

SEPTEMBER 13, 1975

Office of the White House Press Secretary

NOTICE TO THE PRESS

At the request of the President, Vice President Rockefeller will lead an official delegation to opening ceremonies in London of the United States Bicentennial Exhibition "The World of Franklin and Jefferson." The exhibition, which has been presented in recent months in Paris and Warsaw, will have its final opening abroad at the British Museum on September 15. The Vice President will arrive in London on September 15 and depart that evening. The delegation will include:

Elliot L. Richardson, Ambassador to Great Britain
John O. Marsh, Jr., Counsellor to the President
Theodore C. Marrs, Special Assistant to the President
John W. Warner, Administrator, American Revolution Bicentennial Administration
James Keogh, Director, USIA
David L. Wolper, Theatrical Producer and Chairman, ARBA Council
Robert W. Hubner, Senior Vice President, IBM
Dr. Luther H. Foster, President, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama
Thomas P. F. Hoving, Director Metropolitan Museum of Art
Pearl Bailey, Entertainer
Kenneth Donahue, Director, Los Angeles County Museum of Art
Roger L. Stevens, Chairman, Kennedy Center of the Performing Arts
Dr. E. Laurence Chalmers, President, Art Institute of Chicago
Harry Van Arsdale, Labor Leader, New York, Member-ARBA Board of Directors
Alpha E. Trivette, National President, Future Farmers of America,
Alexandria, Virginia
Linda Kerber, University of Iowa, History Department
Walter Peters, Executive Director, New Jersey American Revolutionary Bicentennial Celebration Committee, and Chairman, Council of 13 Original States
Senator Edward Brooke, Chairman of the ARBA Board
Abbott Sekaquaptewa, Chief, Hopi Tribal Council of Arizona

###