PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Joan Vinson is currently a Public Information Officer for the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA). She is responsible for developing public information programs for the ARBA. Her responsibilities include preparing news releases; disseminating news to the appropriate media; conducting news conferences, providing public information and news items for local and national publications and radio and television stations; and coordinating and disseminating news and information relating to the agency.

Prior to her present position, Mrs. Vinson was solely responsible for originating and organizing nationwide campaign which kept the issue of the war and prisoners of war and missing in action before the public through the political candidates in the 1972 presidential election year. She established and maintained active association with Republican and Democratic National Committees, State chairmen, national organizations, Congress, media, Defense Department and the White House.

From 1970 until 1972, Mrs. Vinson was the first National Coordinator of the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia. The problem of the American prisoners of War and Missing in Action in the Vietnam war was one of the most poignant our nation had faced. After years of frustration and lack of information on the more than 1600 servicemen missing in the Indochina conflict, the families of these men banded together to attempt to make their plight a national issue. Mrs. Vinson was elected as their first National Coordinator. This office was essentially that of President of a large organization with more than 2700 members with problems and programs of the greatest magnitude and international scope. Her duties included administration of a tax-exempt foundation with funding in the $200,000.00 range; supervising the tasks and energies of approximately 100 full time and volunteer personnel; keeping abreast of all governmental, political and legislative action regarding the war and the POW/MIA problem; informing the public and appealing for support; traveling throughout the world; meeting with heads of state and top officials of other governments in an effort to gain their help; speaking to a variety of large groups and associations on this subject; and dealing with national and local media.

Mrs. Vinson served as the Business Manager for the American Oil School in Tripoli, Libya, from 1960 until 1962. This school had an enrollment of approximately 500 students and was established and supported by American Oil companies for the education of employees' children. During that time, she was also the social/public affairs liaison between Wheelus Air Force Base and the government of King Idris.

Prior to this, she taught a variety of subjects including history, English and math to U. S. Airmen for a period of three years.

Other occupational experience include: executive secretary for the entire coaching staff at the University of Florida, fashion designer, and interior decorator.

Executive Director

Overall responsibility for administration, fundraising, politics, press relations, and the publishing and promotion of Ripon's publications. Administrative duties entail management of Ripon's 1974 budget of $170,000, internal communications with volunteer officers and members, and preparation of financial reports. 1. No press release tomorrow on new Board members
Someone else in Walker's office was apparently kicking Nessen to issue a release; I informed Pete of that, and Pete shut it off fast.

You should be aware, however, that Rumsfeld or Cheney is apparently also pressing Nessen to issue a release, since the word is filtering out that our new people have already ~~sworn~~ been ~~sworn~~ sworn and have processed cases. Cheney, Rumsfeld and Nessen pressed the President to sign the commissions today.

2. Re appointment with the President--Russ says that Jack Marsh concurs, and will formally concur when a "schedule ^{proposal} request" memo from you to Rustand is circulated for comment. You should dictate a short memo to Rustand, after a phone conversation with him.

John Carlson was quite emphatic on the phone today on the point that the new Board members will not get in to see the President. He wanted to ensure that that point was communicated to you.

Russ cautioned me that notwithstanding Jack Marsh's concurrence with you, Rumsfeld and Cheney may well veto the appointment.

3. Re 10th Board member-- Pete says that you agreed to Pendleton (D. C. GOP chairman)--not a conservative--if Pendleton is available. Apparently this took place in your conversation with him of a couple of mornings ago. Pendleton is supposed to let him know of availability tomorrow (Friday).

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Joan Vinson is currently a Public Information Officer for the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA). She is responsible for developing public information programs for the ARBA. Her responsibilities include preparing news releases; disseminating news to the appropriate media; conducting news conferences, providing public information and news items for local and national publications and radio and television stations; and coordinating and disseminating news and information relating to the agency.

Prior to her present position, Mrs. Vinson was solely responsible for originating and organizing nationwide campaign which kept the issue of the war and prisoners of war and missing in action before the public through the political candidates in the 1972 presidential election year. She established and maintained active association with Republican and Democratic National Committees, State chairmen, national organizations, Congress, media, Defense Department and the White House.

