[March 1975?]

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: TAX CUT BILL

A summary of the tax cut bill enacted yesterday is attached. It would reduce 1975 tax liabilities by approximately $23 billion, which is about $6 1/2 billion more than you requested.

Undesirable Items

The bill contains several items which are especially undesirable:

(1) Changes of a permanent nature in individual liabilities.

The bill increases the standard deduction and provides a new $30 per taxpayer credit in addition to the personal exemption. Together those items lose about $8 billion of revenues. Technically they have been written to apply only to 1975. While the necessity for reenactment may possibly provide an occasion to raise revenues or cut expenditures, past experience does not provide much hope in that connection. In the business area, there are an additional $4.8 billion of changes, also of a permanent nature, part of which are effective for one year and part for two years.

(2) Social security distribution.

A $50 distribution will be made to each person on the social security rolls, for a total revenue loss of $1.7 billion. This is a bad precedent in so far as general revenues are used to make payments to social security recipients. The relief provided will be duplicated later on when the cost of living increase goes into effect. While this does not seem likely to become a permanent program, we can expect strong pressures for such payments in the future whenever tax reductions are enacted.

(3) Earned income credit.

This is a new and undesirable welfare type program, which tends to undercut the insurance concept of social security. Since both the House and Senate bills contained an earned income provision (with differences of detail), we are unlikely to get rid of it unless something worse is put in its place. A redeeming aspect of the earned income credit is that it makes other, worse approaches somewhat less likely.

Payroll taxes are virtually certain to become a major political issue in the next two years. There has been much debate on whether they are too high and too regressive, and the debate is part of the larger issue of whether we can really afford the kind of social security system we Something along the lines of the earned income credit may be the best defense to a much more radical change, such as the other proposed funding of a part of social security from the general revenues. It reduces the impact of the payroll taxes, but confines the reduction to a relatively small amount and a relatively small group of persons. At the same time, it operates indirectly through the income tax system, and permits us to keep intact the principle that social security is an insurance scheme under which people get what they pay for.

(4) Housing credit.

This credit is self liquidating because it is confined to new housing built or in progress on March 26. It is a waste of money and will probably serve largely to permit builders to move existing houses without cutting prices. However, in its present form there is a good chance it will disappear completely, although Congress often becomes enamored of such provisions once adopted.

Permanence of the Tax Provisions

As noted, the changes in the standard deduction, the $30 credit, the earned income credit and the business changes are very likely to become permanent. They add up to about $15 billion.

The quasi-permanent nature of these changes has disturbing implications as we consider (1) how to turn off the stimulus later on and (2) how to prevent large inflation-inducing deficits in later years. The latter question is solved only if lesser revenues cause expenditures to be held down. Even if that should be the case, however, there would likely be a lag of several years before the reduction effect on the deficit is fully accomplished. Thus it seems inevitable that in the next couple of years we will have extraordinary large deficits and probably excessive stimulus a little later.

Your original proposals called for a one shot stimulus, and, to that extent, did not need to be "turned off." In order to turn off the stimulus from these "permanent provisions," however, Congress will have to refrain from reenacting them for 1976. Since the economy will undoubtedly still be operating below par when that issue arises later this year, and since we will be even closer to November 1976, the prospects do not seem auspicious.

While this aspect is possibly the most compelling ground for vetoing the bill, it would be difficult to complain to the public about "permanent" changes when Congress expressly made the provisions applicable for only one year (except in the case of the investment credit, which is for two years).

Chances of a Better Bill

It is not clear that we could expect a substantially better bill even if a veto were sustained. It seems unlikely that Congress would give up the "permanent" changes for individuals. The social security provisions and the earned income credit are attractive to more voters than the business provisions, and there would be considerable pressure to do any cutting in the investment credit area. We might get rid of the housing credit. At best we are likely to get a bill $2 or $3 billion less than the current bill. In the face of projected deficits in the neighborhood of $100 billion, it will be hard to convince Congress and the electorate that it is worth holding up a needed stimulus for that small difference.

Grounds for a Veto

- (1) Total Revenue Loss. This is probably the only issue that the man in the street would understand. However, we are in the position of having proposed $16 1/2 billion of it ourselves.
- (2) Undesirable Provisions. The reasons for our objections to specific undesirable items are more sophisticated than the ordinary voter will comprehend, but, in combination, would perhaps be saleable.
- (3) Permanent Aspects. This is possibly the most important ground for a veto, but it is hard to make it convincing when the provisions are technically effective only for 1975.
- (4) A Major Obstacle to Real Tax and Welfare Reform. Difficult to explain but a sound substantive reason for veto.
- (5) Eliminates 6 million from the Tax Rolls. Our own proposals in the energy package would eliminate a substantial number of these taxpayers.
- (6) Eliminates Oil Depletion Except for Independent Producers. It thus reduces capital available for energy program. Elimination with independent produces exemption substantially complicates law.

Grounds for Signing

- (1) Fastest way to achieve fiscal stimulus.
- (2) Provides opportunity to draw the line on any new spending programs.
- (3) Some of the mostobjectionable provisions can be attacked when law is reconsidered at end of its one year term.
- (4) Provides a tax cut as requested in State of the Union tho not of the type requested.
- (5) New unemployment figures are expected to be adverse and may give impetus to a worse bill.

