Summary Description

The Sheila R. Weidenfeld audiovisual series consists primarily of photographs compiled when Weidenfeld served as the Press Secretary to First Lady Betty Ford. White House photographs depict State Dinners for various dignitaries, including King Hussein of Jordan and Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore, and highlight Betty Ford's public life. Photographs also cover the Fords' private lives, including both contact sheets and historical photographs of Gerald Ford's childhood and young adulthood; and the public and private lives of the Fords' children Michael, Jack, Steven, and Susan.

Audio components of the collection include preparations for the Presidential debates in September 1976, Paul Harvey's "The Broken Home" segment on Gerald Ford, Sheila Weidenfeld's first press briefing, and an interview with Martha Graham.

Video components include various motion picture films of Susan Ford in Florida and Betty Ford speaking about the early detection of breast cancer, art, and cerebral palsy.
