attended by over 300 people) to elect officers, adopt a Constitution and Platform, and select a name: The All Peoples’ Coalition.

One of the key issues concerned the inadequate recreation and park facilities and programs in the area. The All Peoples’ Coalition sought out concerned persons, organized them into committees, researched and decided upon desirable solutions, and began negotiating with the Recreation and Parks Department for implementation. The Department was clearly impressed by their display of being an informed, assertive organization, and when the Mayor’s Office required suggestions from the Department for possible revenue sharing projects, the All Peoples’ Coalition proposals were immediately included.

Citizens Advisory Committee

Concurrent with the passage of the general revenue sharing legislation, the city Board of Directors (City Council of Texarkana, Arkansas, population 21,000) began to re-examine the citizen participation process and management systems that were being used for community development planning. After careful examination and reflection, it was decided to enlist the support of the citizens in setting community goals through the vehicle of a citizens advisory committee.

On May 17, 1973, a general citizens meeting was held to explain the general revenue sharing process to the residents of Texarkana. As a result of the support shown at this meeting, a Citizen Advisory Committee for Revenue Sharing was appointed by the Directors on May 21, 1973.

The Committee, composed of 33 members, was selected through proportional representation from the City’s nine planning districts. This was done to insure the greatest possible representation from the city at large.

The City Board of Directors assembled this committee for the purpose of proposing five-year goals, determining priorities and formulating one-year objectives that could aid the City Council in allocating general revenue sharing funds.

The Advisory Committee also meets to receive applications and supporting testimony from city agencies, community groups, and private non-profit organizations desiring general revenue sharing money. From these applications and requests, projects are selected to be funded with general revenue sharing money. Among the community groups which have used the program to develop and display in the community; and $18,000 was given to the “Street Sign Program” of a local PTA to purchase street signs and develop crosswalks that will help to control the flow of traffic around schools.

Citizens’ Check List (Are You Informed?)

Since GRS money becomes a part of a local or state government’s regular budget, citizens’ opportunities to participate in the decision-making process concerning their government’s expenditures are increased if they understand their government’s entire budget and its use in determining local priorities. Listed below are check points which will help you to understand and to evaluate the impact of general revenue sharing money in your community.

It is important to note that most citizens are served by more than one level of government. For example, a person residing within a city might also receive services from county and state governments.
Amount Received

- How much GRS money has been received by your local and county governments?

- How much GRS money has been received by your state government?

Use of GRS Money

- What proposals did your government announce for the use of GRS money?

- Did you see your government’s Planned Use Report published in the newspaper?

- How has GRS money been spent?

- To what extent do GRS expenditures coincide with published proposed uses?

- How much GRS money was spent for capital improvements?

- How much GRS money was spent for current expenses (such as salaries, and supplies)?

- How much GRS money was spent for programs or projects in each of the permitted expenditure areas (public safety, environmental protection, public transportation, recreation, health, libraries, social services for the poor or aged, capital expenditures, and financial administration)?

Your Government’s Process for Setting Spending Priorities

- What departments, agencies and individuals are responsible for determining and coordinating the spending priority process in your government?

- Does your government’s charter require that public hearings be held before the budget is adopted?

- What is your government’s timetable for preparing and adopting its budget?

- Do departments normally consider community group requests prior to submitting their annual budget requests?

- Is public discussion and debate of spending priorities encouraged by your government?

- Does your government survey the community’s needs each year as part of its budget preparations?

The Community’s Involvement in Decision-Making

- Was there information and publicity about establishing spending priorities for use of GRS money?

- What community groups became involved in determining GRS expenditures?

- What was the community’s reaction to the Planned Use Reports?

The Act

This section outlines the uses of general revenue sharing money and the restrictions and prohibitions on its use.

Some Specifics of The General Revenue Sharing Program

Eligibility

All general governments as classified by the U. S. Census Bureau are eligible to receive GRS moneys. These governments include:

• 50 State Governments and the District of Columbia
• Cities, Counties, Towns, Villages, Boroughs and Townships
• Indian Tribes and Alaskan Native Villages
Amount of Money Each Unit of Government Receives

- Determined by formulas rather than applications.
- Formulas designed by the U.S. Congress which use data to measure a government's size (population), its need (per capita income), its effort to meet its need (taxes) and to determine the amount of GRS money to be received by a government.
- Population, income and tax data used in the formulas are surveyed, collected and compiled from your government by the Bureau of the Census for the Office of Revenue Sharing.

Distribution of GRS Money

Moneys are distributed during seven entitlement periods (pay periods). The entitlement periods, dates and amounts of money distributed nationally are:

1. January 1, 1972—June 30, 1972—$2,650,000,000
2. July 1, 1972—December 31, 1972—$2,650,000,000
4. July 1, 1973—June 30, 1974—$6,050,000,000
5. July 1, 1974—June 30, 1975—$6,200,000,000
6. July 1, 1975—June 30, 1976—$6,350,000,000
7. July 1, 1976—December 31, 1976—$5,325,000,000

The Use of General Revenue Sharing Money

General Revenue Sharing is financial assistance to meet local needs at the local level. Therefore, it is important that you know your community needs and how GRS money may be used for these needs.

State Governments (receive 1/3 of all GRS money)

May spend GRS money for anything that is legal under state law and does not violate the restrictions of the GRS legislation.

Local Governments (receive 2/3 of all GRS money)

Unlike state governments, local governments are required to spend GRS within broad categories of permissible expenditures.*

1. Any capital expenditures permitted by your state and local law. (See Supplementary Information section for examples of capital expenditures.)
2. Operating and Maintenance expenses for:
   - Environmental Protection (including sewage disposal; sanitization and pollution abatement; smoke regulation; inspection of water supply; sanitary engineering; street cleaning and waste collection; disposal or recycling activities and educational programs in such areas as water treatment and soil erosion)
   - Financial Administration (including expenses for accounting, auditing, budgeting, investing, tax collection, fiscal affairs, as distinguished from general administrative costs like the chief executive's salary, voter registration and legislative expenses)

*Debits created by bonds or loans may be repaid with GRS money if:
1. Only the principal is repaid from GRS (no GRS money may be used to pay interest on the debt);
2. The debt was incurred for a permitted expenditure;
3. The money raised for the debt was spent after January 1, 1972 and not in violation of the restrictions of the Act.

Health (including prevention, diagnosis, evaluation and treatment of medical and mental health conditions, physical rehabilitation services and educational programs in public health)

Libraries (including the operation of a bookmobile, purchasing of new books or development of specialized educational programs for the blind and handicapped, and the upgrading of the general book collection)

Public Safety (including law enforcement; fire protection and building code inspection; police academy; civil defense; inspection of buildings, plumbing, electrical facilities, gas lines, boilers and elevators)

Public Transportation (including highways; transit systems; streets; grade crossings; snow and ice removal and training public transportation drivers)

Recreation (including participation and spectator sports programs; art, music and dance exhibitions; arts and crafts and other cultural activities; museums and zoos; park and playground activities)

Social Services for the poor or aged (including food; clothing; shelter; day care; job training) (see Section on Supplementary Information for examples of social service expenditures.)

Secondary Recipients

Private organizations, nongovernmental agencies or other governmental units such as a fire district may request and receive GRS money from state and/or local governments if the government's financial laws permit such transfers of money.

Your government may decide to fund a secondary recipient with its GRS money. However, the GRS law does not require such expenditures.

Restrictions on the Use of General Revenue Sharing Money for Local and State Gov'ts

No Matching

Sec. 104
Reg. 51.30

No state or local government may use, directly or indirectly, any revenue sharing funds to obtain federal funds under any program which requires a government to make a contribution in order to receive the federal funds.

Nondiscrimination

Sec. 122
Reg. 51.32

Any program or activity funded by GRS money cannot exclude persons from participation in it, deny persons its benefits or subject them to discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex or national origin. (See Discriminatory Actions Prohibited in the Supplementary Information section)

State and Local Laws

Sec. 123 (a) (4)

Governments receiving GRS money must use it only in accordance with the same rules and procedures that regulate the expenditure of their government's own money.

Rules

Example. If state and local laws prohibit your government from using its own moneys to operate an ambulance service, it could not use revenue sharing funds to run an ambulance service even though such a project would fall into the priority category of "health."

Procedures

Example. If state and local law require public hearings for your government's proposed budget before its own moneys can be appropriated, then revenue sharing moneys also must be included in public hearings.
2 Year Limitation
Sec. 123 (a) (2)
Reg. 5133
Recipient governments must use, obligate or appropriate their revenue sharing funds within 24 months of the end of the entitlement period for which each check was issued.

Davis-Bacon Act
Sec. 123 (a) (6) and (7)
Reg. 5133
When a recipient government pays with GRS money, 25% or more of the total costs of any contracted or subcontracted construction project (costing over $2,000), the government must include in its contracts prevailing wage determinations for laborers and skilled workers and labor practices as established under the Davis-Bacon Act. This Act is administered by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Prevailing Rates of Pay

When a recipient government pays its own employees 25% or more of the total wages in any employment category with GRS money, then each of the workers in the category (such as firemen, police) receiving a portion of his or her wages in revenue sharing funds must be paid at least the prevailing rate of pay which persons receive who are employed in similar occupations by that government. All employees of the government who are not within an employment category (such as the fire chief, the police chief) and who receive any portion of their pay in revenue sharing funds must also be paid at least the prevailing rate.

Revenue Sharing Trust Fund
Sec. 123 (a) (1)
Reg. 5140 (a)
A government receiving GRS money must put it into a trust fund. This may be done by opening a separate bank account or by establishing a separate set of accounts on the government's books.

Auditing and Fiscal Procedures
Reg. 5140 (d)
The GRS regulations require a recipient government to maintain its fiscal accounts in such a manner as to:
• permit the preparation of Planned and Actual Use Reports required by the Secretary of the Treasury;
• document compliance with the matching funds prohibition;
• allow the tracing of GRS moneys to a level of expenditure that would indicate whether the funds were used in violation of the restrictions and prohibitions of the Act.

Additional Restrictions for Local Governments Only

Direct welfare payments are not permitted; however, payment for services to welfare recipients are allowable.

Operating expenses for general education are not permitted; however, capital expenditures for education such as construction of a school facility or the purchase of educational equipment are permissible.

Operating expenses for general government such as paying the chief executive's salary and voter registration are not permitted.