SUMMARY OF TAX CUT BILL

Rebate of 1974 taxes

--rebate generally equals 10% of 1974 tax liability --minimum rebate equals lesser of actual tax liability or $100

--maximum rebate equals $200, phased down to $100 between

AGI $20,000 and $30,000

--for married persons filing separately, $50 minimum, $100 maximum and phase down between $10,000 and $15,000 --rebates disregarded for purposes of other benefit programs

Standard deduction changes 2.

- --minimum standard deduction (low income allowance) increased from $1,300 per return ($650 for married persons filing separately) to $1,900 for a joint return or surviving spouse, $1,600 for single persons, and $950 for married persons filing separately
- --maximum standard deduction increased from 15% of AGI (with a maximum of $2,000, or $1,000 for a married person filing separately) to 16% of AGI (with a maximum of $2,600 for a joint return or surviving spouse, $2,300 for a single person, and $1,300 for married persons filing separately
- --effective for one year (generally 1975 calendar year)

Personal exemption tax credit 3.

--new $30 per exemption tax credit (except blind and aged exemptions) in addition to present law personal exemptions --effective for one year (generally 1975 calendar year)

Earned income credit

--refundable credit equal to 10% of earned income of an eligible individual, with maximum of $400

-- to be eligible, must maintain a household within the United States that includes a dependent child

--maximum credit phased down to zero between AGI $4,000 and AGI $8,000

--under AFDC provisions, the earned income credit is taken into account in determining AFDC eligibility

--effective for one year (generally 1975 calendar year)

5. Child care deduction

--increases the income level at which the phase out of the maximum allowable deduction ($4,800) begins. The old phase out began at $18,000, phasing down to zero at $27,600. The new phase out begins at $35,000, phasing down to zero at $44,600.

--permanent change

6. Sale of principal residence

--increases from 12 to 18 months the period during which the seller of an old principal residence must purchase a new principal residence, if he wishes to apply section 1034 to avoid recognition of gain. When construction of the new principal residence is begun by the taxpayer himself, the period is increased from 18 to 24 months.
--permanent change

7. House purchase credit

--new tax credit for purchases of a principal residence equal to 5% of the taxpayer's tax basis, with maximum credit of $2,000. A taxpayer's tax basis in a new principal residence may be less than cost if, for example, he sold an old principal residence, avoided recognition of gain through the application of section 1034, and was required to reduce his basis in the new principal residence by the amount of gain not recognized.

--applies only to purchases of new houses (including mobile homes and residential units in condominiums or cooperative housing projects). That is, the taxpayer must be the first occupant.

--applies only to new houses, etc., the construction of which was commenced prior to March 26, 1975.

--purchaser must attach to his tax return a certification by the seller that the purchase price is the lowest price at which the residence was ever offered for sale. If the certification is false, the purchaser may recover, in a civil action, three times the difference between the purchase price and the lowest offered price (plus a reasonable attorney's fee) and the seller may be prosecuted

--effective for acquisitions after March 12, 1975, and before January 1, 1977, but applies to 1976 acquisitions only if constructed by the taxpayer or acquired by the taxpayer under a binding contract entered into before January 1, 197

8. Withholding

--new withholding tables reflecting standard deduction changes, personal exemption tax credit, and earned income credit to take effect May 1, 1975. vises that employers may be unable to meet that deadline even if new tables made available by IRS in record time.

9. Investment credit

--two year increase in investment credit from 7% (4% in the case of public utilities) to 10%. Upon lapse of the temporary increase, public utilities would again be eligible for a 4% credit only.

--additional 1% credit (for total 11% credit) during the two year temporary period for corporate taxpayers only and on condition that stock of the taxpayer (or a parent corporation) having a value equal to the tax savings generated by the additional 1% credit is transferred to an employee stock ownership plan (ESOP). No deduction is allowed to the employer for the transferred stock, and the employees are not taxed until they receive distributions from the plan. The plan may be a qualified or a nonqualified plan.

--for public utilities, increase in the portion of tax liability that may be offset by the investment credit from 50% to: 100% in 1975 and 1976, 90% in 1977, 80% in 1978, 70% in 1979, 60% in 1980, and back to 50% in

subsequent years

--increase from $25,000 to $100,000 in amount of used property that may qualify for investment credit

--provision for credit to be allowed as progress payments are made, a permanent change

10. Corporate tax rate changes

--surtax exemption (which determines amount taxable at rates below 48%) increased from $25,000 to $50,000 of taxable income

--rate on first $25,000 of taxable income reduced from 22% to 20% (second $25,000 of taxable income will be taxable at 22% rate, balance of income at 48% rate)

--effective for taxable years ending in 1975

11. Accumulated earnings tax

--minimum accumulated earnings tax credit increased from $100,000 to $150,000

--permanent change

12. Work Incentive (WIN) Program Tax Credit

--win credit of 20% of wages paid to a new employee during first 12 months of employment extended to employment of welfare recipients if employment lasts at least one month. Under present law, the new employee must be a participant in the WIN program administered by the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare and must be employed for at least 24 months

