

January 17, 1977

Office of the White House Press Secretary

NOTICE TO THE PRESS

The President today announced the appointment of fifteen persons as members of the Advisory Committee of the White House Conference on Library and Information Services. They are:

John H. M. Chen, of Montgomery, Alabama, Dean of University Libraries and Learning Resources and Professor of Library Science, Alabama State University.

Walter W. Curley, of Syracuse, New York, President, Gaylord Brothers, Inc.

Ann Heidbreder Eastman, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Director of Administration, Chatham College.

Oscar Everhart, of Miami Beach, Florida, Chief Librarian, Miami Beach Public Library.

Marian Gallagher, of Seattle, Washington, Professor of Law and Law Librarian, University of Washington.

David R. Gergen, of North Carolina, Director, White House Communications, and Special Consul to the President of the United States, The White House, Washington, D. C.

Donald T. Gibbs, of Newport, Rhode Island, Librarian, Redwood Library and Athenaeum.

Alice B. Ihrig, of Oak Lawn, Illinois, Library Consultant; and Member, Executive Board, American Library Association.

Kenneth Jernigan, of Des Moines, Iowa, Director, Iowa Commission for the Blind.

Samuel Jackson Martz, of Nashville, Tennessee, Chairman of the Board, Memorial Bibles International, Inc., and Chairman, World Records, Inc.

Agnes M. Myers, of Denver, Colorado, Director, Resource Center, Loretto Heights College.

Edwin B. Parker, of Palo Alto, California, Professor of Communication, Stanford University.

Elizabeth Ruffner, of Prescott, Arizona, Member, Arizona State White House Conference Committee; 1976 Trustee of the Year, American Library Association.

Joseph F. Shubert, of Columbus, Ohio, State Librarian of Ohio.

Martha S. Williams, of Detroit, Michigan, Teacher, Foch Middle School.

#