

NOVEMBER 13, 1976 (10:00 A. M.)

Office of the White House Press Secretary
(Palm Springs, California)

The President is playing golf today in a choose-up tournament at the Thunderbird Country Club. His partners, chosen at breakfast, are Lynn Gremer, an executive with Trans-International Air; Joe Dennis, a retired insurance broker from Chicago; and Don Hudson, a former All-American football player from Alabama. The foursome teed off at 9:15 a. m.

Plans for the rest of the day will be announced at the 4:00 p. m. posting.

The President met yesterday at 5:00 p. m. with James Lynn and Alan Greenspan to discuss the upcoming budget. He had dinner with Lynn, and expects to meet with him again this afternoon.