Supplementary Information

This section presents more detailed explanations about various aspects of the general revenue sharing program.

Filing A Complaint

Citizen Complaint

There are no forms and there are no formal procedures for submitting a complaint alleging a violation of the use of general revenue sharing money. If you believe that there has been a violation of the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972, provide the Office of Revenue Sharing with a written explanation detailing the nature of the alleged violation. Included with this explanation should be supporting documentation of the alleged misuse.

Complaints should be filed in writing and sent to:

Compliance Manager
Office of Revenue Sharing
U. S. Department of the Treasury
1900 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W.
Washington, D. C. 20226
Phone: (202) 634-5187

By including the following information in any written complaint you will be assisting the ORS:

• Name, address and phone number of person and/or organization filing the complaint (complainant).
• Names of other individuals having knowledge of alleged misuse of GRS money who may be contacted by ORS.
• Name of Chief Executive Officer of your government.
• Specific use of GRS money that is being or has been allegedly misused.
• The reason why complainant believes that GRS money is being misused.
• Newspaper clippings about use of GRS money, if available, and as much other supporting documentation as can be obtained.
• No complaint will be investigated concerning the allegation that GRS money could have been used better by your government, as long as the money was used in accordance with the restrictions on the use of the GRS money. This is a problem which should be dealt with at the local level.

ORS Action After Receipt of Complaint

1. Complaint will be acknowledged and examined.
2. If the examination of the complaint indicates a possible violation of the law, the ORS will:
   a. notify the Chief Executive of the receipt of the complaint;
   b. in the case of a local government, the Governor also will be notified;
c. conduct an investigation into the alleged violation, or;
d. refer the complaint to the federal agency which has legal jurisdiction.

3. The affected government will have the opportunity to respond to the complaint, and should possible evidence of noncompliance be gathered in the investigation, the government will be given every opportunity to comply voluntarily.

4. If the affected government does not comply voluntarily then ORS will begin formal legal action.

5. Upon conclusion of the legal action (a hearing has been held, proposed findings and conclusions have been submitted, the administrative law judge has issued an order and any appeals have been resolved), if any government is judged to be in violation of the law, it will be given 60 days to correct the situation in which the violation has occurred. For any government failing to take such corrective action, the Office of Revenue Sharing will:
   a. not only recover the illegally spent GRS money
   b. but will also withhold all future GRS money until the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that full compliance with the GRS law is achieved.

ORS Action After Receipt of Discrimination Allegation

Complaints alleging discrimination are handled in the same manner as other complaints. It is important that possible discriminatory actions or situations involving GRS money be reported as soon as possible, preferably before the money has been spent.

Please note:
1. If an ORS investigation results in possible evidence of discrimination, the ORS will notify the recipient government and the State Governor in an attempt to secure voluntary compliance.
2. If the affected government does not comply voluntarily, then ORS will begin formal legal action.
3. Upon conclusion of such legal action (a hearing has been held, proposed findings and conclusions have been submitted, an administrative law judge has issued an order and appeals have been resolved), if the government is judged to be in violation of the law and has not demonstrated in 60 days that it will comply, then ORS may:
   a. refer the case to the Attorney General of the U.S.
   b. issue an order in accordance with Title IV of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to withhold or to terminate or demand forfeiture of all of the government's GRS money.
   c. take any other legal action to achieve the government's compliance with the law.

Discriminatory Actions Prohibited

Sec. 122
Reg. 51.22

Insuring civil rights of persons (noncitizens as well as citizens) is emphasized in the general revenue sharing law. In this section, the civil rights regulations of the general revenue sharing law are outlined. The public's understanding of these regulations is important to community involvement in local government decision making and in the monitoring of the use of GRS money. Any aspect of a program or activity which receives an appropriation of GRS money may not directly or through contractual or other arrangements on the basis of race, color, national origin or sex:

1. deny any person a service or a benefit;
2. provide any service or benefit which is different from that provided to others;
3. subject a person to segregated treatment in any facility;
4. subject a person to segregated treatment in any matter related to receiving service or benefits;
5. deny any person an opportunity to participate as an employee;
6. treat an individual differently from others in determining admission, enrollment, eligibility, membership or other requirements that a person must meet to be provided any service or benefit;
7. use any methods of discriminatory program administration (such as promotion test, hindering access to information, etc.)
8. limit access to or use of any facility through site selection.

The revenue sharing regulations state that a recipient government may use GRS money in a specific geographic area or for a specific group of persons within its jurisdiction, if the purpose of the expenditure is to eliminate a prior imbalance in facilities or services which resulted from previous discriminatory actions.

Capital Expenditures for Local Governments

The general revenue sharing law lists "ordinary and necessary capital expenditures authorized by law" as permissible expenditures of GRS money (Section 103 (a) (2)). The Office of Revenue Sharing defines ordinary and necessary capital expenditures as those expenditures which result in the acquisition of, or the addition to, fixed assets.

Here are some examples; they are not meant to be all-inclusive:
1) The purchase of cars, trucks, fire trucks, tractors, library bookmobiles, grass-mowers, snowplows for trucks, sanders or highway maintenance equipment is permissible.
2) Expenditures for heating plants, restrooms, garages, cafeterias, libraries or any other type of building or improvement to a building has been allowed as have the cost of temporary repairs to already existing structures.
3) A capital expenditure may relate to any area of governmental activity, not just permitted categories listed in Section 103 (a) (1) (See Use of GRS money). For example, the cost of constructing or equipping a school building or library is permissible, even though the cost of operating and maintaining a school may not be paid with a local government's GRS money.
4) Various supplementary costs to capital improvements which include but are not limited to, attorney's fees for a title search, architect's fees, court costs incurred to acquire property or defend title to property and property surveys are permissible GRS expenditures.
5) Broad areas of capital outlay include acquisition of land; construction or renovation of buildings; improvement to existing facilities; and the purchase of machinery and equipment.

Remember, definitions of permissible capital expenditures are determined by your state and local law. Should state or local law define capital expenditure in a narrower or stricter way than the Office of Revenue Sharing does, the state and local law must be followed.

General Revenue Sharing/Money Used for Social Services for Poor or Aged

The Office of Revenue Sharing has established criteria to aid local governments in determining uses of their GRS money for social services for the poor or aged.
Here are some examples which will serve as illustrations. This list is not meant to be all-inclusive.

1) Administrative expenses incurred in the operation of programs for the poor or aged have been allowed as ordinary and necessary operating expenses. For example, the cost of administering a Food Stamp Program is considered an ordinary and necessary expense of providing social services to the poor. GRS money can also be used for administrative expenses incurred in programs for the poor or aged conducted by community organizations such as a neighborhood council.

2) The cost of operating a Community Action Program providing services for the poor or aged has been held to be a valid expenditure of GRS money.

3) The funding of an agency which administers a number of subagencies, only one of which provides social services, was ruled not to constitute a priority expenditure, since the GRS money would not be used exclusively on social services for the poor or aged. However, GRS money used to fund the subagency which provides social services for the poor or aged would be permitted.

4) Salaries of social workers, case workers, librarians working with the blind and handicapped, and others working in programs with the poor or aged may be paid from GRS money.

5) The operating expenses of neighborhood social centers, libraries and other neighborhood facilities which are of benefit to the poor or aged may be partially funded with general revenue sharing money to the extent that such funding reflects the use made of those facilities for the benefit of the poor or aged.

6) Direct welfare payments to the poor or aged are not permitted by the Act, but the payment of a portion of a poor tenant's rent is a permissible expenditure if the money goes to the landlord and not to the tenant.

7) General revenue sharing money may also be used to operate and maintain public housing.

8) A day care center and day care services may be funded through general revenue sharing. The local unit of government must determine eligibility for the use of a day care center, as families with working mothers may well exceed the Bureau of the Census definition of a low income family.

9) Nursing homes for the poor or homes for the aged may be funded with general revenue sharing money.

10) Local governments may contract with nongovernmental agencies (nonprofit organizations, community agencies) for numerous social services as long as such contractual arrangements with these agencies are legal under state or local law.

Other examples of social service uses on which general revenue sharing money may be expended include:

- Interest-free loans to aid welfare recipients in securing jobs
- Adult education programs which benefit the poor or aged
- Youth development programs which aid poor or disadvantaged young persons
- Youth employment programs which either directly hire poor or disadvantaged youths or assist them to secure jobs in the private sector
- Library activities which serve the aged, homebound, and handicapped citizen

As can be seen from these examples, any activity which can reasonably be classified a social service for the poor or aged may be funded with general revenue sharing.

Indian Tribes and Alaskan Native Villages

Many Indian tribes and Alaskan native villages qualify as units of local government eligible to receive general revenue sharing funds. The program takes into consideration the rather unique status and structure of such governments in the following ways:

1. A population ratio formula is used to compute the tribe's/Alaskan native government's amount of GRS money. Sec. 108 (b) (4) Example: If 1/3 of the county area is populated by eligible tribal/Alaskan native persons then 1/3 of the GRS funds allocated to the county area are paid to the tribal/Alaskan native government.

2. Only the Indian/Alaskan native population residing on land under the jurisdiction of the Indian/Alaskan native government is counted in this population figure.

3. GRS money received by tribal or Alaskan native governments must be expended for the benefit of tribal/Alaskan native persons living in each county area.

4. This section of the regulations (51.34) is not meant to exclude non-residents and non-Indian/non-Alaskan natives from any service or facility supported through revenue sharing funds. However, the tribal/Alaskan native persons residing on the lands must at least have a reasonable opportunity to derive benefits of the tribal/Alaskan native government's GRS money.

Example: An Indian/Alaskan native government uses GRS money to initiate a noon lunch program which provides a hot midday meal to the elderly persons of the tribe/Alaskan native village. All elderly tribal/Alaskan native persons and any elderly non-Indian/non-Alaskan natives (at the discretion of the tribal/Alaskan native governments) in any of the counties covered by jurisdiction of the Indian/Alaskan native government may participate in this program. The regulations merely require that tribal/Alaskan native persons be assured of the opportunity to participate.

Restrictions on Use of General Revenue Sharing Money by Secondary Recipients

Governments receiving shared revenues directly may transfer some or all of their GRS money to nonprofit organizations, private associations or other governmental units. These secondary recipients must comply with the following restrictions on the use of GRS money:

1. GRS money must be used only in accordance with the laws and procedures (including state and local law) that regulate the use and expenditure of a secondary recipient's money.

