BACKGROUND

Susan has been invited to present the awards in the Slalom Competition for the New Hampshire Skiing Championship at Mt. Cranmore near Conway, New Hampshire. 150 competitors under 19 years of age will participate in the three days of ski racing which will conclude with the Giant Slalom Competition on Sunday. To permit Susan an opportunity to ski, she will remain overnight in North Conway and following several practice runs will open the Giant Slalom Competition at Mt. Cranmore Sunday morning, before returning to Concord to join the President and Mrs. Ford at the volunteer's reception. Susan will follow the President's schedule for the duration of the visit.

In practice runs at Innsbruck 10 days ago David cracked a Fibula which eliminated him from the competition. To permit a younger

U.S. Skier the opportunity to come to Innsbruck, David returned to New Hampshire and will serve as Susan's escort for her visit to Mt. Cranmore. Following two years in the Army, David enrolled at Dartmouth where he is a part-time Sophomore in Economics.

VISIT TO MIKE & GAYLE FORD

Susan and Mrs. Ford have been invited to visit Mike and Gayle at their home on Sunday evening after the President departs New Hampshire. If this option is approved Susan and Mrs. Ford would return to Washington on Monday afternoon.

Dear David:

A huge thanks for everything you did during Susan's visit to New Hampshire earlier in the month.

You are a real professional and made my job a cinch. We honestly could not have made the trip and had it go nearly as smoothly without your help.

Again, a very sincere thanks. Here's hoping we're able to work together again.

Dear Bill and Gayle:

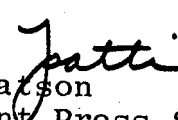

A tremendous thanks for everything you did for Susan's visit to New Hampshire this month.

She enjoyed the weekend so much, and loved everything about the New England Inn. From my standpoint -- advance arrangements and on-the-spot help -- you were invaluable, and both Susan and I are grateful.

On a personal note, I loved getting to know the two of you and hope we will see each other again.

Once more, thanks so much. I will long remember New Hampshire as a particularly beautiful state with particularly beautiful people.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Paine,

Thank you so much for your thoughtfulness and all the arrangements you helped make during my stay last weekend.

I loved the cottage and the Inn! It was so much fun to arrive and make a fire and enjoy the hot chocolate and snacks. And I met so many nice people the entire weekend and enjoyed the skiing so much!

Mr. Paine, I hope my visit was helpful to your efforts for my father there. All your hard work is very much appreciated, and my father asked that I pass along his sincere appreciation as well.

My very best to both of you and your family. I will always remember New Hampshire with warm thoughts of you and the New England Inn.

Dear John,

Thank you so much for all your help during my visit to New Hampshire last weekend.

We never had too much of a chance to talk, but I could see your handiwork whenever I arrived somewhere and found all the President Ford buttons. It was much appreciated.

Again, John, thank you. I hope my visit was helpful to your efforts for my father there. All your hard work is very much appreciated, and my father asked that I pass his sincere thanks along as well.

Dear Mr. Lunt,

Thank you so much for your thoughtfulness in making me an honorary member of the Ski Team.

I was a little nervous that your confidence might be misplaced Saturday night! But a morning on Mt. Crammore was all I needed and I loved it! I'm ready to go again!

The hat you gave me is great and it will serve as a very appropriate reminder of a wonderful weekend in New Hampshire. Thank you so much for your thoughtfulness. It will always be remembered.

SUSAN ELIZABETH FORD

Birthdate: July 6, 1957

The youngest of the four Ford children and the only daughter, 18-year-old Susan attends Mount Vernon College in Washington, D.C. and works part-time as a photographer for the Associated Press.

Susan's high school interest in photography expanded last summer with a workshop under Ansel Adams and an internship on The Topeka Capital Journal in Topeka, Kansas. She's now considering a communications major at Mount Vernon and on her travels with the President takes along her camera.

One of her favorite hobbies is needlepoint, and she has made a variety of gifts for family and friends from belts to handbags to cushions.

