THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

MEETING WITH SELECTED GROUP OF BIPARTISAN SENATORS

Monday, January 27, 1975 3:50 - 4:45 p.m. (55 Minutes) The Oval Office (10 Minutes) The Cabinet Room (45 Minutes)

THRU: Max Friedersdorf FROM: Patrick E. O'Donnell William Kendall

I. PURPOSE

A. To meet with Senators Paul Fannin (R-Ariz), Clifford Hansen (R-Wyo), and two or three key leaders in an effort to coordinate opposition to the Kennedy-Jackson Resolution which would defer the President's imposition of oil import tariffs. (Oval Office - 10 Minutes)

B. Immediately following, to meet with approximately twenty Senators of both parties who have not yet publicly committed themselves on the Resolution. (Cabinet Room - 45 Minutes)

II. BACKGROUND, PARTICIPANTS AND PRESS PLAN

A. Background:

1. At some point during the week, it is expected that a move will be made to call up S.J. Res. 12, Deferring Imposition of Oil Import Quotas (Kennedy-Jackson), probably after Tuesday, January 28. The Resolution already has some 52 sponsors. Our only hope in the Senate at this stage is a successful filibuster or, should the Resolution pass both Houses, to sustain a veto.

2. Senator Fannin, Ranking member of the Senate Interior Committee and leader of our defense effort, feels it is essential that you meet with, educate and inspire the fence-straddlers.

3. Senator Fannin now counts only between 18 and 20 sure opponents of S.J. Res. 12. We will need 34 votes to defeat a cloture attempt or to sustain a veto.

A. Background (cont'd)

4. Accordingly, there is a general consensus among your supporters on this issue that, in addition to education, a majority of the Senators invited will respond favorably to a direct Presidential appeal and thus, the tide will be turned.

General discussion

The President

TALKING POINTS

A. The Oval Office

1. Extend thanks to leaders for their efforts against the Kennedy-Jackson Resolution.

2. Express willingness to assist in any way possible.

3. Discuss general strategy and the meeting with the undecided Senators following this session.

B. The Cabinet Room

1. I am deeply concerned over the serious threat represented by the Kennedy-Jackson Resolution; it calls for a policy of delay in responding to the Nation's energy crisis.

2. The Resolution attempts to strip from the President authority to take action now to increase domestic energy production and to decrease our dependence on foreign oil.

3. The Resolution, while not actually legally forcing mandatory rationing, will nevertheless, have that political effect. This is because it will force mandatory rationing by virtue of preventing any other approach, including the free enterprise price mechanism, from being employed to deal with the energy crisis.

4. Mandatory rationing, if implemented, will take four to six months to activate, require 15,000 to 25,000 full time federal bureaucrats and cost the American taxpayer two billion dollars per year to operate; will involve 40,000 post offices and 3,000 state and local boards to grant exceptions to rationing rules.

5. Use of mandatory rationing to reduce imports by one million barrels per day wo uld create a drop of nearly thirteen billion dollars in the gross national product, cause thousands of businesses to close for lack of fuel, and place several hundred thousand more workers on unemployment rolls.

6. Mandatory rationing could create a black market for gasoline and other fuels.

7. The United States Senate undertook in 1971 to conduct a "National Fuels and Energy Study", to recommend to the Senate a national energy policy. To date, it has failed to make one recommendation. The Kennedy-Jackson Resolution would only prolong further the five years of inaction. 8. Enactment of the Kennedy-Jackson Resolution would cause more delay in reaching an agreed upon national energy policy.

9. I am quite distressed over the tendency of many in Congress to be drawn towards rationing as a viable option. For that reason, I have asked Frank Zarb to discuss with you in detail some of the factors we considered in deciding against this route and to highlight the extremely unworkable and politically unpopular aspects of rationing which you may not have considered. A Weapon Against the Democrats

Although a final decision in the great war of politics between President Ford and the huge Democratic majority in Congress is far distant, Democrats in the House have now handed the President a lethal weapon to be used against themselves with potentially damaging effects.

Indeed, the controlling Democrats

The trap into which the congressional Democrats may now have fallen was carefully—and secretly—laid by a handful of Republican members of the House Ways and Means Comittee, led by Rep. Herman Schneebeli of Pennsylvania, the panel's senior Republican.

