You asked for suggestions:

Here's a few -

- ① - Combine all pro-life, right to life - ACCL + constitutional convention for a Human Life Amendment organizations to join together for one goal (the protection + reverence for human life from the moment of conception) + have a nationwide telethon to raise money + to educate our people on this issue. Put it on T.V. - tell the people the truth + you will see people flock to support this cause with money, ideas + work.

- ② - Give social security benefit to mothers who spend years at home taking care of their kids.

They should have social security benefits at retirement age independent of their husbands earnings. Think in the long run - These good wives + mothers who haven't earned a paycheck raise good; hard-working kids who eventually will work + pay enormous amts of taxes to the government. Shouldn't the mothers share some monetary benefits?

③ Individual freedom is very popular today - instead of only harping on the freedom itself - why not give just as much attention to the responsibility of each particular freedom? This could be worked in with education from kindergarten + up.

Sincere "Thank You".

Dear Sirs:

Since the fourteenth amendment section one (1) guarantees all persons the right to life, and since all public officials take an oath to up-hold the constitution, and they are violating this oath -- could they not then be removed from office because of violating that oath. And I think be bared from ever holding public office again..

Dear Marjory:

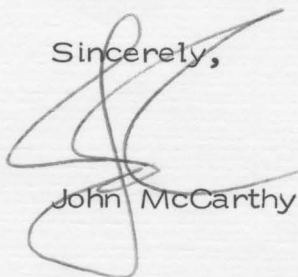

Many thanks for your note of July 26. I will be contacting Rosemary Gallagher to see how her program for single parents is developing.

Marjory, I regret to report that the situation in Texas is somewhat bleak. Two of our dioceses do not have Catholic charities offices; several of the others have only token programs.

During the recent session of the Legislature, I was able to pull them together to work on legislation. But they are a long way from having either the staff or the resources to provide leadership across the state. The situation is improving, but slowly.

Again, thanks for your help and encouragement.

Sincerely,

John McCarthy

The mailogram arrived in the mail while I was away. We had illness in our family - and a death too and I had been away for more than a month - also I had moved to Rochester Minn and had not written in my new address to the American Citizens Concerned for Life.

Sorry I can't subscribe, but I sent a token from three of us for your work.
Thank you for the bulletin.

In case you are interested, a radio program I heard here in June over KCBS, Anna Mae Sokusky speaking, without disavowal of opinions expressed, gave the definite impression that statistics show that abortions are safer than birth! I wrote to CBS in Washington for a copy and received a letter from Ms Sokusky. She stated that the broadcast came from a research report of the Worldwatch Institute, Washington, entitled "Health: The Family Planning Factor." The two researchers were interviewed in "Report on Women." World-watch Institute, 1776 Massachusetts Ave. NW, Wash. D.C. 20036 would provide a copy. In her letter, Ms Sokusky disavowed for herself and for C.B.S. the Worldwatch point of view.

Thank you for your Mail-O-Gram.

May we assure you that the National Council of Catholic Women has been in touch with President Carter commending him on his stand on abortion. We do not have any financial resources that we can commit to the ACCL, but be assured our membership all over the country is supportive. I am sure that we will help turn the tide.

I wanted to share with those involved in proposing legislation — if you will share this with them, for me - thank to propose;

- 1) that if under 21, girl
can receive medical aid
for some such - e.g.
can receive medical aid
during pregnancy (her dr. bills be paid) & her parent not have to be

2)

Notified ,

(if HYS allows abortion without parental consent - surely must allow pre-natal care without parental consent)

I & have a Benbright case - girl doesn't want to tell her mother,

she is 20 yrs. old -

but she can't get medicoid without her parents being enjoined of pregnancy via Dept. of S.S.

she is 5 months pregnant & has never been to a doctor!

Secondly - that clinic, & doctor, must ~~see~~ medicoid patients before they get their medicoid approval

& then clinic / dr.
will be reimbursed

(a dr. ~~has~~ - failed meet for cash until she gets her Medicaid card, then she'll be reimbursed girl 4 months pregnant - has no cash - so hasn't had any medical care.

These are my suggestions

① Revise adoption requirements - that is to the income + age limit of prospective adoptive parents. People are living longer now + some couples in their 50 - 60 yr. old bracket can + should be allowed to adopt children.

② Hire more social workers to do the home studies - some people wait months + years to have it done.

③ Look further into the single parent adoption - it could be very successful + rewarding for both child + parent.

④ Publish the agencies - whether state or national that people could write to - so they can get started on the adoption inquiry. Some people who love kids + want to adopt don't know where to begin.

Friday
5 August 1977

Dear Mr. Lange - To be blunt, I do not consider adoption an alternative to abortion, and I am opposed to promoting it as such. Adoption is an alternative to the child being kept by the natural parent, and while I would gladly support measures designed to make that much more easily done than is presently the case I would not make it a priority that rivals and even displaces the natural parent as the one to be helped first of all to keep the child.