--as under present law, the new employee may not displace

another employee

--unlike present law, the expanded credit would apply to nonbusiness employees (e.g., domestics), but the maximum credit with respect to each such nonbusiness employee would be $200

--employment of migrant workers not covered

--effective with respect to wages paid to employees hired after the date of enactment for services rendered between the date of enactment and July 1, 1976

13. Certain Pension Plan Contributions

--for H.R. 10 plans, advanced by one year (to 1976 contributions for 1975 plan years) a provision permitting cash basis taxpayers to treat contributions made before April 15 as having been made in the preceding year

14. Unemployment compensation

--extends the maximum period of benefits from 52 to 65 weeks, for weeks of unemployment ending before July 1, 1975

15. Payment to Social Security Recipients

--provides $50 payment to each individual who for the month of March, 1975, was entitled (without regard to sections 202(j)(1) and 223(b) of title II of the Social Security Act and without the application of section 5(a)(ii) of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974) to (1) a monthly insurance benefit under title II of the Social Security Act, (2) a monthly annuity or pension payment under one of the Railroad Retirement Acts, or (3) a benefit under SSI

--payments to be made no later than August 31, 1975

-- any individual entitled to only one such payment

--only United States residents are eligible

--payments to be disregarded for purposes of other programs

Note respecting permanence of changes

As noted above, virtually all of the tax changes and increased benefits are drafted as temporary changes and benefits effective for only one year, or at most two years. The only permanent changes are: (1) the provision for the investment credit to be allowed on progress payments, (2) the raising of the phase-out level for the child care expense deduction, (3) the expansion of the tax-free rollover period for sales of a principal residence, and (4) the increase in the accumulated earnings tax credit.

16. Limitation on percentage depletion

--eliminated immediately for majors

--exception: 22% retained for all producers for regulated natural gas and natural gas sold under fixed contract

--royalty interest owners and independents (producers with no retail outlets who refine less than 50,000 bbl/day)

have small production exemption

--small production exemption: 22% remains for 2,000 bbl/day and phases down 200 bbl/day each year for 5 years, then holds at 1,000 while rate phases down: 20% for 1981, 18% for 1982, 16% for 1983, so that for 1984 and thereafter the exemption is 1,000 bbl/day at 15% (applies alternatively at taxpayer's election to natural gas on 6,000 cu. ft.: 1 bbl. equivalence)

--for secondary and tertiary production the rate under the small production exemption stays at 22% until 1984 when

it drops to 15%

--except for new fields acquired in section 351 transfer or transfer at death, small production exemption applies to production from new fields only if discovered by taxpayer

--aggregation rules prevent multiple exemptions for related entities. Family members treated as one taxpayer

--depletion allowance under small production exemption limited to 65% of taxpayer's taxable income (computed without regard to any depletion on small production amount, capital loss or NOL carrybacks).

17. Foreign Oil-Related Income

--new limitation on foreign tax credits of oil companies to 110 percent of the U.S. rate in 1975 (52.8 percent of income); 105 percent of the U.S. rate in 1976 (50.4 percent of U.S. income) and 50 percent of U.S. income in 1977

--carryforwards from years prior to 1974 to years after 1974 will be computed as though the foregoing rules were in effect during those years

Foreign Oil-Related Income (continued) 17.

--excess credits resulting from the application of these rules can only be used to shelter other oil-related income, including income from shipping, refining, marketing, interest, and dividends

--requires for taxable years beginning after 1975, the use of the overall limitation in the computation of the foreign tax credits of oil companies

--new recapture rule for losses incurred in oil operations; foreign oil income earned after December 31, 1975, will be treated as U.S. source income to the extent of any oil related losses sustained after that date

--bars use of tax credits with respect to the purchase of oil where the taxpayer does not have an economic interest in such oil and where such oil is not purchased and sold at its fair market value. This provision is effective for years after December 31, 1974

Deferral - Changes in Subpart F 18.

--terminates the minimum distributions exception to subpart F (Section 963)

--terminates the exception to subpart F which allows deferral where tax haven income is reinvested in a less developed

country corporation

--revises the present rule permitting deferral of tax on foreign tax haven income where less than 30 percent of such income is tax haven income to terminate such deferral where the tax haven income exceeds 10 percent of income

--terminates the exception to subpart F for shipping income except where such income is reinvested in shipping

operations

--allows deferral of income on sales by a foreign sales corporation of agricultural products which are not grown in commercially marketable quantities in the U.S.

--all of the foregoing changes are effective in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1975

19. DISC

--terminates DISC deferral privileges for sales of energy resources such as coal, oil, and uranium

--effective for sales made after March 18, 1975

20. Oil Rigs - Investment Tax Credit

--disallows investment tax credit for oil rigs used in international or territorial waters outside the northern portion of the western hemisphere effective for investments after March 18, 1975, unless made pursuant to contracts binding on April 1, 1974

--new withholding tables reflecting standard deduction changes, personal exemption tax credit, and earned income credit to take effect May 1, 1975. IRS advises that employers may be unable to meet that deadline even if new tables made available by IRS in record time.