Schneebeli, with the connivance of

Thus, the President is telling both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders in long White House chats that he knows his program may be flawed. He insists he is ready to make generous compromises with the Democratic majority. But first, he says, the Democrats have to know exactly what they are for, not what they

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

January 28, 1975

The Honorable Gerald Ford President of the United States The White House 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

NE

Your recent proclamation imposing an import fee on crude oil imported into the United States has created severe potential problems for many regions of the country. None, however, would be more deeply affected by this action than the Upper Midwest, which is heavily reliant on imported crude oil from Canada.

Imposition of the full $3 per barrel tariff which you have announced would add over $100 million per year to the cost of oil to consumers and businesses in Minnesota alone. This cost would be in addition to the high prices which our state, and much of the Upper Midwest, already bay for crude oil as a result of our heavy importation of Canadian crude.

This cost escalation, in an already inflation-ridden economic climate, would be most unfortunate. In addition, however, a special problem would be created for my state and the Upper Midwest by the imposition of the $3 per barrel tariff on Canadian crude oil.

As you know, the Canadian government last November announced its intention to phase out oil imports to the United States by 1982 and the first reductions in supply as a result of this announced program have already made their impact on our region.

Within the next few months, I am hopeful that our government will attempt to negotiate with the government of Canada on modifications in their tentative schedule of cutbacks of crude oil exports to our country. Imposition of a $3 per barrel tariff, however, coupled with your justification of this tariff on the grounds that the national security of the United States would be imperiled if such imports were not reduced, will make negotiations with the government of Canada more difficult.

I am in full accord with your announced intention of decreasing American reliance on foreign oil. However, we must recognize that non-OPEC sources such as Canada should and must be distinguished from those nations which have been responsible for the quadrupling of world oil prices. _____uary 28, 1975 Page 2

And we must recognize that for many refiners in the Upper Midwest, Canadian crude oil is the only possible source of supply. Without it, our region will be critically short of petroleum products in years to come. In effect, although the aim of our government should be to secure a definite and increased flow of Canadian oil to the United States, imposition of your proposed tariff may indicate to the government of Canada that we seek to import less Canadian oil.

I respectfully urge that you give immediate consideration to exempting imports of crude oil from Canada from the import fee schedule which you have promulgated, pending prompt negotiations with the government of Canada on supply levels of Canadian crude oil to the United States. I believe that such an exemption would ease the inflationary burden of fuel prices in the Upper Midwest, and would substantially ease the task of our government in reading a mutual accomodation with the Government of Canada on the longer-range issues surrounding Canadian oil exports to the United States.

Sincerely,

Watter F. Mondale

Foreign Commerce.

a. Assignments to League Members to include the contact plan of the 114 (see item 11).

 Establish a small task force in the League headed by Cyr and including Loen and Hidalgo.

Comment: It will be the duty of the task force to monitor, pass on and direct League efforts.

J M 9. Develop a plan for the President's participation in the House effort to include the following:

 a. Special events such as breakfasts, suppers, small group socials. Give special attention to the possibility of morning coffee for 5-10 Members for a period of 20-30 minutes.

Comment: In any meetings with the President which are aimed at potential vote switchers, there should be an equal mix of individuals who are with us and will always include a representative of the House GOP Leadership unless he is having an exclusive Democratic meeting.

b. Set up a meeting with the President between the key Committee

GOP Leadership to include the Regional Whips and key committee GOP Leaders.

c. The President's plan should include suggested phone calls that he might make.

- d. Request editorial section to develop Presidential statements.

 - a. All House GOP Members
 - b. Entire House Membership.
 - c. A special letter to the 114 who voted with us.
 - d. Letter to Democrats only.

Comment: Try to get more than one signer to these letters, but use caution in approaching Democrats with this request.

13. Develop a special program to both retain and use the 16

Democratic votes we had.

5 M 14. Position papers for use between now and the veto votes should be developed by FEA and the following points should be noted:

> Inquire of those who will be leading the debate what type of informational backup they need.

b. Prepare a one-page issue status paper.

- c. Analyze the Democratic program in a one or two page summary.
- d. Establish an information central point where both those on the Hill and those in the Administration might make contact for information. There should be a named individual who would be the contact point. This name and number should be made available to our leaders.

- (1) The Northeastern situation.

- (4) Airlines.
- (5) Petro-chemicals.
- (6) Fertilizer.

15. Check with the Governor's Conference to determine what states there was evidenced the most support for the President's program.

Identify those who were helpful at the Conference.

16. Contact the key Committee staffers on the Hill who are Members of Committees who can be helpful and also establish staff contact in the Member's offices where staff can be helpful.