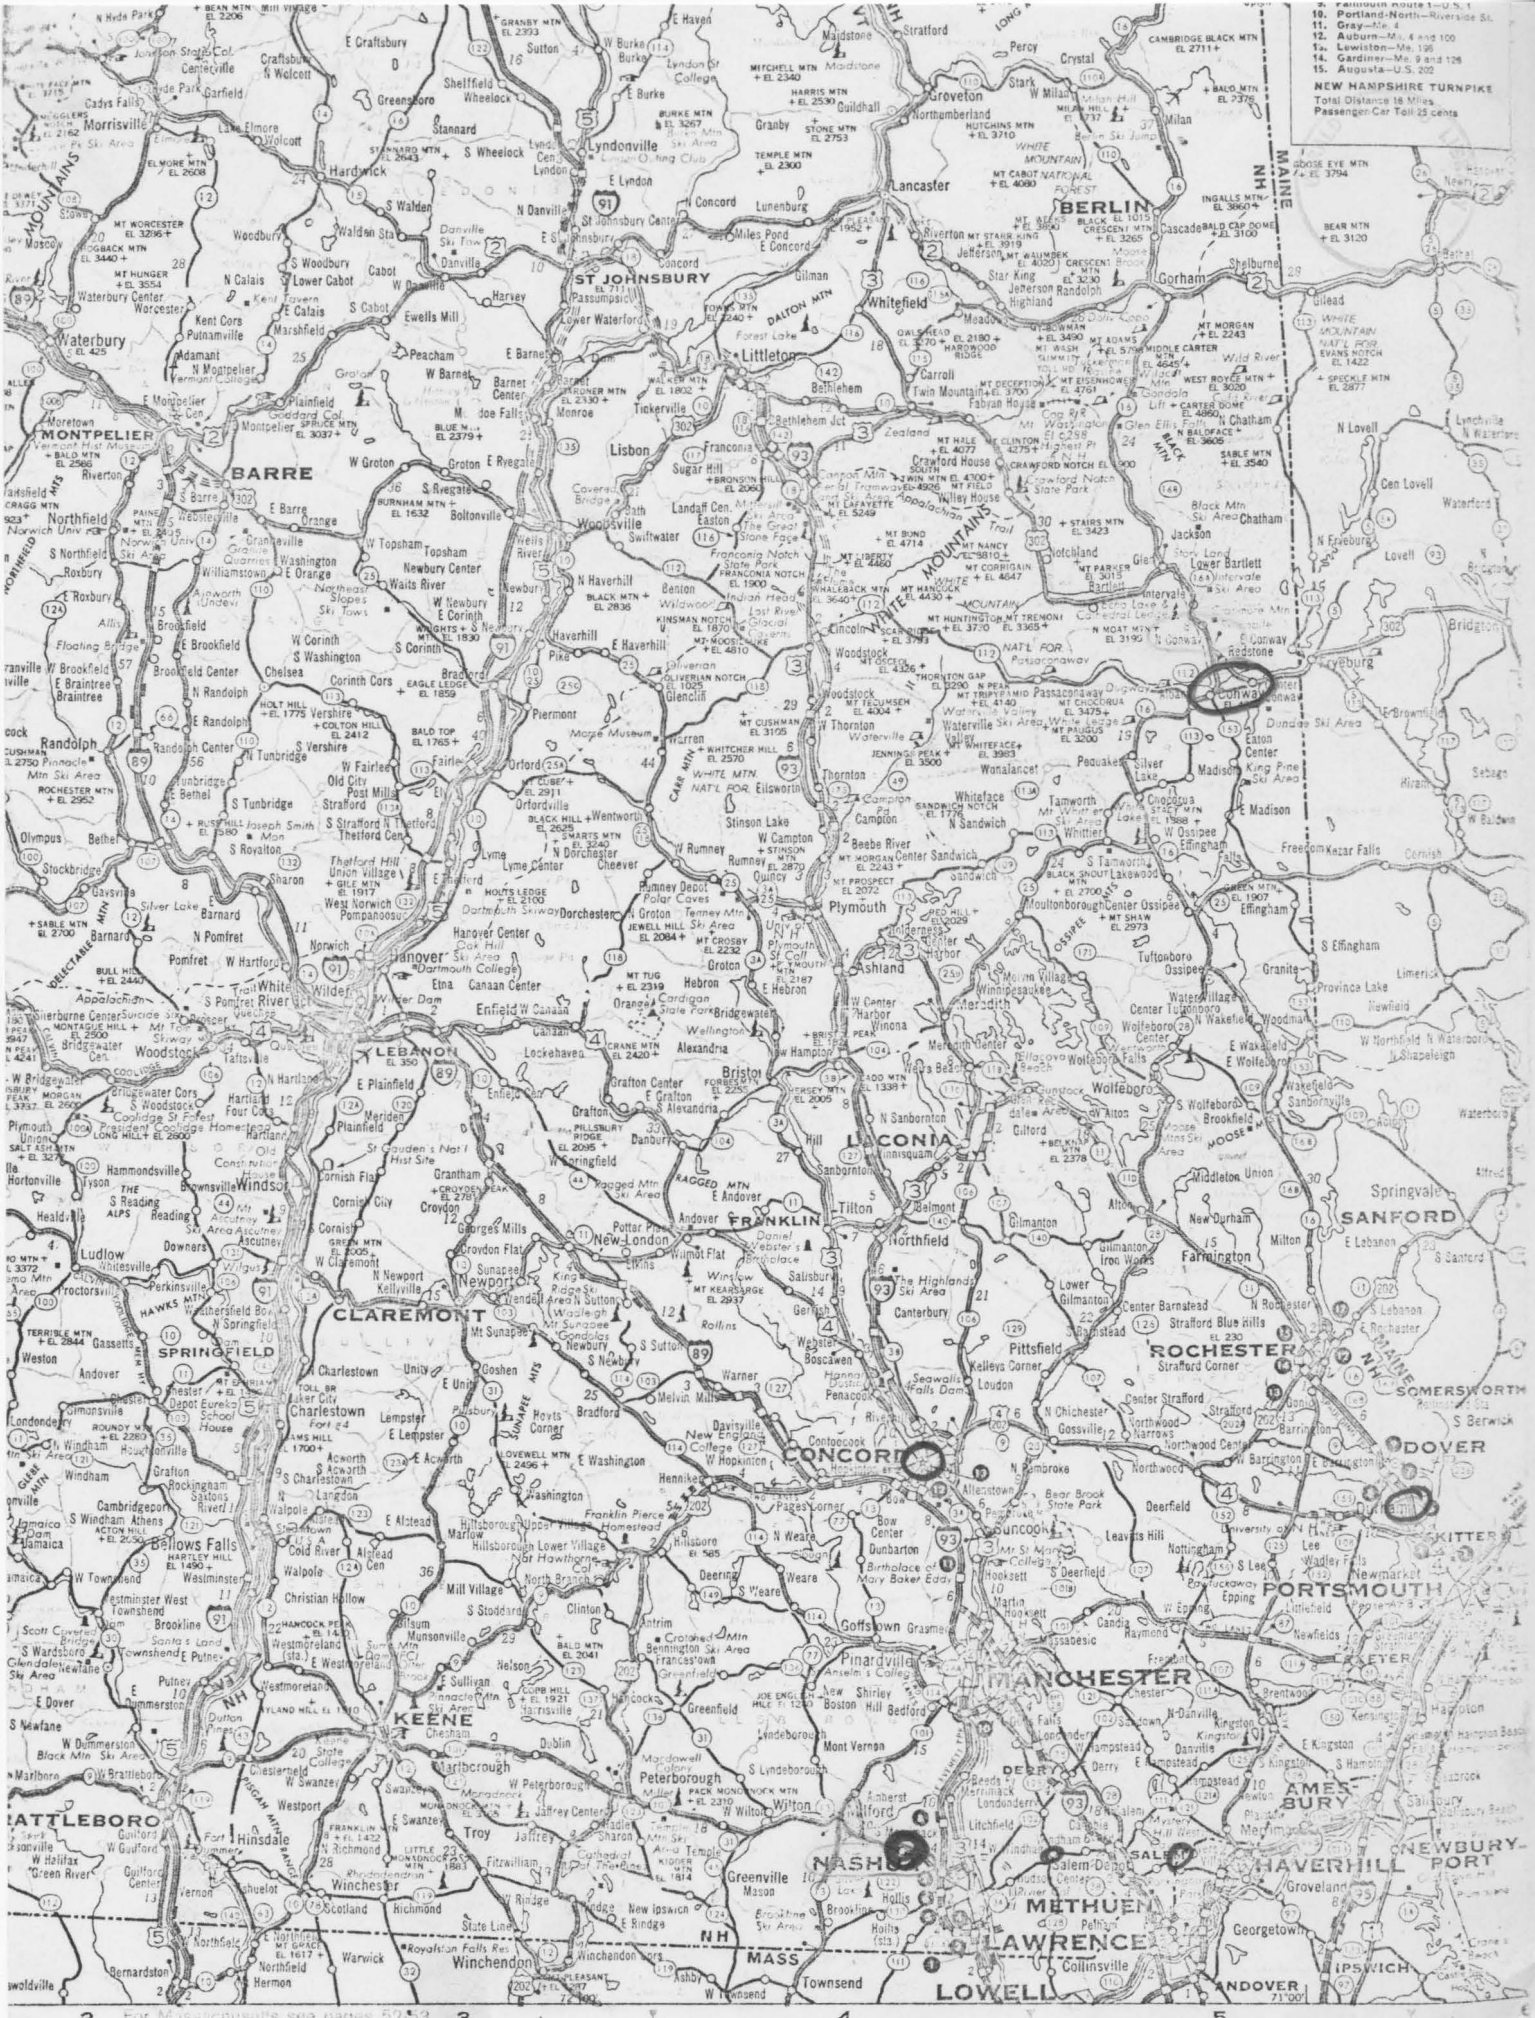

Like her brothers and father, Susan is an avid skier. She also enjoys water skiing, swimming, biking, horseback riding, and tennis. Like her mother, she started modern dance classes at eight. She also has studied ballet.