9. Investment credit

--two year increase in investment credit from 7% (4% in the case of public utilities) to 10%. Upon lapse of the temporary increase, public utilities would again be eligible for a 4% credit only.

--additional 1% credit (for total 11% credit) during the two year temporary period for corporate taxpayers only and on condition that stock of the taxpayer (or a parent corporation) having a value equal to the tax savings generated by the additional 1% credit is transferred to an employee stock ownership plan (ESOP). No deduction is allowed to the employer for the transferred stock, and the employees are not taxed until they receive distributions from the plan. The plan may be a qualified or a nonqualified plan.

--for public utilities, increase in the portion of tax liability that may be offset by the investment credit from 50% to: 100% in 1975 and 1976, 90% in 1977, 80% in 1978, 70% in 1979, 60% in 1980, and back to 50% in

subsequent years

--increase from $25,000 to $100,000 in amount of used property that may qualify for investment credit

--provision for credit to be allowed as progress payments are made, a permanent change

10. Corporate tax rate changes

- --surtax exemption (which determines amount taxable at rates below 48%) increased from $25,000 to $50,000 of taxable income
- --rate on first $25,000 of taxable income reduced from 22% to 20% (second $25,000 of taxable income will be taxable at 22% rate, balance of income at 48% rate)
- --effective for taxable years ending in 1975

11. Accumulated earnings tax

- --minimum accumulated earnings tax credit increased from $100,000 to $150,000
- --permanent change

12. Work Incentive (WIN) Program Tax Credit

--win credit of 20% of wages paid to a new employee during first 12 months of employment extended to employment of welfare recipients if employment lasts at least one month. Under present law, the new employee must be a participant in the WIN program administered by the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare and must be employed for at least 24 months

--as under present law, the new employee may not displace

another employee

--unlike present law, the expanded credit would apply to nonbusiness employees (e.g., domestics), but the maximum credit with respect to each such nonbusiness employee would be $200

--employment of migrant workers not covered

--effective with respect to wages paid to employees hired after the date of enactment for services rendered between the date of enactment and July 1, 1976

13. Certain Pension Plan Contributions

--for H.R. 10 plans, advanced by one year (to 1976 contributions for 1975 plan years) a provision permitting cash basis taxpayers to treat contributions made before April 15 as having been made in the preceding year

14. Unemployment compensation

--extends the maximum period of benefits from 52 to 65 weeks, for weeks of unemployment ending before July 1, 1975

15. Payment to Social Security Recipients

- --provides $50 payment to each individual who for the month of March, 1975, was entitled (without regard to sections 202(j)(1) and 223(b) of title II of the Social Security Act and without the application of section 5(a)(ii) of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974) to (1) a monthly insurance benefit under title II of the Social Security Act, (2) a monthly annuity or pension payment under one of the Railroad Retirement Acts, or (3) a benefit under SSI
- --payments to be made no later than August 31, 1975
- -- any individual entitled to only one such payment

--only United States residents are eligible

-- payments to be disregarded for purposes of other programs

Note respecting permanence of changes

As noted above, virtually all of the tax changes and increased benefits are drafted as temporary changes and benefits effective for only one year, or at most two years. The only permanent changes are: (1) the provision for the investment credit to be allowed on progress payments, (2) the raising of the phase-out level for the child care expense deduction, (3) the expansion of the tax-free rollover period for sales of a principal residence, and (4) the increase in the accumulated earnings tax credit.

16. Limitation on percentage depletion

--eliminated immediately for majors

--exception: 22% retained for all producers for regulated natural gas and natural gas sold under fixed contract

--royalty interest owners and independents (producers with no retail outlets who refine less than 50,000 bbl/day)

have small production exemption

--small production exemption: 22% remains for 2,000 bbl/day and phases down 200 bbl/day each year for 5 years, then holds at 1,000 while rate phases down: 20% for 1981, 18% for 1982, 16% for 1983, so that for 1984 and thereafter the exemption is 1,000 bbl/day at 15% (applies alternatively at taxpayer's election to natural gas on 6,000 cu. ft.: 1 bbl. equivalence)

--for secondary and tertiary production the rate under the small production exemption stays at 22% until 1984 when

it drops to 15%

--except for new fields acquired in section 351 transfer or transfer at death, small production exemption applies to production from new fields only if discovered by taxpayer

--aggregation rules prevent multiple exemptions for related entities. Family members treated as one taxpayer

--depletion allowance under small production exemption limited to 65% of taxpayer's taxable income (computed without regard to any depletion on small production amount, capital loss or NOL carrybacks).

17. Foreign Oil-Related Income

--new limitation on foreign tax credits of oil companies to 110 percent of the U.S. rate in 1975 (52.8 percent of income); 105 percent of the U.S. rate in 1976 (50.4 percent of U.S. income) and 50 percent of U.S. income in 1977

--carryforwards from years prior to 1974 to years after 1974 will be computed as though the foregoing rules were in effect during those years

Foreign Oil-Related Income (continued) 17.