GA 17. Also, participants should report daily on the status of their assignments to Paul Cyr or the Office of Max Friedersdorf. Those having assignments should report daily the status of the same.

A18. FEA should be prepared to go to the Hill for briefings of either individual Members or groups of Members that might be arranged.

22. In the Administration, consideration should be given to a Veto

Task Force that might include the following:

Zarb

Marsh

Friedersdorf

Cyr

Cheney

Warren

23. There should be identified immediately constituent interest in key Congressional districts.

CEP 24. There should be identified immediately special economic and industrial interests without regard to area to include such things as:

CEA

petro-chemicals, airlines, fertilizers, commercial fishing, asphalt, etc. A complete list of adversely affected industries and economic groups should be prepared.

25. Encourage the establishment of a House veto team to include the following.

a. Rhodes.

b. Michel.

c. Members they designate

d. One or more key staffers.

Comment: This team would be the focal point for coordination of all veto plans and strategy and relaying of information to and from the Administration.

26.

The House veto would develop a plan for special orders in the coming week before the veto vote and for the participation of supporters every day on the one minute rule. The thrust of the speech and minute rule comments would be:

- a. Support of the Administration's position.
- Analysis and attack of alternate programs, or a program of do-nothing.

Comment: The preparation of materials and information for these speeches would be the responsibility of FEA.

27. The Administration negotiator would be designated, i.e., Frank

Zarb. This would be the only individual who would make Hill contacts with key leaders for the purpose of determining areas of modifications or possible compromise. He would first take soundings from the following:

- a. Rhodes, Michel, and other GOP Leaders.
- b. Waggonner and Satterfield.

Comment: It is very important that negotiations of this type be narrowly confined in order to prevent either misinformation or misunderstanding.

might be absent either because of events in their Congressional District or Committee assignments that may take them out of the country. It should be noted that for many of the Democrats the easiest way for them to be helpful is for them to miss the vote.

29. A press plan should be developed immediately amd in addition to regular news outlets, emphasis should be placed on encouraging columns and editorials.

Comment: The thrust should be analysis of the President's plan versus the alternative plan.

30. Develop a plan to respond to the inquiries of National constituencies,

STANDING COMMITTEES: AGRICULTURE AND FORESTRY BUDGET FINANCE POST OFFICE AND CIVIL SERVICE

BELECT AND SPECIAL COMMIT NUTRITION AND HUMAN NEEDS

SUBJECT: Amendment to Oil Import Duty Suspension Bill

PURPOSE: The amendment would suspend until May 1 the President's power to impose oil import fees in excess of the $1 per barrel fee which went into effect on February 1. It amends the House bill (H.R. 1767) which suspends retroactively to February 1 the President's power to impose any import duties.

OBJEC- Avoid confrontation between Congress and the President TIVE: to facilitate our moving toward a comprehensive solution of the energy problem. The amendment is a compromise between the President's plan to increase the import fees to $2 per barrel on March 1 and $3 per barrel on April 1 and the House bill which suspends altogether the President's plan to levy oil import duties for 90 days.

PRICE Under the $1 per barrel duty, which remains in effect under IMPACT: this amendment, the price of gasoline is expected to rise by about 1¢ to 2¢ per gallon.

- CAVEATS: Amendment provides for restoration of the President's power to impose higher quotas in the case of war, an embargo which reduces imports by at least 25 percent, a substantial price increase (25 percent or more), notwithstanding the suspension of Presidential power in Section 1 of the Act.
- NOTE: Shown above is the Dole proposal. It should be noted that the Senate staff is redrafting his proposal to include some levy on New England so that they do not escape fully the Presidential tariff of $1.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: JACK MARSH

In reference to White House meetings and briefings next week with Congressional members, the following is recommended.

- 1. Defer White House Senate events until the House has voted.
- 2. It is felt there are three broad categories that offer maximum possibilities:
 - (a) Those remaining House Republicans, Rank and File, who were not present Friday evening numbering 100.
 - (b) Freshmen members both Democrats and Republicans numbering 93.
 - (c) Conservative and Moderate Democrats, for reference purposes called the Waggonner Group, numbering possible 50 or slightly more.

Since the vote is expected on Wednesday and with your trip to Georgia, there is a limit as to how much can be done through programs at the White House. However, those of us in Legislative Affairs recommend the following:

- That Tuesday night be scheduled as a supper event. That the format of the program be the same as the format Friday night. (There is a variation of the evening meeting which is to have a cocktail reception and then a briefing in the East Room rather than a sit-down dinner.) There should be invited to this supper either of the following two groups:
 - (a) Remaining Republicans,
 - (b) All freshmen Congressmen from both Parties.

