PROPOSED REMARKS--Cedars-Sinai Medical Center Dedication
June 6, 1976

The energy / dedication / money and time / of thousands of caring people / built Cedars-Sinai / Medical Center. / Teamwork and devotion / have made this dream / come true, / and I am very proud / to be here / for this important moment.

The cost / of these excellent facilities, / research programs, / health care / and medical education / can be measured in dollars, / but the value / of this center / in saving / and improving lives cannot. / The doctors trained here / and the research results / will reach / far beyond Los Angeles / and touch the lives / of thousands of Americans. /

The center / is about people --- those who need help / and those who give it. / Cedars-Sinai / truly is a house built / by love, / faith / and hard work, / and I dedicate / this medical center / to all whose love / and compassion / made it possible.

Ms. Susan Porter
Appointment Secretary

Washington, D.C.

Dear Ms. Porter:

We are delighted that Mrs. Ford will attend our dedication ceremonies on Sunday, June 6. A special announcement is being sent to all of our invited guests, informing them of the good news.

For your information, here is some background on Cedars-Sinai Medical Center.

Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, which admitted its first patients to the new facility on April 3, is one of the largest and most comprehensive health care facilities in the United States. The new building, comprising of 1.6 million square feet, is part of a 24-acre complex providing complete programs of inpatient and outpatient services in every area of general and special medicine and surgery. Full psychiatric services, both inpatient and outpatient, are housed in the Thalians Community Mental Health Center, first unit of the overall Medical Center to be completed.

We have 1120 beds for inpatient care; full ambulatory care in a broad range of medical, surgical, psychiatric and community-oriented clinics. Our 24-hour emergency service will care for patients on the west side of Los Angeles and residents of Beverly Hills. We train a large staff of interns, residents and research fellows and, in affiliation with UCLA participate in training third and fourth year medical students in all professional departments.

At Cedars-Sinai, we have a long and distinguished history of accomplishments in research, ranking among the top 20 voluntary hospitals in the United States. More than 60% of our studies are federally funded through the National Institutes of Health. Among major projects currently in progress are a three-year, $1.5 million study of natural family planning conducted in cooperation with the Archdiocese of Los Angeles; a $5 million five-year study to determine the profile of the patient who is potential likely to suffer heart disease; a national program on the dissolution of gallstones; a cancer planning grant to develop a new center for treatment and research in cancer; a long-term investigation of therapy for hypertension in the general population; a study on the causes and treatment of arthritis, and many, many others.

Our new facility was built at a cost approaching $150 million. Funds for construction were raised through a total community effort. Our contributors include generous individuals and corporations, foundations, our 1,500-member medical staff, the Cedars-Sinai affiliated organizations and other groups and clubs throughout the area.

Construction of the Medical Center began in November, 1972, following 11 years of planning and study. The concept of a great new Medical Center, serving the entire Los Angeles community, followed the 1961 merger of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, founded in 1902, and Mount Sinai Hospital, founded in 1921.

Nearly 10,000 persons attended our groundbreaking ceremonies in 1972, which received broad coverage in the national and local press, TV and radio. Program participants included the First Lady, the governor of California, the two U.S. Senators, members of the House of Representatives, state legislators, county and city officials, the U.S. Surgeon General and others.

This year, we are planning the most extensive attendance and media coverage, based on queries already in hand, ever conceived for an event of this type.

The NBC Sunday Show, televised live from Los Angeles, has already asked to do their 90 minute show from the dedication site. We are planning TV coverage from the other two major networks - CBS and ABC - as well as the local channels and network affiliates, nine in all. Both of the Los Angeles dailies have indicated that they will cover the event, reaching more than 4 million readers. Locally, the weeklies and the ethnic press, particularly the Anglo-Jewish papers, read by more than a million people, will cover the dedication. AP and UPI will carry the story throughout the nation, as they did for our groundbreaking. In addition, we have already been approached by a number of large national corporations, which have contributed to Cedars-Sinai or have installed equipment, asking permission to cover the dedication in their internal publications. Various trade publications, including the national magazines within the health field, also will report on the ceremonies. Conservatively speaking, we would judge that some 40 million people will read, hear or watch the event.