--excess credits resulting from the application of these rules can only be used to shelter other oil-related income, including income from shipping, refining, marketing, interest, and dividends

--requires for taxable years beginning after 1975, the use of the overall limitation in the computation of the

foreign tax credits of oil companies

--new recapture rule for losses incurred in oil operations; foreign oil income earned after December 31, 1975, will be treated as U.S. source income to the extent of any oil related losses sustained after that date

--bars use of tax credits with respect to the purchase of oil where the taxpayer does not have an economic interest in such oil and where such oil is not purchased and sold at its fair market value. This provision is effective for years after December 31, 1974

Deferral - Changes in Subpart F 18.

--terminates the minimum distributions exception to subpart F (Section 963)

--terminates the exception to subpart F which allows deferral where tax haven income is reinvested in a less developed

country corporation

--revises the present rule permitting deferral of tax on foreign tax haven income where less than 30 percent of such income is tax haven income to terminate such deferral where the tax haven income exceeds 10 percent of income

--terminates the exception to subpart F for shipping income except where such income is reinvested in shipping

operations

--allows deferral of income on sales by a foreign sales corporation of agricultural products which are not grown in commercially marketable quantities in the U.S.

--all of the foregoing changes are effective in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1975

DISC 19.

--terminates DISC deferral privileges for sales of energy resources such as coal, oil, and uranium --effective for sales made after March 18, 1975

20. Oil Rigs - Investment Tax Credit

--disallows investment tax credit for oil rigs used in international or territorial waters outside the northern portion of the western hemisphere effective for investments after March 18, 1975, unless made pursuant to contracts binding on April 1, 1974

MEMORANDUM FOR:

MAX L. FRIEDERSDORF

FROM:

WILLIAM T. KENDALL

SUBJECT:

The Tax Reduction Bill Amendment by Senator Mansfield

Senator Mansfield was successful in recommitting the tax bill today by a vote of 85-11 with instructions. Senators are getting restless and sensitive to White House criticism for dallying on the bill. They were deadlocked on Pastore's 8.7% increase which was being talked to death. Mansfield surprised all by rising with a motion to send the bill back to committee with instructions to report out a new bill, stripped of the $1 billion break for failing companies and the foreign tax thing of Hartke's. As a compromise of the Pastore social security increase, they now have a $100 one-time payment to us old folks on social security.

Total cost of the package is $31 billion with still more amendments to come. It is essentially the Senate Finance Committee bill with the following additions:

- -- The above mentioned social security provisions
- --Rebates of '74 taxes would be increased from 10% $200 MAXIMUM to 12% and $240 maximum with minimum of $120 if at least that much was paid in taxes.
- --5% credit on NEW homes only to maximum of $2000.

In a later vote the foreign tax thing was again hooked on by Hartke. Oh, yes! The Gil depletion amendment was also wiped out!

FROM: MAX PRIEDERSDORF

SUBJECT: The Tax Reduction Bill

Consideration of the tax reduction bill is expected to continue throughout the evening and they still expect to finish the bill sometime tomorrow.

The recommittal motion by Senator Mansfield which carried by 85-11, broke a dead lock on extended consideration of Pastore's 8.7% social security increase which was in the process of being talked to death.

Our Senate liaison staff reports that the Senators are getting increasingly restless and particularly sensitive to White House criticism for delaying the bill.

Mansfield surprised the Senate by offering a motion to send the bill back to committee with instructions to report out a new bill, strip the $1 billion Lockheed, Pan Am, Chrysler tax break for failing companies and a foreign tax amendment of Senator Hartke's.

As a compromise on the Pastore social security increase, they now have a $100 one time payment to social security recipients.

Total cost of the package is $31 billion with additional amendments expected. The bill that is now being worked on is essentially the Senate Finance Committee bill with the following additions:

- 1. The above mentioned social security provisions.
- 2. Rebates of 74 tames would be increased from 10% with a $200 maximum to 12% and a $240 maximum with a minimum of $120 if at least that much was paid in taxes.
- 3. A 5% credit on new homes to a maximum of $2000.

In a subsequent vote today the foreign tax amendment was again attached to the bill by Hartke.

At this writing the oil depletion repealer which was wiped out by the Mansfield recommittal, is again being considered under a Hollings amendment.

It is predicted that cloture may be obtained tomorrow and the bill concluded sometime later on Friday.

If this is accomplished, the House Ways and Means and the Senate Finance Committee staffs would work over the weekend on preparation for the start of a conference on Monday with a goal of completion by Wednesday before the racess starts.

CONSENSUS

Messrs: Simon, Weinberger, Lynn, Seidman, and Seever

- 1. Make it clear that Senate Bill is unacceptable and would be vetoed.
- 2. Support House Bill provided the earned income credit is removed.
- 3. Indicate that would accept bill of $20 billion, but without earned income credit.
- 4. Object specifically and strongly to the following:

Earned income credit.
Foreign provisions on deferral and foreign tax credits.
Special distribution to social security recipients.
Housing credit.

Also list as objectionable:

Child care Truck excises.

GENERAL COMMENT

1. Size of total reduction:

	Gross	Net of Revenue Gainers
House	19.9	17.7
Senate	33.9	30.2

2. Revenue gainers:

a. Depletion elimination -- House $2.2 Senate $1.6+

Difference between the bills is that the House ends all depletion, but the Senate contains a permanent exemption for production under 2,000 barrels a day.