Strong arguments can be made for the selection of either of the above groups. When we met in legislative affairs our recommendation was to invite the freshmen; however, subsequent to our meeting, it was learned that Zarb will be meeting with the Freshmen Tuesday afternoon. It is felt that a number of the Freshmen have an open mind on this question and are reachable.

The argument for the remaining Republicans is to firm up the votes that we have the best chance to get. Also, they cannot say that they were ignored.

2. On Wednesday, we would recommend a breakfast meeting for the Waggonner group.

In the meantime the legislative affairs section will concentrate on personal calls to:

- 1. undecided Republicans,
- 2. 100 selected Democrats,
- 3. all Freshmen Members of Congress,
- 4. oil States' Members of Congress,
- 5. Rostenkowski followers.

Finally, should the vote occur on Thursday, and this is considered to be very unlikely, you could have an additional breakfast meeting on that day. Wednesday night is out because you have an official State dinner.

THE WHITE HOUSE

February 3, 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THRU:

JOHN O. MARSH, JR. MAX L. FRIEDERSDORF M. (). DOUGLAS P. BENNETT

FROM:

SUBJECT:

House Procedure Re-Consideration of Tariff Import 90 Day Delay Bill (H.R. 1767)

The Ways and Means Committee will request a closed rule waiving all points of order with permission for committee amendments and 4 hours of debate. The Rules Committee will hear this request Tuesday, February 4 at 10:30 a.m.

H.R. 1767 is the bill reported out of Ways and Means to suspend for a period of 90 days the President's authority under any provision of law to increase tariffs or take any other import adjustment action with respect to petroleum or petroleum products. Two committee amendments are tied to this bill.

The first is technical in nature exempting from the provisions of H.R. 1767 any Presidential proclamation or executive order under the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 issued before January 16, 1975. This to protect license fees or duties on petroleum which may have been in effect prior to this date.

The second is the increase in the authorized debt limit from $495 B to $531 B. This would carry the Treasury through June 30.

Assuming this rule is granted, the following will probably occur on Wednesday, February 5:

Rules Committee Chairman asks for right to bring bill to the (1)floor to debate rule (1 hour).

During debate, Republicans intend to argue for an open rule on (2)the basis that this is a "gag" rule inconsistent with past pronouncements of reform-minded Democrats.

(3) During or at close of debate, previous question on the rule could be moved in an effort to rewrite the rule on the floor. If agreed to, vote on the rule. If not agreed to, debate continues and amendments to the rule are in order.

(4) Vote on the rule. If defeated, bill goes back to Rules.

(5) Assuming rule agreed to, Chairman Ullman calls up H.R. 1767 and moves the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole.

(6) Committee of the Whole proceeds with 4 hours of debate time split equally between majority and minority. Discussion of committee amendments is likely to occur.

(7) Bill reported out of Committee of the Whole with recommendations.

(8) Speaker asks if there are Ways and Means Committee amendments.

(9) Chairman Ullman discusses two committee amendments (5 minutes allowed for each).

(10) Straight vote can occur on each amendment and will with respect to debt limit authorization amendment. If amendment agreed to, it would be tied to the tariff bill. If defeated and separated, Ways and Means Committee will bring back a separate debt limit authorization bill.

(11) Motion to recommit is in order. Rep. Schneebeli may make this motion and has two options.

(a) Straight motion to recommit back to Ways and Means.

(b) Assuming amendment agreed to and tied to tariff bill, motion to recommit with instructions to separate is in order.

(12) Vote on final passage

BREAKFAST MEETING WITH DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN

Wednesday, February 5, 1975 7:00-8:45 a.m. (1 hour, 45 minutes) The State Dining Room

From: Max L. Friedersdorf M.

I. PURPOSE

To gain support for the President's energy program and to encourage the defeat of a 90 day deferral of the President's authority to impose oil tariff increases.