Invitations have been mailed to a list of some 26,000 persons, representing national, state and local officials both in government and the health care field; our friends and supporters, which include contributors and the members of our support groups; officers of various allied agencies; major religious leaders of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths and, of course, the members of our Board of Directors and Board of Governors, who represent the top echelon of Los Angeles civic, business and philanthropic leadership. We expect a minimum of 15,000 persons to attend the ceremonies.

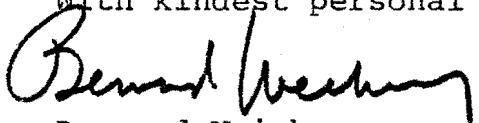

To give you some idea of the groundbreaking ceremony and the Medical Center, I am enclosing the groundbreaking program from 1972, a brochure giving a floor-by-floor rundown of the Center and lists of our Boards of Directors and Governors, our house organ and a brochure explaining our Medical Education program. An invitation to the ceremony is also enclosed. If there is anything else I can supply which would be helpful, please let us know.

Thank you most sincerely for your interest and cooperation.

With kindest personal regards, I am

SPECIAL DEDICATION ISSUE
SUMMER 1976

Dedication: June 6, 1976

Medical Center Dedication

Fifteen years from the time of the merger, almost four years after the first earth was turned, and just over two months from the time of admitting its first patients, Cedars-Sinai Medical Center holds its formal dedication ceremonies for the magnificent structure that sits astride Alden Drive west of San Vicente Boulevard.

Sunday, June 6, 1976 is, indeed, a day that will live both in history and in the memories of those who attend the dedication ceremonies. Federal, state and local officials, civic and community leaders, distinguished guests of the laity and clergy from throughout Southern California; all join our Cedars-Sinai leadership and, of course, the special guest of honor of the day, the first lady of the United States, Mrs. Gerald R. Ford, who lends both her honored presence and personal charm and grace to a most auspicious occasion.

More than 6,000 persons are expected to be on hand for the dedication ceremonies, which are scheduled for 2 p.m.

Chairman for the day is Bernard Weinberg, a vice chairman of the board of directors and chairman of the board's public relations and professional program committees.

Tributes to the medical center on this occasion have come in the form of citations and resolutions from the congressional record to the state legislature, as well as governing county and city boards.

Heading the list of speakers on the dais, in addition to Mrs. Ford, are: medical center president and board chairman Steve Broidy, executive vice president Stuart I. Marylander, chief of staff Julian Frieden, M.D., board vice-chairman Theodore E. Cummings, and past president of the Jewish Federation Council, Mr. Edward Sanders, in addition to the many representatives of national and local government.

The dedication program activities are being videotaped through the medical center's own facilities and broadcast later to all patients' rooms, so that they may share in the celebration of this happy occasion.

The presentation of colors followed by the National Anthem will be made by the first division Marine band from Camp Pendleton. Representatives of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will lead the pledge of allegiance, and Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin will deliver the invocation.

Formal dedication of Cedars-Sinai Medical Center marks the culmination of a program of activities that began April 3, with the move-in of the first patients transferred from the Cedars division, continued with the admission of patients to the fifth and sixth floors on May 15, and is highlighted with the ceremonies of June 6.

MOVING...

After fifteen years of planning, design, engineering work — and almost four years of actual construction — Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles, the largest non-profit voluntary health care facility in the west, opened its doors to incoming patients on Saturday, April 3.

Over 80 patients — obstetrical, gynecological and pediatric — including newborn infants, were transferred to the new facility from Hollywood's venerable Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, a Los Angeles landmark that will now be phased out with the opening of the over $100-million, 840-bed medical center. Additional transfers from Cedars and the existing Mount Sinai Hospitals will continue over the next several months, with the Mount Sinai building scheduled for remodeling to accommodate various specialized medical programs.