Our prior position, expressed by Simon and Hickman in several Committee appearances last year; was: (1) we are opposed to eliminating depletion, (2) if it is to be eliminated, it should be eliminated for everybody, but possibly with a transitional phase-out for independents. Out best guess is that a deal has been more or less cut by Long & Ullman to give independents a long phase-out but not a complete exemption. That solution would be consistent with our prior position.

We will undoubtedly be asked about our position on the independent exemption. Do we (1) reaffirm our prior position, (2) disavow it, or (3) refuse to express view at this time?

b. Foreign provision

Eliminates foreign tax credit for oil and gas activities.		$1.5 B. 1.0 B.
Makes earnings of foreign subsidiaries currently taxable.	Treas. Hartke	$1.3 B.

These are very bad provisions, not carefully considered.

3. Rebate:

Senate provides greater rebate with higher cap than House. We prefer additional rebate to more permanent items.

4. Standard deduction:

This increase in low income allowance (i.e., minimum standard deduction) is similar to what we proposed in the energy package. It does not help itemizers except to the extent that a more generous deduction may cause many to switch to the standard deduction. Unions have criticized it for this reason, and both the Mondale $200 per exemption credit and the Bentsen 1% reduction in the first four brackets respond to that criticism.

5. $200 optional credit (Mondale):

Provides major tax premium on larger number of children. Greatly complicates millions of returns.

Raises nontaxable threshold to:

Family of	AGI
1	2,733
2	4,167
3	5,405
4	6,458
5	7,511
6	8,563

Combined with increased standard deduction would raise nontaxable threshold to:

Family of	AGI
1	3,333
2	5,367
3	6,605
4	7,658
5	8,711
6	9,763

6. Reduce brackets on first $4,000 of taxable income by 1% (Bentsen)

Amounts to $40 per taxpayer for taxpayer's taxable income of $4,000 or more.

Slight benefit ($40) for upper income taxpayers.

7. Earned income credit

In any form, this credit adds a new categorical welfare program and a new agency to the existing jumble. It also undercuts the social security system to extent it is designed and perceived to refund a portion of social security taxes.

House - 5% of earned income for everyone, phasing out between $4,000 and $6,000. $3.0 billion

More equitable than Senate version in the sense that deserving persons without children are also covered. Better phase-out.

Senate- 10% of earned income confined to families with children, phasing out between $4,000 and $8,000. $1.7 billion.

Costs less than House version, avoids giving credit to students, etc., less likely to be seen as undercutting social security.

8. Housing Credit

Very bad. Pays largely for what would be done anyway; unlikely to go away; estimates of large effect on housing starts seem unbelievable to Treasury and OMB economists; does nothing for multi-family units; increases existing tax bias towards single family home ownership.

Senate: 5% with $2,000 maximum, new homes only, confined to homes purchased March -- December 1975. $1 billion.

HUD: 5% up to $1,500 maximum, new homes only, limited to AGI's under $20,000, phasing out from $20,000 to $25,000. HUD estimates 426,000 new starts for entire year 1975, $1.22 billion. Treasury estimates 20,000 additional units and $425 million loss.

9. Social Security distribution

$100 to each social security recipient.

Very expensive. Costs more than Pastore proposal (for which it was a substitute) to make social security increases retroactive to first of the year. Precedent for funding social security from general fund.

Might be recast as an option for taxpayers to take this or the rebate. That would help keep the temporary character and cut the revenue loss some.

10. Child Care

Provides business expense deduction without limitation for household services and care of children or disabled person, where both spouses are working or one disabled.

Revenue loss could be $1.5 billion or higher. (Senate used $800 million figure.)

This is a woman's lib proposal. There is now in the Code a child care deduction that is very complicated and very limited. We supported a much more restricted liberalization last year as part of simplification program.

Ways and Means bill last year liberalized existing provisions, but was much more limited.

11. Home Energy Credit

Substantially more expensive than Administration proposal. Belongs in energy bill. But it is similar to our proposal and hard to resist in principle so long as our own proposal is outstanding.

12. Investment Credit

Senate version is very similar to ours. It is slightly more liberal in a few details. However, it provides that part of benefit must go to employee stock ownership plan.

House bill provides less credit and puts an unjustified cap on AT&T.

We should support Senate version, but stripped of employee stock ownership plan provision.

13. Corporate surtax exemption increase; decrease in normal tax rate; increase in investment credit limitation on used machinery

These are billed as "small business" exemptions and have wide support. The surtax exemption is in both bills. The decrease in the normal tax rate is only in the Senate bill. We should support all as part of the program to preserve reasonable share of relief for business.

14. Truck and part excises

A major revenue loss, but not enough to do anything significant for auto industry. Heavy trucks are already undertaxed in comparison with other highway users, and this would make that worse. Further heightens the discrimination against railroads.

We should oppose.

15. Other items

Extension of unemployment compensation: Treasury has inadequate information at this time.

Net operating loss carryback: has been narrowed so that Chrysler is only conspicuous company helped.

Foreign oil rigs, accumulated earnings credit: not significant items.

FROM:

MAX L. FRIEDERSDORF

SUBJECT:

Tax Reduction Bill

Conference on the tax cut bill will start on Monday morning.

