

MEMORANDUM

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

PARTICIPANTS: President Ford
 Albert Fay, Ambassador to Trinidad
 Brent Scowcroft, Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs

DATE AND TIME: Thursday, April 22, 1976
 12:15 - 12:40 a. m.

PLACE: The Oval Office

The President: I have known how much you have wanted to serve the country and I am delighted to hear you are enjoying it.

Fay: Yes, I am. It is a great opportunity and I am gratified with the opportunity.

I want to help you in the campaign to the extent I can legally. The problem is it is hard to find out.

[Discussion of politicking]

Fay: I have two requests: an autographed picture and a greeting for the Prime Minister.

The President: Of course, I remember my meeting with him a year or so ago. He is very articulate and impressive man.

Fay: He is having an election by September.

The President: Do they have a really democratic system?

Fay: Oh yes. They are very British about it. I want to help you all I can. I am going down there for three days. I have already voted.

The President: Is Reagan making headway with his attacks on Panama and defense?

Fay: Some, on Panama.
