POOL REPORT

President's meeting with cattlemen

The meeting with cattlemen was held on the 9th floor . . . a small suite. Don't have the names of those present -- about 8, including President and Senator Bellman, were in the room. White House will provide left to right later.

One of the cattlemen made President Ford an honorary member of the Cattlemen's Association so "you will know how to feel poverty stricken."

He talked about yesterday's trip. . . President said it was "quite a trip."

One of the cattlemen said . . . "I saw in the paper they are not going to lower their oil prices." President said "they are optimistic about their oil" fields. He said. . . "they haven't gone far enough to know the extent of their oil."

Then President changed the subject to Oklahoma football.
