

May 23, 1976

PRESS POOL REPORT #12--VISIT TO CLUBHOUSE #1, LACUANA HILLS, CA

The President arrived at Clubhouse #1 where he was greeted by the strangest kazoo band you ever saw. He posed for pictures with the old people in the band, then shook hands with the crowd in front of the Clubhouse before going inside. A dance was in progress when the President got in the main building and several people were dancing to the strains of "Tea for Two." After a little bit of mingling and shaking hands, the President began to dance with several of the elderly women, a few of whom also managed to steal a kiss. He left the main building after a few minutes and made an ever briefer visit to an adjoining room where several billiardsgames were in progress. The President said hello and shook hands, but didn't attempt to join in.

Jeff Antevil--NYDaily News

#