2. GRS money may not be used to "match" that is, to obtain other federal money.

3. GRS money cannot be used to cause, to initiate or have the effect of discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, or sex.

4. When 25% or more of GRS money is used to pay the total cost of a subcontracted or contracted construction project (costing $2,000 or more), then the Davis-Bacon Act wage determinations and labor standards must be followed.

5. In the case of local (not state) governments transferring GRS money to secondary recipients, secondary recipients must:
   a) use the GRS money in the permitted expenditure areas (see Uses of GRS Money in the Act section);
   b) not use GRS money for direct welfare payments;
   c) not use GRS money to pay operating expenses for general education.

There are no counties in Alaska. However, for the allocation and use of GRS money, the Bureau of the Census' enumeration districts are used.
Your government is not required by the general revenue sharing law to transfer its GRS money to secondary recipients, but the law does give it such an opportunity.

Your Governments' Responsibilities to the Federal Government

As your government reports to you the planned and actual uses of GRS moneys, it must also indicate to the federal government its agreement to comply with certain administrative requirements of the law. Knowledge of these requirements will facilitate the public's scrutiny of the use of general revenue sharing money.

Assurances

In order to participate in the general revenue sharing program, each government must assure the Secretary of the Treasury of its intention to comply with the following requirements which are found in the legislation:

It will—

Sec. 123 (a) (1) 1. establish trust fund and deposit all GRS money into it;
Sec. 123 (a) (2) 2. use, appropriate, or obligate GRS money within 24 months from the end of the entitlement period for which each check was issued;
Sec. 123 (a) (3) 3. use GRS money only for priority expenditures listed in Section 103 of the Act (local governments only);
Sec. 123 (a) (4) 4. expend GRS money only in accordance with the laws and procedures which apply to the use of the state and local government's own money;
Sec. 123 (a) (5) 5. keep records adequate to establish compliance with the restrictions and prohibitions of the program, provide access to these records for the purpose of reviewing compliance with the Act, and submit whatever reports which may be required by the Secretary of the Treasury;
Sec. 123 (a) (6) 6. comply with the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act when 25% or more of the costs of a contracted construction project are paid with GRS money;
Sec. 123 (a) (7) 7. pay prevailing wage rates to government employees (See Section on restrictions of GRS money);
Sec. 123 (a) (8) 8. in the case of an Indian tribe or Alaskan native government, spend GRS money for the benefit of the tribe or village members living in each county;
Sec. 122 9. not discriminate in any program or activity funded in whole or in part with GRS money on the basis of race, color, national origin or sex;
Sec. 104 10. not use GRS money to participate either directly or indirectly in any federal matching program.

These assurances are part of each Planned Use Report. The chief executive officer of your government has assured the Secretary of the Treasury of his or her intention to comply with the restrictions when he or she signs the Planned Use Report.

Certifications

Sec. 103 (b) and 104 (e)

The chief executive officer must certify that his or her jurisdiction has not used shared revenues either:

1) to obtain federal matching funds or
2) in a category of expenditures not covered by the broad categories of Section 103. These certifications are part of each Actual Use Report and become effective when the chief executive officer signs the report.

Such publication shall be made in one or more newspapers which are published within the State and have general circulation within the geographic area of the recipient government involved. In the case of a recipient government located in a metropolitan area which adjoins and extends beyond the boundary of the State, the recipient government may satisfy the requirement of this section by publishing its reports in a metropolitan newspaper of general circulation though such newspaper may be located in the adjoining State from the recipient government.

(b) Publicity. (2) Be located within a geographical subdivision of the State as certified to the Office of Revenue Sharing as a major disaster area by the Administrator of the Disaster Assistance Administration of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Further, each recipient government within the specific geographic area so designated will be notified pursuant to the data improvement program, provided for in § 51.29 of each of its data factors developed subsequent to the major disaster declaration and shall be required to verify through its chief executive officer, that the data was adversely affected by the major disaster. In addition, the Secretary may require that such verifications be accompanied by substantiating documentation evidencing a causal relationship between the major disaster and the less favorable revenue sharing allocation value of the subject data. The Secretary, upon being satisfied that all of the requirements of this section have been met with respect to any such disaster data factor, shall refrain from using the post-disaster data factor in the allocation process for a period of six months following the occurrence of such disaster. If a data factor more unfavorable than the pre-disaster data factor currently being used is developed, or if 60 months have expired from the designation by the President of the specific major disaster area.

§ 51.21 Data affected by major disaster.

(a) In general. Any change in data for any recipient government for any entitlement period caused by a major disaster declared by the President shall not be reflected in the data for such entitlement period.

revenues used for financing education in a manner consistent with the following provisions:

(1) Where a unit of local government finances education from a specific fund and lists tax revenues to the fund or levies a separate tax for purposes of education, such amounts as determined will constitute the tax revenues for education.

(2) If tax revenues for purposes of education are not separately identifiable because education is financed by expenditure or transferring of money from a general fund or similarly named funds to a school fund or funds, the ratio of tax revenues (as defined in paragraph (a) of this section) to the total revenues in such fund shall be calculated, and that ratio multiplied by the expenditure or transfer of money from such fund to the school fund shall be equated with the tax revenues properly allocable to expenses for education. The phrase "total revenues in such fund" means each and every security or fund or similar fund at the beginning of the fiscal year, plus all revenues to the fund (other than trust or agency revenues) less cash and securities on hand at the end of the fiscal year. Trust and agency funds are those held specifically for individuals or governments for which no discretion can be exercised as to the amounts to be paid to the recipient.

(3) If any instance where neither paragraph (b) (1) nor (2) of this section permits determination of school taxes, then by procedures otherwise required, the Secretary shall be utilized to ascertain allocated taxes.

(4) Validity of draft tax data. Allocations of funds under section 105.15 shall be in accordance with definitions established by the Bureau. No unit of government shall report to the Department of Revenue or the Bureau of the Census in a manner that attempts to frustrate the intent of this section.

(a) In a general purpose to the provisions of § 51.30 (a) and (b) (3), the determination of the allocation for the entitlement period are to be calculated shall be made not later than the day immediately preceding the entitlement period. Any change in the computation of local tax effort to credit certain county sales taxes to units of local government pursuant to section 109(e) (2) of the Act (the "Memphis Rule") will be considered to be a change in a data definition and will not be given effect for any entitlement periods for which there are final data definitions. The final date upon which determinations of allocations and entitlements, including adjustments thereto, may be made for an entitlement period shall be determined by the Secretary as soon as practicable and shall be published by notice to the Personal Secretary.

(b) Time limitation and minimum adjustment. If prior to the date determined by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary by factual evidence and documentation that the data used in the computation of an allocation is erroneous an adjustment will be made. No adjustment of any kind which is less than $200 shall be made to an entitlement if to the judgment of the Secretary such adjustment will be burdensome, expensive, or otherwise impracticable.

(c) Adjusted taxes and intergovernmental transfers. The dates for determining the amount of adjusted taxes and intergovernmental transfers of a unit of local government will be the fiscal year of such unit ending during the 12 months prior to July 1, 1971. If a more recent period is used, it shall be such fiscal period that can be uniformly assembled for all units of government prior to the beginning of the affected entitlement period.

(d) Boundary changes, governmental reorganizations, or changes in State statutes or constitution.

(i) In this section, "boundary changes, governmental reorganizations, or changes in State statutes or constitution" shall be determined by the Census and shall be in accordance with definitions established by the Bureau. The final date upon which determinations of allocations and entitlements, including adjustments thereto, may be made for an entitlement period shall be determined by the Secretary as soon as practicable and shall be published by notice to the Personal Secretary.

§ 51.25 Waiver of entitlement.

(a) Waiver. Any unit of local government may waive its entitlement for any entitlement period: Provided, The chief executive officer with the consent of the governing body of such unit notifies the Secretary that the entitlement payments for a past, current, or next beginning entitlement period, or any combination thereof, are being waived. A waiver of entitlement for the next beginning entitlement period will only be given if the waiver is received during the 6-month period immediately preceding that entitlement period. In the event that an entitlement payment is returned or notice of a waiver is executed which is not in accordance with this procedure, the chief executive officer will be notified by the Secretary and, unless the attempted waiver is rescinded within 30 days of such notice, is shall be given effect. However, no in event will a notice of waiver be given effect for an entitlement period which is subsequent to the next beginning entitlement period. The entitlement waivered and adjustments thereafter, if any, resulting from recalculations of earlier entitlements, shall be added to and become a part of the entitlement of the next highest unit of government eligible to receive entitlement funds in that State in which the governmental reorganization, dissolution, annexation, or change in State statutes or constitution occurred. However, if the waiver is rescinded within 30 days of such notice, the waiver shall be given effect. However, no in event will a notice of waiver be given effect for an entitlement period which is subsequent to the next beginning entitlement period. The entitlement waivered and adjustments thereafter, if any, resulting from recalculations of earlier entitlements, shall be added to and become a part of the entitlement of the next highest unit of government eligible to receive entitlement funds in that State in which the governmental reorganization, dissolution, annexation, or change in State statutes or constitution occurred. However, if the waiver is rescinded within 30 days of such notice, the waiver shall be given effect. However, no in event will a notice of waiver be given effect for an entitlement period which is subsequent to the next beginning entitlement period. The entitlement waivered and adjustments thereafter, if any, resulting from recalculations of earlier entitlements, shall be added to and become a part of the entitlement of the next highest unit of government eligible to receive entitlement funds in that State in which the governmental reorganization, dissolution, annexation, or change in State statutes or constitution occurred. However, if the waiver is rescinded within 30 days of such notice, the waiver shall be given effect. However, no in event will a notice of waiver be given effect for an entitlement period which is subsequent to the next beginning entitlement period. The entitlement waivered and adjustments thereafter, if any, resulting from recalculations of earlier entitlements, shall be added to and become a part of the entitlement of the next highest unit of government eligible to receive entitlement funds in that State in which the governmental reorganization, dissolution, annexation, or change in State statutes or constitution occurred. However, if the waiver is rescinded within 30 days of such notice, the waiver shall be given effect.

(b) Limitations on adjustment for reorganization or change in State statutes. (1) Announcements by units of local government having a population of less than 500 on April 1, 1979, shall not affect the entitlement of any unit of local government for an entitlement period unless the Secretary determines that adjustment pursuant to such announcements would be equitable and would not be unnecessarily burdensome, expensive, or otherwise impracticable.