The new medical center consists of parallel, twin patient towers, connecting on each floor at their east ends, with a professional tower. Support services on each floor of the professional tower complement activities in the patient towers, in which individual floors function as "specialty hospitals" with their own admitting and discharge procedures, lobbies, utility rooms, food service, materials handling, environmental services and maintenance functions supervised by decentralized administration personnel.

The new medical center building is the latest component in the building complex located between San Vicente and Robertson Blvd., and Beverly Blvd. and Third St., on the near-west side of Los Angeles. Together with the Thalians Community Mental Health Center and a remodeled Mount Sinai Hospital, to be known as the Schuman Building, the center will have a total of 1120 beds in all divisions.

The initial move of patients from Cedars of Lebanon to the new medical center building was accomplished with the finely honed logistical support of a major military operation. Every detail, from providing physicians and nurses as travel escorts, to standby life-support equipment was checked and re-checked prior to the move, which was made in a fleet of private ambulances supplied by the Goodhew and Schaefer Ambulance companies.

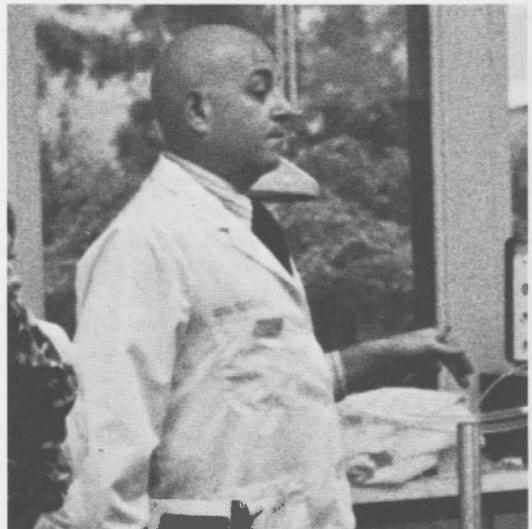

The patients were admitted to the third and fourth floors of the nine-story structure — eight above ground and one subterranean industrial level — while workmen put the finishing touches on construction and equipment installation on the upper floors. The building site occupies 24 acres, and includes parking for 2,600 autos, in outside and covered, two-story parking structures.

Planned for the new structure are an outpatient clinic and emergency room, that will serve an area from Vermont Ave., near downtown Los Angeles, to the Westwood area.

The new building, in addition to providing unsurpassed medical care, houses its patients in all-single accommodations, each room equipped with patient-controlled electrical beds, instant two-way communication with nursing communication centers, and access to wall-mounted emergency facilities for bedside application. Visitors, up to 4,000 daily, will find spacious lobbies, waiting rooms, cafeteria, coffee shop and gift shop.

All public areas — patient rooms, hallways and lobbies — as well as many office and administrative areas, have been decorated with several hundred original art works, gifts and long-term loans provided by the medical center's Advisory Council on the Arts, a volunteer group, in support of the philosophy that healing and recuperation can be enhanced by as much a comfortable, homelike atmosphere as possible.

April 3, 1976

First Baby Arrives Within 90 Minutes After Opening Time

Mrs. Daniel (Ani) Gombeaud beamed as medical center president and board chairman Steve Broidy and Stuart J. Marylander, executive vice-president presented her with a lounging robe for herself and a tiny "C-S 1" T-shirt for her new son, Christopher.

The baby became the first to see the world from the new medical center. Proud father Daniel wore his "Cedars-Sinai Father No. 1" shirt. Baby Christopher arrived at 8:26 a.m., less than 90 minutes after the hospital's official 7:00 a.m. opening time. Other gifts to the Gombeauds, natives of Bordeaux, France, included champagne, cigars and a free confinement for the new mother, as well as an album of pictures marking the happy day. The baby weighed 7 lbs, 1 oz. and was 20 inches long.