Conferees include:

HOUSE SENATE

Ullman Long Burke (Mass) Talmadge Rostenkowski Hartke Landrum Ribicoff Vanik Hathaway Schneebeli Haskell Conable Curtis Fannin Hansen Dole

House conferees will meet at 8:00 a.m. Monday prior to the conference to discuss strategy.

Conable has called and asked for White House guidance on the various amendments and overall bill (he has already talked to Simon and I have asked Greenspan and Seidman to call him).

Conable and I concur that it would be useful if you spoke to Ullman before the conference convenes to urge him to hold the line for a lower tax cut figure, and against the numerous amendments added in the Senate.

The Senate will be in sesion Monday, adjourn Tuesday and clean up its business, including the tax cut bill and the farm bill on Wednesday before recessing for Easter.

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing you while the Conference Committee is considering the House and Senate versions of H.R. Ilis, the tax cut which I urged last January to stimulate the occupany. Although I am most anxious to sign a bill along the lines I have proposed. I am now concerned that Congress is trying to do too much in the legislation the Conference are considering, thereby providing an economic stimulus far beyond that which is needed.

The Conference and the Members should understand that I will be unable to accept a bill so excumbered with extraneous amendments and of such deficit-increasing magnitude as to mullify the intended offeet of a one-time stimulant.

The purpose in asking the Congress to enact a simple tax cut as quickly as possible was to stimulate the economy. I proposed temporary one-time tax cuts totalling $16 billion. My proposal was designed to provide maximum stimulus without setting the stage for a new inflationary spiral when the economy starts to recover. Assemble men can differ on the exact size of the tex cut, but everyose agrees on the need for prompt action. I indicated my willingness to compromise within reasonable limits.

I regret that the Sonate version of N.Z. 2156 goes far beyond the purpose of providing a quick stimulus and mortgages our economic future in a way that is unacceptable to me. It is unacceptable because:

(1) The Sanate version would increase the size of the tax reduction from $16 billion to more than $30 billion -roughly doubling the impact on combined fiscal years 1375 and 1376 budget deficits already far too high. That increase must be considered in the context of other Congressional actions and inaction. If Congress continues its present pattern of rejecting the spending cuts I proposed, the deficit would grow by an additional $16 billion. And the minimum cost of the additional spending programs being considered in the Congress would add still another $20 billion. In combination, these Congressional actions would increase these deficits by $50 billion.

Such an enursous increase in an already substantial deficit jeopardizes the prospect of occassic recovery and makes us hostage to future inflation.

- (2) Although both bills incorporate billions of collars of tax reductions which are temporary as written, they are of such a nature that they will undoubtedly continue next year and beyond. That is a sure formula for larger deficits and spiralling inflation for years to come, unless offset by other revenues or spending cuts. By proposal was for a one-year stimulant limited to $15 billion. An amount unreasonably larger than the House bill could do more harm than good.
- (3) The Senate version would raise major chatacles to badly needed reforms in the tax and welfare systems. I regard both reforms as matters of high priority. Both require the most mareful deliberation but not in this emergency matirecession legislation.
- (4) The Senate version distributes the federal income tax burden unfairly by eliminating too many citizens from paying any tax. My January proposal would have distributed tax cuts evenly to those who now carry the tax load. I recommend that the conference and the members review the bills before you to be sure that they do not discriminate against middle-income Americans, who already carry the major share of the tax burden.
- (5) The Senate version, in particular, has several provisions which will not contribute to economic recovery and may cost additional jobs. I have consistently urged an ancomplicated tex refund to put extra purchasing power in the heads of American texpayers.

I urge the conferent besically to accept the House bill with minor revisions. I am propaged to work with the Committees and the Congress as long as necessary to assure the American people of a reasonable tax cut which will stimulate the aconomy without jeopardizing its future.

Sincerely,

GERALD R. FORD

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing you while the Conference Committee is considering the House and Senate versions of H.R. 2156, the tax cut which I urged last January to stimulate the oconomy. Although I am most anxious to sign a bill along the lines I have proposed, I ha now concerned that Congress is trying to do too much in the legislation the Conference are considering, thereby providing an economic stimulum far beyond that which is needed.

The Conference and the Members should understand that I will be unable to accept a bill so accumbered with extraneous amendments and of such deficit-increasing magnitude as to nullify the intended affect of a one-time stimulant.

The purpose in asking the Congress to enact a simple tax out as quickly as possible was to stimulate the economy. I proposed temporary one-time tax outs totalling $16 billion. My proposal was designed to provide maximum stimulus without setting the stage for a new inflationary spiral when the economy starts to recover. Reasonable men can differ on the exact size of the tex out, but everyone agrees on the meed for prompt action. I indicated by willingness to compromise within reasonable limits.

I regret that the Senate version of B.R. 2156 goes far beyond the purpose of providing a quick stimulus and mortgages our economic future is a way that is unacceptable to me. It is unacceptable because:

(1) The Samate version would increase the size of the tax reduction from $16 billion to more than $36 billion — roughly doubling the impact on combined fiscal years 1975 and 1976 budget deficits already far too high. That increase must be considered in the context of other Congressional actions and inaction. If Congress continues its present pattern of rejecting the spending cuts I proposed, the deficit would grow by an additional $16 billion. And the minimum cost of the additional spending programs being considered in the Congress would add still another $20 billion. In combination, these Congressional actions would increase these deficits by $50 billion.