Pregnancy aid, family allowances sufficient to the need and adequate aid to handicapped and ailing children, national healthcare for all children, in fact; volunteer cooperatives funded by but independent of the government, working on a local basis and on a national level, and joined by parents, women in particular but not exclusively, to help one another care for and even at times to relieve of caring for their children, cooperatives of women deciding for themselves which productive skills they want to develop economically for their own self-support, cottage industries joined among those who have a need for such work, educational programs involving the whole family in the learning and teaching process.... all this and anything more that would help to make life as easy to choose as death has been made. — I would support wholeheartedly as a priority of priorities.

I should, at the least, like to see children and their development considered at least as important as the cruise missile and the neutron bomb, and the parents, natural or putative, who are involved in that development at least as worthy of economic support as the Pentagon.

That much I would like to see happen and would support unfailingly all who worked toward its achievement. By the same token, I would continue to oppose just as unswervingly that other so-called alternative to abortion — contraception. I oppose absolutely government continuing to fund and promote birth control in the poor, and deem it a delusion of the most naive sort that progress obtain as a remedy for death.

When I have more money to send, Mr. Lange, I will send it. I belong to several different pro-life groups, each in need of financial support.

With love,

Barbara Lianzon

I consider programs that will genuinely assist the pregnant and unmarried women to be most important and should be given top priority.

Secondly a remedy is needed for the ever growing number of teenage pregnancies, I do not see that contrac making young people more aware of contraceptives as the answer, but rather there appears to be a need to educate young people of the responsibility they have in creating new life. I guess I'm speaking of making people more aware of the need to respect life in all its various stages, as well as themselves.

~~Our~~ ^{These} organizations like Planned Parenthood seem to me to be too eager to push contraceptives & their form of sex education as a cure all, I think we all realize where this can lead.

Organizations like Birthright, Project Life and others should receive ^{to my thinking} some of the millions that Planned Parenthood receives.

Dear Mr Lampe,

Here is my suggestion and donation of $10.00 for a very special cause,

Carter's Statements opposing Abortions should have included Rape and Incest, as there are concerning human lives too.
the law should read only to save the life of the mother, as it was before the 1973 Decision of the Supreme Court, and another thing to allow Abortions there should be at least seven Doctors of Reputable Character upon the decision, not only one of the Abortionists ^{Clan} upon that decision, and thanks for the "Up Date Card"
Just Rec'd a thank you card from Majority Micklenberg for the $15.00, sent you July 30-77, Keep the ball Rolling while it has a good Momentum, Peter Bitzan Remembering you and yours in my daily Prayer

7/25/77

Mr. Lampe:

Suggestion:

1. A lump sum for 3-5 years to people as incentive to have children rather than abort them.
2. Or subsidy plan to parents of all children, much like program implemented in Canada.
3. I think some sort of financial assistance is the answer to the abortion problem.

You people are doing a great job, & I'm proud to be associated.

Good luck.

P.S. Would the inclusion of someone like Rev. or Mrs. Graham help make the planning sessions more successful? I feel we in the pro-life movement need more big names.

Sincerely,

Shirley Carbone

Dear Ron,

Enclosed is the check that you sent to me last week. What I would suggest is to make out two $300 checks as follows:

ACCL, Inc. Education Fund
6127 Excelsior Blvd.
Mpls., MN 55416

MCCL, Inc. Education Fund
(or MCCL Lifemobile)
4803 Nicollet Ave.
Mpls., MN 55409

This way the whole $600.00 will be tax-deductible.

Thanks in advance for your assistance.

Yours in life,
Joe Lampe

Joe,

Enclosed is check for $600 for the Lifemobile representing Kathy's and my monthly pledge of $50 per month for 1977.

We always pledged this from my volunteer duty as a ambulance attendant, but as of April, I quit the ~~ambulance~~ ambulance force due to my work schedule, never the less, I still want to keep this up.

MCC is the unborn's biggest hope! It makes us both happy to give to an organization with such dedicated people as yourself and all the others that work so hard and over earnestly for what we all hope will someday result in a human Life Amendment.

~~Keep~~ Keep up the great work!!

Hope to see you soon - will stop in if I'm ~~the~~ in the area sometime.

Greet your cohorts for us!!

Yours in Protection of Life,

Ron Mc Broom

Dear Bob,

Last Friday we made the final payment on the $2000 loan which you arranged for ACCL at Midland National Bank.

The loan was most helpful and we are very appreciative of your assistance in obtaining it.

The confidence that you and others have shown in our organization has made it possible for us to continue our growth and expand our services.

On March 15 ACCL participated in a legislative news conference in Washington and on March 21 we testified before a House Judiciary subcommittee on a bill to prohibit black market baby selling. Last week the Washington NBC television affiliate filmed a program on national legislation of interest to women in which I participated. Last week we also signed papers for a combination office and apartment for ACCL in D.C. We are becoming viable and active on congressional legislation. Growing numbers of volunteers assist and advise us in this work.