Blue Baby Saved by Sensitive Heart Surgery First Week in new Facility

The first major cardiac surgery in the new medical center came just six days after the facility opened — and was performed in a gynecological operating room on a five-day old infant!

Frank Alvarez, Jr. was born a 'blue baby', suffering a severe insufficiency of oxygen due to a pulmonary stenosis, a narrowed valve between his heart and lungs.

To obtain a precise diagnosis, a tiny catheter was sent into the baby's heart, at the grand old age of about 30 hours, following which the medical team, headed by pediatric cardiologist Dr. Burton Fink and surgeon Dr. Aurelio Chaux, planned and plotted the operation like a major military logistical maneuver.

A team of specialist operating room personnel was assembled, briefed and prepared for every contingency. Life-support equipment, space-age looking machines with dials, beeps and scopes were readied, and three days later the combined talent of the whole new medical center seemed to be compressed in a single operating room.

The baby's tiny form was cooled sufficiently to effectively halt circulation to the heart, then deft hands cut into an artery leading to the infant's lung and surgically opened the malformed valve. By the time Frank Alvarez, Jr. was wheeled from surgery into an intensive care facility, the dramatic results were obvious. His color more closely resembled that of a normal baby and, by that same evening, he was breathing on his own, one-hundred percent of the required oxygen filling his lungs and coursing through his tiny bloodstream.

In the ICU, where he stood for hours just watching his infant son breathing, the baby's father tried to express his feelings, but only his eyes could tell of the gratitude and wonderment. He hugged and wept with hospital personnel — anyone and everyone. The infant is his first son — his first child — his wife having a six-year old daughter by a previous marriage.

Less than a week later, Frank Alvarez, Jr. was sent home; to his parents, his older sister and to a world of love and thankfulness crowded in their home.

At the hospital, Dr. Fink was smiling, too. It was, he said, a magnificent team effort, in the best traditions of Cedars-Sinai, that enabled all the critical elements to come together when needed, and produced the truly outstanding results.

WITH A TEDDY BEAR donated to the pediatrics department of the medical center is Missy Cohn. The toy was donated by Mrs. Eleanor D. DeNunno in memory of Cele Elftman, R.N. It is welcoming patients to the new pediatric floor at Cedars-Sinai.

Landscaping Important To Healing Environment

It is still too early to get the full effect, but the signs are that the landscaped areas around the new medical center will provide a source of pleasure and pride, to complement the imposing building they surround.

The landscaping has been planned as part of the total healing environment. The existence of lush, colorful planting is a relief to those who are ill, and serves to psychologically enhance their spirit, which can be an important part of hospital care. The use of night lighting in the landscaped area serves as an additional amenity by extending the time period that patients and staff may enjoy the gardens.

In order to achieve the desired effect for the new medical center building, more than 400 trees and 2,000 shrubs, as well as large quantities of flowering, ground covers and vines were required.

According to landscape artist Robert Carter of Robert Herrick Carter & Associates, the plant material was selected to provide a variety of evergreen and flowering deciduous trees which will bloom at various times, providing a "calendar of color" throughout the year. Also, several of the plants possess a fragrance characteristic, which will provide a pleasant aroma several months of the year.

Special attention was given to installation and maintenance of planted areas on the plaza level and over parking garages, where drainage and weight problems were anticipated.

Among the many varieties used, singly or in groupings, are:

Trees

1. Chorisia Speciosa (Floss Silk Tree) — Thorny ornamental trunk, horizontal branching with orchid-pink blossoms in Winter.
2. Erythrina Caffra (Kaffirbloom Coral Tree) — Massive, multi-trunked tree with large, bright red blossoms in late Winter.
3. Eucalyptus Citriodora (Lemon-scented Gum) — Tall, wispy, graceful silhouette tree. Clean white trunk.
4. Ficus Florida — Evergreen dome form, multi-trunked tree with clean white trunks.
5. Jacaranda — Deciduous tree with profuse blue blossoms Spring and Summer.
6. Melaleuca Leucadendra (Paperbark Tree) — Evergreen, columnar tree with ornamental shredding white bark.
7. Pyrus Kawakami (Evergreen Pear) — Evergreen tree with shiny leaves and profusion of white flowers in early Spring.
8. Sequoia Sempervirens (California Redwood) — Large, evergreen, native tree.