Susan cares for a growing number of plants and looks after the family pets. These include Shan, a Siamese cat, Liberty, a Golden Retriever, and Misty, Liberty's puppy.

Susan's first glimpse of the White House was in the summer of 1973 when she sold guide books for the White House Historical Association. She also worked as a babysitter and answered phones for a medical telethon.

Susan was born in Washington, D.C. on July 6, 1957. She attended kindergarten at Immanuel Church on the Hill, the Episcopal Church in Alexandria, Virginia where the Fords belong. She attended her first eight grades in Alexandria schools. In June, 1975, she was graduated from the Holton Arms School in Bethesda, Maryland.

She presently lives at home and commutes to Mount Vernon College.

Dear Sue,

I was just informed that you and your father are planning a visit to our campus Feb. 8. As the editor of the UNH campus magazine I would like to request an interview with you sometime during your visit that Sunday. I have asked my staff photographer, John Hanlon to assist me in taking some photographs of you and your father also.

I realize that your father will be busy speaking and greeting people on Sunday, but I thought perhaps you could sit down for 1/2 to 1 hour with us and talk about your experiences in the White House and on the election trail. This type of interview will interest the 10,000 or more students and faculty who will read our magazine.

If you agree to grant us the interview, it will be published in the March edition of Catalyst, which will be delivered to the students March 15-17, before they go home for spring break. Most students (we hope) will take the magazine home with them and allow their parents to read their Catalyst.

If none of the above is possible, perhaps some arrangement can be made for John and I to sit in on a general press conference in New Hampshire on Feb. 8. Please advise me on anything I must do to gain admission to such a meeting. I will await your reply. Thank you.

Sincerely

Dear Ms. Weidenfeld,

Susan Mercandetti, a White House staffer and former reporter for The New Hampshire, called me yesterday to inform me that Susan Ford will be accompanying the President when he visits New Hampshire February 8. I am requesting an interview with Ms. Ford when she visits the state.

I understand that the President will be in Durham Sunday, February 8. If Susan Ford accompanies him, scheduling an interview could be simply a matter of finding a quiet room, since the Fords will be on campus.

As a journalist I see such an interview as a natural for a college newspaper. It would be run in a special primary election insert our staff is preparing.

If an interview is possible, Ronald Goodspeed, our photo-editor would accompany me.

Thank you for your return telephone call today.

Please accept this letter as my formal request, on behalf of the Worcester Telegram, for an interview with Mrs. Ford.

Of course, arrangements for my visit to Washington can be made at Mrs. Ford's convenience. Should Mrs. Ford visit New England, on the other hand, perhaps the interview could be conducted here.

As you might know, the Telegram has the largest circulation of any newspaper in Central New England. Of particular note, then, would be the impact of the in<sup>ter</sup>view outside the Boston area.

Thank you again for your assistance, and the attention I'm sure you'll give my request.

Dear Mrs. Ford:

Realizing that you'll be in New England next month on the campaign trail, we were wondering if it would be possible to speak with you in a telephone interview some morning during your stay here. During the past month, our station has been presenting presidential candidates who have appeared live on our morning show. We have tried to stay away from the hard core political talk, but instead, let the candidates actually run the show (by reading the live commercials, introducing the music, etc.).

We would like very much for your husband to be represented on the show, and felt that that could best be done through you. All we would like to do is speak with you by telephone for perhaps five minutes. We would focus primarily on your life as the nation's First Lady. I'm sure everyone in southern Maine would appreciate it a great deal if this would be possible.

Sincerely yours,

Jeffrey J. Howlett

Ms. Susan Wornick, of Radio Station WGIR in Manchester, has requested a five minute appearance by either Mrs. Ford, or Susan on a live program which she airs every Friday. I recognize that Friday is not on the schedule, but if you would please communicate by letter with Ms. Wornick, she will at least be assured that we have processed her request.

The other request is something that could conceivably be handled. Mr. Jeff Howlett, of Radio Station WGAN in Portland (heavy listening audience in New Hampshire), has requested a three to five minute telephone interview with Mrs. Ford. This could be done at Mrs. Ford's convenience if it is deemed feasible. It is my understanding that the interview would be aired during the First Family's visit.