On the 30th of March a group of ACCL representatives met for an entire day in New York with five vice presidents of the National Foundation-March of Dimes to explore program priorities and identify opportunities for cooperation. We have continued to offer advice and counsel to other right to life groups. Enclosed is a copy of a letter recently sent Mr. Lampe by Maine Right to Life officials.

In Minneapolis we have moved to larger quarters at 6127 Excelsior Boulevard. A number of people have generously donated needed office equipment. We have found a competent newsletter editor with a journalism background whose husband, a Minneapolis Star employee, is also offering his assistance. A young man with a variety of skills and a background in pro-life work has joined our staff, and I have been freed up for organizational work because domestic help has become available.

We have begun to restructure our board and have added some excellent people. Jerome Choromanski of the Crystal State Bank, whom you may know, is one of the local people who has agreed to assist us in our work and he has joined ACCL as a member of the board of directors.

Enclosed is a copy of our latest fund raising mailing which has just been mailed to 55,000 people across the country. A current newsletter is also enclosed for your information. The need for financial assistance continues to be great as we expand our program to meet the challenges that exist. We would be grateful for whatever help you could give us at this time and would be delighted to further discuss any phase of our current activity with you. Should you desire additional copies of our materials to share with others please contact us at our office and we will be happy to provide them.

Our best to you and your family. We hope we will have an opportunity to see you at the upcoming Love of Life Ball on April 23rd.

Sincerely,

Marjory

Dear Mr. Brouillard,

Just a note to thank you for your past support of our activities. We are glad that you are still interested in the pro-life movement, even though your most recent support is for the National Right to Life Committee.

Although many of the goals of the American Citizens Concerned for Life are similar to those of the NRLC, I believe that our approach is different, and that our activities range significantly beyond those of NRLC. ACCL offers a viable structure for demonstrating that we are not just against abortion, but truly are for alternatives to abortion, for non-violent solutions to social and economic problems, and for strengthening of the family. ACCL has been successful in forming coalitions and bringing together a broad-based effort to promote the pro-life cause.

Please continue your support for this most important cause. We are appreciative of your previous donation, and hope that you will remember us in the future.

Dear Dr. Parker,

I apologize for the tardiness of my reply. After recently completing a move to new offices, we have found ourselves quite far behind in our correspondence.

We appreciate your interest in the pro-life cause, and in American Citizens Concerned for Life. I hope that we can be of assistance to you.

ACCL is not as yet structured around affiliate groups, although this is a priority for the next year. However, I can provide the names of several qualified contact people who work with ACCL in your area. In the absence of local affiliates, you may wish to become active with the local groups they are working with.

I am sending by separate cover a packet of information which should give you a clear idea of what ACCL is and what its objectives are. We will keep you abreast of any new developments in your area regarding the ACCL activities..

If there is any other way in which we can be of assistance, don't hesitate to contact us. Please note our new address. Once again, thank you for your concern.

In Life,

Marjory Mecklenburg

Dear Ms. Mechlenberg:

Dr. Paul Ramsey has given me your name and address of a "concern for life" group that he recommends. I am interested in receiving information from your group. He said that I could receive a brochure from you. Would you please send me this information as well as any other information that you may have available? Please put me on your mailing list.

I am interested in identifying myself with American Citizens Concerned for Life. If there is a local chapter or group connected with that organization in Abilene, Texas or anywhere else in Texas, or the Southwest, please send me the names and addresses so that I may make contact with them. I am interested in helping in any way possible.

I am a professor of Greek and New Testament in the Religion Department of McMurry College in Abilene, Texas.

Thank you for your kind assistance on this matter. I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Cordially yours,

Dear Ms. Mecklenburg:

I am fully interested in the pro-life cause and have been giving as much financial support as I could to the National Right to Life Committee. Since we are all working for the same end, I don't think it should matter where I give my support.

It is for this reason you did not hear from me.

May I suggest, that perhaps it would be wise to unify all pro-life groups into one large organization, not only for economic reasons but for ^{greater} strength and effect.

Sincerely,
(Miss) Veronica R. Lopatofsky

P.S. I am presently committed to give financial support to NRLC.

Arthur J. Dyck, Ph.D., wrote "On Human Care: An Introduction to Ethics" based on a series of eight lectures he delivered at the Kennedy Institute in January, 1975, described as a "total emersion course for health professionals."

A member of the Harvard Divinity School faculty since 1965, Professor Dyck has held the Mary B. Saltonstall chair as Professor of Population Ethics at the Harvard School of Public Health since July 1, 1969. He is co-director of the Kennedy interfaculty program in medical ethics at Harvard University and a member of the Harvard Center for Population Studies.

He is critical of the coercive policies recommended by the crisis environmentalist, and he takes issue with the family planners' notion of freedom as absence of government restraint, as well as of their increasing focus on the individual rather than the family.

Arguing for justice as a priority in population-influencing policies, he endorses the following suggestions at the Bucharest Conference:

"1) Good health services available to all, including contraceptive services in the context of providing care for the whole family; no no no

2) Literacy and nutritional education, especially for women, where there are inequalities in this respect (This policy