(2) Announcements by units of local government having a population of more than 500 on April 1, 1979, shall not affect the entitlement of any unit of local government for an entitlement period unless the Secretary determines that adjustment pursuant to such announcements would be equitable and would not be unnecessarily burdensome, expensive, or otherwise impracticable.

(c) Constructive waiver. Any recipient government which has not waived and has not otherwise elected to receive entitlement payment and which has failed to provide required reports, assurances or other certifications pursuant to Subpart B is subject to a determination of having constructively waived its entitlement funds for the affected entitlement period through Inaction. The Secretary, prior to such a determination, shall notify nonreponsive recipient governments of their noncompliance and that their entitlement funds are being temporarily withheld pursuant to § 51.2(b). If compliance is not achieved within a reasonable period of time, which shall not be less than 30 days, the Secretary shall notify the affected recipient governments that if compliance is not achieved within a period of 30 days after mailing such notice, a constructive waiver of entitlement funds will be determined to have occurred. Entitlement funds thus constructively waived will be redistributed pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(b) Adjustment to entitlement payments. Adjustment to an entitlement of a recipient government will ordinarily be effected through alteration to entitlement payments unless there is a downward adjustment which is so substantial as to make payment alterations impracticable or impossible. In such case the Secretary may require the recipient government in excess of its entitlement to be immediately repaid to the Trust Fund of the Department of the Treasury.

§ 51.27 State must maintain transfer to local governments.

(a) General rule. The entitlement of any State government for any entitlement period beginning on or after July 1, 1971, shall be reduced by the amount, if any, by which—

(1) The average of the aggregate amounts transferred by the State government out of its own sources during such period (or during that State's fiscal year ending on or immediately prior to the end of such period) and the preceding entitlement period (or such fiscal year) to all units of local government (as defined in § 51.26(c)) in such State, is less than

(2) The similar aggregate amount for the 1-year period ending July 1, 1971 (or such State's fiscal year ending on or immediately prior to the end of such period).

For purposes of paragraph (a)(1) of this section, the amount of any reduction in the entitlement of a State government under this section for any entitlement period shall be that amount (if any) by which the aggregate entitlement transfers to local governments made by the State government during such period (or during that State's fiscal year ending on or immediately prior to the end of such period) and the preceding entitlement period (or such fiscal year) multiplied by its own source revenue in that period (or such fiscal year) divided by its total revenues in that period (or such fiscal year) exceeds that amount (if any) by which the aggregate entitlement transfers to local governments made by the State government during such period (or during that State's fiscal year ending on or immediately prior to the end of such period) and the preceding entitlement period (or such fiscal year) multiplied by its own source revenue in that period (or such fiscal year) divided by its total revenues in that period (or such fiscal year) is less than

(b) Adjustment for certain purposes are conferred upon local governments. If a State establishes the satisfaction of the Secretary that since June 30, 1973, one or more units of local government in that State have been made sufficient to the extent that increased State government spending (out of the State's own sources) for such purpose has replaced or equalized State payments to units of local government in a future entitlement period, the amount of such increase shall be included as an adjustment to the State's entitlement for the period in which such replacement occurs.

(c) Adjustment of payments. Adjustment of payments to units of local government from own sources and to generally monitor level of accordance with the maintenance provision of paragraph (a) of this section during future entitlement periods

(1) It shall be assumed that the ratio of a State's own source intergovernmental transfers to units of local government to that State's total intergovernmental transfers to units of local government is equal to the ratio of that State's own source revenues to its total revenues. Thus, for a State in which such formulas may be applied, its base year own-source intergovernmental transfers to units of local government shall be assumed to equal its total intergovernmental transfers to units of local government in the base year multiplied by its own source revenue in the base year divided by its total revenues in the base year.

(2) In a State in which the formulas are applied, the State's own source intergovernmental transfers to units of local government in a future entitlement period shall be assumed to equal its total intergovernmental transfers to units of local government in the base year multiplied by its own source revenue in the base year divided by its total revenues in the base year.

§ 51.28 Alternative procedure. If the Secretary determines that application of the formulas set forth in paragraph (b) of this section in a particular case provides an inaccurate or unfair measure of transfer effort, then any formula, procedure, or method deemed equitable by the Secretary, may be utilized to measure such transfer effort for the purpose of implementing the maintenance provision.

§ 51.29 Adjustment where State assumes responsibility for category of expenditure. If the State government establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary that since June 30, 1973, the State has assumed responsibility for a category of expenditure which (before July 1, 1973) was the responsibility of local governments located in such State, then the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (a)(1) of this section shall be reduced to the extent that increased State government spending (out of the State's own sources) for such purpose has replaced or equalized State payments to units of local government in the future entitlement period during which such replacement occurs.

§ 51.30 Adjustment where States assume responsibility for category of expenditure. If the State government establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the average amount taken into account under paragraph (a)(2) of this section shall be reduced to the extent that increased State government spending (out of the State's own sources) for such purpose has replaced or equalized State payments to units of local government in the future entitlement period during which such replacement occurs.
section under paragraph (a) (1) of this section that such new taxing authority is an increase in the subordinated rate of tax under a previously authorized kind of tax, unless the State is determined by the Secretary to have decreased a related State tax.

(4) Special rule for period beginning July 1, 1973. In the case of the entitlement period beginning July 1, 1973, the preceding entitlement period for purposes of paragraph (a) (1) of this section shall be treated as being the 1-year period beginning July 1, 1972, or that State's fiscal year which ended prior to June 30, 1972.

(4) Special rule for period beginning July 1, 1973. In the case of the entitlement period beginning July 1, 1973, and ending December 31, 1973, the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (a) (1) of this section for the preceding entitlement period and the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (a) (2) of this section shall be one-half of the amounts which that for this paragraph (3) would be taken into account.

(8) Report by Governor Pursuant to the authority of § 31.19 and in order to effect compliance with this section, the Governor of each State shall submit to the Secretary after the end of the State's fiscal year, on a form to be provided, the aggregate amounts transferred out of its own sources to units of local government for those entitlement periods or that State's fiscal years specified on the report:

(a) The State's own source funds.
(b) The State's total funds.
(c) The State's own source funds transferred to units of local government.
(d) The State's total transfers to units of local government.

§ 31.28 Reduction in entitlement. If the Secretary has reason to believe that paragraph (a) (1) of this section, or any part thereof, will result in a reduction in the entitlement to any State government for any category of tax increments that he shall give reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the State. If, thereafter, he determines that paragraph (4) of this section requires that such reduction in the entitlement, he shall also determine an amount of tax increments that such reduction shall be calculated on the basis of such reduction, and shall withhold from subsequent payments to such State government until such reduced amount is equal to such reduction.

§ 31.29 Adjustment of data. An amount equal to the reduction in the entitlement to any State government as a result of the application of this section shall be taken into account in the computation of the amount allocated to the Secretary for the purpose of the allotment to any unit of local government under the Act for any entitlement period which shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the amount of such reduction.

 §31.30 Adjustment of maximum and minimum per capita entitlement; 195 percent criterion.

(a) County area maximum and minimum per capita entitlement. In general. Pursuant to section 108 (b) (3) of the Act, the per capita amount allocated to any county area shall not be less than 25 percent, nor more than 145 percent, of the amount allocated to the State under section 106 of the Act, divided by the population of that State.

(b) County area maximum and minimum per capita entitlement. In general. Pursuant to section 108 (b) (4) of the Act, the per capita amount allocated to any county area shall not be less than 25 percent, nor more than 145 percent, of the amount allocated to the State under section 106 of the Act, divided by the population of that State.

Subpart D—Prohibition and Restrictions on Use of Funds

§ 31.40 Matching funds. (a) In general. Entitlement funds may not be used, directly or indirectly, as a contribution in order to obtain any Federal matching funds. The indirect use of entitlement funds to match Federal funds is defined to mean the allocation of entitlement funds to a nonmatching expenditure and thereby releasing or displacing local funds which are used for the purpose of matching Federal funds. This prohibition on use of entitlement funds as matching funds applies to Federal programs where Federal funds are required to be matched by non-Federal funds and to Federal programs which allow matching of either Federal or non-Federal funds.

(b) Certification required. Pursuant to § 31.12, the chief executive officer of each recipient government must certify to the Secretary that entitlement funds received by it have not been used in violation of this section.

(c) Increased State or local government revenues. No recipient government shall be determined to have used funds in violation of paragraph (a) of this section with respect to any funds received for any entitlement period (or during its fiscal year) to the extent that net revenues received by it from its own sources during such period exceed the net revenues received by it from its own sources during the 1-year period ending during the period or the 1-year period ending during the period in which the one-half of any such net revenues shall be measured.

(d) Preemptions of compliance. No recipient government shall be determined.

(3) The matching funds contribution in question is accounted for by an in-kind contribution which was not financed directly or indirectly with entitlement funds.

§ 51.40 Determination by Secretary of the Treasury.

(a) General. No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, national origin, or sex be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity funded in whole or in part with entitlement funds made available pursuant to subtitle A of title I of the Act.

No unit of local government may use entitlement funds for nonpriority expenditures which are defined as any expenditures other than those included in paragraph (a)(1) and (2) of this section. Pursuant to § 51.13, the chief executive officer of each unit of local government must certify to the Secretary that entitlement funds received by it have been used only for priority expenditures as required by the Act.

(b) Use of entitlement funds for debt retirement. The use of entitlement funds for the repayment of debt is a permissible expenditure provided that:

(1) Entitlement funds are not used to pay debt incurred because of the default of the recipient.

(2) The debt was originally incurred for a priority expenditure purpose as defined in this section.

(c) The actual expenditure from the proceeds of any debt retirement bonds, bonds, or other evidence of debt shall be subject to the restrictions of § 51.41.

(d) Effect of noncompliance. In the case of a unit of local government which uses an amount of entitlement funds for expenditures as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, it is not required that the Secretary (for deposit in the general fund of the recipient) take any action with respect to the amount of any amount expended in violation of any restrictions contained in paragraph (a) of this section, unless such amount of entitlement funds is properly expended to the fund to the local government after notice by the Secretary.

and opportunity for corrective action.

§ 51.42 Wage rates and labor standards.