Shrubs

1. Agapanthus Africanus (Lily of the Nile) — Perennial shrub, medium size, brilliant blue flowers Spring to late Summer.
2. Bougainvillea "Barbara Karst" — Brilliant red accent plant.
3. Pittosporum Tobira (Tobira) — Evergreen variegated foliage. Orange-scented yellow blossoms in Spring.
4. Raphiolepis Indica (Pink India Hawthorne) — Evergreen medium-size shrub with profuse pink blossoms in Spring.

Vines

1. Ficus Pumila (Creeping Fig) — Evergreen clinging vine.
2. Jasminum Polyanthum (Jasmine) — Strongly scented jasmine vine with lavender blossoms, February to July.

Helping Hand Opens New Medical Center Gift Shop

On April 3, when the first patients were admitted to Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, the new Helping Hand Gift Shop was open, stocked and staffed for business.

The shop, located on the Plaza Level in the main lobby area, represents many years of planning and effort by the members of Helping Hand, which formerly operated at three locations: the main lobby at Cedars, the Maternity Pavilion at Cedars and the main lobby at Mount Sinai, where the Boutique Unique also was situated.

Helping Hand organized the first gift shop in a Los Angeles hospital in 1942 and since then, has pioneered developing community-wide markets for its diversified merchandise. All funds raised through shop operation are turned over to Cedars-Sinai, providing major support for the department of obstetrics and gynecology, gynecological oncology and the newborn nursery. Last year, Helping Hand turned over $210,000 to the medical center, including special funds earmarked for the building fund.

Heading the gift shop is Mrs. Harry Nieman, Helping Hand executive vice president of shop merchandise, assisted by co-chairwomen Mrs. Jerome Blatt and Mrs. John Preis. Mrs. Joseph Adams is executive vice president of shop operations.

In charge of the various departments of the shop are: children's section, Mrs. Basil Kaufmann, chairwoman; lingerie, Mrs. Richard Strauss, chairwoman, Mmes. Richard Mannheimer and Max Raskoff, co-chairwomen; giftware, Mmes. William Brussell, Irving Green and Alvin Malinow, co-chairwomen, vice president, sales promotion, Mrs. Sanford Rosenbaum; books, Mrs. Fred Bartman, Jr., chairwoman; jewelry, Mmes. Nisan Matlin and Albert Allen, co-chairwomen; cards, Mrs. Mitzi Globe; stationery, Mrs. Earl Burbas; staffing, Mrs. Albert Ezor, chairwoman, Mmes. Jack Brody and Gene Costin, co-chairwomen; wrapping, Mrs. Joseph Weisman; window display, Mrs. Maclyn Wade.

A gala opening for the new gift shop is planned for mid-June, when visitors and customers will have the opportunity to look over all of the new merchandise. Souvenir gifts will be distributed and refreshments will be served.

The Helping Hand Gift Shop stocks a complete line of merchandise for all occasions. Orders may be given by phone by calling 855-5241.

Innovative Diabetes Center To Open in May

The opening of the Acute Diabetic-Metabolic Unit in May marks the first phase of the Cedars-Sinai Diabetes Center.

When completed it will be the first diabetes center of its kind in Southern California. Here total attention will be directed toward the care and education of the diabetic and his/her family, the education of all persons responsible for the care of patients with diabetes, and clinical and basic research. These activities will be carried out in three sections: an acute diabetes-metabolic unit, an in-patient out-patient ambulatory unit and a research unit.