From 1970 until 1972, Mrs. Vinson was the first National Coordinator of the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia. The problem of the American prisoners of War and Missing in Action in the Vietnam war was one of the most poignant our nation had faced. After years of frustration and lack of information on the more than 1600 servicemen missing in the Indochina conflict, the families of these men banded together to attempt to make their plight a national issue. Mrs. Vinson was elected as their first National Coordinator. This office was essentially that of President of a large organization with more than 2700 members with problems and programs of the greatest magnitude and international scope. Her duties included administration of a tax-exempt foundation with funding in the $200,000.00 range; supervising the tasks and energies of approximately 100 full time and volunteer personnel; keeping abreast of all governmental, political and legislative action regarding the war and the POW/MIA problem; informing the public and appealing for support; traveling throughout the world; meeting with heads of state and top officials of other governments in an effort to gain their help; speaking to a variety of large groups and associations on this subject; and dealing with national and local media.

Mrs. Vinson served as the Business Manager for the American Oil School in Tripoli, Libya, from 1960 until 1962. This school had an enrollment of approximately 500 students and was established and supported by American Oil companies for the education of employees' children. During that time, she was also the social/public affairs liaison between Wheelus Air Force Base and the government of King Idris.

Prior to this, she taught a variety of subjects including history, English and math to U. S. Airmen for a period of three years.

Other occupational experience include: executive secretary for the entire coaching staff at the University of Florida, fashion designer, and interior decorator.

PRESIDENTIAL CLEMENCY BOARD

March 31, 1975

Dear Ted:

I talked to Jack Marsh after our conversation today. He indicated that he is going to talk to Runsfeld later today to work out the process of selection of new Clemency Board Members. In any event, we agreed that your assistance was eminently to be desired.

Enclosed you will find a preliminary list of all the suggestions made to us from various sources to date. I would appreciate your reviewing the list, and adding any further suggestions of your own. I told Jack Marsh that we were ready to follow any prescribed procedure, but were anxious to move ahead quickly. He agreed. We would like to proceed to narrow the list of potential appointees with your help. It seems to me that we can make considerable progress before any calls have to be made and before final decisions on process are taken.

Cordially,

Charles E. Goodell
Chairman

PRESIDENTIAL CLEMENCY BOARD

March 31, 1975

Dear Ted:

I talked to Jack Marsh after our conversation today. He indicated that he is going to talk to Rosenfeld later today to work out the process of selection of new Clemency Board members. In any event, we agreed that your assistance was eminently to be desired.

Enclosed you will find a preliminary list of all the suggestions made to us from various sources to date. I would appreciate your reviewing the list, and adding any further suggestions of your own. I told Jack Marsh that we were ready to follow any proposed procedure, but were anxious to move ahead quickly. He agreed. We would like to proceed to narrow the list of potential appointees with your help. It seems to me that we can make considerable progress before any calls have to be made and before final decisions on process are taken.

Cordell.

Cable Address "Bulac"

Mr. Charles E. Goodell

Dear Charles:

I shared my recent letter regarding three possible nominees to the Presidential Clemency Board with those three who were recommended, even though I had not discussed the matter with them, as I indicated in my letter.

I am enclosing a letter I received from Monsignor George Higgins which indicates that he thinks one of the men I suggested, Monsignor Frank Lally, Director of the Department for Social Development and World Peace, would be better than himself. I thought I should share this letter with you and say once more how splendid I think Monsignor Frank Lally would be. I also had a letter from Father Mike McCafferty saying that he would help in any way requested.

All best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Ted:

Thanks ever so much for your thoughtfulness in sending me a copy of your March 24 letter addressed to Charles Goodell and for your generous comments about yours truly. While I deeply appreciate your kindness in recommending me for membership on the Presidential Clemency Board, I am strongly persuaded that our good friend Monsignor Frank Lally is much better equipped than I am for such an assignment. Moreover, if anyone from the staff of the U.S. Catholic Conference is to be appointed to the Board, I think it ought to be someone from the appropriate USCC department, namely, the Department for Social Development and World Peace. As you know, Monsignor Lally is the new Director of that Department.

X / In summary, my purpose in writing to you at this time is to recommend that you get in touch with Charles Goodell and urge him to remove my name from his list of possible candidates and to concentrate (if he wants someone from the Conference staff) on Lally's name. Incidentally I have already discussed this matter with Bishop Rausch. He has authorized me to inform you that he seconds the above recommendation.

The enclosed column with reference to our good friend Andy Greeley will be self-explanatory.

May I ask you to extend my kindest personal regards to Ray Cour and to all of our other mutual friends on the campus.

With every best wish I remain,

Cordially yours,

Rev. Msgr. George G. Higgins