(a) Construction laborers and mechanics. A recipient government which receives entitlement funds under the Act shall require that all laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or sub-contractors in the performance of work on any construction project costing in excess of $2,000.00 and of which 25 percent or more of the cost is paid out of its entitlement funds: (1) will be paid wages at rates not less than those prevailing on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act as amended (40 U.S.C. 276a-276a-3); and (2) will be covered by labor standards specified by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to 29 CFR Parts 1, 5, 6, and 7.

Where the hearing is stenographically reported by a regular employee of the Department of the Treasury, a copy thereof will be supplied to the respondent or his counsel at actual cost of duplication. Copies of exhibits introduced at the hearing or at the taking of depositions will be supplied to the parties upon the payment of a reasonable fee (3 U.S.C. 481(a)).

§ 51.97 Proposed findings and conclusions.
Except in cases where a respondent has failed to answer the complaint or has failed to appear at the hearing, or has waived the hearing, the administrative law judge, prior to making his initial decision, shall afford the parties the right to submit proposed findings and conclusions and supporting reasons therefor.

§ 51.98 Initial decision of the administrative law judge.
An initial decision shall be made by the administrative law judge, after the conclusion of a hearing and the receipt of any proposed findings and conclusions and supporting reasons therefor. The initial decision shall be delivered to the parties within 45 days after the expiration of the time limits set forth in the regulations of this Part for the submission of proposed findings and conclusions and supporting reasons. An initial decision shall be considered as final in the absence of a timely appeal by the parties. The administrative law judge shall issue an initial decision in writing. The initial decision shall include a statement of the findings of fact and the conclusions therefrom, as well as the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law or discretion presented on the record and shall provide for one of the following orders:

(a) An order that the respondent pay to the Secretary an amount equal to 100 percent of any amount determined by the administrative law judge to be improperly expended by the respondent in violation of § 51.41 relating to priority expenditures; or

(b) An order that the respondent pay to the Secretary an amount equal to the amount of entitlement funds deter-the Director of the Office of Revenue Sharing or his counsel will file with the Secretary his exceptions to the initial decision and his supporting reasons therefor. A copy of the exceptions shall be transmitted to the respondent or his counsel and, within 30 days after receipt thereof, may file a reply brief thereto with the Secretary and submit a copy to the Director of the Office of Revenue Sharing or his counsel. Upon the filing of a reply brief, if any, the Secretary will make the final agency decision on the record of the administrative law judge.

(c) Absence of appeal. In the absence of either exceptions by the respondent or a notice of appeal by the Director of the Office of Revenue Sharing within the time set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or a review initiated by the Secretary on his own motion within the time allowed to the Director of the Office of Revenue Sharing, the initial decision of the administrative law judge shall constitute the final decision of the Department.

§ 51.102 Decision of the Secretary.

On appeal from or review of the initial decision of the administrative law judge, the Secretary will make the final agency decision. In making his decision the Secretary will review the record or such portions thereof as may be cited by the parties to permit limiting of the issues. The Secretary may affirm, modify, or reverse the findings and initial decision of the administrative law judge. A copy of the Secretary's decision shall be transmitted immediately to the chief executive officer of the respondent or his counsel of record.

§ 51.103 Effect of order of repayment or withholding of funds.

In case the final order against the respondent is for repayment of funds to the United States, such amount as determined by the order shall be repaid upon request by the Secretary. To the extent that the respondent fails to do so, the Secretary may withhold the amount 30 days after receipt of the Secretary's order. The Secretary shall withhold either the amount of subsequent entitlement payments to the respondent or the amount not repaid. In case the final order against the respondent is for the withholding of an amount of subsequent entitlement payments, such amounts as ordered shall be withheld by the Director of the Office of Revenue Sharing after notice to the chief executive officer of the recipient government that it fails to take corrective action within 60 days after receipt of the notice, further entitlement payments will be withheld until the Secretary is satisfied that appropriate corrective action has been taken and there is full compliance with the Act and regulations of this part. In every case in which the respondent is a unit of local government, a copy of the final order and notice shall be submitted to the Governor of the State in which the respondent is located.

§ 51.104 Publicity of proceedings.

(a) In general. A proceeding conducted under this subpart shall be open to the public and to elements of the news media provided that, in the judgment of the administrative law judge, the presence of the media does not detract from the decorum and dignity of the proceeding.

(b) Availability of record. The record established in any proceeding conducted under this subpart shall be made available to inspection by the public as provided for and in accordance with regulations of the Department of the Treasury pursuant to 31 CFR Part 1.

(c) Decision of the administrative law judge. The statement of findings and the initial decision of the administrative law judge in any proceeding, whether or not on appeal or review, shall be indexed, maintained by the Director of the Office of Revenue Sharing and made available for inspection by the public at the public documents room of the Department. If practicable, the statement of findings and the decision of the administrative law judge shall be published periodically by the Department and offered for sale through the Superintendent of Documents.

§ 51.105 Judicial review.

Actions taken under administrative procedures pursuant to this subpart shall be subject to judicial review pursuant to section 141 of Subtitle C of the Act. If a respondent desires to appeal a decision of the administrative law judge which has become final, or a final order of the Secretary for review of appeal, to the U.S. Court of Appeals, as provided by law, the Secretary, upon notice of intent to be heard concerning the appeal of the decision of the administrative law judge, shall be heard by a United States District Court for the District of Columbia or the United States Court of Appeals for the district in which the appeal is filed.

§ 1607.1 Statement of purpose.
(a) The guidelines in this part are based on the belief that properly validated and standardized employee selection procedures can significantly contribute to the implementation of nondiscriminatory personnel policies as required by title VII. It is also recognized that professionally developed tests, when used in conjunction with other bases of personnel assessment and complemented by sound programs of job design, may significantly aid in the development and maintenance of an efficient work force and, indeed, add to the utilization and development of human resources generally.
(b) An examination of charges of discrimination filed with the Commission and an evaluation of the results of the Commission’s compliance activities has revealed a decided increase in the number of allegations of violation of testing practices which, based on our experience, tend to have discriminatory effects. In many cases, persons have come to rely almost exclusively on tests as the basis for making the decision to hire, transfer, promote, grant membership, train, refer or retain, with the result that candidates are selected or rejected on the basis of a single test score. This is so used, minority candidates frequently experience disproportionate results in tests and the test scores are not scored, minority candidates frequently experience disproportionate results in tests and the test scores are not scored. Minority candidates frequently experience disproportionate results in tests and the test scores are not scored. It has become clear that many instances persons are using tests as the basis for employing decisions without sufficient evidence that they are valid predictors of employees job performance. Where tests are being used as the basis for employing decisions, it would appear that a determination of the relationship between test performance and job behavior is lacking. It is hereby declared that discrimination in the application of tests results must be recognized. A test lacking demonstrated validity, i.e., having no known significant relationship to job behavior and yielding lower scores for classes protected by title VII may result in the rejection of many who have necessary qualifications for successful work performance.
(c) The guidelines in this part are designed to serve as a workable set of standards for employers, unions and the Commission to utilize in determining whether their selection procedures comply with the standards outlined in the guidelines. The guidelines do not place an affirmative obligation upon employers, labor unions, and employers' associations to use tests. The guidelines are defined in the guidelines as those tests not to discriminate because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or any other basis prohibited by law. The phrase "test" is defined as any paper-and-pencil or performance measure used as a basis for any employment decision. The guidelines in this part apply, for example, to ability tests which are designed to measure eligibility for hire, transfer, promotion, membership, training, referral or retention. This definition includes, but is not restricted to, measures of general intelligence, mental ability, clerical aptitude, mechanical aptitude, clerical accuracy, speed of counting, speed of writing, writing skill, knowledge and proficiency; occupational and other interests; and attitudes, personality or temperament. The term "test" includes all formal, scored, quantified or standardized techniques of assessing job suitability including, in addition to the above, specific qualifying or devaluing personal history or background requirements, specific educational or work history requirements, scored interviews, biographical information blanks, interviewees' raising scales, scored application forms, etc.

1607.3 Discrimination defined.

The use of any test which adversely selects citizens, hiring, promotion, transfer or any other employment or membership opportunity of classes protected by title VII constitutes discrimination unless:

(a) the test has been validated and evidences a high degree of utility as hereinafter described, and
(b) the person giving or omitting the results upon the particular test can demonstrate that alternative suitable hiring, transfer or promotion procedures are unavailable for use.

§ 1607.4 Evidence of validity.

(a) Each person using tests to select from among candidates for a position or for membership shall have available for inspection evidence that the tests are being used in a manner which does not violate § 1607.3. Such evidence shall be examined for indications of possible discrimination, such as instances of higher rejection rates for minority candidates than nonminority candidates. Furthermore, where technologically feasible, a test should be validated for each minority group with which it is used;

(b) The term "technically feasible" as used in the preceding sentence means having available a sufficient number of materials and a sufficient number of human and mechanical resources for the performance of statistical and practical significance, the usual accepted method of test evaluation or performance criteria, etc. It is the responsibility of the person employing the test to demonstrate the technical feasibility to positively demonstrating the existence of evidence. In this regard, evidence of a test's validity should consist of an examination of the job requirements and the elements of work behavior which comprise or are relevant to the job and evidence that the test is predictive of or significantly correlated with the job requirements and the elements of work behavior which comprise or are relevant to the job;

(c) Evidence of a test's validity should consist of an examination of the job requirements and the elements of work behavior which comprise or are relevant to the job. This examination should include:

1) Job performance standards and competency specifications are so established that new employees are placed at a reasonably competent level of performance within a reasonable period of time and in a given major job category. Higher level employees are placed at a level that higher level employees or their peers may be expected to maintain. Evidence that higher level employees are placed at a level that higher level employees or their peers may be expected to maintain shall be considered significant. Such evidence is also necessary to demonstrate that candidates are being evaluated for a job at or near the entry level. This point is made to underscore the principle that, in order to determine whether an individual is a higher level job is in a relevant criterion, validating employment tests only when there is a high probability that persons employed will in fact attain that higher level job within a reasonable period of time.

2) Where a test is to be used in different units of a multiunit organization and no significant differences exist between units, job, and applicant populations, the tests are administered in the unit may not be validated. For the others, similarly, where the validation process requires the selection of data throughout a multiunit organization, evidence of validity specific to each unit may not be required. There may also be instances where evidence of validity is appropriately obtained from more than one company in the same industry. Such in this instance and the use of data collected throughout a multiunit organization, evidence of validity specific to each unit may not be required.

