Press Secretary and Speech File, 1948-73. (Boxes D1-D119, 47.6 linear feet)

This file illustrates the public relations activities of Congressman Ford, especially as evidenced in his speeches, newsletters, press statements, magazine articles, interviews, and local radio broadcasts. The file likewise documents the functions of a press secretary in the preparation and distribution of such material and in related work.

GRF did not hire a press secretary until February 1965, shortly after becoming House Minority Leader. Prior to that time, responsibility for press relations and public statements was shared by GRF and his small staff, notably administrative assistant Frank Meyer. The first press secretary was James M. Mudge, formerly of the Grand Rapids Herald editorial staff 1949-59, and Grand Rapids bureau chief for the Detroit Free Press 1959-65. Mudge remained with Ford only until March 1966, leaving to become city-county bureau chief of the Detroit Free Press. In November 1967, Mudge became press secretary to US Congressman Guy Vander Jagt of Michigan.

Paul Miltich succeeded Mudge and continued to serve Ford until March 1975, when he resigned as the President's Assistant Press Secretary. Miltich had been a reporter-assistant city editor for the Saginaw News, 1946-57, and Washington correspondent for Booth newspapers of Michigan, 1957-66.

This file was created by combining the press secretary's files, which perforce dated only from 1965, with an older and overlapping collection of similar material dating from 1947. The character of much of this combined file is that of a reference file of Ford public statements. Although drafts, background material and related material are commonly interspersed, they are fragmentary in nature. Because of vagaries in the file system, those in search of particular items are advised to consult various series.

Newsletters, 1950-73.

(Boxes D1-D3, 1.2 linear feet)

"Your Washington Review" was Congressman Ford's newsletter, issued weekly during each session of Congress until April 1971, and thereafter at less frequent intervals. It was occasionally issued for the full calendar year. The first issue appeared in January 1949 and by January 1970 its mailing list had grown to 25,000 names. At the front of this file is a table of contents for each newsletter, 1963-73. Occasional related items are interspersed. Arranged chronologically.

Weekly Radio Reports, 1949-73.

(Boxes D35-D36, 0.8 linear feet)

Scripts of Ford radio tapes made for distribution to Fifth District radio stations, and some logs and correspondence relating to their distribution. Prepared weekly while Congress was in session, these scripts were suspended during election campaigns, 1966-72, under the Federal Communications Act's equal time provisions. The scripts are finished texts, 1949-52, and drafts and annotated texts, 1965-73. No scripts have been located for the period February 1952 to March 1965. Interfiled are standardized radio-television scripts prepared by the Republican Congressional Committee, 1965-68. Note - Phonograph and tape recordings of some broadcasts are among the Library's audiovisual holdings. Arranged chronologically.

Broadcasts, 1949-72.

(Box D37, 0.2 linear feet)

Typed drafts, final copies, transcripts, and press releases of miscellaneous speeches, statements, campaign endorsements, promotional messages, and other audiovisual recordings made by Ford for radio, television, and film. Some items have handwritten corrections and additions. Related materials include occasional correspondence, background information, memoranda, and other miscellaneous items. References to James Mudge and Paul Miltich indicate that they prepared many of these broadcasts in whole or part. Note - various Ford audiotapes, phonographs and films, including reports sent periodically to local television stations, are in the Library's audiovisual collection. Arranged chronologically.