A 32 bed acute diabetes-metabolic unit will be located on the 4th floor of the new hospital between the pediatric wing and the medical wing serving both divisions. Acutely ill patients, either as a result of their diabetes or other conditions which affect diabetic control, will receive optimum care from a team of professionals trained to deal with the specific needs of the hospitalized patient with diabetes. The diabetes team will include clinical and teaching nurses, dietitians, social workers, physical therapists, laboratory technologists, medical students, interns, residents, and fellows, all of whom will work closely with members of the attending staff who admit their patients to this unit. The area will be equipped with special dietary facilities, monitoring instruments, a conference room, and a laboratory area to provide rapid test results. The program will be supervised by a physician, director of the diabetes center, who will be selected to be part of the full time medical staff and who will also coordinate the entire diabetes program.

The in-patient out-patient ambulatory unit will be located in a portion of the existing Schuman Building. It will be altered to provide motel type accommodations for those patients who choose to "live in" as well as for those participating as out-patients.

The unit will provide an opportunity for ambulatory persons with diabetes and their families to receive an intensive education about diabetes. It will also serve as a referral center for physicians who wish their patients to receive additional education about diabetes. Facilities will be available in the unit for continuous education in diabetes for medical students, physicians in training, attending staff, and all hospital personnel who participate in the care of persons with diabetes. Group lectures and individual conferences will be offered by members of the diabetes team.

A very important responsibility of the director of the diabetes center will be an active program of clinical and basic research in diabetes. A special research laboratory is planned and the activities will be carried on by the director and his professional staff.

This year the Bill Cosby Tennis Tournament will benefit the Diabetic Unit and the Cedars-Sinai Diabetes Treatment Center. It will be held September 11 and 12, according to Robert J. Feder, M.D., president of the Diabetes Treatment Group which is sponsoring the tournament.

Other officers of the group are vice presidents, Aaron Eshman and Sherman Holvey, M.D.; secretary, Nane Mandell; and treasurer, Don Meder.

Art Council Arranges For Revolving Exhibits In Employee Cafeteria

The latest development in art council plans to create a colorful and stimulating environment at Cedars-Sinai is being planned by a committee of local artists, who will be responsible for exhibiting the work of Los Angeles artists in the employee cafeteria, some hallways and in the street level lobby.

All work will be loaned to the medical center for the duration of the exhibit period and will be screened and selected by a revolving and self-perpetuating committee of Los Angeles artists. The first exhibition will be May 15 - August 15 and will feature the work of Denise Gale, Tom Leeson, Karen Carson, Jerold Burchman, Max Cole, Gary Beydler, Stephanie Jackson, and Paul Dillon.

The work on exhibit will be for sale, unless otherwise stated and the medical center will benefit from any sale.

The art council has continued to place works of art throughout the occupied areas of the medical center. On the following pages are some of the noteworthy pieces that have been donated to the medical center.

In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keith have donated a commissioned sculpture by Fletcher Benton for the Plaza Lobby and Dr. Lou Adler has donated 30 photographs taken of basketball figures, animals, flowers, race horses and other subjects. Of course, a visit to the center will reveal many pieces that there is not space to mention here, and each patient room is adorned with an attractive, carefully selected print.

The artist members of the committee are Don Sorenson, Tim Nordin, Sherry Brody, Paul Dillon, Nancy Kent, Claude Kent, Maggie Noble, Robin Mitchell, and Lita Albuquerque. They were appointed to this committee by Marcia Weisman, chairperson of the advisory council for the arts.

Marcia Weisman, art council chairwoman shows donated works to Gerald Nordland, director, Wight Galleries, University of California, Los Angeles.

These art exhibits will be an exciting opportunity for employees, patients, and visitors to the medical center to view some of the best art of the Los Angeles art community. It is also an excellent opportunity for the artists to reach a large audience outside of art galleries and museums.