3) Where evidence of validity is available, such evidence of validity must be obtained for each test.

4) Where evidence of validity is obtained, such evidence of validity must be based on studies employing generally accepted procedures for determining criterion-related validity, such as those described in "Standards for Educational and Psychological Tests and Manuals" published for American Psychological Association, 1520 16th Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20036. Evidence of validity or construct validity, as defined in the U.S. validation, may also be used to indicate where criterion-related validity is not available. However, evidence of construct validity or construct validity should be accompanied by sufficient information from job analysis to demonstrate that the test is assessing the job-related content in the case of job-related content in the case of job-related content. Such evidence may be obtained, for example, by the job analysis. Evidence of construct validity or construct validity must be obtainable for well-developed tests that support the validity of the essential knowledge, skills or behaviors comprising the job in question. The types of evidence, skills or behaviors contained in a test should not include any factors which may be obtained in a brief orientation to the job.

5) Although appropriate validation strategies may be used to validate such empirical evidence, the following minimum standards, as applicable, should be met in the research approach and in the presentation of results which constitute evidence of validity:

1) Where a validity study is conducted in which tests are administered to applicants, with criterion data collected later, the sample of subjects must be representative of the normal or typical candidates group for the job or jobs in question.

2) The sample must be representative of the minority group currently included in the applicant population. If technically feasible to include minority employees in validation studies conducted in the company, the conduct of a validation study without the inclusion of any person in the subsequent obligation for validation when inclusion of minority candidates becomes technically feasible.

3) Tests must be administered and scored under controlled and standardized conditions, with proper safeguards to protect the security of test scores and to ensure that scores do not enter into any judgments of employee adequacy that are to be used as criterion measures. Copies of tests and test manuals, including instructions for administration, scoring, and interpretation of test results, that are privately developed and/or not available through normal commercial channels must be included as a part of the evidence.

4) The work behaviors or other criteria of evaluation which the test is intended to predict or measure must be fully described and submitted with test data and manuals, and the validity of the test must be demonstrated.

5) The relationship between the test and criteria should have practical significance. In general, the relationship must be demonstrated to be statistically significant.

6) The relationship between the test and the criteria should be sufficiently high as to have a probability of no more than 1 in 20 to have occurred by chance. However, the use of a single test in the selection device will be scrutinized closely when that test is valid only one component of a job performance.

7) In addition to statistical significance, the relationship between the test and the criteria should have practical significance. In general, the relationship should be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

8) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant.

9) The rating of applicants who are hired for or placed on the job, the highest the relationship needs to be in order to be practically useful. Conversely, a relatively low relationship may prove useful when proportionately few job vacancies are available.

10) The range of the applicability of the techniques should be reviewed, and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant.

11) The range of the relationship between the test and the criteria should be sufficiently high as to have a probability of no more than 1 in 20 to have occurred by chance. However, the use of a single test in the selection device will be scrutinized closely when that test is valid only one component of a job performance.

12) The relationship between the test and the criteria should have practical significance. In general, the relationship should be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

13) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant.

14) The range of the applicability of the techniques should be reviewed, and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

15) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

16) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

17) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

18) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

19) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.

20) In view of the possibility of bias inherent in subjective evaluations, supervisory rating techniques should be validated and the ratings should be closely examined for evidence that the raters have been trained properly or have been given adequate training. The evidence should be obtained, for example, for the test items, the test administration, the examiner, and the scoring. The relationship between the test and criteria must be demonstrated to be statistically significant. The magnitude of the relationship needed to be demonstrated will vary depending on the nature of the test.
and, the greater the relationship needs to be, in order to be practically useful. Conversely, a relatively low relationship will prove useful when the former risks are relatively high. § 1607.6 Presentation of validation evidence.

The presentation of the results of a validation study must include graphical and statistical representations of the relationship between the test and the criterion, permitting judgments of the utility of making predictions of future performance on the basis of present performance. The methods used in estimating the validity of the test are also provided. Average scores for all tests and criteria must be reported for all relevant subgroups, including minority and nonminority groups where differential validity is required. Whenever statistical adjustments are made in validity results for less than perfect reliability or for restrictions of score range in the test or the criterion, or both, the supporting evidence from the validation study must be presented in detail. Furthermore, for each test that is to be established or continued as an operational employee selection instrument, as a result of the validation, a minimum acceptable cutoff (passing) score on the test must be reported. It is expected that each operational cutoff must be reasonable and consistent with normal expectations of proficiency within the work force or group on which the study was conducted.

§ 1607.7 Use of other validity studies.

In cases where the validity of a test cannot be determined pursuant to § 1607.6 of this part 1607, evidence from studies conducted by other investigators as well as score values reported in manuals and other literature, may be acceptable when: (a) the studies are done by independent evaluators (i.e., have basically the same test elements); (b) the employers, unions, or other selection agencies which have used the test do not have a significant differential in their use of the test; and (c) the test results are consistent with other selection standards previously in force.

§ 1607.8 Employment agencies and employers.

(a) An employment service, including private employment agencies, private employment agencies, and the U.S. Employment Service, as defined in section 1015 (c), shall not make any applicant or other selection decisions on the basis of any test score obtained from any psychological test if such test is not validated in accordance with these regulations. The test shall only be given to those for whom the test is valid and which are comparable to (i.e., have basically the same test elements); and (b) there are no material differences in contextual variables or sample composition which are likely to significantly affect validity. Any person citing evidence from other validity studies as evidence of test validity for his own job must substantiate in detail. The employer or selection agency must demonstrate the absence of contextual or sample differences cited in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

§ 1607.9 Assumption of validity.

(a) Under no circumstances will the general reputation of a test, its author or its publisher, or casual reports of test utility be accepted in lieu of evidence of validity. Specifically ruled out are: assumptions of validity based on test name or descriptive labels; all forms of pre-employment literature; data bearing on the frequency of a test's usage; testimonial statements of sellers, users, or consultants; and other anecdotal or testimonial accounts of testing practices or the outcome of testing. (b) Although professional supervision of testing practices may help to prevent the above, no test-making may be considered as constituting satisfactory evidence of test validity.

§ 1607.10 Continued use of tests.

Under certain conditions, a person may be permitted to continue the use of a test which is not at the moment fully supported by the required evidence of validity. If, for example, determinants of criterion-related validity in a specific setting are not yet determined, the use of the test may continue. Certain other conditions also exist. (c) The person can continue to use a test score which is valid as defined in § 1607.9 (a) and (b); and (d) he has been given an invalidation procedure which is designed to produce, within a reasonable time, the additional data required. It is expected also that the person may be held to alter or suspend test cutoff scores so that more rigid standards are not required; (e) the identification of the criterion-related validity will be obtained.

§ 1607.11 Employment agencies and employers.

(a) An employment service, including private employment agencies, and the U.S. Employment Service, as defined in section 1015 (c), shall not make any applicant or other selection decision on the basis of any test score obtained from any psychological test if such test is not validated in accordance with these regulations. The test shall only be given to those for whom the test is valid and which are comparable to (i.e., have basically the same test elements); and (b) there are no material differences in contextual variables or sample composition which are likely to significantly affect validity. Any person citing evidence from other validity studies as evidence of test validity for his own job must substantiate in detail. The employer or selection agency must demonstrate the absence of contextual or sample differences cited in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

§ 1607.7 Assumption of validity.

(a) Under no circumstances will the general reputation of a test, its author or its publisher, or casual reports of test utility be accepted in lieu of evidence of validity. Specifically ruled out are: assumptions of validity based on test name or descriptive labels; all forms of pre-employment literature; data bearing on the frequency of a test's usage; testimonial statements of sellers, users, or consultants; and other anecdotal or testimonial accounts of testing practices or the outcome of testing. (b) Although professional supervision of testing practices may help to prevent the above, no test-making may be considered as constituting satisfactory evidence of test validity.

(a) An employment service, including private employment agencies, and the U.S. Employment Service, as defined in section 1015 (c), shall not make any applicant or other selection decision on the basis of any test score obtained from any psychological test if such test is not validated in accordance with these regulations. The test shall only be given to those for whom the test is valid and which are comparable to (i.e., have basically the same test elements); and (b) there are no material differences in contextual variables or sample composition which are likely to significantly affect validity. Specifically ruled out are: assumptions of validity based on test name or descriptive labels; all forms of pre-employment literature; data bearing on the frequency of a test's usage; testimonial statements of sellers, users, or consultants; and other anecdotal or testimonial accounts of testing practices or the outcome of testing. It is expected also that the person may be held to alter or suspend test cutoff scores so that more rigid standards are not required; (e) the identification of the criterion-related validity will be obtained.

§ 1607.11 Employment agencies and employers.

By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

TITLE I—FISCAL ASSISTANCE TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Subtitle A—Allocation and Payment of Funds

SEC. 101. SHORT TITLE.
This title may be cited as the “State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972.”

SEC. 102. PAYMENTS TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.
Except as otherwise provided in this title, the Secretary shall, for each entitlement period, pay out of the Trust Fund—
(1) each State government a total amount equal to the entitlement of such State government determined under section 107 for such period, and
(2) each unit of local government a total amount equal to the entitlement of such unit determined under section 108 for such period.

In the case of entitlement periods ending after the date of the enactment of this Act, such payments shall be made in installments, but not less often than once for each quarter, and, in the case of quarters ending after September 30, 1972, shall be paid not later than 5 days after the close of each quarter. Such payments for any entitlement period may be initially made on the basis of estimates. Proper adjustment shall be made in the amount of any payment to a State government or a unit of local government to the extent that the payments previously made to such government under this subtitle were in excess of or less than the amounts required to be paid.

SEC. 103. USE OF FUNDS BY LOCAL GOVERNMENTS FOR PRIORITY EXPENDITURES.
(a) IN GENERAL.—Funds received by units of local government under this subtitle may be used only for priority expenditures. For purposes of this title, the term “priority expenditures” means only—
(1) ordinary and necessary maintenance and operating expenses for—
(A) public safety (including law enforcement, fire protection, and building code enforcement),
(B) environmental protection (including sewage disposal, sanitation, and pollution abatement),
(C) public transportation (including transit systems and streets and roads),
(D) health,
(E) recreation,
(F) libraries,
(I) social services for the poor or aged, and
(H) financial administration; and
(b) ordinary and necessary capital expenditures authorized by law.

