Summary Description

The Arthur F. Burns audiovisual material consists primarily of photographs and audio recordings sent to Arthur Burns while he was chairman of the Federal Reserve Board (1969-79) and later U.S. Ambassador to the Federal Republic of Germany (1981-85). Among the photographs, which date from 1954 to 1987, are official White House photos from the Nixon, Ford, Carter, and Reagan administrations, as well as official Federal Reserve Board photos. The photographs also document public appearances by Burns at various functions.

The majority of the audio recordings are off-the-air copies of appearances by Dr. Burns and others on network news programs including "Face the Nation," "Issues and Answers," and "Meet the Press." Other recordings are of various lectures and remarks delivered by Dr. Burns.

The photographs and audio recordings were transferred unarranged to the Ford Library, and have been arranged chronologically. Photographs removed from the Burns Papers manuscript series are arranged in parallel folders.
