

SEPTEMBER 11, 1976

Office of the White House Press Secretary

NOTICE TO THE PRESS

On Sunday, September 12, 1976, the President will attend 11:00 a.m. services at the Washington National Cathedral during which the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Reverend and Right Honorable Frederick Donald Coggan will dedicate the nave.

The President will depart the White House at 10:45 a.m. The travel pool accompanying the President has been posted, and should assemble in the Press Room at 10:30 a.m.

There will be no photo coverage inside the Cathedral, but the writing members of the pool will attend the service.

There will be open coverage of the departure of the President, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Very Reverend Francis B. Sayer, Jr., Dean of the Washington National Cathedral from the South Transept at about 12:00 p.m.

#