National Safe Boating Week, 1975

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Despite the need to conserve energy, there are still opportunities on our rivers, lakes, and coastal waters to enjoy sailing and other recreational boating. But these opportunities carry the responsibility of practicing safe boating by developing essential skills.

Recognizing the growth in recreational boating, the Congress, by joint resolution approved June 4, 1958 (72 Stat. 179; 36 U.S.C. 161), requested the President to proclaim annually the week which includes July 4th as National Safe Boating Week.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GERALD R. FORD, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning June 29, 1975, as National Safe Boating Week.

I urge all who utilize our waters, in the American tradition of fair play, to provide for the safety of other boaters, as well as themselves, by becoming equipped with basic boating safety knowledge. This information is readily available through numerous safe boating courses offered by governmental and private organizations, such as the United States Coast Guard, the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, the United States Power Squadrons, the American Red Cross, and the various State agencies. All pleasure boat operators should take advantage of the many available boating safety courses. Only through education can we minimize boating accidents. I further urge all organizations offering boating safety instruction to reach into every possible related recreational area to encourage boating education.

I also invite the Governors of the States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa, and the Mayor of the District of Columbia to provide for the observance of this week.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twentieth day of February, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-ninth.

National Safe Boating Week, 1976

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Each year, more Americans discover the pleasures of boating. The nation's rivers, lakes and coastal waterways provide an ideal setting for family recreation and well-earned moments of leisure. As the popularity of boating grows, so does the need to emphasize safety in boating activities. We must recognize a mutual responsibility for our safety and the safety of others so that enjoyment of our country's natural and man-made resources does not have to be marred by tragedy.

In light of the growth in recreational boating, and our need for safe waterways, the Congress, by joint resolution approved June 4, 1958 (72 Stat. 179, 36 U.S.C. 161), requested the President to proclaim annually the week which includes July 4 as National Safe Boating Week.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GERALD R. FORD, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning July 4, 1976, as National Safe Boating Week.

I urge all who take part in boating activities on American waterways to acquire a basic knowledge of boating safety. This information is readily available through numerous safe boating courses offered by organizations such as the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, the United States Power Squadrons, the American Red Cross and the various State agencies. I urge all organizations offering boating safety instruction to increase their efforts to encourage safe boating.

I also invite the Governors of the States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam and American Samoa, and the Mayor of the District of Columbia to provide for the observance of this week.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twentieth day of April, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundredth.

Mr. William J. Baroody, Jr.
Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Baroody:

The President's Proclamation of Safe Boating Week was received in time for promotional endeavors. The President should be assured that every member of NBSAC (Coast Guard) appreciates his call for learning by the general public of basic boating safety. The President has enabled the cause that NBSAC pursues unceasingly, and each member thanks our President.

If you will pardon a personal aside, I would like to recall that 25 years ago my family moved into President Ford's district. My wife and I were first able to vote for him in 1952 and, of course, each subsequent time while we were in his district. During those years ('50's and '60's) I was privileged to hear the President (then Representative) at meetings of Rotary, Chambers of Commerce, and others. I was then, and am still, a great admirer of the down-to-earth, no-nonsense approach to issues President Ford uses.

This continuing endearment of our President assures him of at least four vocal supporters (my family) during his tenure and during any campaign for office.

Please accept my thanks to you, Mr. Baroody, for your thoughtfulness in sending the President's Proclamation. Please extend to President Ford my thanks for his help in a worthy cause.

Yours very sincerely,

William M. Sanford

Dear

President Ford has signed a Proclamation designating the week of June 29th as National Safe Boating Week, 1975. In his Proclamation the President states, "I urge all who utilize our waters, in the American tradition of fair play, to provide for the safety of other boaters, as well as themselves, by becoming equipped with basic boating safety knowledge."

The President asked that I send you the enclosed duplicate of his Safe Boating Week Proclamation as a small remembrance of this occasion. It comes to you with his very best wishes.

Sincerely,

William J. Baroody, Jr.
Assistant to the President

Enclosure

SUBJECT:

National Safe Boating Week, 1975
Proclamation

Mr. Alvin Simon, a member of the National Boating Safety Advisory Council, has written to me requesting a copy of the National Safe Boating Week, 1975 proclamation.

Mr. Simon sent me a copy of the member of the National Boating Safety Advisory Council. I think it would be an excellent idea and thoughtful gesture to send the members of the council a copy of the ceremonial proclamation.

The list is attached for your consideration.

Thank you.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 18, 1975

Dear Mr. Simon:

Thank you for your letter. The National Safe Boating Week, 1975 proclamation comes with the President's best wishes.

I have asked that the individuals listed on the attachments also be sent proclamations.

Thank you also for your very kind invitation to spend some time on your boat, the 'Simple Simon.' I appreciate your thoughtfulness and will certainly keep your offer in mind.

Sincerely,

William W. Nicholson
Deputy Director
Scheduling Office

Dear Mr. Nicholson:

I wish to thank you for extending me your time during our conversation this past week. With regard to that conversation I am herewith enclosing the list of persons whom I feel would be honored to receive a copy of the Safe Beating Week Proclamation. If I can be of any assistance in forwarding these copies I will be more than glad to do so. I have enclosed my business card which contains the address at which I receive correspondence.

I wish to also take this opportunity to extend an invitation to yourself on a purely social basis. The "Simple Simon" is moored at Selby Bay Yatch Club on the South River and is available for your enjoyment. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Regards,

Alvin Simon

Dear Miss McAuliffe,

I am representing the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, in the Eighth Coast Guard District in New Orleans, La. as the Division National Safe Boating Week chairwoman of 1975.

Each year the President of the United States is required by a Congressional Resolution to proclaim a National Safe Boating Week, which is to include the day of July 4th. This year President Gerald Ford has proclaimed the week of June 29 through July 5, as National Safe Boating Week.

We would like a personal proclamation from the President to aid us in observing this worthwhile project.

Your support is greatly needed to make a success of this proclaimed boating safety week.

Thank you, for your time and consideration of our request. Please forward proclamation to the address below.

Sincerely,