SEC. 104. CERTIFICATES BY LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.
The Secretary is authorized to accept a certification by the chief executive officer of a unit of local government that the unit of local government has used...
the funds received by it under this subtitle for an entitlement period only for priority expenditures, unless he determines that such certification is not sufficiently reliable to enable him to carry out his duties under this title.

SEC. 104. PROHIBITION ON USE AS MATCHING FUNDS BY STATE OR LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.

(a) In General.—No State government or unit of local government may use, directly or indirectly, any part of the funds it receives under this subtitle as a contribution for the purpose of obtaining Federal funds under any law of the United States which requires such government to make a contribution in order to receive Federal funds.

(b) Determinations by Secretary of the Treasury.—If the Secretary has reason to believe that a State government or unit of local government has used funds received under this subtitle in violation of subsection (a), he shall give reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to such government. If, thereafter, the Secretary of the Treasury determines that such government has used funds in violation of subsection (a), he shall notify such government of his determination and shall request repayment to the United States of an amount equal to the funds so used. To the extent that such government fails to repay such amount, the Secretary shall withhold from subsequent payments to such government under this subtitle an amount equal to the funds so used.

(c) Increased State or Local Government Revenues.—No State government or unit of local government shall be determined to have used funds in violation of subsection (a) with respect to any funds received for any entitlement period to the extent that the net revenues received by it from its own sources during such period exceed the net revenues received by it from its own sources during the one-year period beginning July 1, 1971 (or one-half of such net revenues, in the case of an entitlement period of 6 months).

(d) Deposits and Transfers to General Fund.—Any amount repaid by a State government or unit of local government under subsection (b) shall be deposited in the general fund of the Treasury. An amount equal to the reduction in payments to any State government or unit of local government which results from the application of this section (after any judicial review under section 143) shall be transferred from the Trust Fund to the general fund of the Treasury on the day on which such reduction becomes final.

(e) Certificates by State and Local Governments.—The Secretary is authorized to accept a certification by the Governor of a State or the chief executive officer of a unit of local government that the State government or unit of local government has not used any funds received by it under this subtitle for an entitlement period in violation of subsection (a) unless he determines that such certification is not sufficiently reliable to enable him to carry out his duties under this title.

SEC. 105. CREATION OF TRUST FUND; APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) Trust Fund.—

(1) In General.—There is hereby established on the books of the Treasury of the United States a trust fund to be known as the "State and Local Government Fiscal Assistance Trust Fund" (referred to in this subtitle as the "Trust Fund"). The Trust Fund shall remain available without fiscal year limitation and shall consist of such amounts as may be appropriated to it and deposited in it as provided in subsection (b). Except as provided in this title, amounts in the Trust Fund may be used only for the payments to State and local governments provided by this subtitle.

(2) Treasurer.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall be the trustee of the Trust Fund and shall report to the Congress not later than March 1 of each year on the operation and status of the Trust Fund during the preceding fiscal year.

(b) Appropriations.—

(1) In General.—There is appropriated to the Trust Fund, out of amounts in the general fund of the Treasury attributable to the collections of the Federal individual income tax not otherwise appropriated:

(A) for the period beginning January 1, 1972, and ending June 30, 1972, $2,650,000,000;

(B) for the period beginning July 1, 1972, and ending December 31, 1972, $2,650,000,000;

(C) for the period beginning January 1, 1973, and ending June 30, 1973, $2,987,500,000;

(D) for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1973, $6,050,000,000;

(E) for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1974, $6,200,000,000;

(F) for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1975, $6,350,000,000; and

(G) for the period beginning July 1, 1976, and ending December 31, 1976, $3,325,000,000.

(2) Noncontiguous States Adjustment Amounts.—There is appropriated to the Trust Fund, out of amounts in the general fund of the Treasury attributable to the collections of the Federal individual income tax not otherwise appropriated:

(A) for the period beginning January 1, 1972, and ending June 30, 1972, $2,390,000;

(B) for the period beginning July 1, 1972, and ending December 31, 1972, $2,390,000;

(C) for the period beginning January 1, 1973, and ending June 30, 1973, $2,390,000;

(D) for each of the fiscal years beginning July 1, 1973, July 1, 1974 and July 1, 1975, $4,780,000; and

(E) for the period beginning July 1, 1976, and ending December 31, 1976, $2,390,000.

(3) Deposits.—Amounts appropriated by paragraph (1) or (2) for any fiscal year or other period shall be deposited in the Trust Fund on the later of (A) the first day of such year or period, or (B) the day after the date of enactment of this Act.

(c) Transfers From Trust Fund to General Fund.—The Secretary shall from time to time transfer from the Trust Fund to the general fund of the Treasury any moneys in the Trust Fund which he determines will not be needed to make payments to State governments and units of local government under this subtitle.

SEC. 106. ALLOCATION AMONG STATES.

(a) In General.—There shall be allocated to each State for each entitlement period, out of amounts appropriated under section 105(b) for that entitlement period, an amount which bears the same ratio to the amount appropriated under that section for that period as the amount allocable to that State under subsection (b) bears to the sum of the amounts allocable to all States under subsection (b).

(b) Determination of Allocable Amount.—
86 Stat. 922

Pub. Law 92-512  October 20, 1972

(1) In General.—For purposes of subsection (a), the amount allocable to a State under this subsection for any entitlement period shall be determined under paragraph (2), except that such amount shall be determined under paragraph (3) if the amount allocable to it under paragraph (2) is greater than the sum of the amounts allocable to it under paragraphs (2) and subsection (c).

(2) Three Factor Formula.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the amount allocable to a State under this paragraph for any entitlement period is the amount which bears the same ratio to $3,000,000,000 as—

(A) the population of that State, multiplied by the general tax effort factor of that State, multiplied by the relative income factor of that State, bears to

(B) the sum of the products determined under subparagraph (A) for all States.

(3) Five Factor Formula.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the amount allocable to a State under this paragraph for any entitlement period is the amount to which that State would be entitled if—

(A) 1/4 of $3,000,000,000 were allocated among the States on the basis of population,

(B) 1/4 of $8,000,000,000 were allocated among the States on the basis of an urbanized population,

(C) 1/5 of $8,000,000,000 were allocated among the States on the basis of population inversely weighted for per capita income,

(D) 1/5 of $1,800,000,000 were allocated among the States on the basis of income tax collections, and

(E) 1/5 of $1,800,000,000 were allocated among the States on the basis of general tax effort.

(c) Noncontiguous States Adjustment.—

(1) In General.—In addition to amounts allocated among the States under subsection (a), there shall be allocated for each entitlement period, out of amounts appropriated under section 105(b)(2), an additional amount to any State whose allocation under subsection (b) is determined by the formula set forth in paragraph (2) of that subsection and (B) in which civilian employees of the United States Government receive an allowance under section 5941 of title 5, United States Code.

(2) Determination of Amount.—The additional amount allocable to any State under this subsection for any entitlement period is an amount equal to a percentage of the amount allocable to that State under subsection (b)(2) for that period which is the same as the percentage of basic pay received by such employees stationed in that State as an allowance under such section 5941. If the total amount appropriated under section 105(b)(3) for any entitlement period is not sufficient to pay in full the additional amounts allocable under this subsection for that period, the Secretary shall reduce proportionately the amounts so allocable.

SEC. 107. ENTITLEMENTS OF STATE GOVERNMENTS.

(a) Division Between State and Local Governments.—The State government shall be entitled to receive one-third of the amount allocated to that State for each entitlement period. The remaining portion of each State’s allocation shall be allocated among the units of local government of that State as provided in section 108.

(b) State Must Maintain Transfers to Local Governments.—
October 20, 1972

(1) General Rule.—The entitlement of any State government for any entitlement period beginning on or after July 1, 1973, shall be reduced by the amount (if any) by which—
(A) the average of the aggregate amounts transferred by the State government (out of its own sources) during such period and the preceding entitlement period to all units of local government in such State, is less than,
(B) the similar aggregate amount for the one-year period beginning July 1, 1971.

For purposes of subparagraph (A), the amount of any reduction in the entitlement of a State government under this subsection for any entitlement period shall, for subsequent entitlement periods, be treated as an amount transferred by the State government (out of its own sources) during such period to units of local government in such State.

(2) Adjustment Where State Assumes Responsibility for Category of Expenditures.—If the State government establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary that since June 30, 1972, it has assumed responsibility for a category of expenditures which (before July 1, 1972) was the responsibility of local governments located in such State, then, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (1)(B) shall be reduced to the extent that increased State government spending (out of its own sources) for such category has replaced corresponding amounts which for the one-year period beginning July 1, 1971, it transferred to units of local government.

(3) Adjustment Where New Taxing Powers Are Conferr

(4) Special Rule for Period Beginning July 1, 1974.—In the case of the entitlement period beginning July 1, 1974, the preceding entitlement period for purposes of paragraph (1)(A) shall be treated as being the one-year period beginning July 1, 1972.

(5) Special Rule for Period Beginning July 1, 1976.—In the case of the entitlement period beginning July 1, 1976, and ending December 31, 1976, the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (1)(A) for the preceding entitlement period and the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (1)(B) shall be one-half of the amounts which (but for this paragraph) would be taken into account.
SEC. 107. ALLOCATION AMONG COUNTY AREAS.-The amount to be allocated to the units of local government within a State for any entitlement period shall be allocated among the county areas located in that State so that each county area will receive an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount to be allocated to the units of local government within that State as-

(1) the population of that county area, multiplied by the general tax effort factor of that county area, multiplied by the relative income factor of that county area, bears to

(2) the sum of the products determined under paragraph (1) for all county areas within that State.

SEC. 108. ENTITLEMENTS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.

(a) ALLOCATION AMONG COUNTY AREAS.-The county government shall be allocated that portion of the amount allocated to the county area for the entitlement period under subsection (a) which bears the same ratio to such amount as the adjusted taxes of the county government bear to the adjusted taxes of the county government and all other units of local government located in the county area.

(2) OTHER UNITS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT.—The amount remaining for allocation within a county area after the application of paragraph (1) shall be allocated among the units of local government (other than the county government and other than township governments) located in that county area so that each unit of local government will receive an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount to be allocated to all such units as—

(A) the population of that local government, multiplied by the general tax effort factor of that local government, multiplied by the relative income factor of that local government, bears to

(B) the sum of the products determined under subparagraph (A) for all such units.