II. BACKGROUND, PARTICIPANTS AND PRESS PLAN

A. Background:

- 1. Approximately 100 House Democrats have accepted the President's invitation to breakfast prior to the House vote later today on deferral of the President's tariff on oil imports.
- 2. The 90 day deferral bill has been separated from the Debt Limit Bill and will come to the Floor under a two hour modified open rule.
- 3. With the bills separated, support for the deferral is reportedly very strong on the Democratic side, and our Republican whip checks and subsequent follow-ups are disappointing.
- 4. Several factors seem to be working against us on the Democratic side: (a) the northeast problem; (b) fear of King Caucus among normally friendly Democrats; (c) increasing support for a quota system; and (d) concern about impact on the farm industry.
- 5. Our best estimate now is we can hold 105 to 110 Republicans on a vote to sustain a veto. We would need to pick up 35 to 40 Democratic votes.
- B. Participants: See Tab A
- C. Press Plan: Announce to the press as a Presidential working breakfast with Democratic Members of Congress.
- III. TALKING POINTS See Tab B
- IV. AGENDA See Tab C

TALKING POINTS

- I am delighted to see so many of you at this hour, and I am sure our constituents will be pleased we are on the job so early.
- 2. We have held several meetings early this session for the leadership on our energy and economic proposals.
- 3. In an effort to give more Members a better understanding of our initiatives, we hope to meet with other groups from the Congress.
- 4. I believe as you examine all aspects of the energy problem, you will recognize, as we have, there are no easy answers if we are to deal effectively with this challenge.
- 5. We have sent up to the Congress recommendations that we sincerely believe address the two goals of conservation and self-sufficiency
- 6. We cannot continue to drift and become more dependent on foreign imports, while at the same time neglecting our own productive capacity.
- 7. If the United States is to continue to play a leading role in the affairs of the world, regain domestic prosperity and protect our security we must act now.
- 8. If the OPEC nations observe that we do not have the courage to add $1.00 on imports, they will not hesitate to raise their prices, as they have done twice since the embargo.
- 9. With our 40% dependency on imports, and the trend going upward, we are at the mercy of others in the conduct of our foreign policy, and in maintaining the viability of our own economy.
- 10. Gentlemen, this crisis will not go away. I have taken the first step to regain our independency. We need to take more action, as I have indicated in my energy package. But, today on the House Floor, I hope that this first step we have taken will not be lost, and I earnestly solicit your support.

AGENDA

7:00-7:15 a.m. (15 minutes)

7:15-7:30 a.m. (15 minutes)

8:30-8:45 a.m. (15 minutes)

8:45 a.m.

Breakfast served.

The President introduces Secretary Kissinger who addresses the group on foreign policy implications of the energy crisis and resulting damage of oil tariff deferral.

The President introduces Alan Greenspan who talks on domestic consequences and dangers of the 90 day deferral.

The President introduces Frank Zarb who addresses the fallacies of rationing and the advantages and rationale of the President's program.

The President and staff (Kissinger, Greenspan and Zarb) answer questions.

The President summarizes his program and stresses the importance of the vote today.

Meeting adjourns.

Vote on HR 1769 to Prohibit the Imposition of Tariffs, Fees, and Quotas

2/5/75-

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 6, 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THROUGH:

FROM:

DONALD RUMSFELD

JACK MARSH MAX L. FRIEDERSDORF

WILLIAM T. KENDALL WIL PATRICK O'DONNELL 000

SUBJECT:

Senate Strategy on Kennedy-Jackson Resolution

Background: The House passed and is sending to the Senate H.R. 1767 to suspend for a period of 90 days the authority of the President under section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 to increase tariffs, etc. This is the companion measure of Senate version of S.J.Res. 12 (Kennedy-Jackson).

It is expected that when it arrives in the Senate Friday, February 7 the measure will be referred to the Senate Finance Committee where Senator Long will begin hearings immediately in an effort to report out a Senate version by the middle of next week. Since proponents will not be able to get unanimous consent to get it on the calendar it must lay over for three legislative days before it can go on. Thus, we are looking at a possible date of February 20 or 21, which is also the time Rule XXII is to come up.

Problems: Psychologically, the size of the House vote will not help. In addition, there are arguments in the Senate which are gaining some ground: (1) a feeling that most of the increase in tax should go to gasoline (2) the fee is inflationary (an argument gaining with conservative Democrats) (3) need for import restrictions and gas rationing. Another factor is the way the bill is reported out of committee by Senator Long. He is under pressure from the liberals to move quickly. He knows we don't have the votes (yet) to sustain a veto.

From our conversation with Senator Long today, it is apparent he has promised to finish hearings by Monday, February 10 -- a price he probably had to pay in order to get it referred to his committee rather than moved from the table as had been planned by proponents. He also appears to want to report the bill by the middle of next week, apparently so that the requisite number of legislative days will have passed during the "recess".