Such an enurgous increase in an already substantial deficit jeopardizes the prospect of economic recovery and makes us hostage to future inflation.

- (1) Although both bills incorporate billions of collars of tax reductions which are temporary as written, they are of such a nature that they will undoubtedly centimes next year and beyond. That is a sure formula for largar deficits and spiralling inflation for years to come, unless offset by other revenues or speading cuts. My proposal was for a one-year stimulant limited to $15 billion. As amount unreasonably larger than the House bill could do more harm than good.
- (3) The Senate version would raise major obstacles to badly needed raforms in the tax and welfare systems. I regard both reforms as matters of high priority. Both require the most pareful deliberation but not in this emergency matinapassion legislation.
- (4) The Senate version distributes the federal income tax burden unfairly by eliminating too many citizens from paying any tax. My January proposal would have distributed tax cuts evenly to those who now carry the tax load. I recommend that the conference and the members review the bills before you to be sure that they do not discriminate against middle-income Americans, who already carry the major share of the tax burden.
- (5) The Senate version, in particular, has several provisions which will not contribute to eccasio recovery and may cost additional jobs. I have consistently urged an uncomplicated tax refund to juk extra purchasing power in the hands of American taxpayers.

I urge the conference besically to accept the House bill with minor revisions. I am prepared to work with the Committees and the Congress as long as necessary to assure the American people of a reasonable tax cut which will stimulate the sconomy without jeopardizing its future.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Paul J. Fannin

The following is a summary of action taken by the House and Senate conferees by the 6:30p.m. adjournment on Tuesday, March 25. Conferees will meet again Wednesday at 9:00 a.m.

Generally, agreement was reached on the less controversial items while compromises have not yet been worked out on the additional reductions for individuals (increase in standard deduction, $200 optional credit in lieu of personal exemption and rate reduction for low income taxpayers), new house purchase credit, $100 payment to certain program beneficiaries, taxation of foreign source income and percentage depletion of oil and gas.

Agreement reached on:

- (1) Rebate on 1974 taxes accepted House version. 10% of tax liability up to maximum of $200, minimum of $100. $200 maximum phased down as AGI rises from $20,000 to $30,000. Revenue loss $8.1B.
- (2) Earned income credit accepted Senate version. Refundable credit of 10% of earned income up to $400. $400 phased out as income rises from $4,000 to $8,000. Available only to families with dependent children. Better known as the "work bonus". Revenue loss $1.5B.
- (3) Child care deduction present law allowed an itemized deduction of up to $4,800 phased out for AGI above $18,000. The AGI level was raised to $35,000. Revenue loss $9 M.
- (4) Investment Tax Credit increased the investment tax credit for all tax-payers to 10% on a 2 year temporary basis. Also to 11% if the additional 1% is contributed to an employee stock ownership plan (ESOP). Removed $100 million cap on utilities (affected ATT only). Increased the 50% limitation for public utilities to 100% for 1975 and 1976 and then phased back at 10% a year over a 5 year period until 1981 when the 50% holds. Normalization of the ITC benefit for public utilities. Increased the limit of used property as qualified investment from $50,000 to $100,000. Allows ITC for progress payments when property takes more than two years to construct. Revenue loss $3.39B.
- (5) Corporate surtax exemption and rate reduction increased surtax exemption from $25,000 to $50,000 and decreased the rate on the first $25,000 from 22% to 20%. Rate on second $25,000 is 22%. Revenue loss $1.55B.
- (6) Accumulated Earnings Credit accepted Senate version. Increases the amount of accumulated earnings credit from $100,000 to $150,000. Revenue loss negligible.

- (7) Net Operating Loss (NOL) dropped in conference. Would have allowed substitution of carryover years for carryback of NOL. Present law is 3 back and 5 forward. This amendment has been tabbed the "Chrysler Amendment".
- (8) Federal welfare recipients employment incentive (WIN) tax credit generally broadens the WIN credit for employers. Revenue loss under $3 million.
- (9) Excise tax on trucks, etc. dropped in conference. Would have repealed 10% excise tax on trucks, buses, etc. and 8% tax on related parts.
- (10) Tax credit for insulation and solar equipment dropped in conference but will be included in energy bill.
 - (11) Tax exemption for homeowner's associations dropped in conference.
- (12) Pension plans relative to time when contribution deemed made allows 1974 rule for 1975. Revenue loss none.
- (13) Emergency unemployment compensation benefits agreed to Senate allowing 13 weeks additional benefits to those who have exhausted 52 weeks of benefits. Revenue loss $200 million.
- (14) Required dying of fuel heating oil dropped in conference consider in energy bill.
- (15) Tax Free Rollover of home purchase agreed to Senate. Time period for rollover extended from 1 year to 18 months for purposes of nonrecognition of gain. Time for construction of new residence extended from 18 to 24 months. Revenue loss negligible.