(b) TOWNSHIP GOVERNMENTS.—If the county area includes one or more township governments, then before applying paragraph (2)—

(A) there shall be set aside for allocation under subparagraph (B) to such township governments that portion of the amount allocated to the county area for the entitlement period which bears the same ratio to such amount as the sum of the adjusted taxes of all such township governments bears to the aggregate adjusted taxes of the county government, such township governments, and all other units of local government located in the county area, and (B) that portion of each amount set aside under subparagraph (A) shall be allocated to each township government on the same basis as amounts are allocated to units of local government under paragraph (3).

If this paragraph applies with respect to any county area for any entitlement period, the remaining portion allocated under paragraph (2) to the units of local government located in the county area (other than the county government and the township governments) shall be appropriately reduced to reflect the amounts set aside under subparagraph (A).

(4) INDIAN TRIBES AND ALASKAN NATIVE VILLAGES.—If within a county area there is an Indian tribe or Alaskan native village which has a recognized governing body which performs substantial governmental functions, then before applying paragraph (1) there shall be allocated to such tribe or village a portion of the amount allocated to the county area for the entitlement period which bears the same ratio to such amount as the population of that tribe or village within that county area bears to the population of that county area. If this paragraph applies with respect to any county area for any entitlement period, the amount to be allocated under paragraph (1) shall be appropriately reduced to reflect the amount allocated under the preceding sentence. If the entitlement of any such tribe or village is waived for any entitlement period by the governing body of that tribe or village, then the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply with respect to the amount of such entitlement for such period.

(5) RULE FOR SMALL UNITS OF GOVERNMENT.—If the Secretary determines that in any county area the data available for any entitlement period are not adequate for the application of the formulas set forth in paragraphs (2) and (3)(B) with respect to units of local government (other than a county government) with a population below a number (not more than 500) prescribed for that county area by the Secretary, he may apply paragraph (2) or (3)(B) by allocating for such entitlement period to each such unit located in that county area an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount to be allocated under paragraph (2) or (3)(B) for such entitlement period as the population of such unit bears to the population of all units of local government in that county area to which allocations are made under such paragraph. If the preceding sentence applies with respect to any county area, the total amount to be allocated under paragraph (2) or (3)(B) to other units of local government in that county area for the entitlement period shall be appropriately reduced to reflect the amounts allocated under the preceding sentence.

(6) ENTITLEMENT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, the entitlement of any unit of local government for any entitlement period shall be the amount allocated to such unit under this subsection (after taking into account any applicable modification under subsection (c))

(B) MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM PER CAPITA ENTITLEMENT.—Subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (C) and (D), the per-capita amount allocated to any county area or any unit of local government (other than a county government) within a
State under this section for any entitlement period shall not be less than 20 percent, nor more than 145 percent, of two-thirds of the amount allocated to the State under section 106, divided by the population of that State.

(C) LIMITATION.—The amount allocated to any unit of local government under this section for any entitlement period shall not exceed 50 percent of the sum of (i) such government’s adjusted taxes, and (ii) the intergovernmental transfers of revenue to such government (other than transfers to such government under this subtitile).

(D) ENTITLEMENT LESS THAN $200, OR GOVERNING BODY WAIVES ENTITLEMENT.—If (but for this subparagraph) the entitlement of any unit of local government below the level of the county government—

(i) would be less than $200 for any entitlement period ($100 for an entitlement period of 6 months), or

(ii) is waived for any entitlement period by the governing body of such unit, then the amount of such entitlement for such period shall (in lieu of being paid to such unit) be added to, and shall become a part of, the entitlement for such period of the county government of the county area in which such unit is located.

(7) ADJUSTMENT OF ENTITLEMENT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In adjusting the allocation of any county area or unit of local government, the Secretary shall make any adjustment required under paragraph (6) (B) first, any adjustment required under paragraph (6) (C) next, and any adjustment required under paragraph (6) (D) last.

(B) ADJUSTMENT FOR APPLICATION OF MAXIMUM OR MINIMUM PER CAPITA ENTITLEMENT.—The Secretary shall adjust the allocations made under this section to county areas or to units of local governments in any State in order to bring those allocations into compliance with the provisions of paragraph (6) (B). In making such adjustments he shall make any necessary adjustments with respect to county areas before making any necessary adjustments with respect to units of local government.

(C) ADJUSTMENT FOR APPLICATION OF LIMITATION.—In any case in which the amount allocated to a unit of local government is reduced under paragraph (6) (C) by the Secretary, the amount of that reduction—

(i) in the case of a unit of local government (other than a county government), shall be added to and increase the allocation of the county government of the county area in which it is located, unless (on account of the application of paragraph (6) (C) that county government may not receive it, in which case the amount of the reduction shall be added to and increase the entitlement of the State government of the State in which that unit of local government is located; and

(ii) in the case of a county government, shall be added to and increase the entitlement of the State government of the State in which it is located.

(e) SPECIAL ALLOCATION RULES.—

(1) OPTIONAL FORMULA.—A State may by law provide for the allocation of funds among county areas, or among units of local government (other than county governments), on the basis of the population multiplied by the general tax effort factors of such areas or units of local government, on the basis of the population...
multiplied by the relative income factors of such areas or units of local government, or on the basis of a combination of those two factors. Any State which provides by law for such a variation in the allocation formula provided by subsection (a), or by paragraphs (2) and (3) of subsection (b), shall notify the Secretary of such law not later than 30 days before the beginning of the first entitlement period to which such law is to apply. Any such law shall—

(A) provide for allocating 100 percent of the aggregate amount to be allocated under subsection (a), or under paragraphs (2) and (3) of subsection (b); and

(B) apply uniformly throughout the State; and

(C) apply during the period beginning on the first day of the first entitlement period to which it applies and ending on December 31, 1976.

(2) Certification.—Paragraph (1) shall apply within a State only if the Secretary certifies that the State law complies with the requirements of such paragraph. The Secretary shall not certify any such law with respect to which he receives notification later than 30 days prior to the first entitlement period during which it is to apply.

(d) Governmental Definitions and Related Rules.—For purposes of this title—

(1) Units of Local Government.—The term "unit of local government" means the government of a county, municipality, township, or other unit of government below the State which is a unit of general government (determined on the basis of the same principles as are used by the Bureau of the Census for general statistical purposes). Such term also means, except for purposes of paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (5), (6)(C), and (6)(D) of subsection (b), and, except for purposes of subsection (e), the recognized governing body of an Indian tribe or Alaskan native village which performs substantial governmental functions.

(2) Certain Areas Treated as Counties.—In any State in which any unit of local government (other than a county government) constitutes the next level of government below the State government level, then, except as provided in the next sentence, the geographic area of such unit of government shall be treated as a county area (and such unit of government shall be treated as a county government) with respect to that portion of the State's geographic area. In any State in which any county area is not governed by a county government but contains two or more units of local government, such units shall not be treated as county governments and the geographic areas of such units shall not be treated as county areas.

(3) Townships.—The term "township" includes equivalent subdivisions of government having different designations (such as "town"), and shall be determined on the basis of the same principles as are used by the Bureau of the Census for general statistical purposes.

(4) Units of Local Government Located in Larger Entity.—A unit of local government shall be treated as located in a larger entity if part or all of its geographic area is located in the larger entity.

(5) Only Part of Unit Located in Larger Entity.—If only part of a unit of local government is located in a larger entity, such part shall be treated for allocation purposes as a separate unit of local government, and all computations shall, except as otherwise provided in regulations, be made on the basis of the ratio which the estimated population of such part bears to the population of the entirety of such unit.

(6) Boundary changes, governmental reorganization, etc.—
If, by reason of boundary line changes, by reason of State statutory or constitutional changes, by reason of annexations or other governmental reorganizations, or by reason of other circumcstances, the application of any provision of this section to units of local government does not carry out the purposes of this subtitle, the application of such provision shall be made, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, in a manner which is consistent with such purposes.

SEC. 109. DEFINITIONS AND SPECIAL RULES FOR APPLICATION

(including data based on estimates) as may be provided for in regulations.

(b) Income tax amount of States.—For purposes of this subtitle—

(1) In general.—The income tax amount of any State for any entitlement period is the income tax amount of such State as deter-

GENERAL TAX EFFORT OF STATES.—

(1) In general.—For purposes of this subtitle—

(A) GENERAL TAX EFFORT FACTOR.—The general tax effort factor of any State for any entitlement period is (i) the net amount collected from the State and local taxes of such State during the most recent reporting year, divided by (ii) the aggregate personal income (as defined in paragraph (4) of subsection (a)) attributed to such State for the same period.

(i) the net amount collected from the State and local taxes of such State during the most recent reporting year by

(ii) the general tax effort factor of that State.

(2) STATE AND LOCAL TAXES.—

(A) TAXES TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT.—The State and local taxes taken into account under paragraph (1) are the compulsory contributions exacted by the State (or by any unit of local government or other political subdivision of the State) for public purposes (other than employee and employer assessments and contributions to finance retirement and social insurance systems, and other than special assessments for capital outlay), as such contributions are determined by the Bureau of the Census for general statistical purposes.

(B) MOST RECENT REPORTING YEAR.—The most recent reporting year with respect to any entitlement period consists of the years taken into account by the Bureau of the Census in its most recent general determination of State and local taxes made before the close of each such period.

(ii) adjusted (under regulations prescribed by the Secretary) by excluding an amount equal to that portion of such compulsory contributions which is properly allocable to expenses for education.
(B) CERTAIN SALES TAXES COLLECTED BY COUNTIES.—In any case where—

(2) ALLOCATION ON BASIS OF URBANIZED POPULATION.—Any allocation among the States on the basis of urbanized population shall be made by allocating to each State an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount to be allocated as the urbanized population of such State bears to the urbanized population of all the States.

(3) ALLOCATION ON BASIS OF POPULATION INVERSELY WEIGHTED FOR PER CAPITA INCOME.—Any allocation among the States on the basis of population inversely weighted for per capita income shall be made by allocating to each State an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount to be allocated as:

(A) the population of such State, multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which is the per capita income of all the States and the denominator of which is the per capita income of such State, bears to

(B) the sum of the products determined under subparagraph (A) for all the States.

(4) ALLOCATION ON BASIS OF INCOME TAX COLLECTIONS.—Any allocation among the States on the basis of income tax collections shall be made by allocating to each State an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount to be allocated as the income tax amount of such State bears to the sum of the income tax amounts of all the States.