He advised us not to try to hold up the bill in committee but to get it out on the floor for a vote. He feels Kennedy and Jackson will try to call up their resolution ahead of the debt limit bill so as to hold the latter hostage. Senator Long says we should get a vote on both and have the showdown on the veto override attempt. He said he would vote to sustain.

This runs contrary to our thinking which was to delay at every step of the process and to filibuster. We need guidance from you and from the Senate Republican Leadership as well as from Senator Fannin. We will talk with them tomorrow.

Our own feeling is that we must delay a vote until we are sure we have at least 34 solid votes in opposition to Kennedy-Jackson.

A suggested schedule:

February 17	Meeting with the Steering Committee Breakfast or Dinner (This is now planned for February 21 but should be moved up as time is short)
February 18 February 19	Dinner with the Wednesday Club Breakfast with Southern Democrats

Other suggestions:

FEA must talk to Senator Buckley about his plea for product exemptions Secretary Simon must talk with Senator Byrd of Virginia to reassure him about inflationary aspects of tariff.

Senator Mathias and Javits might go along if we accept parts of their "plans" for the total program.

Someone has to make sure Senator Stafford understands the New England exception.

Preliminary soundings:

Solid Republicans:

Helms
Hruska
Laxalt
McClure
Pearson
Percy
Scott (Pa.)
Scott (Va.)
Stevens
Thurmond
Tower
Young

Solid Democrats: Allen Byrd (Va.) Cannon

Republicans Leaning to us

Baker

Buckley (talking about product exemptions)

Fong (concerned, impact on home state)

Packwood (was O.K. but was turned off by someone down here in Walker's shop) Pearson

Roth (home state impact-wants exemption as New England has) Taft

Republicans Opposed: Brooke Case Hatfield Schweicker Stafford Weicker

Leaning Pro K-J Javits (has his version of K-J) Mathias (wants to bargain)

Note: Although Hatfield and Stafford signed on to K-J, they appear to be wavering. We will work on them.

Some Democrats will support us on cloture but probably not on final passage: McClellan Nunn

Talmadge

Summary: We have roughly 22 sure Republicans and 3 Democrats. Leaning are 6 Republicans and 3 or 4 Democrats. The target group is the moderate Republicans. We need all those leaning to us and 3 moderates to make 34. February 7, 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR:

DON RUMSFELD

FROM:

JACK MARSH

SUBJECT:

Senate Legislative Plan/Oil Tariffs

This memo should be attached as an addendum to the basic memo from Kendall and O'Donnell on the above subject to yeu dated February 6.

In addition to those suggestions set out on page 2 involving the President's schedule for meetings with Members of the Senate, the following actions and recommendations are proposed:

- The Senate Legislative Office is serving the Senate to ascertain those members who will be in Washington all or part of aext week.
- 2. Based upon the above survey it is suggested
 - a. Provide small meetings with one or more Members of the Senate.
 - b. Breakfast for two or three Senators.
 - c. Small supper party for three to five Members of the Senate.

Next week upon his return, it is recommended the first priority would be attention to Republican leaders and secondly, special attention to Senators who fall into the undecided category.

SELECT AND SPECIAL COMMITTEE NUTERING AND HUMAN NEEDS

SUBJECT: Amendment to Oil Import Duty Suspension Bill

- PURPOSE: The amendment would suspend until May 1 the President's power to impose oil import fees in excess of the $1 per barrel fee which went into effect on February 1. It amends the House bill (H.R. 1767) which suspends retroactively to February 1 the President's power to impose any import duties.
- OBJEC-TIVE: Avoid confrontation between Congress and the President to facilitate our moving toward a comprehensive solution of the energy problem. The amendment is a compromise between the President's plan to increase the import fees to $2 per barrel on March 1 and $3 per barrel on April 1 and the House bill which suspends altogether the President's plan to levy oil import duties for 90 days.
- PRICE Under the $1 per barrel duty, which remains in effect under IMPACT: this amendment, the price of gasoline is expected to rise by about 1¢ to 2¢ per gallon.
- CAVEATS: Amendment provides for restoration of the President's power to impose higher quotas in the case of war, an embargo which reduces imports by at least 25 percent, a substantial price increase (25 percent or more), notwithstanding the suspension of Presidential power in Section 1 of the Act.
- NOTE: Shown above is the Dole proposal. It should be noted that the Senate staff is redrafting his proposal to include some levy on New England so that they do not escape fully the Presidential tariff of $1.
